HLC Fact of the Week: "What We Can Say and Not Say with Regard to Accreditation"

- We cannot say that any of our degree programs are accredited by the Higher Learning Commission because HLC only accredits the institution as a whole and not individual programs.
- We cannot say that our online programs are fully accredited by the Higher Learning Commission because HLC only accredits the institution as a whole and not individual programs.
- We can say Lindenwood is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC) and has been approved by HLC to offer online undergraduate and graduate degrees.
- We can say that some of our programs (e.g., business) have been accredited by specific specialized accrediting bodies (e.g., ACBSP).
- When we make reference to Lindenwood being accredited by HLC, we are not to use the phrase "fully accredited."

To learn more about accreditation and Lindenwood's comprehensive evaluation and site visit scheduled for November 6-7, 2017, and to see the countdown clock to the visit, go to the HLC page on the Lindenwood website here: <http://www.lindenwood.edu/about/higher-learning-commission/>.

Volunteers Needed for St. Louis Moonlight Ramble

Are you a bike enthusiast, do you love volunteering, or do you want a way to give back to Lindenwood?

We have been asked if we could provide 40 volunteers to assist the Aug. 5 Moonlight Ramble bike ride in St. Louis. For every volunteer Lindenwood commits, we will receive a $50 donation that will be applied to the Lion's Reserve Fund.

Lion's Reserve Fund – A matching gift program which assists students who are a few credits shy of graduating and have to leave the university for financial reasons. This fund allows us to provide financial assistance to these students to finish their degrees and walk across the stage at graduation.

If you are interested in volunteering for the Moonlight Ramble or want to know more about the Lion's Reserve Fund, contact Bryan Stone at (636) 627-2955 or BStone@Lindenwood.edu.

The last day for volunteer sign-ups is Wednesday, July 26.
