DIRECTOR'S NOTES

"The only beginning is birth and the only end is death.
If you can't count on that what can you count on."

I cut this line from our production because in its context Stoppard seemed to me heavy handed. As a credo for the entire play, however, the line has some merit. It dramatizes the path we all must follow and links us categorically with the fate of Stoppard's every man, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern.
