Founders' Day and Convocation Start Well the Year

Dr. MacIvor at the One, and Noted Clubwoman for the Other, in the Two Events Opening Dr. Roemer's Twenty-fifth Year

MRS. HIRAM C. HOUGHTON'S address at Lindenwood's 112th annual Founders' Day was given Thursday morning, October 27, and will appear in the next Bulletin. Mrs. Houghton is Director for Iowa, General Federation of Women's Clubs. The program was in a setting of beautiful music by Lindenwood's student choir, which sang the "Gloria," from Mozart's Twelfth Mass, besides traditional hymns. In the afternoon, under Miss Stookey, a dance recital was given in Roemer Auditorium. The date of "Hallowe'en" was advanced by the college, so that the Hallowe'en dance could be that night, when the Queen was announced. But that is still to be told. Suffice it to say, the Queen was one of these thirteen: Katherine Abernathy, of Dallas, Texas; June Baker, Mangum, Okla.; Peggy Barnet, Henderson, Ky.; Louise Battle, Marshall, Texas; Betty Jayne Bass, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Ann Donnell, Crystal City, Mo.; Laura Nell Harris, Hugo, Okla.; Margery Kiskadden, Wichita, Kan.; Grace Quebbeman, Western Springs, Ill.; Ruth Alice Shartel, Neosho, Mo.; Frances Shepard, St. Louis, Mo.; Mary Jane Welsh, Kansas City, Mo.; Ruth Esther Willett, Perry, Okla.

Other student names which will appear "in the news" are those of the just-announced Annual Board for getting out the 1939 Linden Leaves. The Board is larger than ever, more alert and industrious than ever, and fully conscious of responsibility in making the volume one of great merit because it represents the twenty-fifth year of Dr. Roemer's presidency. In a short address in chapel when she announced the names, Dr. Gipson stated that this year's Annual will be dedicated to the silver jubilee year of Dr. Roemer and in memory of Mrs. Roemer. For this reason she hoped, she said, that the Linden Leaves of 1939 will be outstanding.

Gwendolyn Payne, of Wood River, Ill., will be editor-in-chief, with Josephine Trice, Franklin, Tenn., assistant; the business manager, Sue Sonnenday, of St. Louis; assistants, Lucille Vosburg, Gilman, Iowa; and Anne Rhea Beard, New Orleans, La.; humor editor, Joyce Davis, Sioux City, Iowa; literary editors, Helen Margaret DuHadway, Jerseyville, Ill.; and Rosemary Williams, Murphysboro, Ill.; art editors, Barbara Nan Johnston, Rocky Ford, Colo.; Elizabeth Parrish, Tulsa, Okla.; and Jeannette Lee, Pine Bluff, Ark.; snapshot editor, Sarah Phillips, Farmersville, Texas; organization editor, Alice Belding, St. Charles; assistants: senior, Maurine Potlitzer, St. Joseph, Mo.; juniors, Marion Stumberg, St. Charles; Marguerite Dearmont, Cape Girardeau, Mo.; and Kathryn Wagner, El Dorado, Kan.; sophomores, June Jordan, Brady, Texas; Jessie Benson, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Mary Elizabeth Shannon, Concordia, Kan.; ViElla Smerling, Chicago; Arlene Bennett, Springfield, Ill.; Theodora Baugham, Batesville, Ark.; freshmen, Ardella Bullard, Ft. Madison, Iowa; LaVonne Chapman, Cisco, Ill.; Bernice Milburn, Casper, Wyo.; Marion Hutchison, Ft. Smith, Ark.; Rosemary Walton, Frankfort, Ind.; Marjorie Smith, El Dorado, Ark.; Dixie Carter, Washington, Iowa; Roberta Olson, Kansas City, Mo.; Grace Quebbeman, Western Springs, Ill.; Betty Jayne Bass, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Phyllis Carpenter, Ponca City, Okla., and Betty Forsyth, Birmingham, Mich.

