L. C. Choir To Take Off For Concert At Missouri School Of Mines

The Lindenwood Choir is jaunting to Rolla again this year to give a concert at the Missouri School of Mines. Saturday, the Choir and other Lindenwood girls who wish to go, are leaving on Greyhound buses for a big day at Rolla, Mo.

Arriving in Rolla, the girls will lunch at a hotel. After lunch the girls will go to the various fraternities to spend the afternoon. That night the concert will be held with the Rolla choir. Prof. Milton Rehg will conduct the L.C. choir in a number of songs, one of which was sung last Sunday night in Vespers "Pueri Hebreorum." Included in the numbers are several light songs such as the "Serenade," from the "Student Prince," "Hello, Young Lovers," "Whistle A Happy Tune," and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home Again."

The girls will pick their own dates at the various fraternity houses. After the concert there will be an informal dance.

Mr. Rehg plans to leave at 1 a. m. so that the girls will get home about 3:30 or 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

Let's Go Girls! It's Time For Spring Housecleaning

By Jane Amsden

The wind is winding, the rain is raining and spring is springing. Spring means everything from heavenly love to spring housecleaning. The question now—housecleaning.

So what, you say? You cleaned it once on Founders' Day and it's just getting back to normal. You've hibernated in it all winter long and you are just learning the knack of walking through your room at night without stumbling over the numerous obstructions on the floor.

But let's put some of our excess spring ambition to work and clean up the mess. Out go the cigarette butts, coke bottles, glass, paper wads, hairpins, clothespins, hat pins, safety pins, fraternity pins, term paper notes, ink bottles, cracker crumbs, cobwebs, and guess what—here is that book you've been looking for all winter.

Now you're probably "poohed." Go to the Tea Hole or smoke a cigarette. That's all right—just flick the ashes on the floor. You'll have to mop it anyway.

Ready to go back to work? Now move the bed, dresser, desk, bookcase, and all your junk out into the hall. You can get to that later. Take some water to those windows and the sink, and mop the floor. Now all you have to do is clean out the furniture and get that moved back to the proper nook.

After an afternoon of such goings on, you have your room back in shape and looking like a million. You feel like a new person and want to throw a party. So you do and the next morning you crawl out of bed through the coke bottles, crumbs, magazines, and ashes. Oh well, here goes again. Good exercise, isn't it?

Arlene Dahl Has Hard Time Picking Romeo

Girls, your Lindenwood Romeo of the year has been chosen. The pictures just got back from Hollywood and the winners will be presented in the next Bark issue.

Arlene Dahl, judge of the contest, wrote to the Bark staff: "I don't profess to know all about character analyses as judged from a photograph, but I tried my best, and I hope the selections I made will meet with a majority opinion among your fellows at Lindenwood College. Should my judgment fail to win general approval, you are entitled to hiss my performance in 'Caribbean Gold,' which I'm doing now at Paramount."

"Really, though, I count it a privilege and pleasure to make such selections from among all those handsome young men, and I hope I can be of help to you again next year."

You girls who entered pictures in the contest will have your men back as soon as possible after cuts have been made from the winning pictures for printing. The staff thanks you for lending us the pictures. We had a lot of pictures this year and think the contest was quite successful. Be looking for the next issue—maybe your man is the Lindenwood Romeo of 1952.

Convention Plans Growing As Date Draws Near; Dr. Betz Issues Statement

Pick Your Baby!

Have you chosen your "beautiful baby"?

Yes, those cute little creatures are members of the Lindenwood faculty and administration. If you haven't seen the pictures, they are on display in the Cobbs lounge.

When the last tabulation of votes was taken, Mrs. Barton was in the lead by 30 pennies.

To vote, drop your pennies in the box under the picture of your prettiest teacher. This is one time it is permissible to stuff the ballot box.

This contest is one of the "Woos-if" projects to raise money for the World Student Service Fund and your pennies will contribute to this fund.

