Students Model Nelly Don Fashions At Annual Style Show Here Thursday Night

(From the St. Charles Daily Banner-News)

Nelly Don's complete summer collection was modeled by the students at Lindenwood College at a fashion show presented by Miss Beulah Spilsbury, director of fashion promotion, to a capacity audience Thursday evening, April 12.

The presentation opened with an 1851 dress in lilac cotton with a lace stole. This was followed by a Nelly Don 1951 lilac cotton stole dress. A group of jacket dresses for street and sunning was shown under the heading of "1 plus 1 equals Two Smart Looks."

Nelly Don's famous voiles were grouped as "Sheer Air-conditioned for Missouri." Travel dresses were also featured. One of the scenes featured Circa 1900—Vintage 1951, also with old-fashioned bathing suits of 1900 with the covered-up look of stockings and bloomers modest over the knees.

This was followed by Nelly Don's own Ottoman cotton play suits—also modest with cover-up jacket or cover-up coat, which serve the double purpose of one-piece dresses as well as cover-up for the play suit. The climax of the show was a "Missouri Cotton Wedding" featuring pink-lilac, in which little Ginger Bauer, daughter of Hugo Bauer, German professor, modeled a replica of the bride's dress.

The girls who modeled were: Arlene Becker, Pat Reese, Dot Hall, Nancy Flora, Carolyn White, Helen Wetzel, Arlene Kruehl, Nancy Stigel, Charleen Smith, Sharon Brown, Martha Blackwell, Lorraine Klockenbrink, and Marilyn Comer. Music was furnished by Liz Bates and the flower arrangements were by Buse's.

Nelly Don is an alumna of Lindenwood College, and the style show is made possible by her and Mme. Helene Lyolene, fashion consultant at Nelly Don, Inc. who spends a semester at Lindenwood each year.

Gala Scene At Annual Prom Saturday Night

The Junior Class was host to the Seniors and their guests in the Old English atmosphere of La Chateau in Clayton, Mo., at the annual Junior-Senior prom last Saturday night.

The Bonnie Ross orchestra furnished the music and dancing was from 8:30 till 12:30. A buffet supper consisting of cold salads and sandwiches was served at 10:30. Souvenirs of this gala event were napkins and ashtrays. Special privileges granted to the Juniors and Seniors for this night only were 3 o'clock permissions.

The prom was under the direction of Joy Hellwig Houseman.

Bowman Is Elected Vice President

Laurie Bowman, a Junior this year at Lindenwood, has been elected by the student body as vice president of the Student Council for 1951-52. Laurie's home is in Seminole, Okla. She represented Lindenwood this last fall at Washington Semester and has shown her ability as a good leader in many other campus organizations. Mary Beth Banta of Arcadia, Mo., has been elected as secretary and treasurer of the Student Council for next year. Mary Beth is a Sophomore this year at Lindenwood and is president of the Sophomore Class.

The retiring vice president of Student Council is Jennifer Sullivan of Wichita, Kans., and the retiring secretary-treasurer is Sarah Hilliard of Miami, Okla.

City Of St. Charles Honors Mayor Homer Clevenger At Council Meeting

By Birgit Johansson
Maybe you have noticed that Dr. Homer Clevenger wears a shining, new gold watch . . . Try to get a look on the backside of it, and you will read: "The City of St. Charles—Homer Clevenger—Mayor 1945-1951."

Dr. Homer Clevenger is known at Lindenwood as head of the History Department, but the last six years he has also been the mayor of St. Charles. This spring he decided not to run for the office; he felt that both the duty and the honor of holding it ought to go to somebody else. The watch was given to him as a symbol of gratitude for his work from businessmen in St. Charles. The council-president of the Junior Class, with the assistance of the class members. Sponsors of both classes who acted as chaperons were: Dr. Siegmund Betz, Douglas Hume, and Marguerite Ver Kruezen.

Faculty Burn Road, Get Police Tickets

A midnight call from the St. Louis city jail sent Dr. Franc McCluer rushing off to St. Louis two weeks ago tonight, to bail out Miss Mary Lichtliter, William McMurry and a group of Lindenwood students who had attended a Civic Music League concert. It really wasn't as bad as all that but this is what actually happened:

Miss Lichtliter and Mr. McMurry were both picked up and charged with speeding, but Miss Lichtliter being of the fairer sex charmed her way out of a ticket, and after Mr. McMurry told the police a hard luck story he was also released.

It is rumored that next year there will be a new requirement for all faculty members. Each one must pass a rigid driving test before being accepted on the faculty at Lindenwood.