At the Convocation

"A convocation," said Dr. MacIvor, president of Lindenwood's Board of Directors, "is a calling together. It is sounding the first word at the opening of the year."

This was the spirit which pervaded the student congregation, with the faculty present also, at the opening vespers, Sunday evening, September 25, in Roemer Auditorium. It was good to see Dr. Roemer presiding once more, and to hear the choir, 50 voices under Miss Gieselman, singing the processional, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Prof. L. B. Harmon gave the invocation; the Doxology followed, then a beautiful solo by Miss Walker of the faculty, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" (Rathbun).

Dr. MacIvor, in jocund vein, told several amusing "last words" spoken by parents and others at the departure of their children for fateful fields of endeavor, ranging from the amusing pledge of the parents of a noted theological seminary professor to "sell the cow" (even the cow so vitally necessary to the welfare of a family of 13 children) in case the young student should need such a sacrifice, on to a caustic story in Dr. MacIvor's own life. This related to an older brother, Angus, in the MacIvor family, who had gone away to college, John remaining for the time at home. An uncle, noted for his sharp tongue, sat in the next room, and upon being asked by one of the neighbors, "And what is John doing?" replied (manifestly so that the youth might hear him), "Oh, John? He's warming his shins by the fire."

"There is hardly a day since then, in the more than 40 years which have followed," says Dr. MacIvor, "when if I may have been tempted to let up a bit on what I was trying to accomplish, the words of that crabby old uncle have not come to me, 'John? He's warming his shins by the fire.'"

The sermon proceeded to point out "the push" and "the pull" of life, the one coming from the past, the other from the future.

"A right use of the past is a moral uplift," said Dr. MacIvor. "We must appreciate the past, exalt its virtues, garner its fruitage and transmit this to posterity. But we are inspired still more by the future. If the ancient Hebrew lived on a more exalted plane than his neighbors, it was because of the high influences which came from the vision of the Prophets. When the old Hebrew commonwealth went to pieces and the high places of Israel became a byword, it was because the vision was lost. As long as the people had some Moses to climb Pisgah's heights, or some David to kindle their imagination, calling to coming victory, they were strong, they were heroic. When there was no longer an Isaiah or an Ezekiel, the nation declined.

"It takes the idealist to urge people forward. That is why the world has been filled with seekers after truth. That is why you are here in college. Education has been properly defined as 'a leading out' into a larger life. It is an attempt to discover, in every realm; it is the lure of the unknown."

It was shown that for high ideals one is willing to face all kinds of hardship and privation. He instanced the toll of life, 175 per 1,000, in the building of the Panama Canal. "They felt the tug upon their life to build something the world needed." Stories were told of heroic lives sacrificed for the perfection of the airplane. "The whole history of science is the accomplishment of things that cannot be done." There is much still to be accomplished, Dr. MacIvor said, especially in the cure of incurable diseases.

Handicaps, he said, are no bar. Noted examples were cited. He warned against "becoming static." One must not shrink from pain, if that be necessary to development.

Warning against "the mob mind," he quoted from Barry's play, "What Every Woman Knows," in which the heroine says, "If the tide of public opinion goes against us, then let us stand by and dam the tide."

"Such courage," Dr. MacIvor said, "is needed. We are out on a great quest. We need to be ourselves, not someone else."

In Memory of Mrs. Roemer

Resolutions in memory of Mrs. Roemer were adopted by the faculty after being drawn up by a committee consisting of Miss Hankins, Dr. Linne-mann, Miss Lear and Miss Cook as follows:

"With profound sorrow, the faculty of Lindenwood College records the death of Mrs. Roemer, counselor and friend.

"As a tribute to her, it is fitting that we speak first of her work for Lindenwood during the past 24 years. As Dean of Students, her life touched the lives of all the girls and exerted a tremendous power for good. Her stand was definitely upon the side of true standards of living; she believed earnestly in the spiritual things of life; she had a strong realization of her duty to the college and to the girls entrusted to her care, and left nothing undone to meet that obligation. Rarely does one have the opportunity to enrich so many lives and meet that opportunity so adequately and so fearlessly.