The planning committees for the political conventions have met several times and are already busy. A dozen or more schools have accepted, and answers come in every day. The general committee has decided upon badges for both parties, and is working on registration cards and the physical set-up of the convention halls and headquarters.

Committees on Resolutions and Platform have met and are busy formulating tentative platforms they will try to incorporate into the platforms drawn up by the committees in the conventions.

Dr. John Moore, sponsor of the Democratic group at Lindenwood, has stated his views in another article. When Dr. S. A. E. Betz, sponsor of the Republicans, was asked to comment on why he thought they should win the 1952 election, he issued the following statement:

"I believe that the Republicans will win the 1952 election because the momentum of leadership is no longer with the Democrats, and because the philosophy of the Democratic Party—despite the undoubtedly good intentions of many Democrats—has increasingly tended to obscure and undermine certain basic American ideals. I refer to such things as thrift, civic forthrightness, and the independence of the individual. The American people are increasingly looking to the Republican Party for a renaissance of these ideals and for fresh vigorous leadership."

Straw Ballots Coming In

The straw ballots have been coming in slowly. Another ballot is printed in this issue. So far the Republicans are in the lead.

Leaders of the two parties urge everyone to turn in ballots so an accurate count may be obtained.

All you have to do is to cut out the ballot, fill in your first choice and second choice for President, to which party you belong, and if you have ever voted in an election before. Do it now!

Dr. Moore, Democratic Sponsor, Airs His Views On Coming Election

By Joan Kirchherr

Why shouldn't the Democrats win when they have the Democratic Club of Lindenwood College backing them? In an interview with Dr. John B. Moore, sponsor of the Democratic party for the spring political convention, the values of such a convention were discussed, and his opinions on the national campaign were gained.

When asked just what were the values of an L.C. student's participation in helping with the planning, preparation and actually working at the convention, Dr. Moore believed that the convention would be a valuable experience for the following reasons: (1) it creates an interest, (2) it acquaints the student with problems in organization, and (3) it is training for good citizenship.

As to the issues involved in such a campaign and how will the Democrats stand on the issues, Dr. Moore thought that the biggest battles would be over economic policies and what our foreign policy should be. However, morals in public life will be discussed and taxes (that ever pertinent subject for any presidential campaign) will be hashed out.

As to what side of the fence the Democrats will be on we can get a pretty good idea from the policies already in effect in the present administration. The Democrats will stand on the issue of a large national income and the continuance of the present high standard of living. Dr. Moore believes that the "foreign policy will receive consideration by both parties but it is not likely to be changed." Taxes will be pounced on "in order to get votes, but whoever wins—the taxes will go up."

When questioned as to why the girls should vote the Democratic ticket, Dr. Moore said that the "Democrats have a better economic policy than the Republicans and also because of our present foreign policy."

As to who the candidate for the party is likely to be, Dr. Moore doesn't know yet. But it is up to us at our convention to decide the one that we want.

George Has A Birthday

If a student is asked whose birthday is celebrated February 22, the answer that would be given is George Washington. This day is particularly remembered because it is a school holiday. When the name of the Father of our Country is mentioned, such stories as "the chopping down of the cherry tree" and "Washington crossing the Delaware" are called to mind.

Now that we are in college and no longer get a holiday from classes, the day should be remembered in a different way. We should really think about what this citizen contributed to America, and how we might contribute something to our community, even though it be in a small way, by living a life as George. So let's all take a few minutes out of our hurried routine this day to see how we each can become better citizens.

Politics Mean Work

Now is the time for all good voters at Lindenwood College to join up with either the Republican or the Democratic party.

A convention can run smoothly only if people participate and work. There are a lot of things that have to be done to make it successful. Let's everyone remember this when it comes time for the ball to begin rolling. Besides this, they are really educational as far as politics are concerned, and as far as parliamentary rules are concerned. If you have never attended a political convention before, you will be amazed at what goes on during one.

The American citizen is endowed with freedom of speech, and it is at a political convention that this freedom is extensively used. One may not have to be afraid to speak up and say his piece.