May Day Program This Year To Return To Tradition Of Old English May Festivals

May Fete . . . the colorful pageant honoring the May Queen and her Court . . . will return this year to the tradition of the Old English May Day celebration. If the afternoon is sunny, as it has been for almost every May Day, the festival will be held outside. After the forming of the Honor Guard down the center aisle, the court will begin their majestic tread to the platform through the ribbon-flanked aisle. Carol Greer will announce the members of the court as they come, class by class, down the steps of Sibley to the platform. After the May Queen and her attendants have been seated, the entertainment in honor of the court will begin.

The traditional May Pole will once again have its place in Lindenwood's celebration. There will be a preliminary English dance before the dancers take their places at the May Pole . . . and then the weaving of the colorful strands of ribbon around the pole.

Music from the organ in Sibley Chapel will accompany the dance and the Senior song, "Remember" that is always sung at the end of the May festivities.

Preceding the Saturday afternoon program, there will be the spring play given Friday evening. Sunday parents will be formally welcomed to the campus with a reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. McCluer. Parents' Day includes Sunday dinner with the parents guests of the college, and an early morning vesper service for the students and parents.

Nancy Starzl New Freshman Counselor

Nancy Starzl has been selected as chairman of Freshman counseling for next year. Nancy, a Junior from Le Mars, Iowa, will succeed Carol Greer as head of the counseling program.

Nancy has been a member of Student Council for three years . . . she'll have no trouble planning entertainment for the arriving Freshmen since she has been particularly active on the council's social committee. Although Nancy is a science major, she is also president of the Poetry Society.

The Freshman Counselor was chosen for her ability to work with people, friendliness, and efficiency.

Bark Reporter Visits Deep South To Explore New Orleans And Texas

By Birgit Johansson
Two days before the Easter vacation started I got the "Idea." Why didn't I take my chance to see New Orleans, the city I had wanted to see for years? After 24 hours on the bus I arrived and saw the first palm tree in my life and—had become a little tired. But a good bed at the Y helped me, and the next few days I walked around in the French Quarter, saw the cemeteries above the ground and enjoyed the vivid life along Canal Street. The French Quarter, with its courtyards, iron lace around the balconies, night clubs and antique shops confused me. Was I in America, in France or in Spain? Or maybe a century back in time? But two blocks away was the modern harbor with ships from the whole world, telling me that this still was the 20th century, a city in the USA and a place of great importance in trade. New Orleans struck me as the city of contrasts with its mixture of cultures and memories from passed times.

Monday morning after Easter found me in Austin, Texas! I had happened to meet a group of students from Austin at the "Y" in New Orleans, and they convinced me to see Texas too. New scenery, new people, new ideas. The University of Texas impressed me strongly. I had a chance to meet with their international group and in two hours I answered—as far as it was possible—all their questions about Sweden and Scandinavia. I even visited the legislature in session, met with a Swedish Club and saw the countryside around Austin.

Back in New Orleans again, I saw the International House and the Trade Mart. I was invited to the opening of a Cuban exhibition and had the opportunity afterwards to shake hands with the consuls general from England, Cuba, Peru, Belgium, Brazil and Ecuador. Businessmen from the whole world told me about New Orleans as the lock of the Mississippi Valley. From the short visit at the International House I again understood this city's importance in trade.

During these ten too-short days I saw so many new things and places, and met with so many people of all kinds that I still have not gotten my impressions straightened out. But one thing is sure: Traveling is a wonderful thing!

Comedy By Helen Parks To Be Given May 4

"The Whirlwind Passeth," an original three-act comedy by Helen Parks, will be given Friday, May 4, at eight o'clock in Roemer Auditorium. Tryouts were held April 2 and 3, and rehearsals began the following night.

In the cast are Marilee Darnall as Mrs. Buffin, Cynthia Ricklin as Mrs. Cates, Sharon Brown as Mrs. Timmons, Sara Sahli as Mrs. Potter, Frances Whiteside as Mrs. Palmer, Deana Izenberg as Winifred, Mary Kay Pickney as Mrs. Black, and Douglas Hume as the preacher.

The play will be directed by Dott Hall as a student project.

What Do You Read?

The Carroll Echo, Carroll College, Wis., was having trouble with reader reaction. Its editorials, said readers, were "so serious."

With grim lips the Echo declared, "We would like to remind the readers that the purpose of editorials is not to amuse . . . we have a humor column for that."

We would like to broach the same subject in this space. It's not just that students don't read the "serious" editorials . . . Lindenwood students, at least the great majority of them, don't read ANY of the editorials. And you'd be surprised at the amount of valuable pieces of information in some of these editorials.

Another important reason you should read the editorials in any newspaper is that you will soon be of voting age, if you are not already. Newspapers give their opinions of candidates, of issues, and bills, and although you might not agree with what one particular newspaper has to say on the subject, at least you can see both sides of a question by giving the editorials a chance. And when you marry, unless your husband is far above average intelligence, why should you let him vote for you? Why give him two votes, just because you are uninformed? Women gained suffrage several years ago. By reading the newspapers consistently, you make yourself a more intelligent, well-informed citizen, and a better worker.

