I also want to remind all employees that Lindenwood College will be open from 8:30 a.m. until noon on Saturday, May 18, 1996. All offices are to remain open and staffed during this time.

All faculty and staff are requested to park on the lower lot by the stadium on the morning of Commencement Day. A shuttle service will be provided to and from this lot. Parking in faculty and staff lots, particularly adjacent to Roemer, is reserved for graduates, their families and guests attending Commencement.

News & Notes ...

New Faces

A hearty Lindenwood welcome to the most recent additions to the staff: John Feely, director of program development; Tom Gilreath, graduate and adult professional admissions; and Eric Piper, wrestling coach and undergraduate admissions.

Fond Farewell

Ciao! to Martin Hettich, collections, who is retiring today. Martin and his wife Irene are taking a trip to Europe in June, and someday soon, Martin plans to fulfill his lifelong dream of sailing around the world.

Publishing News

A poem by Wanita Zumbrennen, associate professor of English, will be published in the Summer 1996 issue of The Slate. The poem is titled "This is not Poetic Language." The Slate is a new national literary journal which provides a forum for new writing and diverse expressions.

The Doctor Is In

Congratulations to Susan Deege, adjunct instructor of the social sciences cluster in LCIE. Susan received her Ph.D. in education from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale on May 12th. Her dissertation topic was: "Factors Influencing Females Choosing Non-Traditional Occupations."

Museum Moves

The Sibley Museum, formerly housed in Latzer Great Hall of MAB, has a new home. The Museum is now set up in the gray house at 120 S. Kingshighway, directly across from campus.

Quote of the Month...

"If you really look like your passport photo, you're probably too sick to travel."