As I have said before, there is work and lots of it, involved with a political convention. Everyone has her bit to do to put it over. Let's all get out and help, shall we?

Bark Barometer Of Public Opinion

N.S.P. REVEALS THAT COLLEGE STUDENTS PREFER TAFT AND EISENHOWER OVER TRUMAN

Lindenwood students, with those of 63 other colleges and universities, are participating in the national poll of student opinion sponsored by the Associated Collegiate Press. The poll this week relates to three possible presidential candidates, Eisenhower, Taft, and Truman. The following question was asked: If Robert Taft and Harry Truman oppose each other in the 1952 presidential election, which one would you prefer to win?

1. Taft: L.C. 53 per cent; other colleges 46 per cent. 2. Truman: L.C. 29 per cent; other colleges 29 per cent; 3. No opinion: L.C. 18 per cent; other colleges 25 per cent. And for Eisenhower vs. Truman: 1. Eisenhower: L.C. 74 per cent; other colleges 71 per cent. Truman: L.C. 17 per cent; other colleges 16 per cent. 2. No opinion: L.C. 13 per cent; other colleges 13 per cent.

ELSIE SAYS

This is the fourth week of the semester and Elsie says she is tired from all the hustling and bustling that is going on campus. She says that beings as how it will be impossible for her to pick a party, she wishes the best of luck to both parties.

The most important thing Elsie has to say is about the Gridiron Dinner, which is scheduled for April. Work is being done on committees for it, and everything is progressing along. This dinner has always been a high light of the year during which everyone has a good time enjoying the romping and ragings of the Press Club. For the information of the Freshmen, the dinner is a take-off on the faculty. It is usually followed by a faculty take-off on the students. The faculty has just as much fun as the students.

Don't forget now, that's the Gridiron Dinner in April. It's hot stuff.

OF ALL THINGS

By Barbara Ebeling

It seems that everyone is pretty well settled in new classes now and second semester is on its way. Seniors, this is the last one. Hurrah!

The jokes may be a little better this time. We will see. I do, however, again send out the plea to please turn in to me any jokes you may have heard that are good, but suitable for the paper.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE. DON'T FORGET TO SIGN UP FOR COMMITTEES.

How! Heap big Indians!
Here's a column of corn
So laugh at the jokes
Even though they're forlorn.

We really aren't poets
Nor drawings can do
So if you'll bear with us
We'll try to please you.

Just remember:
The person who is known
As life's greatest bore
Is the one who says
"I've heard it before."

One L.C. professor (eating in a restaurant) was heard to say, "I've never had any brains." At last the worst fears of the student body have been realized.

Mr. G. (in physics class): "Will someone tell the class what happens when a body is immersed in water."
Student: "The telephone rings."

He: "Are you afraid of the big bad wolf?"
She: "No, why?"
He: "That's funny; the other three pigs were."

Joy Cash: "Daddy, the girl who sits next to me in class has a dress just like mine."
Dad: "So you want a new dress."
Joy: "Well, that would be cheaper than changing schools."

By Nell Culver

There's been some discussion, both official and unofficial, of admitting men as day students at Lindenwood next year.

Instead of the usual opinionated discussion, let's take a new approach. What are the arguments pro and con?

FOR: One of the things we miss most here in the companionship of men. It gives us a one-sided view of life.

Men would be useful about the campus, particularly in productions of the radio and drama departments. They're nice to have around when real work is being done.

St. Charles boys who don't have the necessary funds to go away to school or the desire to leave would be given the opportunity of getting a college education right in their own home town.

Most important, a few men wouldn't really change campus life enough to make any real difference at all. It isn't fair to deny local men the opportunity of an education when their attendance wouldn't disturb us in the least.

AGAINST: Lindenwood is a women's college. Is it fair to the students and to the administration and faculty to suddenly change its character?

The number of men who would attend would be of little actual value as far as the drama or radio departments are concerned, and since they would not live on campus, would contribute little in the way of physical labor on campus projects.