Honor System

At Lindenwood we have the honor system, but the question asked by many of our students is does it work? In the Bark Barometer survey many of the girls see advantages in the honor system if it is really put to use on the campus. When we come to Lindenwood we are expected to have a few ideas of right and wrong and to be able to make our own minds up about a few things, so that when we leave Lindenwood we will have a backbone and be capable of going out into the world by ourselves.

If the honor system is clearly explained to the Lindenwood girls, and they know just what is expected of them, it will work effectively.

Bark Barometer Of Campus Opinion

STUDENT SENTIMENT FAVORS HONOR SYSTEM ON THE CAMPUS—MANY FEEL PRESENT PROGRAM NEEDS STRENGTHENING.

The Bark Barometer came up with some impressive answers concerning the question of an honor system at Lindenwood. In reply to the first question:

What do you think is the greatest advantage of the honor system?

The students report they do not realize an honor system is in effect here. "I've been here four years," said one Senior, "and while I've never seen much actual cheating, I don't think there is any kind of an honor system to prevent it."

The second question: What do you think is the greatest disadvantage of the honor system, found the students agreeing again. Everyone interviewed felt the honor system was just being used to put us up there with Smith and Vassar who both have highly developed honor systems.

The number three question: Do you think the honor system can work more effectively at Lindenwood, found disagreement in the group of interviewees. One girl said, "How can something work more effectively if we've never had it?" And on the other hand, there were those who felt an honor system could be made more effective if it was carefully explained to all students, and they all agreed to keep the honor code. One girl brought up the question of reporting on students who were found cheating, and said she didn't think one would tell on the other. All the students, however, felt that the honor system is worth while and should be made a permanent part of Lindenwood life.

Elsie Says:

Gosh, but the Junior-Senior prom was really nice this year! I was a little embarrassed wearing my formal that I got for my first dance my freshman year, because all of the other girls had on such pretty new dresses. Well, at least my dress was different—I always did like that turtle neck, princess style formal. I asked my boy friend to come down from home; but he said since he had to take his grandmother to town that day, he couldn't come. I know he was real disappointed; I could just tell by the tone of the post card he sent me. I really didn't care, though, because my brother is a good dancer and I don't think too many of the girls knew that he was my brother. Junior pin day is coming up soon, which only serves to remind me that I must send home for more money so I can pay for my pin. I got the money to pay for it while I was home over the Easter vacation, but you know how boring those train rides back to school can get . . . Well, I guess I had better get back to my room now and start annoying my roommate again.

OF ALL THINGS

By Kathryn Shaddock

How did you like the Junior-Senior prom? Heard one of the dates said to his girl:

Roses are red,
Violets are blue
Orchids are $6.00—
Would dandelions do?

The best way to drive a baby buggy is to tickle her little feet.

When the wages of sin are paid, some people will get time and a half for overtime.

Date: Who was that I saw you kissing on Sibley porch last night?
L.C. Girl: What time was it?

Sam: "Too bad about Professor Jones."

Tom: "Yes—always thinking, no matter where he was. The last time I saw him we were swimming and he suddenly called out, 'I'm thinking! I'm thinking.'"

Sam: "You idiot, the professor lisped."

"May I kiss your hand?" said he with burning looks of love.

"I can remove my veil," said she, "much easier than my glove."

Date: "If I threw a kiss across the room, would you consider me bold?"

Girl: "No, just lazy."

Irate Father: "I'll teach you to kiss my daughter!"

Date: "You're too late, sir. I've learned already."

Have you heard that Mild Hair Creme Oil is getting ahead? That hand lotion is being palmed off on the public?

"This college turns out some great women."

"When did you graduate?"

"I didn't graduate, I was turned out!"

By Mary Lou Matthews

Dr. Douglas McGregor, president of Antioch College, recently accused college administrators of excessive timidity, calling this the chief reason for "whatever Communist tendencies there are in American colleges today."

"The student is supervised to death," McGregor said. "He lives in a world of rigid rules and regulations and of petty dictatorship. Student government is of limited value since only unimportant responsibilities are genuinely delegated."

His solution was genuine self-government in colleges. "Democracy," he said, "is more a word than a fact in the lives of our young people, because we preach its virtues while denying them the opportunity to learn from experience how to govern themselves."

It would be well for Lindenwood students to realize the wisdom of Dr. McGregor's statement, and to realize the absolute and far-reaching benefits student government creates. If the honor system were explained to all students and given a fair, unbiased trial, the outcome would give each student a priceless knowledge of self-government, and, in making students conscious of their responsibility in college government, would train them to become more responsible and active in their duties as citizens later.

