Kaskowitz Lectures on Third Parties in American Politics

Dorothy Kaskowitz, organizer and founder of the Organized Independents political group, will speak on "Third Parties in American Politics" on Tuesday, November 1 at 7 p.m. in Young Auditorium. Kaskowitz's lecture is being presented by the Lindenwood Lectures and Concerts Committee and is open to the general public.

Kaskowitz, a graduate of Washington University, began her political career in 1968 in support of Senator Eugene McCarthy.

She is again supporting McCarthy in his bid for the 1988 presidency. McCarthy is running on the Consumer Party ticket.

Kaskowitz believes third parties in American politics are "important to the political life of the country."

"Only by talking and listening to one another can we make use of the political parties instead of them being permitted to use us, and many times divide us to serve their own ends," said Kaskowitz.

For more information about this lecture, call Groff Bittner, chairperson of the Lectures and Concerts Committee, at 949-2000, Ext. 246.

CAP Center Offers Confidential Group Sessions

The CAP Center will offer six weekly sessions for a therapy group of traditional-age students beginning the week of November 6. If you are having difficulty in managing any of a variety of areas in your life (e.g. relationships, self-esteem, family issues, etc.), call Deanna Rasch at Ext. 237 for details. Space is limited because this opportunity requires a confidential, small group setting to work through each individual situation. Call before Wednesday, November 2 to make your reservation.

What's New In Soviet Schools?

Susan Williams, Russian language adjunct instructor, will tell us "What's New In The Soviet Schools," in a special presentation on November 8 at the Butler Library Night Owl Nook from noon to 1 p.m.

Williams has traveled extensively in the U.S.S.R. and has given private lessons in the Russian language. She received her bachelor's degree in political science from Washington University and her master's in Russian language and literature from Indiana University. Williams currently teaches Russian at Crossroads School. She has taught social studies at the secondary level in several school districts.

This summer, Williams was one of 20 U.S. participants in a joint U.S./Soviet Institute on "New Ways of Thinking and Teaching About Each Other." She has written curriculum materials on Women in the U.S.S.R. for the St. Louis public schools and has developed other educational materials on the Soviet Union and other topics.

This presentation is part of "Topics On The Soviet Union" co-sponsored by the Lindenwood Soviet Exchange Program and the All-College Reading List Committee. For more information, please call Adj. Djayandaru at 946-4415.

Fashion Marketing Students Attend Seminar

Several students specializing in Fashion Marketing, plus instructors Lynn Moore and Liz Ammann will attend a seminar in Chicago on November 9. The seminar, "Fashion Futures '88," will feature guest designer and keynote speaker, Patrick Kelly, an American-born, Paris-based designer. The seminar will be presented by the Chicago Fashion Group, Inc. at Chicago's Art Institute.

CIA Conduct Info Session for Recruitment

A representative from the Central Intelligence Agency will conduct an information session for all interested students on Wednesday, November 16 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the CAP Center. Individual interviews for Seniors only will be held Thursday, November 17 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Registration is required for both events. Please call Debbie Coats at Ext. 307 and sign up today.

Organizations Offer Scholarship for Students

The following organizations are accepting applications for scholarships to assist students who want to attend college:

Soroptimist International of St. Louis is participating in the Training Awards Program offered by their international organization. The purpose of the award is "to promote upward mobility in mature women, assisting them in their efforts toward training and entry or re-entry into the labor market." Preference will be given to applicants who are heads of their household completing an undergraduate program, or entering vocational or technical training.

Applications are available at Lindenwood's Financial Aid and Evening Admissions offices. The deadline is December 15, 1988 with award selection and notification by January 27.

The Coalition of 100 Black Women-Metropolitan St. Louis Chapter has established the "Achievement Against the Odds" Scholarship Award. A $2,000 award per recipient is
