3 McGUIRE SISTERS PICK LINDENWOOD ROMEO

Vesper Service Opens Religious Week Program

Dr. Wright to Speak on 'A Time for Greatness'

"A Time for Greatness" is the theme to be carried out during this year's Religious Emphasis Week, beginning Sunday night and lasting until Thursday.

Dr. Paul S. Wright, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Portland, Ore., will speak on various phases of the theme in a series of seven talks.

Dr. Wright, who holds the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Park College, Parkville, Mo. has spoken at many colleges and universities throughout the United States. Among these are: Westminster College, Fulton, Mo.; Tulsa University, Tulsa, Okla.; Jamestown College in North Dakota; University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore.; and Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn.

Dr. Wright held pastorates in North Dakota, Minnesota, and Oklahoma before going to Portland in 1941. Born in Persia of missionary parents, he came to America in 1910. In 1917 Dr. Wright received his B.A. from Wooster College in Ohio, and in 1922 he received his B.D. from McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago.

Besides being a member of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., and a member of the General Assembly's special committee on the "Reorganization of the Church," Dr. Wright was sent as a Presbyterian delegate to the Second Assembly of the World Council of Churches, Evanston, Ill., this past year.

His first talk, to be given on Sunday night, carries the title of the theme for the week. His other talks include "Great Thinking" on Monday; "Greatness of Heart" and "Great Hope" on Tuesday; "Great Faith" and "Great Courage" on Wednesday; and the last, on Thursday, "The Marks of Greatness."

Discussion Series On Timely Topics Planned by League

The League of Women Voters will open its discussion series on Constitutional Liberties during the week of Feb. 21-25. The League will be divided into four groups which will meet separately during that week. A panel discussion at the general meeting on March 3 will conclude the series.

Discussion leaders and subjects will be: Judith Smith, The Constitution and Congressional Investigating Committees; Patricia Janak and Delores Kiss, Where Constitutional Liberties Came from; Gwendolyn Ryster, The Bill of Rights and Our Individual Liberties; and Constance Richards and Jane Graham, Constitutional Liberty and Seditious Activity.

At yesterday's meeting, Marilyn Hagen and Nancy Walker, freshmen, reported on their League-sponsored visit to the Missouri State Legislature.

Fischer, Kanak Hold Two-Man St. Louis Show

Two faculty members of Lindenwood's art department have their paintings on display in a two-man show which opened Sunday at the People's Art Center, 3657 Grandel Sq., in St. Louis. The show will continue to Feb. 26.

Miss Mildred Fischer, associate professor of art, and Mr. Arthur L. Kanak, assistant professor of art, were recently invited by the Art Center to show 25 to 30 of their paintings. Consisting mainly of oil and gouache paintings, Miss Fischer's display includes semi-abstracts and landscapes as well as some wax techniques. Mr. Kanak's work in non-objective abstracts, landscapes, and figure drawings composes the other portion of the exhibit which is open to the public.

The Downs photographic display of still-life scenes is now on view in Roemer Hall. The art faculty invites students and friends to see the show and will answer questions pertaining to the Downs display, Miss Fischer stated.

Queen Kept Secret Until Valentine Ball

Doric columns, patterned love seats, and fountains will be the scene of the coronation of the 1955 sophomore valentine queen tomorrow night.

Three sophomores chosen by their classmates to be on the court of beauty are Ann Albritton, Julie Karsten, and Marella Gore. One of them will reign over the dance in Butler gymnasium from 9 to 12. The gym will be transformed into a Grecian garden for the occasion according to Marian Healey and Tillie Micheletto, co-chairmen of the decorating committee.

Joann Bond, chairman of the intermission committee, has announced that Virginia Woodman, last year's queen, will crown Her Majesty. The queen and her two attendants will wear white formals as is sophomore tradition.

Committee chairmen for the dance are Barbara Behring, Jane Bowman, Chloe Burton, Marian Kasper, Jacqueline Keen, Carol Knight, Marcia Mittelstadt, Julie Rasmussen, and Judy Smith.

Bob Lang and his orchestra from Fort Leonard Wood will furnish the music.

Jim Watson, SD Baseball Trainee, Rates 1955 Man of Year Title; Five Chosen for 'Most' Categories

Jim Watson
'Romeo'

L. C. girls may point with pride some day to the Washington Senators' baseball team's roster where Jim's name will appear if his ambition is realized. He is now training at the Senators' Training Camp at Bradenton, Fla. Next year, however, he expects to enter the University of South Dakota. Blonde, blue-eyed Jim hails from Sioux Falls and is 18 years old.