Our administration is agreeable to the honor system, and Lindenwood has had a form of the system for several years. But for it to function properly, the plan must be more far-reaching, and concern each individual student. The proposed Senior dorm, "an experiment in adult living" which will go into operation in September, is a definite step forward in this plan of all-encompassing self-government. Too often seniors and upper-classmen are forced to accept total responsibility in student affairs, including dormitory government. With a senior dorm in the offing, more under-classmen will be elected to responsible positions in their dormitories. Under-classmen should take more initiative than they sometimes do, and this is the best opportunity for them to show what they can do. Concerning the senior dorm itself, the girls will be completely on their own, without a housemother. They will be on their honor to conduct themselves as they would if there were a housemother. In this way, the first three years of the student will be a "practice period," one in which she will gradually work up to the honor and responsibility of living in the senior dorm, with complete freedom from the jurisdiction of the head-resident. During this "practice period" she will learn to accept the responsibility that otherwise might have fallen on a senior. She will realize that, she will never abuse the privilege of living in the senior dorm when she is in her last year, because she has worked for three years for a successful senior dorm by being a good citizen.

The annual junior-senior prom held Saturday night at La Chateau, was a great success, and even the weather couldn't dampen the spirits of the participants. Joy Hellwig Houseman, president of the Junior Class, should be congratulated for planning a wonderful prom.

BEFORE:
They were single and went walking
And her heart did skip a beat
And she stumbled on the sidewalk
And he murmured, "C a r e f u l sweet."

AFTER:
Now the wedding bells have rung
And they walk the self-same street
She stumbles on the sidewalk
And he yells, "Pick up your feet."

Last week Joan Krueger, managing editor of the Daily Nebraskan, ran the following classified ad in that newspaper:

"Wanted: Communist literature or information leading to literature or persons interested in communism. Write Box 1, Daily Nebraskan, Room 20, Student Union."

The results were more far-reaching and hysterical than even Miss Krueger, who had inserted the ad just to see what would happen, had anticipated. "This innocent ad," commented the Nebraskan, "has aroused the furor, fear and excitement of persons both on and off the campus. It has resulted in threats, accusations, puzzlements and inquiries."

"The author of the ad has been ridiculed, questioned and a few times praised . . . praised by a few because it actually proved that a mass hysteria has blanketed the nation."

Answers to the ad were varied. One professor wanted to be helpful, but feared he would get in dutch with the administration. He declared he was willing to approach the head of his department, the dean of his college, the chancellor and even the state legislature to make certain he would not be labelled "Red."

A student appeared in person to ask, "What's going on? You cut that out or I'll take this up with the legislature." And a woman observed that young people at the University were not aware of the evils of Communism.

Concluded the Nebraskan: ". . . Although the ad itself has been killed, perhaps it will give birth in the reader's mind of a new ad reading: Wanted: A sane and sensible nation regarding communism. Although we must be cautious, there is no need for hysterical fear."

There are signs on the nation's campuses that the college "Rah rah" era is again near at hand. The ukelele and the racoon coat are appearing in impressive numbers.

University of Wisconsin Union Director Porter Butts reports that the emphasis is not yet on the rah rah side, but such symbols as football pennants are showing up more often.

Butts says that attendance in Union activities this year is four times greater than last year. Weekly dance programs, he says, are drawing greater crowds than previously. He names several reasons for this trend:

Increasing numbers of students are coming to the university . . . who have greater interest in extra-curricular activities than did the veterans.

With the cost of living going up more students are turning to the free inexpensive types of amusement offered by the Union.

A certain amount of tension has been generated—by the general emergency and by the draft—and it is assumed the people seek outlets from group activities in times of stress.

MOST THOUGHT PROVOKING STATEMENT OF THE WEEK:

"For lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land."

Alpha Epsilon Rho Provides Stimulus

For Lindenwood's Radio Students

Tau chapter of Alpha Epsilon Rho, the national honorary radio fraternity, represents all those girls who have made B in their radio courses, worked on KCLC, and have a C average in their other subjects. The honorary members include important commercial radio men and women, and faculty members and students who have done outstanding work at KCLC without taking radio courses.

This year's president of AERho is Marilee Darnall of Illiopolis, Ill., and the secretary-treasurer is Helen Parks.

The first project of AERho was having the Andrews Sisters on campus, and all who saw Patti, Laverne and Maxine will remember the enthusiasm which greeted the effervescent young singers.

The traditional KCLC Open House for the students, faculty, and various commercial radio people was the next event of the fraternity. An evening radio show was put on as entertainment, including a number of Christmas carols by a St. Charles high school group and a production of Hansel and Gretel starring the members of AERho.

Initiation of new members was held April 12, following a buffet supper in the Library Club Rooms.

Other planned spring events include a picnic. Two Tau members will be sent as representatives to the national Alpha Epsilon Rho convention in Columbus, Ohio, in May. Last year's representatives were Marilee Darnall and Gretchen Schnurr.