"When someone in a position of such vitalizing influence lays down her work, her memory is made sweeter by the knowledge that besides the professional loss, there is a deep sense of personal loss. We, as a faculty, knew Mrs. Roemer as a friend; and as such we mourn her loss. We feel the loss of her outstanding personality. We know that her loyalty to the ideals of Christian character will never be lost from the Lindenwood traditions.

"To Dr. Roemer the faculty extends deep sympathy and wishes to express the belief that an influence so rich can never die, but will continue as it is multiplied in the lives of thousands of Lindenwood girls."

Club Members' Tribute

The Business and Professional Women's Club of St. Charles, of which Mrs. Roemer was a charter member, has expressed appreciation in the following words:

"It is our sacred duty to keep her memory in our hearts. We bring our loving and affectionate tribute to her memory, a memory full of inspiration of her richest gifts of service, splendid ability, devotion to duty, loyalty to principle, stimulated by a strong Christian character which won her countless warm and true friendships.

"Her devotion to the highest ideals in life was manifested in her home, her college, her church and her community. One by one the roses bloom and fade in our garden of memories and the chill winds of time scatter their petals, but the fragrance of her sweet, gentle life of other days remains, Sunset and Evening Star.

"We know that she went to sleep gently in the twilight only to waken in the rosy dawn of a better day. Her star of hope, of faith and of courage, has been left with us as a guide until we, too, face the lengthening shadows of a serene afternoon. Tonight, we miss the name of Mrs. Roemer from our Roll Call of the Business and Professional Women's Club. She answers the Roll Call on the other shore. We place a garland of memory on the shrine we have built in our hearts for Mrs. John L. Roemer."

New Scholarship

Because the art department, under Dr. Linnemann has, all in all, raised over $1,000 in donations to the Mary Easton Sibley Scholarship Fund, the college has announced an annual art scholarship of $50, to be awarded at commencement, to the freshman majoring in art who has done the best all-round work in the art department, and who also has proved worthy in character and has shown loyalty to the college and good campus citizenship.

Art students this year, as in the past, placed beautiful flowers on the Sibley graves for Founders' Day, under Dr. Linneman's direction.

WEDDINGS

A golden wedding, no less, with a Lindenwood girl of the class of 1884 as the "bride," was that of Judge and Mrs. Robert L. Hubbard (Cora V. Donlin), of Los Angeles, which was celebrated September 19. A family dinner was enjoyed, at the home of a married daughter. Another daughter, of Pasadena, and their son, attended, as well as seven grandchildren. On the preceding day, a group of friends surprised them with a picnic. They received many calls and flowers of congratulation.

Dr. Harry Morehouse Gage, president of Coe College, who has often given addresses at Lindenwood, has sent cards, together with Mrs. Gage, announcing the marriage of their daughter, Mary Boynton, to Mr. George Nichols Harless, on Saturday afternoon, September 24, at 4 o'clock, in the Sinclair Memorial Chapel, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Cards At Home in Cedar Rapids, 105 Thirty-fifth Street Drive, are enclosed.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hansen have sent announcement cards for the marriage of their daughter, Irene (1927-29, Public School Certificate), formerly of Pratt, Kan., to Mr. Marvin Clifford Jordan, on Friday, September 16, in Washington, D. C. At Home announcements are included for 318 Seventeenth Place, Washington, D. C.

On the same day, Friday, September 16, in Independence, Kan., announcement cards having been received from Mr. and Mrs. John Russell Caudry, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Harriet Prudence (1925-27), to Mr. Richard Henry DeMotte, at Epiphany Episcopal Church. They are At Home after October 1 in Independence.