The McGuire Sisters of TV fame, who appeared at the Auto Show in St. Louis this month, selected Jim from a total of 121 photographs submitted by Lindenwood students in the contest. The singers also selected the Most Kissable, Most Marriageable, Most Athletic, Most Fun to Go out With, and Most Intellectual men from the pictures.

Sydney Schmoeyer's fiance, Jim Archer, rates the Most Kissable of this handsome sextette. His six foot one inch, 170-pound build marks him as a varsity football and basketball player at Tulsa University where he is studying petroleum engineering. Sydney, freshman from El Reno, Okla., disclosed that Mr. Most Kissable is 20 years old and has black hair and dark brown eyes.

"The type who appeals to girls and parents alike," is the way Sunny Obert, sophomore from Waterloo, Iowa, captioned the picture she submitted of Jerry Struck, chosen the Most Marriageable. Ironically, however, Sunny describes the "basketball whiz and terrific dancer" as her "ex." Jerry is a six foot one inch blonde with hazel eyes, and has just been discharged from the Navy.

Missouri University's football team co-captain, Vic Eaton, scores as the Most Athletic! He recently signed a contract with the Pittsburgh Steelers to play professional football next year. A member of Phi Gamma Delta, Vic's fraternity pin recently became the property of Rosemary Dysart, senior from Webster Groves, Mo. This six foot one inch, 195-pound football star is majoring in business and marketing and has dark brown hair and hazel eyes.

Dick Moe, senior Nancy Moe's brother, was selected as Most Fun To Go Out With. According to Nancy, Dick, who is 19 years old and has black hair and hazel eyes, is interested in sports.

John Adams, an Oklahoma A. and M. musician submitted by Linda Meltzer, freshman from Fort Smith, Ark., won the Most Intellectual title. John is five feet, 11 inches tall, weighs 155 pounds and has brown eyes and hair.

Movie 'Devil and Daniel Webster' Scheduled for Roemer Viewing Tonight

"The Devil and Daniel Webster," the screen adaptation of St. Vincent Benet's poem by that name, will be shown at 7 o'clock tonight in Roemer auditorium.

The plot of the movie deals with the famed New Englander's selling his soul to the devil, and then attempting to get it back.

Walter Huston's portrayal of the devil has been called one of his most outstanding pieces of acting. The film received the Academy award for its musical score.

Seniors Help Plan Estes Conference

Freedom will be the theme of the student conference of the YW-YMCA and Student Christian Association to be held at Estes Park, Colo., June 7-14.

Jane Edwards and Deane Dettmann, seniors, are co-chairman and secretary, respectively, of the core committee. They were hostesses last week to a district planning meeting held on Lindenwood's campus. Other schools represented at the conference are Washington University, University of Missouri, Cottey College, and Missouri Valley College.

Dr. Theodore A. Gill, dean of the chapel at Lindenwood, will be the platform speaker at the Estes conference, which will be attended by students from the seven Rocky Mountain states. The program will consist of small discussion groups and large general meetings. Workshops will be held on worship, recreation, programs, group dynamics, and fireside chats.

Feb. 14 - Red Letter - Red Heart Day

Americans are a sentimental sort with love-turtle dove, moon-spoon reverberating from every nook and sofa. So it is no small wonder that through the years Feb. 14 has come to be a red letter day of red roses and Russell Stovers.

The Valentine, an ingenious device which of course resembles no heart at all, serves the purpose of promoting palpitating pictures of the shining knight in the gallant white Cadillac.

The patron saint, a dubious degree, is one whose life, love, and lineage is one of nebulous note. Despite this the modern day misses and especially Lindenwood lasses have come to love this delightful day.

Valentine's Day at Lindenwood may precipitate almost anything. One year an L.C. Belle almost swallowed a fraternity pin which was hidden in a box of chocolates. Another year, a freshman received a dozen American Beauty roses from a secret admirer.

This year the Delts from Illinois University Institute of Technology in Chicago have rushed the day. Two pledges came to Lindenwood last Sunday and personally made a Valentine for every senior.

In bygone days, maidens believed—or at least hoped—that they would marry the first man they saw on Valentine Day. Others put bay leaves under their pillows on the Valentine's eve to make them dream of their "prince on a white horse."