International Meeting Planned

The Lindenwood International Relations Club will hold its annual conference Sunday, April 29, in Roemer Hall. Registration will begin at 11. President McCluer will deliver a welcome address at dinner. Discussion groups will be held from 2 until 4 p. m. with a final summary of each group. A social hour from 4:30 to 5:30 will be in the Library Club Rooms.

The main topic of discussion will be: "What Should The Future Foreign Policy of the United States Be? Isolationism or Imperialism?" Three discussion groups will be on political and social aspects in Europe, Asia, and Latin America; economic problems in Europe, Asia, and Latin America; and the domestic situation in the United States: Can we afford war? Taxes—National Resources—Industry.

Thirty-five colleges from the surrounding territory have been invited to participate. The committee chairmen are: Registration, Gretchen Schnurr; invitation, Barbara Luchsinger; program, Jacqueline Cheney; refreshments, Betsy Elliott; publicity, Sharlene Agarter. The president of IRC, Jean Callis, has planned the conference.

IRC extends an invitation to all Lindenwood students to come to the conference and to take part in the discussions. These are problems which should be of interest to all, especially now.

Juniors Amuse Freshmen On Haze Day

Last Monday, April 9, amid groans and sighs, 40 Juniors were forced to leave their downy warm beds at 6 in the morning by the relentless Freshmen for the annual Freshman-Junior Haze Day. Entertainment was provided for the rest of the school during lunch, while various unfortunate Juniors were forced to sing, walk on their hands, and scramble like an egg. After a hard day of cleaning rooms, windows, and carrying books for their freshman sisters, the Juniors' only remark was, "Well, at least we got to wear jeans today!"

Central College Junior On Campus To Do Research On College Founders

By Mary Lou Matthews

The person you saw walking around the campus last week, with an air of "research" about him was Bob McHenry, a Junior from Central College at Fayette, Mo. Bob is writing a research paper about the lives of the Sibleys, George and Mary Easton, founders of Lindenwood. (Easton Avenue in St. Louis was named for Mary Easton's father, incidentally.)

How, and why, did Bob decide to write about the Sibleys? It's a long story, but to make a long story short: When Bob was a Junior in high school, he was going with a girl who attended a church conference at Lindenwood. When she returned, she and another girl friend kept talking about "George," and how much they hated to leave him. At first Bob was curious, furious, and jealous, fearing that some St. Charles boy was infringing on his rights as a beau. But later he found that "George" was Major George Sibley, founder of Lindenwood, and an important Missouri historical political figure.

This year when Bob was assigned a historical research paper, he started thinking about his subject. And again he stumbled on the Sibleys. He sent for a Lindenwood catalogue, and decided the best place to write a story about the Sibleys would be at Lindenwood. So, during Central's spring vacation, Bob drove to St. Charles from his home in Flat River, Mo., brought his camera (he is the photographer for Central's school paper) and proceeded to delve into the historical aspects of St. Charles and Lindenwood.

Bob said he had never had such cooperation on a project as he has had at Lindenwood. The archives were opened for him to take photostatic pictures of the private records of the Sibleys, and photostats were even taken of Major Sibley's private diary. These photographs will be included in his paper. Bob hasn't decided yet how long his paper will be, but it will be long enough to cover the Sibleys completely.

Off the record, Bob says he may be quoted that he is impressed with Lindenwood, and that he'll be back.

Alpha Lambda Delta Pledges Twelve Members

Twelve Freshmen were pledged to Alpha Lambda Delta, a national freshman women's scholastic honor organization, March 19. Initiation took place April 6 at the home of Dean Roberts.

Very high grades are necessary to qualify for membership in Alpha Lambda Delta. Those girls who are members have made a real achievement. This organization is relatively new to Lindenwood, as it was just started last year.

The new members are: Patricia Aydelotte, Arlene Becker, Suk Han Chan, Joyce Cooper, Cora Lee Critenfield, Ann Goodman, Jeanette Hester, Betty Ann Landree, Carolyn Smith, Beverly Trescott, Mary Nell Van Bibber, and Claride Woodward.

SLOW MOTION: A Scotchman reaching for a restaurant check.

GROOM: The fellow who came along for the bride.

CEMETERY: A plot of land jam-packed with people who thought the world could never get along without them.

Three Prizes In Bible Contest

Three prizes, one of $25, one of $15, and one of $10, will be given this year in the annual Bible memory verse contest. This contest is open only to members of the Freshman Class, and the awards will be made during the week of May 7.

The prizes are made possible by a gift from the late Judge C. W. Holtcamp of St. Louis, in memory of his daughter, Dorothy Holtcamp, a graduate of Lindenwood in 1911. Students who plan to participate in the contest are asked to notify Dr. C. E. Conover, who will arrange a time satisfactory to all participants.