The number of people who would really benefit by the plan would be so small that it is pointless to undertake the necessary changes.

The presence of men would necessitate changing the basic outline of some courses, which emphasize the place that women have in a particular field, and adding new courses which apply particularly to men.

What is your opinion? Why not write it down, in 2,000 words or less, and turn it in to the Bark, in care of Box 366.

King George VI's death came as a shock to all of us. He was in truth, as a student remarked, "the only king we had." We share, in some part at least, the grief of his family and subjects. Americans feel particularly close to the new Queen Elizabeth since her visit here last fall. So now we say, with the rest of the world, "God save the Queen!"

Have you read a book lately? Don't laugh. I mean have you gone to the library, picked out a current best seller or an old favorite, and just sat down and read it? Neither have I.

We have an extremely well-stocked library, you know, and that's what it's there for! I'll bet each and every one of us has a few hours on the weekend that she just plain wastes, and think what fun you could have "wasting" your time curled up with a mystery—and if you want to be stuffy about it, you probably wouldn't even be wasting it. It's all part of your education.

Try it!

Have you begun working on the political conventions? Two and a half weeks are left to prepare for all the pomp and pageantry and fun you saw in the movies the other day. It's a big job, and the two parties need the help of every voter.

See your committee chairman and find out what you can do to help decorate, write the platform, or work on preliminary registration of delegates.

There's a job for you!

"Darling, this is the first time I have ever had my arm around a girl," said the handsome senior to his sophomore girl friend, as he shifted the gears with his knees.

An asylum patient, who had certified cured, was saying goodbye to the director of the institution. "And what are you going to do when you go out into the world?" asked the director.

"Well," said the patient, "I have passed my bar examinations, so I may practice law. I have also had quite a bit of experience in college dramatics, so I might try acting."

He paused for a moment, deep in thought. "Then, on the other hand," he continued, "I may be a teakettle."

The chairman at one of my recent lectures told about a little girl who went to church for the first time.

Afterwards the minister asked her how she liked the service.

"Well," she said, "I thought the music was very nice, but your commercial was too long."

"Did you get home all right last night, sir?" the streetcar conductor asked one of his regular passengers solicitously.

"Of course; why do you ask?"
"Well, when you got up and gave the lady your seat you were the only two people in the car."

Six reasons why I never joined a sorority.

1. I wanted to do as I wished and think for myself instead of being led around by a bunch of sorority sisters.

2. I had never gone into women's clubs and organizations before I came to college and I didn't want to start.

3. I had never danced with a man in my life and I didn't want to start.

4. I didn't like the idea of having to room with the same girl all semester.

5. I didn't fill out a sweater and I didn't look attractive in a sleeveless, low-cut gown.

6. I am a male.

The Pullman conductor one night found a red lantern hanging on one of the lower berths, so he looked up George, the porter, and asked, "Say George, why is the red lantern hanging on lower six?"

"Well, Boss, Rule 23 in my rule book says that you should always hang up a red lantern when the rear end of a sleeper is exposed."

Saturday Is Last Day To Sign Up For Trip In Land Of Manana

Saturday is the deadline for Lindenwood girls interested in the trip to Mexico to sign up. Dr. Eunice Roberts has asked those girls who plan to participate in the trip to see her and fill out the cards.

This tour, to be conducted by Dr. Roberts, has been scheduled for April 10 through the 19th. It will start April 10 at 2:40 p. m. from Lambert Air Field, when the girls will depart on an American Airline DC6 Flagship. The students will arrive in Mexico City at 11:30 p. m. and they will go to the Hotel Geneve for their stay in the city.

Many interesting sights have been chosen for this tour, some of which include the many fine centers in Mexico City, Cuernavaca, Taxco, and Acapulco. The tourists will see such sights as the Plaza de la Constitucion, center of the ancient relics of Mexico in Mexico City; the Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe; the pyramids of the Sun and Moon at Teotihuacan; the ruins of the Buried City and the Temple of Quetzalcoatl; Chapultepec Heights and Chapultepec Castle; Xochimilco, the floating gardens; the great Cathedral in Mexico City, and the beautiful sights of Acapulco.