Today beaux still try to impress their favorite lady on Feb. 14, although Sir Cupid has scored a few near misses. One such victim, undoubtedly a disillusioned suitor, wrote:

St. Valentine, though wide your fame,
You don't deserve your pious name,
And this the reason of my plaint—
Your conduct misbefits a saint.

For when comes round, as fixed as fate,
The day which you appropriate,
You give me cause for new complaint
In manner most unlike a saint.

I long have sued for Mabel's smiles
And yielded to her costly wiles,
But ardent lines or baubles quaint
Alike are spurned,—ungrateful saint!

Your name no longer should appear
In saintly calendar 'tis clear,
For I affirm, without restraint,
You're more a sinner than a saint.

Lincoln Won a People's Heart

He wasn't a Caesar, a Luther, a Cromwell, nor yet a Washington but just—Abe Lincoln.

That is why (without a crown, a sword, a sermon) we love him as we do. Homely, gaunt, ungainly, yet cheerful, wise, and patient, he lived as "Honest Abe" and died his country's "Savior."

Lincoln didn't build an army nor take a single fort; he joked, he hauled a pig from the mud, he raised a drooping standard and won a people's heart.

Men write the name of Washington with a silent awe but they tell Lincoln's stories as though he were only a departed friend. We honor him tomorrow on his birthday.

Outer Space — 1955 Gridiron Theme; Date Set for Thursday, March 10

Things are happening in outer space, Janice Gordon, president of the Press Club, told a Bark reporter.

The remark was the only hint that Janice would divulge about the 1955 Gridiron show, which will be presented at 7 p. m., Thursday, March 10, in Roemer Auditorium. The gridiron is an annual Press Club entertainment, written, directed, and produced wholly by members of the club. Janice said the show is "taking form," and the writing committee almost has completed the manuscript.

"Before the show," Janice added, "there may be a surprise for the students, especially the freshmen who have never experienced a Lindenwood Gridiron 'night.' "

Doris Beaumar, past president of the club, will produce the program, which concerns the Lindenwood faculty and outer space. Last year's show, "Life in Lower Lindenwood," was a take-off on Mickey Spillane, with Bullet Spillure (President F. L. McClure) as the detective looking for guilty parties among the faculty.

Other students working on the 1955 Gridiron are Margie Terrell, chairman of the writing committee; Margaret Bittman, assistant producer; Mary Lu Merrell, sound effects; Jenny Lou Barton, set design, and Anne Ashcraft, publicity and promotion chairman.

6 New Students Join L C Ranks

Six new students—four freshmen, one sophomore, and one junior—joined the Lindenwood College rolls second semester. They come from Illinois, Oklahoma, Kansas, Michigan, Louisiana, and Missouri.

Claris Brian of Bridgeport, Ill., is a new addition to the freshman class. She transferred from Indiana University in Bloomington, after completing one semester. Claris, a home economics major, said, "I find Lindenwood quite a change after attending a college with an enrollment of 18,000. Here at Lindenwood everything is much more intimate, and the teachers seem to have a personal interest in their students. I especially like the small classes. Listening to a professor over a loudspeaker in a room with 100 other students didn't appeal to me."

Another reason for Claris' transferring is the Washington University Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity pin she wears. Claris lives in Irwin Hall and plays clarinet in the college orchestra.

Another freshman, and also an Irwin Hall resident, is Anne Harlow of Ardmore, Okla. Last semester Anne attended Oklahoma University in Norman. She is an art major. When asked what she particularly liked about Lindenwood, she exclaimed, "I've never been on a friendlier campus. Although I've only been here a short time, I feel as though I have known Lindenwood and the girls for years."

Lindenwood is not new to Judith Peterson, first semester freshman from Wichita, Kan. She first visited the college four years ago when her sister, Molly Peterson, was a freshman at Lindenwood. "To be a professional Girl Scout leader with a major in psychology and a minor in recreation is my aim," Judith said.

During the last semester while she was working to earn money for college she was the leader of her own Girl Scout troop. "I have big dreams. Along with being a professional Girl Scout leader and field representative with emphasis on senior scouting, I want to be a Girl Scout exchange executive in the Scandinavian countries. I'm spending this summer in Minnesota learning the Swedish language, just in case."

"There is time set aside for study and time for play at Lindenwood," marveled Wardea Jenks, freshman from Ann Arbor, Mich. Wardea, a speech and dramatics major, attended Hillsdale College in Hillsdale, Mich., last semester. She loves to travel and has lived in nearly every state in the union from New England to the West coast.

