Field Hockey Opens Season at Home

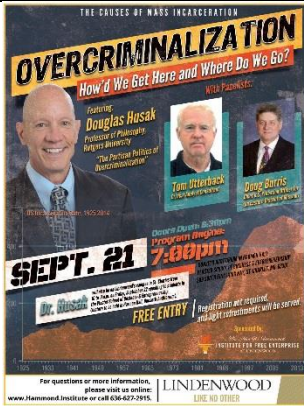

The Lindenwood field hockey team captured its first ECAC Championship last year and is favored to repeat in 2017. Its journey towards that goal starts this weekend at Hunter Stadium in the first athletics contests of the year on the Lindenwood campus.

On Friday evening, the Lady Lions take on Indiana of Pennsylvania in a 5 p.m. game. Both teams won double-figure contests a year ago. On Sunday, Lindenwood starts conference play with a noon game against rival Bellarmine. Bellarmine was selected right behind the Lady Lions in the preseason conference poll, and the early season game could play a big role in deciding the conference's regular season title.

Admission is free for everyone this season for all Lindenwood field hockey games.

Do they know how you are assessing those outcomes and what you have learned from those assessments? Do they know what improvements you have made to your instruction and your curriculum on the basis of those findings? Such transparency can improve student engagement, motivation, and learning.