Announcements were received from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Klubertanz, of her marriage, May 14, at St. Sebastian's Church, Milwaukee. An interesting feature in the train of attendants was the presence of the bridegroom's four brothers serving him. Dr. Wittig and his bride motored through the Smoky Mountains of Virginia and into North Carolina on their wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. McIntyre (Barbara Ann Combs, 1933-35), whose wedding was a recent event in Leavenworth, Kan., are residing in Palo Alto, Calif., at 485 Oberlin Street.

Mrs. George D. Hilding sends a society page clipping from the Denver Post telling of the marriage, early in September, of her daughter, Miss Myrna Huddleston (1934-36), to Mr. William Emery, also of Denver. ENGAGED

The engagement has been announced of Miss Josephine Miles (B. S. in Home Economics, 1937), daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bruce E. Miles, of St. Joseph, Mo., to Mr. John Randolph Hall, Jr., son of Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. John R. Hall, of Fort Omaha. Mr. Hall is now attending the medical school of Washington University. The wedding will take place in the Thanksgiving season.

News has come from Chicago of the engagement of Miss Betty Lee Wilson (1931-32), daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Lee Wilson of that city, to Mr. John King Mitchell, of Boston. Her fiance will become a minister (as is her father) and is now preparing for this vocation at the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Chicago.

New Teacher of French

Miss Margaret Dunaway, B. A. from Hendrix College, M. A. from Columbia University, is a new teacher of French at Lindenwood. Miss Dunaway studied at the Sorbonne in Paris, and traveled abroad. She was also a student at the Middlebury French School of Middlebury College. For some time she has been on the faculty of the Hot Springs, Ark., high school.

DEATHS

Mrs. Noble Crain Hilligoss (Martha Ellen Adams), who attended Lindenwood more than 50 years ago, died on September 30 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. P. Mayfield, in Cedartown, Ga. Her parents were early settlers of Missouri, living on a farm near Pleasant Hill, in Jackson County, and she was one of seven sisters, all of whom have preceded her in death. She was married in 1886, and she and Mr. Hilligoss spent their life in Missouri, until his death in 1931. Mrs. Hilligoss was 74 years of age. She leaves three daughters, all married, six grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. Mrs. Hilligoss was of a beautiful disposition, radiating cheerfulness, and was beloved by all around her.

The death of one of the older students, Mrs. Philip A. Wilson (Mary Somerville, 1891-92), occurred at her home in Vancouver, B. C., on August 18. Her daughter writes that Mrs. Wilson "was always so interested in Lindenwood's progress." Sympathy is extended.

Mrs. Joseph E. Burger (Eleanor Kleinschmidt, A. A. 1925), receives Lindenwood's sympathy in the death, August 25, of her stepmother, Mrs. S. H. Kleinschmidt, at their summer cottage in Bay View, Mich. She was a member of the Tyler Place Church in Dr. Roemer's pastorate there.

Sympathy is felt for Mrs. Frances Jennings Cox (1928-30), of Moberly, Mo., in the death of her father, Mr. J. B. Jennings, formerly a leading banker of the state, who died of pneumonia, August 11, at the home of his son in St. Louis County, near Florissant, aged 75 years. He and his uncle long ago formed the partnership, Jennings and Jennings, which for more than half a century stood for trustworthiness and efficiency in banking. Mr. J. B. Jennings was for 58 years with the Mechanics Bank and Trust Company, for many years as president of the bank. He was also treasurer of the city of Moberly for 18 years, and for 12 years treasurer of the Moberly Public School Board. He has served as president, vice-president and treasurer of the Missouri Bankers' Association. Mr. Jennings had been in failing health since his wife died, three years ago.