The Campus Hall of Fame

This week the Bark frames Jean Robb for the Hall of Fame. Jean has played at Lindenwood for almost four years and in June will return to Highland Park, Ill., where she hopes to find a radio station waiting for her with open arms. Her major is in speech and radio, so she can most often be seen making her slow trek to KCLC or over to Roemer for a play rehearsal.

Jean is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity; Alpha Epsilon Rho, radio fraternity, and president of the Press Club. She has been on the staff of KCLC for two years as production director.

Jean has distinguished herself this year as emcee for the Gridiron Dinner and the girl most likely to fall in love most often.

Wins Books As Math Award

Claride Woodward, a Freshman from Alva, Okla., has won a mathematics award offered by the Chemical Rubber Company of Cleveland, Ohio. This company, having established an achievement award for the first term of 1950, will present to each college participating two copies of their "Mathematical Tables," one desk size and one pocket size. The books will carry the title of the award and the name of the college imprinted in gold. The two books will go as one award to Claride Woodward.

Sophomores To Be Guests Of Council

The Sophomores will be royally treated to barbecued beef on buns at the picnic given by the Student Council on April 25.

Since the Sophomores took the honors at the song contest sponsored by the council, they can look forward to plenty of food prepared and served by the hands of student government.

For those who still feel energetic after the seven-course meal, there will be bats and softballs available for a few games on the green.

Alpha Epsilon Rho Hosts At Buffet Supper Thursday

Alpha Epsilon Rho, national honorary radio fraternity, gave a buffet supper last Thursday evening for members of the fraternity and guests. Before the supper an informal initiation was held and Deana Izenburg and Janet Tabor were initiated as scholastic members. Dr. Homer Clevenger of the Lindenwood faculty was initiated as an honorary member.

In charge of arrangements for the supper were Carol Greer and Marilee Darnall. Elizabeth Bates furnished music throughout the supper.

Press Club Makes Plans For Picnic

The Press Club will hold its annual spring picnic on Saturday, April 28, at Sherwood Forest. The members of the club will leave in the morning at 9 o'clock, in order to have the whole day to play baseball, eat and just relax. Cars are being arranged for transportation, and everyone will meet in front of Sibley.

Math Society To Meet On Campus

The Missouri section of the Mathematical Association of America has accepted the invitation to hold the annual spring meeting for 1952 at Lindenwood. Miss Louise Beasley and Miss Phyllis Heysell attended this year's meeting on April 6 at Central College.

Miss Beasley, chairman of the Department of Mathematics, has been elected the secretary-treasurer of the association for the new year.

KCLC COOPERATES WITH OTHER DEPARTMENTS OF COLLEGE IN USING RADIO AS EDUCATIONAL MEDIUM—STATION TO BE HOST AT RADIO EDUCATION MEETING.

By Carol Greer
The facilities of a campus radio station are of great use to other departments in the college . . . and when the station feels fully integrated with other departmental programs there is an increased sense of the power and importance of radio as an educational medium.

The Sociology Department is now doing a series of panel discussions prepared in the Community Leadership Class to be aired over KCLC. Each week the class members participate in a round table on human problems.

These half-hour programs will begin on KCLC this Thursday at 7:30 p. m. The first broadcast will be on "Freedom of Speech."

KCLC will play hostess to a meeting of The Association of Education by Radio on April 20. Guests will be invited to dinner in Ayres Hall . . . and then will adourn to the radio studios to observe an evening's operations. Since AER will be here on Friday night . . . the only night that KCLC is not on the air . . . a special program has been planned. There will be an audience participation quiz show . . . and a 15-minute interview with Mr. Philip Hickey, superintendent of instruction of the St. Louis schools. To wind up the evening a special children's program, such as is done on Lindenwood's Children's Theater of the Air, will be featured. The script was written by Jean Robb and the cast will include members of the Production Class.

AER is a national organization that is primarily concerned with educational radio programs in the schools and furthers educational shows on commercial radio stations. In St. Louis, AER has supported the Board of Education Station, KSLH.

Seniors Plan Fancy Picnic For Members Of Faculty May 14

The Seniors have decided to give a picnic for the faculty on Monday, May 14. The picnic will take place at the ovens at 5:30, and most enticing menus have been concocted to tempt the learned pundits! So, faculty, get out your jeans and be prepared to make the last faculty-senior party for the Seniors of 1951 a really great one!

Plans for the party were arranged by Marilee Darnall, Dorothy Hall, Jean Robb and Douglas Hume.

The flea is always a pessimist. He knows that his children will more than likely go to the dogs.

Four Students Attend Conference At Principia

Four Lindenwood students, all members of the International Relations Club, attended the conference on public affairs at Principia College, Ill., last week-end. The girls are Jean Callis, Mary Ella Bemis, Jacquelyn Cheney and Birgit Johansson.

