PEOPLE, NEWS & NOTES

ALUMNI/DEVELOPMENT NEEDS PHONERS FOR COLLEGE

There are immediate openings for the evening phon-a-thon sessions beginning Monday, February 29. The alumni Development office is looking for students and adults to call the college's alumni for their annual and new donations. Experience is helpful, but if you like to talk this could be a good way to earn extra bucks. Callers will be paid an hourly wage, plus incentives. Training and scripts will be given to all phoners. This is a paid-calling opportunity for Lindenwood's telemarketing operations. Call Chuck Brown, director of development for individual gifts, at 949-2000 extension 386.

SPAHMER AWARD TO RECOGNIZE CREATIVE WRITING

Full-time Lindenwood undergraduate students are encouraged to submit materials in the form of poetry, fiction, drama, or the essay for the Richard C. Spahmer Award at Lindenwood College. Spahmer, formerly dramatic critic for the St. Louis Globe Democrat, established a fund in 1946 to be used as a cash award for creative recognition. Students submitting work should use a pen name for impartial judging and enclose identification for the pen name in a sealed envelope which should be submitted with the work. A maximum of six works per student may be submitted. If multiple submissions are made, they will be considered as a portfolio, rather than as separate submissions. The Spahmer Award is judged by the Lindenwood English Department and will be given at the Honors Convocation on March 20, 1988. Submit all materials and pen name identification to: Spahmer Award, Box 707. Deadline for submissions: March 14.

PERFORMING ARTS FIND ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT

Kathi Jones has started as the new performing arts administrative assistant for Lindenwood College. Jones brings a diverse background to her job, including experience in word processing, photography and video, news and promotional writing, and police communications. Stop by and welcome Kathi on board--she's in the Fine Arts Building, Room 200 or call her at extension 218.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR JUNIORS AND SENIORS

"Women in Energy, Inc." offers a $500.00 scholarship for a junior or senior enrolled full-time and majoring in business, education, engineering, home economics, journalism, science, or other energy-related field. Minimum GPA, 3.0. Applicants must be currently attending a Missouri college or university. Application deadline: April 15. Application forms available at the Financial Aid Office, Butler Hall. For more information, call Kathi, extension 380. And--the Advertising Federation of St. Louis, Inc. (AFSL) offers two scholarships, one for $800.00 and one for $500.00 to be awarded to Junior year students who are preparing for a career in advertising, marketing, or public relations. They requested a total of four applications from Lindenwood: two from day students and two from L.C.I.E. or evening college students. Applications deadline: March 25. These scholarships place a heavy emphasis on marketing and business courses combined with communications courses and skills. Experience in the field of advertising, marketing or public relations is also helpful. Application forms are available at the Public Relations Office, Memorial Arts Building, Room 110. For more info, please call Phyllis, extension 383.

NATIONAL PUBLICATION ACCEPTS STUDENT ARTICLE

Sara Freese, elementary education student at Lindenwood, has received notification from School Library Media Activities Monthly that her article on "Propaganda" has been accepted for publication. The national publication is read by over 30,000 elementary and middle school teachers and librarians.

HEART ASSOCIATION OPERATES OUT OF DEVELOPMENT

The American Heart Association operated a successful search for block walkers for their annual drive. They concluded operations at the Development Office's telemarketing facilities on February 9. Callers for the Heart Association located 1,250 volunteers to canvas St. Charles County for 1988 contributions. Congratulations to the callers and best wishes from Lindenwood College for a successful campaign.

ADMISSIONS SEEKS INTERVIEWERS AND OVERNIGHT HOSTS

Lindenwood College Admissions projects close to 100 participants for the upcoming President's Scholarship Day which will take place on Saturday, March 5. Eighteen persons, comprised of faculty, staff and students, are needed to interview prospective students from 9:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. on Saturday. A three or four member student panel will visit with parents and students from 9:30 to 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. Also, students living on-campus are needed to host an overnight opportunity on Friday, March 4 or Saturday, March 5. You can have fun and meet new people by hosting an overnight. If anyone from the faculty, staff or student body is interested, please call Peter Pitts, director of day admissions, extension 212 to volunteer and for more information.

LINDENWOOD GRADUATE RECEIVES HONOR TEACHING AWARD

Clarice Marshall, a 1987 graduate of Lindenwood's masters in education program has received the Honor Teaching Award from the Texas State Council of the International Reading Association. Marshall received the award for outstanding teaching in the fields of reading and children's literature.

CONFERENCE OFFERS SESSIONS WITH WRITING ACROSS CURRICULUM

The 1988 Annual Convention of the Conference on College Composition and Communications (CCCC) will be held in St. Louis on March 17-19. Numerous sessions will include Writing Across the Curriculum, now incorporated into Lindenwood's General Education curriculum. On Wednesday, March 16, there will be a Preconvention Workshop on "Designing Writing Assignments to Foster Critical Thinking Skills." Faculty members who are interested in attending the conference or workshop sessions may contact Ann Canale, extension 334 for further information.