Pathetic in the extreme was the death of the 6-year-old daughter, Sandra, of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Marder (Fannie May Sosland, 1922-23), of Kansas City, who died of encephalitis, following a ten days' attack of influenza. The little girl had just started to school as a pupil in the first grade. All her friends extend deep sympathy.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

The St. Charles Lindenwood College Club sends the following list of officers: Mrs. O. W. Dueringer, president; Miss Viola Karrenbrock, vice-president; Miss Verna Bredenbeck, treasurer; Miss Estelle Pfaff, recording secretary; Miss Ruth Burkle, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Dueringer appointed the following committees: Miss Esther Barklage, membership committee; Miss Levi Udstad, hospitality committee; Mrs. George Null, program and publicity committee.

Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, through its publicity secretary, sends us the following account concerning a former Lindenwood student, Marion Dale Reeder, 1933-34: "The Department of Physical Education of Flora Stone Mather College of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, in which interest has been steadily growing, adds Miss Marion Dale Reeder, of Streator, Illinois, to its faculty this week.

"Miss Reeder, assistant in the department, was born in Streator, where both her great-grandfathers settled about 1828. After graduation from Streator High School she attended Lindenwood College at St. Charles, Missouri, Stetson University at DeLand, Florida, and was graduated from the University of Illinois with a Bachelor of Science and a Major in physical education in June, 1938. She will teach golf and tennis and assist in swimming, archery, and riding. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Nu, honorary physical education society, and of Alpha Gamma Delta. Her favorite sport is swimming."

Miss Reeder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Reeder of 202 South Park Street.

Nadine Faris, class of 1927, writes most interestingly of her work as a teacher of social science in the Bell City, Missouri, High School, where she has been for four years.

Miss Faris also tells us of the death of Miss R. Adelle Allen, a former instructor in the English Department of Lindenwood College. Miss Allen was here from 1910-1912. Miss Allen was 84 years of age. She began teaching at the age of 15 and retired just 12 years ago. Surely such a long period of teaching deserves some recognition.

Dr. Irving Garwood gave a recent illustrated lecture in Roemer Auditorium on "A Pilgrimage, Covering 5,000 Miles, to the Literary Shrines of America."

Among the "daughters" now among the freshmen at Lindenwood is Mildred Jumet, of Ft. Scott, Kan. (who plays the violin very well, by the way), whose mother, then Louise Keene, was here 30 years ago.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Ross W. Eastlick, of Los Angeles, niece of Col. James Gay Butler, and for whom Eastlick Hall is named, visited the college early in October, and was much pleased with the appearance of everything. She spent a fortnight at the Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis.

Miss Sarah Louise Greer (A. B. 1934), last year at the School for Fashion Careers in New York, has now a position with Nieman-Marcus, at Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. G. G. Henning (Ada Hemingway, 1922-24), whose home is in Milford, Iowa, where her husband is a physician, writes of her son, Gary, 4½ years old, and her daughter, Eunice Jane, aged 2½ years. Milford is just three miles from Lake Okoboji, she writes, so they have "lots of fun."

Warm, mellow winds, and very little rain, have kept warm the turf in all the countryside and it is perfectly safe to sit on the ground in October, the same as in the summer. But even if it were not!

Wood smoke, burnt fingers, what do we care? It was great fun to toast marshmallows at the all-school picnic at the St. Charles Country Club.

Mrs. Norma Hazeltine (Norma Paul Ruedi, 1926-30, A. B.), who is teaching English and Latin in the Bolivar, Mo., public schools, writes that she expects to attend the meeting of the National Council of English teachers in St. Louis Thanksgiving, and to be for a short time at Lindenwood. She tells of her sister, Miss Oreen Ruedi (1920-24, A. B.), having a contract with Silver Burdett to write a text on "American Problems."

Mrs. T. E. Gillespie (Wilma Jane Stephens, 1930-31), writes from Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, where she and her husband, who is a Naval officer, have their home for the present at 2755 Ferdinand Avenue.

Mrs. Anna Chidester Edgar, of Umapine, Oregon, veteran former student and teacher at Lindenwood, writes, at the age of 88, she is training a 10-weeks-old bird dog. She always was energetic.