Delegates from over 20 colleges and universities took part in the discussions. The main topic was "A Problem of United States Foreign Policy: Integration of Western Europe." Well-known speakers opened the panels which specialized in three fields—military, economic and political.

Diploma Piano Recital Today

A diploma piano recital will be given this afternoon at 5 o'clock in Sibley Chapel by Caroline England and Barbara Burcham. The program will consist of six numbers by Caroline and five numbers by Barbara. All music students are required to attend the recital.

COLLEGE GIRLS CHEER HADACOL

At right: Miss Elaine Krupzak, 5082 Lapeer Road, Port Huron, Mich.

This is typical of thousands of letters telling how HADACOL relieves the real and basic cause of deficiency distresses. For HADACOL provides more than the minimum daily requirement of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, plus helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium. It builds up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when Iron is needed) to send these precious Vitamins and Minerals surging to every part of the body and to every body organ. Why not find out today why thousands say, "Only HADACOL gives you that Wonderful Hadacol Feeling." At your druggist: Tria size only $1.25; large family size only $3.50.

Hadacol May Relieve Cause of Troubles When Due to a Lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, that Interfere with Fun and Studies!

The marvelous benefits of HADACOL, today's great nutritional formula, are equally helpful to young and old alike who are suffering from a lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

Here's what these two pretty coeds, who may have been suffering from such deficiencies, have to say: "We are two college students writing you this letter. Before taking HADACOL we were nervous, restless and unable to sleep at night. We found we were foggy all day and ached all over. Now after taking only 3 bottles of HADACOL we are different persons. We are full of life and energy and our aches have completely disappeared. Thank you for your wonderful discovery of that remarkable product, HADACOL."

SENATOR DUDLEY J. LE BLANC The Best Friend You Ever Had

Senator LeBlanc has been in public life since he was quite a young man and has always advocated the cause of the oppressed and downtrodden. It was he who introduced the law in Louisiana that gives every deserving man and woman in Louisiana a pension of $50.00. It was he who introduced the law creating the office of Service Commissioner, the duties of which office is to see that every deserving ex-soldier and veteran receives his just reward from the Federal and State Government. It was he who has consistently fought the battle of the school teachers in the halls of the legislature. He worked untiringly for the farmers and the laboring man.

You can place your confidence in a man who has by his past activities demonstrated to you that he is your friend. If you are suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, don't hesitate, don't delay, buy HADACOL today.

Sunburns, Sculptoring, Engagements, And Honeymoons Over Vacations

Sleepy-eyed and trying to let down after two weeks of playing the sophisticated college girl home on vacation, 300 Lindenwood girls returned to campus on April 2. Nancy Flora and Petey Nivans came back with slight sunburns after being in Miami Beach, Fla., for two weeks. Birgit Johansson planned to spend her two weeks of vacation in New Orleans, but later on decided to divide her time between New Orleans and Texas.

Jean Robb went job hunting over vacation. She didn't find a job, but instead a nice luncheon date. Her vacation was climaxed when on her train ride back to school a young man stepped up to her and asked if he might "sculp" her. After a little more conversation, Jean discovered that the man was a sculptor.

The usual number of girls received engagement rings and fraternity pins. Joy Hellwig was married on Easter Sunday and is now honeymooning in California. Joy will return to Lindenwood as a day student.

Most of the girls report that they had a nice vacation but are glad to be back at Lindenwood.

Two Seniors Set Progress Of Radio Back Ten Years In Apprenticeship At KMOX And KWK

Radio apprenticeship at KWK includes informal afternoon sessions with Ed Wilson, St. Louis' biggest disc jockey. Here Carol Greer (seated), and Lorraine Peck talk with Ed in the studio while he is on the air.

Radio Stations KMOX and KWK in St. Louis were invaded over the Easter holidays by Pat Sowle and Carol Greer. The staffs at the stations jokingly called them the missionaries who had come to clean up commercial radio.

The week that the two Seniors in the Radio Department spent at the stations was a week of observation and actual work at the wheel. Their program was mapped out so they spent one day in each of the important departments . . . getting an idea of what went on where, and a chance to fit the pieces into an overall pattern of station operation.

Pat Sowle spent her time at KMOX, a CBS network affiliate, and the largest station in the area. While there she worked in the news room, continuity, programming, and production departments. Like a regular member of the staff, she kept working hours from 9 to 5. During the day she worked alongside of the staff, doing any chores that they handed out . . . she says they were very trusting, and took it for granted that she could do anything they asked of her.