Joanne Fuller of Monroe, La., resides at Butler Hall and is the only new sophomore. She attended Greenbriar Academy in Lewisburg, W. Va., for the last several years including two years of high school. Unlike the other new students, Joanne's former college was only one third the size of Lindenwood. Joanne said, "I love the activity in a 'big' college." She is enrolled in the liberal arts course.

Mary Alice Bruns Giolivo of St. Charles, Mo., has returned to Lindenwood after a year's absence. She attended Lindenwood from 1951-1953 and is now classified as a junior. Mary Alice's hobbies are cooking and keeping house for her husband who is a civil service employee. She is majoring in elementary education.

At the close of the first semester three seniors completed degrees which will be awarded to them at the June commencement.

Mrs. Marjorie Burch completed work for a B.S. degree in home economics and started Feb. 1, in a position in home extension work for the Iowa State College. After a

Linden Leaves Whisper

Portraits, Police, Pizza Make News

Judy Anderson, Cobbs' senior, has a new money-making scheme. Judy has been making pastel portraits of her fellow students. Talent plus!

Six silly sophomores got tired of studying during final week and went for a ride with the "nicest" policeman. Now the girls say they'll have "something to write home about." The Irwin girls were pretty upset when one of the new students had a date the very first night she was on campus. It must be that "savoir faire."

Irwin's Patty Bremer was seen sledding on the golf course one afternoon of our "week of snow." No, she didn't have a sled, but a large coke sign served the purpose. Kathy Hale claims her stomach won't digest anything but pizza nowadays. Ann Frazier, last year's student body president, visited her alma mater during final week. It seemed like old times to have her back again.

The next time "O. B." Wideman, Linda Wall, and Barb Givens decide to walk three and a half miles in freezing weather, they're hoping Jenny Barton will make herself a trifle bit handier! . . . .

Julie Rasmussen, who sojourned all the way to Texas to see a certain "him," reports that "they" had a marvelous time . . . . Kay Webb, "Puddin'" Sarazen, Sue Wayman, Martha Hoaglin, Sue Daugherty, and Jacki Dethmers have been on the L. C. campus visiting their former classmates.

Those Butler gals seem to be walking away with all sorts of jewelry given to them by ardent admirers. Carol Ratjen, Jane Peebles, and Eva Orndorff are sporting shiny fraternity pins, and Miriam Ferrin has a huge class ring to signify she's going steady.

Sue Spiegel has been complaining about an empty mailbox. The best way to get letters is to write them . . . . The question of the week is—"Why did Sandy B. go home last weekend?" . . .

A group of belated seniors have been bemoaning the fact that every day is now a "hose and heels" affair for them. They're beginning their practice teaching . . . !

The old books are calling. Somehow, everything never seems to be done . . . . without work, that is!

Seniors Sponsor Show

"Pajama Top," the Lindenwood faculty-senior variety show, will be "pushing the top off Roemer Auditorium right after dinner" on Thursday, Feb. 24, said Rosalyn Fields, chairman of the senior committee sponsoring the show.

The show will be a variety musical, and 25 cents admission will be charged. Funds collected will be used toward the seniors' gift to the college, Rosalyn said.

McGuire's Pick Men 'Sincerely'

In between pictures, autographs, and their afternoon appearance at the St. Louis Auto Show, the three gay McGuire Sisters, Phyllis, Dorothy, and Christine, chose the 1955 Lindenwood Romeo and chatted informally with Gloria Bursey and Janice Gordon, Bark editors.

Packed into a small dressing room with pictures of men, stacks of make-up, and hangers of clothes, the McGuire Sisters picked the Romeo and the various other top men from the 121 photos submitted by L. C. students.

The three publicity-minded singers, who have brought "Sincerely" to fame, wanted to know, "Won't we make enemies if we choose just one Romeo?" But Gloria reassured them that the Romeo contest was a tradition at Lindenwood, and there would be no hard feelings. Then the girls turned and "went straight to their work." They all agreed on the same men with no difficulty because, they said, their choice of men is quite similar.

Dressed in their white net formals and their silver strap shoes, they oh'd and ah'd over the pictures and commented, "We'd much rather judge by seeing the men in the flesh!"

After all the categories were filled, and the Romeo chosen, three sighs of relief came from the girls. It had been a big task—to choose just six men out of all those pictures, with less than an hour to do it in.

"Now," they chimed in melodic voices, "we'd like to see what these men think of us."
