A Heartfelt Thankyou

"No words can express how grateful I am to be a part of the Lindenwood community.

I shall never forget your friendship and support to me and my family during this difficult time."

*Thank you,
Pauline Hammen*

Dougherty's Doins'

John Dougherty, associate professor of education, recently spoke to the Delta Kappa Chapters in Florida and Puerto Rico. His topics included at-risk children, alternative schools, and change.

Holiday Hoopla

If you're interested in helping the LSGA students decorate the Lindenwood College campus for Christmas Walk, meet in front of Butler Hall at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, December 7. We appreciate your help!

Well Done!

Pats on the back to Victoria Jones and Rebecca Panagos, assistant professors of education, who recently received their doctoral degrees.

Jones completed her Ph.D. in education at St. Louis University, and Panagos completed hers at the University of Missouri at Columbia.

With the addition of these two degrees, 100 percent of the full-time education faculty members hold doctoral degrees.

Kudos also to Suzi Sakahara, assistant professor of communication, who recently completed another master of arts degree, this one in international studies.

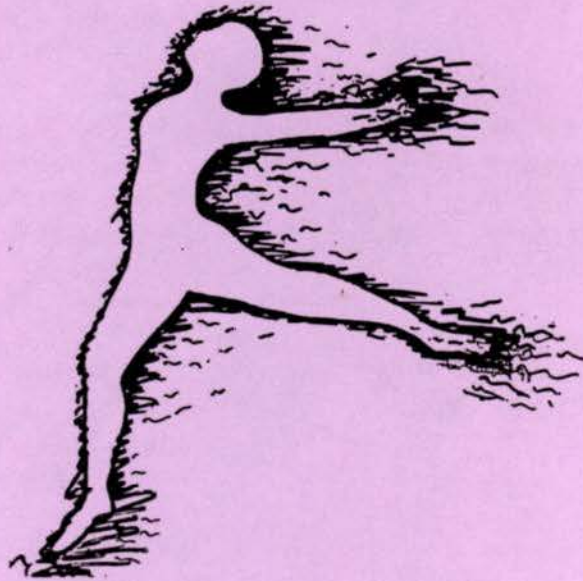

Baby, Baby

Congratulations to Dindra McFadden, coordinator of Work and Learn, and Troy McFadden, graduate assistant, on the birth of Brayden Edward. Baby McFadden debuted on November 5, weighing 7 lbs., 1 oz. and measuring 19 inches.

Happy
Thanksgiving
