First-Year Programs Seeks Student Success Stories

In an effort to highlight the many successes of Lindenwood students, First-Year Programs invites faculty and staff to share information relating to student success at conferences, competitions, internships, etc. with our office. First-Year Programs oversees the Lindenwood University Parents Facebook page and creates a monthly parents/supporter newsletter. Parents and families love hearing about the real experience students are gaining by presenting research at conferences, winning academic competitions, interning in their field of study, and more. If you know of a student or student group who achieved real success at such an event, please email a picture of said student(s) with the students' major to Dacoda at DScarlett@lindenwood.edu. Please also include a small description of the success. For examples of comparable posts, check out the Lindenwood University Parents page on Facebook.

Lindenwood University Symphony Orchestra looking for musicians!

The orchestra, in its third year as a community group, is always on the lookout for interested musicians from the Lindenwood family and the St. Charles community. We rehearse on Monday nights from 7-9:30 p.m. and typically have 1-2 performances per semester. If you are looking for a reason to pick up your instrument again, this is your chance! While we're happy to accept all orchestral instruments, we're particularly looking for string and double-reed instruments. If you or anyone you know is interested, please contact Dr. Jeffrey Barudin at jbarudin@lindenwood.edu.
