Phonathon Rings a Bell

The 1989 Lindenwood College Alumni Phonathon is wrapped up for the year--and according to Alumni Relations and Giving Director Judy Peters--it's a big success. The phonathon raised $210,897.70 this year. The original goal was $190,000, so the phonathon met 110% of its goal. This year's top phonathon caller is Cindy Fehmel, who solicited more than $32,000 in funds. Top volunteer caller is Alumni Association President Maurita Stueck who raised nearly $8000 in pledges from fellow alumni. This year's fund raising effort brought in more pledges and money than the 1988 campaign. A big round of applause to Judy Peters, call leader Donna Ziegemeier, and the 37 callers. Thanks for a job well done!

Grant Given

The Arts and Education Council has awarded grants totaling $322,389 to its member organizations. The grant money comes from the A & E's CAMELOT/Special Projects Fund. The grants, ranging from $15,000 to $500 were awarded to 67 organizations to support arts and arts education activities in the greater St. Louis area. Lindenwood College is the recipient of one of those grants. A & E gives the grants to produce a variety of concerts, plays, exhibits and educational activities.

Faculty Recital

Recently, three music faculty members from Lindenwood gave a concert of "Music for Winds and Organ" at the St. Charles Presbyterian Church. The recital was held Sunday, June 25.

With Lisa Blackmore on trumpet, Robert Carter on bassoon and saxophone, and Terry Martin on organ, the program featured works by Bach, Handel, Haydn, Merce, Glazounov, and Hovhaness. Lindenwood College Chaplain George Wilcox hosted the concert.

The trio has given a similar performance in Benton, Illinois.

Wanted: Families and Friends

The International Christian Youth Exchange (ICYE) is looking for families and community service agencies to host exchanges beginning July 20th. ICYE sponsors exchanges from 31 countries. These young people come to the United States to attend high school or serve as full-time volunteers with community-based social service and/or action organizations. This is a great opportunity to give your own personal touch to international relations, and to make a new, interesting friend as well. If you're interested in becoming a host, or you know someone who is, contact the Lindenwood College Chaplain, George Wilcox, at 946-4467 or Ext. 447. (Submitted by George Wilcox).

More Moves

Things are still moving at Lindenwood College. The Financial Aid Department has relocated to the lower level of Roemer Hall. You'll find Larry Sackman and company in the old Purchasing and Personnel offices. Their phone extensions are staying the same, but to refresh your memory we'll run them here:

Judy Mattingly Ext. 315
Larry Sackman Ext. 364
Peggy White Ext. 380
Stay tuned for more moves!

Open House

On Friday, students and their parents will be roaming all over the Lindenwood College Campus. The Admissions Office is sponsoring an Open House Orientation and Registration Day Friday, June 14. Administration, faculty and staff members will be meeting with new and prospective students to give them information about the college and its programs. New students will be planning their fall courses with advisors. Tours are scheduled throughout the day and refreshments will be served. So if you see some new faces on campus Friday, be sure and welcome them to Lindenwood!

Free Publicity for Lindenwood Events

Okay folks, you now have two different ways to get some free publicity for college events coming up in the fall.

The Arts and Education Council of Greater St. Louis publishes a monthly booklet. Right now, A & E is working on its September booklet. If you would like to have something printed in this edition, send the information to the Lindenwood College Public Relations Office, Box 652. We'll pass it on to the A & E. Deadline for material for the September issue is July 20.

Local businessman Don Mattingly has created a free, community calendar booklet for all St. Charles organization activities. He wants to include everything and anything you have scheduled: concerts, theater presentations, athletic events, Christmas Walk, pageants--you name it. Right now, Don is working on the September, October and November booklet. If you want anything printed in the fall edition, submit it to Lindenwood Public Relations, Campus Box 652. If you'd like to see a copy of a past booklet, drop by the Public Relations office in Roemer Hall. Please send your list of activities by July 14. Don't pass up this opportunity to get some free publicity for your activities and for Lindenwood College.

A Call for Manuscript Proposals

The ASHE-ERIC Higher Education Reports invite any qualified persons to submit a proposal to the National Advisory Board for possibly being invited to write a monograph for the series. In particular, the Report series invites proposals on the following topics:

- academic alliances
- alternative programs
- collaborative learning

These topics have been identified by a national survey as being particularly pressing to higher education administrators and faculty this year. Submitting a proposal consists of:

1. Detailed 5-page manuscript proposal with references
2. Chapter-by-chapter outline
3. 74-word abstract
4. A vita and writing sample

Please submit these materials by July 15, 1989 to Jonathon D. Fife, Series Editor, ERIC Clearinghouse on Higher Education, One Dupont Circle, Suite 630, Washington, DC 20036-1183. Prospective authors are strongly encouraged to call Dr. Fife at 202/296-2597. Additional information on submissions is also available from Ms. Hawley.