The tour will return on April 19 to Lambert Field and then back to school. It will be a marvelous Easter vacation trip for girls who are able to go and the rate of $325 per person includes all expenses except souvenirs.

Choral-Speech Group In Recital

A student recital was held by various members of the Music Department last Tuesday, February 19, in Sibley Chapel. Participants were Beverly Stukenbroeker, Sue Jane Hughes, Barbara Sutton, Mrs. James R. Blackwood, and the Lindenwood Choral-Speech group.

The Lindenwood Choral-Speech group is a new course this year. Any girl who is interested may join. The class meets once a week, but no credit is given for it. It is a volunteer group which learns to perfect speech. At the recital, this group featured such poems as "Tell me, What is Poetry?" "New York," "Spin, Lassie, Spin," "Forsaking," "The River," and "The Squaw Dance." The first part of the program featured piano, voice and organ pieces.

Ten Freshmen Join Scholastic Fraternity

Ten Freshman women have been invited to become members of Alpha Lambda Delta. They are Doris Beaumar, Jill Gingell, Deane Keeton, Susan Kennedy, Cara Jean McClelland, Carol McGaughey, Dorothy Neblett, Barbara Shuttleworth, Mary Ann Thielecke, and Jean Thiery.

The Club president is Arlene Becker. Beverly Trescott is secretary, and Carolyn Smith, treasurer.

The faculty members are Dr. Eunice Roberts, Miss Mary Lichter, Dr. Elizabeth Dawson, and Dr. Alice Parker.

Danish Educator Speaks At Convo

Dr. Peter Manniche, founder and principal of the International People's College at Elsinore, Denmark, spoke at convocation last Thursday on the subject "Education Toward International Understanding."

Dr. Manniche has lectured extensively in the United States under the auspices of the Institute of International Education, and in Canada for the National Council of Education. He has also lectured at the Universities of London, Manchester, Oxford, Cambridge, Bristol, and Toronto, and several universities in China. In October, 1947, he served as Danish delegate to the UNESCO Conference in Mexico City. In 1951 he served as a visiting European consultant to the Office of the United States High Commissioner in Germany. Among Dr. Manniche's publications are "Denmark: A Social Laboratory" and "Adult Education in the Struggle for Peace."

The International People's College was founded at Elsinore, Denmark, in 1921 by Dr. Manniche in collaboration with Mr. Cai Hegermann - Lindencrone, whose father was Danish Ambassador to the United States. Over the years this College has had some 4,800 students for the five months' winter course and three months' summer course, and another 8,500 students for the short vacation courses. Forty-four different nations have been represented in the student body, and more than half have come from countries other than Denmark.

Dr. Manniche also spoke to the faculty last Wednesday afternoon on the subject "Danish Folk High Schools."

White Elephant Sale Brings In $95; Dr. Parker Stars As Palm-Reader

The White Elephant Sale was a huge success! Barbara Sutton, president of Alpha Sigma Tau, reports that the proceeds from the sale were $95.00. The money will be used as a scholarship for Barbara Richardson, a student at the School of the Ozarks.

Jewelry was the best seller at the sale, and miscellaneous articles were next in popularity.

Dr. Parker read palms for three hours, and 48 people came to ask for her interpretations. All of them were amazed at her accuracy.

Alpha Sigma Tau wants to thank the students and faculty who made the sale a success by contributing White Elephants and by attending the sale.

Betty Jack Littleton Wins Recognition In Literary Fields

Miss Betty Jack Littleton, 1951 graduate magna cum laude, won recognition for two poems she entered in a contest for college students, which was sponsored by the Atlantic Monthly. The poems were written in a special project course which she took last year with Dr. Elizabeth Dawson. One poem was among the "top papers," from which contest winners were chosen, and the other was listed among the "merit" papers. Judge of the poetry was Theodore Morrison, poet and critic.