Will Entertain Teachers

Lindenwood has announced the college will be host Thursday, November 17, at a luncheon at 12 o'clock noon, at the Muehlbach Hotel, Kansas City, Mo., for the many Lindenwood girls who as teachers may be attending the State educational convention in Kansas City that week.

Miss Ruth Gibbs (1930-32, Certificate in Business) is one of Miss Allyn's girls who has a good position in an office at Gardena, a suburb of Los Angeles, her mother writes.

Miss Theo Frances Hull (A. B. 1934) has been appointed to represent Lindenwood College at ceremonies for the inauguration of the new president at Mt. Union College, Alliance, Ohio. Dr. Oreen Ruedi, an alumna of Lindenwood, is head of the sociology department in Mt. Union College.

Cards of a lovely baby emerging from a flower-girdled valise have been received from Mr. and Mrs. E. Chester Nelson (Minnie Lasar, 1919-20), of Fort Smith, Ark., announcing the advent, on September 14, of their daughter, Sharon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marvin Robinson (Lorna Burkhead, 1927-28), of Armstrong, Iowa, have sent the pleasant announcement of the coming of a daughter whom they have named Diane, on August 28.

Little Sharmion Margaret Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Simpson (Margaret Jane-way, 1928-29), of Eufaula, Okla., is not going to let anything stand in her way, 15 years from now, her mother writes, about attending Lindenwood College. "So anxiously is she awaiting it that she has packed her bag several times in anticipation. Lindenwood has become a tradition in our family," Mrs. Simpson says, "so I think that perhaps she inherited her love for it. She is 2½ years old and talks about Lindenwood like an advertising manager."

Above is a likeness of Patsy Ann Bollman, sent to Miss Hankins by the baby's mother, Mrs. Bollman (Georgia Lee Hoffman, B. S. in Home Economics, 1934), of St. Charles. This baby, who is now about nine months old, says: "I'm too lively to suit my mother, sometimes, and I'm preparing to start to Lindenwood in several years. I listen to the bells every half-hour. That's a good start, don't you think?" Her mother adds, "I'm so glad Lindenwood has so many students this year. It shows how fine a school we have."

From Athens, Ill., comes the picture of a baby in a pink parasol with pale blue ribbons, announcing young William Frederick, as of date September 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Braeuninger (Doris Achelpohl, 1924-28, A. B.).

William Wesley Knowles is the name of the new son, who came according to his engraved card, on August 28, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Narvel Knowles (Dorothy Stunkel, 1921-22), at 6186 Washington Boulevard, Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Hougen, of 405 West Saulnier, Houston, Texas (Alice May Reynolds, 1927-28), have sent cards announcing the arrival of their son, Lee Reynolds, on August 28. He is a big baby, weighing no less than 10½ pounds when he came into the world.

Kansas City Officers

New officers have been elected by the Kansas City Lindenwood College Club, as follows: president, Mrs. J. C. Cross (Adeline Ayres); vice-president, Mrs. G. V. Metzger (Gladys Myers); secretary, Mrs. G. C. McKee (Eugenia Bair); treasurer, Mrs. Perry Sargeant (Mabel Lindley); historian, Mrs. T. W. Overall (Fannie Gill); sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. O. LeRoy Berry (Lois Bockemohle). The election was held September 30, at the first fall meeting of the year, at the Kansas City Woman's Club. Miss Frances Moffett presided, immediately following a luncheon.

For the coming season the club will have the second Tuesday in the month for its meeting day, as in the past; there will be a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock, followed by a book review by Miss Lenore Anthony, who has given splendid programs for the club many times. Following this plan, the October meeting was held, with the new president, Mrs. Cross, presiding.

Student Board for 1938-39

With Virginia Carter, of Carthage, Mo., as president, the members of the Student Council for the coming year are: vice-president, Rosemary Williams, of Murphysboro, Ill.; secretary-treasurer, Kathryn Wagner, El Dorado, Kan.; Y. W. C.
