BOARD MEMBER CITED FOR 50 YEARS OF SERVICE . . .

Arthur S. Goodall, a retired St. Louis stockbroker and a member of the board of directors since 1937, is to receive an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree during Spring Commencement this Saturday. College officials believe his 50 years of service is the longest tenure of any college board member in the United States. Goodall has served as vice-chairman of the board and, for many years, as chairman of its Building & Grounds Committee. During his leadership, the FAB, Young Hall and Parker and McCluer residence halls were constructed as well as the refurbishment of the Goodall Lounges in the MAB and Jelkyl Theatre. By his own estimates, he personally presented Lindenwood or has been instrumental in garnering about $750,000 for the benefit of the college, which includes establishment of the Nannie S. Goodall Memorial Scholarship Fund, named in memory of his mother.

SACKMAN IS LAKE OZARK BOUND . . .

Amidst a few cries of foul, Larry Sackman, director of Financial Aid & Scholarships, is the winner in the Van Fund Raffle held last week. One of the 12 tickets he purchased was the winner, allowing Sackman and his wife to receive a three-day, two-night stay at the Lodge of the Four Seasons at the Lake of the Ozarks. Sackman assured non-winners that the raffle was legitimate, and that his ticket was the winner. Nearly $1,000 was raised for the athletic teams.

SHILLER IS DEACONESS COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER . . .

Alan H. Shiller, assistant professor of speech, is the keynote speaker for commencement May 29 at Deaconess College of Nursing. A member of the Deaconess faculty, Shiller will address about 200 graduates with the topic, "Being Socially Acceptable." Commencement begins at 8 p.m. at Graham Chapel on the campus of Washington University.