Betty Jack, who was known on campus as "B.G.," was the 1951 student body president. Her home is in Miami, Okla. She is now a graduate student in English at Stanford University.

Faculty Present Vesper Recital

The faculty Vesper recital with Thomas W. Doherty, pianist, and Robert Hume, reader, was held February 17, at 6:30 p. m. in Roemer Auditorium.

Mr. Doherty, instructor of French at Lindenwood, played "Sonata, Opus. 31, No. 2" by Beethoven and was followed by Mr. Hume of Lindenwood's Dramatics Department, who read "A Night Out" by Edward Peple. The title fitted the story perfectly as Omar Ben, an aristocratic Persian kitten who had lived a life of ease and luxury, meets an old "alley cat" and soon after this meeting goes out with his new friend to see the world. Omar returns a fallen, but a happier cat.

Mr. Doherty concluded the program with "Papillons, Opus 2" by Schumann.

S.C.A. Cabinet Sponsors Day Of Prayer

The World's Student Christian Federation Day of Prayer for Students was led at Lindenwood by members of the Junior SCA Cabinet.

An explanation of the Universal Day of Prayer for Students was given by Alberta Johnson. The student body was led in responsive readings which consisted of an "Act of Penitence," "Act of Thanksgiving" and "Dedication."

The leader was Maxine Menke. The president of the Junior SCA Cabinet, Eleanor Mauze, presented a scripture reading and a reading of the call to prayer. The "Act of Intercession" was read by Joan Maness.

C. C. Clayton Addresses Press Club In Milwaukee

Charles C. Clayton, national president of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity and who is an editorial writer for the St. Louis Globe Democrat, spoke at the Milwaukee, Wis., chapter of Sigma Chi last Tuesday.

Mr. Clayton is also instructor of journalism at Lindenwood.

Student Voters Register

Registration of voters was a big success, say reports from both the Democratic and Republican parties. At first count the two groups reported a total of 216 registered voters, well over two-thirds of the total enrollment. The next job is making a check list and asking those who did not register to do so. Registration is the first step to a successful convention.

Student are about equally divided in political preference, although the Republicans have a slight edge over the Democrats. Of the 216, 99 were Democrats and 117 Republicans.

Each student volunteered for work on two committees as she registered, and the committee work is already underway. Girls who are active in the preliminary planning sessions will probably be those chosen to be delegates to the conventions.

The Linden Leaves Are Whispering

By Jane Amsden

By the looks of all the red roses and boxes of candy, Valentine's Day proved quite successful for L.C. gals. Especially for Sally Hoskins. Seems she came close to eating a Sigma Chi pin that was hidden in her candy.

These Seniors are the strangest creatures at times. Saw Laurie B. late the other night creeping around the campus carrying a big lantern. Heard later she was out looking for friends. Could you use a book, Laurie, on "How to Win Friends and Influence People" or are you trying a new method?

I think Washington left quite an effect on a couple of the Washington Semester girls. Rita came back staging a big campaign for DEWEY. Then there's Estelle with her "Ray—Bud—George." Could it be there were men at Washington, maybe?

Last week was a regular "old-home reunion" in Butler. Kiki Kotsiopoulos, Glenna Kiner, and Jean Robb were all back to visit Lindenwood. LaJuana Morton also came up from Oklahoma for the week-end.

Did you see Carol Dearing's green complexion last week? From what I hear, Carol and a certain Beta had a little scrimmage with a tube of this green tooth-paste. It's for your teeth, Carol, not your face.

Have you heard the new slant on marriage? A man loses his Bachelor's degree and a woman gains her Master's.

Be looking for the next Bark issue and the pictures of the Romeo Contest winners.

The Campus Hall Of Fame

This week's Hall of Fame features Nell Culver, treasurer of the Junior Class and one of the busiest girls on the L.C. campus.