Carol, who took her apprenticeship at KWK, stepped into the continuity department at a time when one of the writers was off having an appendectomy . . . so she sat down at the vacant desk and batted off a program or two . . . which she is sure set the station back 10 years in progress. Aside from the two days in continuity, Carol worked with Lorraine Peck in the publicity department, opened 2,000 requests for tickets for the daily quiz program in the program coordinator's office, saw how records were picked out for the Ed Wilson and Gil Newsome shows, and spent one glorious day in the news room, which adjoined the announcers' offices. There is a wonderful practice observed at KWK . . . Every morning at 10 and in the afternoons from 3 to 4 coffee and doughnuts are served to all employees in a plush lounge where a little of the glamour of the radio

Staff To Attend MCNA Convention In Columbia

The Linden Bark, which is a member of the Missouri College Newspapers Association, will be represented by members of the Journalism Class at the annual convention of the association in Columbia, Mo., on May 4.

At a luncheon ratings will be given for the best pieces of writing during the year and for the best college newspaper. Last year the Bark won a first class rating, which is the highest.

In the evening, Mr. Clayton and the Bark staff will attend the Journalism Week Banquet of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri.

business begins to show through the hard work and confusion.

The opportunity for Seniors in the Radio Department to take a week's apprenticeship in a commercial station was initiated three years ago through the cooperation of KMOX. Since then the number of stations cooperating has increased. This year three Seniors have taken advantage of this apprenticeship . . . Marilee Darnall who went to Station WMAY in Springfield, Ill., during Christmas vacation, Pat Sowle and Carol Greer.

Sports 'n Skirts

By Jean Robb

The basketball intramurals have been going great guns! If you were looking for entertainment last week you should have seen any of the intramural games—they were a cross between the Globetrotters and a modern dance class! As we go to print, it can't be determined which hall won first place, but the games that have been played so far are: Cobbs winning over the Day Students, 13-12; Butler winning over Nicholls, 31-18, and over Cobbs, 40-18. Irwin defaulted, and the final game is between Sibley and Butler.

Five softball games have already been lined up for the spring, and softball practice starts this week, so if you have any ambitions to be another Stan Musial or Pee Wee Reese, start practicing with the team.

Ping-pong and badminton intramurals start this week, too, so get your practice hours in, and let's see if we can't have one intramural sport where every hall has a team! It's a lot harder for the day students to get together and practice than it is for any of the girls in the halls, and they've had a team for every sport.

Practice has been going on every afternoon and night for the Terrapin water pageant. The theme is a secret, so you'll have a big surprise when you see it! All the mermaids of Terrapin say the show will be better than ever this year.

TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR

There once lived a man on a type-writer key whose name was Mr. Apostrophe. He loved Miss Period way below and to her key he'd often go.

"Asterisk she'll be your wife" Said the Colon: "You've loved her all your life."

That I'll do, I'll dash—there quick, She's the best wife an apostrophe could ever pick.

He went and said, "Darling comma to me, Oh, what a splendid couple we'd be."

She replied, "Yes, my dear, I'm yours forever."

And this is what happened when they got together—!

I think I shall never see The dollar that I loaned to thee. A dollar that I could have spent For varied forms of merriment, The one I loaned to you so gladly, The same which now I need so badly;

For whose return I had great hope,

Historical Society Hears Mr. Brien

Professon Manson M. Brien of the History Department spoke at the April 6 meeting of the Historical Association of Greater St. Louis. Mr. Brien spoke on "Lenglet du Fresnay's Theories on Historical Education, 1713-1752."

The association was the guest of the public school teachers of St. Louis.

Just like an optimistic dope; For dollars loaned to folks like thee Are not returned to fools like me.

And then there was the couple sitting in the living room. "So you really think I'm the most adorable girl you ever knew?" she cooed.

"Uh-huh."

L.C. Represented At Home Ec Meet

"Unmet Needs in Home Economics" was the theme of the joint meeting of the Missouri and Kansas Home Economics Associations. The meeting was attended by three Lindenwood faculty members, Miss Lindsay, Mrs. Merrifield and Mrs. Huston. The two Lindenwood student representatives were Mary Ann Todson and Charlotte Vandral. The meeting was held at the Hotel President in Kansas City, Mo., on March 29, 30 and 31.

"Do you think I'm the most attractive girl you have ever seen?" "Uh-huh."

"Oh I'm so glad, and do you adore my figure?"

"Uh-huh."

"Darling you say the most wonderful things. Do go on."

Citizenship Day Speaker Named

Raymond H. Wittcoff will deliver the Citizenship Day address in convocation on April 19. Mr. Wittcoff is on the executive council of the United World Federalists, and on the board of the St. Louis Council of World Affairs Incorporated. The Citizenship Day program has been planned by the League of Women Voters and Dr. Homer Clevenger.

A girl used to blush when embarrassed . . . now, says Lynn Merrill, she's embarrassed when she blushes.

It takes two to make conversation . . . at least one must listen and nod.
