PEOPLE, NEWS & NOTES

College Appoints Siebels Athletic Director

Arthur R. Siebels has been appointed Athletic Director at Lindenwood College. Siebels, who has been serving as Associate Athletic Director since his arrival at Lindenwood last June, began his new duties on February 1. He also coaches men's basketball and will coach the men's baseball team in their initial season beginning in 1990.

Bringing fifteen years of coaching and administrative experience to the Lindenwood position, Siebels served four years in a similar capacity at Missouri Baptist College in Creve Coeur and eleven years at Columbia College in Columbia, Mo. He earned a bachelor of science degree from Southeast Missouri State and holds a masters of education degree from the University of Arizona. He is currently a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) District 16 Executive Committee.

Siebels is a past president of the Ozark Collegiate Conference and was the first president of the newly formed Show-me Collegiate Conference, of which Lindenwood is a charter member. (Submitted by Allen Schwab, dean of the undergraduate college.)

President Comments On Recent News

The following memo, dated March 3, 1989, was sent to all students, faculty and staff from Interim President Daniel N. Keck:

"A news story this morning in the St. Charles Post raised questions about the continued participation of Lindenwood students in the federal government's student aid programs.

"I want to state unequivocally that students at Lindenwood College are assured of the continuance of federal aid.

"We have sent to the United States Department of Education today information that we believe will satisfy the Department's letter of credit requirement. In discussions with department officials, we are confident this information will be sufficient to meet their requirements.

"If for any reason it is not sufficient, we have secured approval of a bank letter of credit should this be necessary. In all cases students will be assured of the continuance of federal assistance." (From the Office of the President.)

Health Fair Includes Cholesterol Screening On Campus

Cholesterol screening is one of the booths planned for the upcoming Health Fair that will kick off Wellness Week 1989 on Monday, March 20. In order to justify bringing the professionals and equipment involved to our campus, we must be able to demonstrate sufficient interest and participation on the part of staff, faculty and students.

To do this, we need your pre-registration before Thursday, March 16. The available screening times will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the cafeteria. The cost is $5.00 which is to be paid in advance at the time of pre-registration.

You may reserve a time that is most convenient for you by contacting either Pat Young at the Health Center, Cobbs Hall, Ext. 270, or Deanna Rasch at the CAP Center, Niccolls Hall, Ext. 237. Pre-registrations will be accepted on a first-come first-served basis. (Submitted by Deanna Rasch, CAP Center.)

"Faculty are strongly urged to use material from the list in appropriate courses, and to offer suggestions and support in planning discussions that will help draw both students and faculty into beneficial exchanges of ideas."

Titles include: Things Fall Apart by Chinua Achebe, Torture in Brazil by Jaime Wright, and Candide in Zadig and Selected Stories by Voltaire. Copies will be available in the Campus Bookstore and on reserve at Butler Library.

Religious Life Council Initiates "Exchange"

The Religious Life Council is a newly formed student organization which represents the diverse religious backgrounds found at Lindenwood College. One of the council's stated goals is to explore religious issues and concerns with a spirit of openness, tolerance and mutual respect.

To that end, the council invites interested students, faculty and staff to attend a study and discussion group called "Exchange." This seven-week program, based on the Bible's new testament book of Acts, will be held on Wednesdays in the Student Center Quiet Lounge beginning March 15 through April 26 from 6-7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be provided.