Now, she is working on plans for the political convention as head of the Lindenwood delegation to the Democratic convention. She will soon be seen in "The Lady's Not for Burning" and, at the same time, is busy with Woos-if plans.

Nell is also on the KCLC staff, is a member of Alpha Epsilon Rho, the Press Club, the Modern Language Club, is an associate member of Alpha Sigma Tau, is social chairman of the SCA, and is program director of the Young Democrats Club, and is a member of the Bark staff. During her Freshman and Sophomore years, she sang in the choir. She is active in the Speech Department and was in the cast of "Everyman" and worked on the stage crew for "The Whirlwind Passeth."

With all her activities, Nell seems to find time for her studies for she has been on the Dean's Honor Roll all three years she has attended Lindenwood.

Welcome to the Hall of Fame, Nell. We're proud to present you in this issue.

KCLC HAS NEW MOVIE CAMERA FOR USE OF PRODUCTION

CLASS AS PREPARATION FOR TELEVISION STUDY—

COMMERCIALS ARE FIRST PROJECTS

By Sharlene Agerter

KCLC now has a new movie camera to brag about. The camera, which is a 16 mm Belle & Howell, arrived last week and the production class got its first lesson in the technique of movie making last Tuesday. The camera is mounted on a tripod and can be adjusted to take pictures from any angle. An additional aid to making good pictures is a light meter, which registers the amount of light and then gives the corresponding number at which to set the camera lens. The equipment also included two portable lights. The current in these lights can be stepped up so as to give the voltage of floodlights.

The class was given a chance to go through the motions of making a picture, i. e. loading the camera, making the necessary adjustments, taking the light reading, focusing the camera, and setting up the subject with correct lighting. The whole process is complicated and will take practice to get it down "pat."

One of the first projects which the class will do along this line is the making of short commercial films. There is some discussion about the possibility of having Saturday class because regular class hours are so short.

Some of the girls are concerned about the possibility of breakage and the cost. In fact, so concerned that they want to take out insurance on both themselves and the camera.

The money for this equipment was a gift from a lady in St. Charles. It certainly will help us to better understand the problems of TV and give us much practical experience. We'll be looking for further "haps" or "mishaps" down here now.

Know Your Clubs

Beta Chi Is Organization For Gals Who Like To Ride - Miss Egelhoff Is Sponsor And Joyce Glauber Is President

Beta Chi is the club on campus in which members can show their horsemanship. It is sponsored by Miss Rosemary Egelhoff, who is a Lindenwood graduate. The officers are: Joyce Glauber, president; Phyllis Laux, vice president, and Betsy Elliott, secretary-treasurer.

To be eligible for memberships the candidates must be able to pass a certain set of rules, and a practical test. In this test perfect control of the horse must be maintained.

In addition to learning how to handle horses better, this club sponsors trips to such stables as the Anheuser-Busch Stables, and the girls also visit horse shows in the nearby communities.

This year Beta Chi is again to be the sponsor of a horse show May Week-end.

The Lindenwood basketball team will play two games at home this week.

Tomorrow afternoon at five o'clock, they play a return game against Washington U. Friday at 7:45, they will be host to the Maryville girls.

Up to the time the Bark went to press, the team had played three games. In the first game, L.C. was defeated at Washington University by a score of 50-14. Then Lindenwood came through in its next match and won over Monticello 38-27. The Harris vs. Lindenwood game ended with the score at 37-25 in favor of Harris Teachers College.

Grett Bartenbach and Nada Sue Roberson have been awarded their AA letter sweaters. These sweaters, the highest award given in AA, are presented to the Junior and Senior members when they have earned the required number of points by participating in sports.

Congratulations, you two!

Last week the pool was quite a busy place with the Water Safety Instructors courses being held. Now the Terrapin members are busy practicing for the water show to be held in April.

A number of girls have signed up to join the Athletic Association this semester. If anyone else is interested in joining sign up in the P.E. office right away.
