Gift Card Drive To Provide Relief For Flood Victims

Orchard Farm School District just reached out to me asking if the Lindenwood School of Education on a gift card drive to provide relief for families experiencing significant difficulty due to the rising flood waters. Orchard Farm, one of the school's strongest community partners, places many Lindenwood student teacher candidates and LindenTeach interns. While the district's buildings are not being threatened at this time, many families have been dislocated. If you are able to assist in the relief effort, please bring or send gift cards to Jill Hutcheson in Harmon Hall Room 139 or to Zachary Alley at Library and Academic Resources Center Room 235. If possible, the first round of donations will be delivered on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 12. More than one delivery will be made if needed; donations will be accepted after June 12.

Dr. Ferrarini Presents Economics for Journalists Workshops on Behalf of the Fraser Institute

Dr. Tawni Hunt Ferrarini, Robert W. Plaster professor of economic education and senior fellow of the Hammond Institute for Free Enterprise, served as a workshop leader for two Economics for Journalists workshops in Vancouver, BC (May 23-26), and Toronto (May 30-June 2). Her presentation sessions, prepared for some 50 Canadian journalists on behalf of the Fraser Institute, included the following topics:

- The Economic Way of Thinking: Solving Economic Mysteries
- Mystery Nations: Institutions, Growth, and Freedom
- Making Decisions at the Margin
- Why Good Politics is Bad Economics: Public Choice Theory 101
- Economics in the News

The Fraser Institute offers economics and policy seminars for journalists in order to give them a greater understanding of economics and public policy and help them write about Canadian and world issues with more clarity and confidence.

The Economics for Journalists programs focus on teaching basic economic principles and how they relate to journalism. For more information about Dr. Ferrarini and the Economic Education Center, please visit the Hammond Institute online.

Gietschier Article on Yogi Berra Appears on StLToday

StLToday.com ran an article on June 6 by Lindenwood history professor Steve Gietschier to correspond with the anniversary of the 1944 allied D-Day invasion of Normandy in World War II. The article focuses on baseball Hall of Famer and St. Louis native Yogi Berra, who was involved in the invasion as a member of the U.S. Navy. Read the full story.

James Carafano and Hans Von Spakovsky are Featured Speakers at the Marc Cox Speaker Series on June 20

The Hammond Institute for Free Enterprise is proud to co-sponsor the Marc Cox Speaker Series from 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, June 20, in the J. Scheidegger Center for the Arts. In addition to Marc Cox from FM NewsTalk 97.1, featured speakers from the Heritage Foundation are James Carafano and Hans von Spakovsky. Plan to join us for this conversation focusing on current political affairs. The event is free to attend, but reservations are required.

For more information, please visit the Hammond Institute online or call 636-627-2915.

Performance Evaluation

Remember to upload evidence throughout the year so you don't have to at the last minute!

For the purpose of supporting and sustaining a culture of continuous improvement, Lindenwood employees participate in an annual, formative, and evidence-based evaluation process. Performance standards and indicators are aligned with the mission and values of the university and job description for each position.

PORTAL

Click here to access your Evaluation Portal (log in using your Lindenwood username and password). If you are not in your portal and wish to email your evidence remotely from your Lindenwood email to your evaluation file, you can send notes, files, pictures, etc. to ebesevidence@appointlink.com. Evidence sent remotely will appear in your evaluation portal as “Uncategorized Evidence” that you can assign to the appropriate performance Indicator(s) at your convenience.
