ST. CHARLES, MO., NOVEMBER 13, 1945

Lindenwood's 1945 Hallowe'en Court

Ten Lindenwood Seniors Are Selected For Who's Who In American Colleges

Ten Lindenwood students are included in the 1945-46 edition of "WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES." The girls selected are as follows: Jo Emons, Carolyn Levy Gillette, Harriet Hudson, Peggy King, Montelle Moore, Emma Lee Morgan, Eileen Murphy, Virginia Moehlenkamp, Mary Ann Parker, and Virginia Rozyskie. Students for this honor are chosen conscientiously and impartially, taking into consideration character, scholarship, leadership in extracurricular activities, and potentiality for future usefulness to business and society. The activities and honors of these girls have been varied.

Jo Emons whose home is in Alton, Ill., is a member of the Encore Club, Residence Council, Beta Chi, Athletic Association, Tau Sigma, Sigma Tau Delta, Future Teachers of America, Westminster Fellowship, Student Christian Association, and was in the May Court 1945.

Carolyn Levy Gillette of St. Charles, Mo., is a member of the League of Women Voters, International Relations Club, Der Deutsche Verein, Alpha Sigma Tau, Sigma Tau Delta, Red Cross, Annual Board, Pi Gamma Mu, Press Club, Alpha Kappa Delta, and is the 1946 Linden Leaves Editor-in-Chief.

Harriet Hudson of Brownsville, Tenn., is a member of Alpha Mu Mu, Choir, Red Cross, Student Christian Association, Baptist Student Union, and Mu Phi Epsilon. She also won the Eta Upsilon Gamma Scholarship.

Peggy King who comes from Wichita, Kans., is a member of Future Teachers of America, League of Women Voters, Red Cross, and is now serving as the chairman of the Lindenwood Red Cross Chapter.

Montell Moore, of Mexico, Mo., is a member of the Home Economics Club, Athletic Association, International Relations Club, League of Women Voters, and was the Maid of Honor in the 1945 May Court.

Emma Lee Morgan comes from Camden, Ark., and is a member of Delta Phi Delta, Choir, Future Teachers of America, Westminster Fellowship, Mu Phi Epsilon, and winner of the Sigma Iota Chi Fellowship.

Eileen Murphy's home is in Mount Vernon, Ill., and she is now president of the Student Christian Association, a member of the Linden Leaves Staff, Press Club, Home Economics Club, Kappa Pi, Sigma Tau Delta, International Relations Club, League of Women Voters, Alpha Sigma Tau, Annual Board, Future Teachers of America, Red Cross and won the Eta Upsilon Gamma Scholarship.

Virginia Moehlenkamp of St. Charles, Mo., is a member of the Poetry Society, Der Deutsche Verein, Sigma Tau Delta, Triangle Club, Alpha Sigma Tau, Annual Board, and Press Club.

Mary Ann Parker, also of St. Charles, belongs to El Circulo Espanol, Encore Club, Day Students Club, Sigma Tau Delta, League of Women Voters, Alpha Sigma Tau, International Relations Club, Red Cross, Future Teachers of America, Pi Gamma Mu, Poetry Society, and is Literary Editor of the Linden Leaves.

Virginia Rozyskie comes from Camden, Ark., and is an active member of the Commercial Club, Red Cross, and is president of our College Student Association.

Carol Clayton Reigns Over Hallowe'en Ball

BY GENE HEAD

There was a breathless hush and a polite craning of necks. Then in the opening of the orange drapes was revealed Lindenwood's new Hallowe'en queen. The applause swelled as her majesty, Queen Carol of the House of Clayton, promenaded the length of the ball room, bearing in her arms the royal bouquet of chrysanthemums.

At the royal dais she was received by her first maid of honor, Miss Ann Mitchell, of Oklahoma City, Okla., her second maid of honor, Miss Beverly Bacon, of Oak Park, Ill., and the members of her court, Betty Bland, Beverly Burnell, Judy Haggerty, Barbara Hencke, Marie Koch, Judy Powell, Teddy Proctor, Mary Ann Putnam, Ann Steckenreider and Grace Stewart.

As her loyal subjects looked on, the new queen knelt to receive the crown from the first maid of honor. Then seated on her throne, she reigned over the coronation entertainment.

The scene was Butler Gymnasium, transformed on the night of November 2 into a flamboyant court of orange, splashed with black. The occasion was the annual Hallowe'en ball, given for the college by the Freshman Class.

The 1945 queen, whose blonde hair was set off by a gay plaid formal, is a member of this year's Freshman Class. Her home is in Normandy, St. Louis County.

In honor of the queen and her court, the members of the Freshman Class presented a "circus," with Miss Donna Lawshe as mistress of ceremonies and Miss Pat Elliott as "barker." Stars of the "circus" included Miss Juanita Pardee, who presented a tap dance to the tune of "Mood Indigo"; Miss Mitzi Wayne, blues singer, who sang "Stormy Weather" and "It's Been a Long, Long Time"; Miss Mary Morris,

Full Program Is Planned For Lindenwood's First Post-War Thanksgiving

Niccolls Hall Gives College's First Formal Dance of the Year

Niccolls Hall gave the first formal dance of the year last Saturday night. The girls recruited dates from Kemper and Missouri Military Academies, Lambert Naval Air Station and private sources.

Dick Radford's orchestra played from 8:30 -12 p. m. in Butler Gymnasium, which was decorated in gold and white to carry out a Lindenwood theme. Carol Thompson headed the decoration committee.

Niccolls Hall talent provided entertainment. The Six Nicks, Kay Blankenship, Shirley Griffith, Janie Horton, Patty Palmer, Teddy Proctor and Shirley Strane—sang. Punch was served, and the Tea Room catered to the Freshmen and their dates.

Dr. and Mrs. Gage, Dr. Schaper, Dean Gipson, Mr. Motley, Dr. Boyce, Miss Cook, Miss Pottorf and Miss Holt chaperoned.

Turkey And All The Trimmings Promised For Holiday Menu

For the first peace-time Thanksgiving day in four years, an active program is planned for the Lindenwood family on November 22. As a hold-over from the war, however, there will be only a one day holiday due to transportation difficulties.

Activities will begin with an inter-class hockey game at 9:30 a. m. A Thanksgiving Convocation will be held at 11:30 o'clock. John Bracken, superintendent of public schools in Clayton, Mo., will speak on "Our First Peace-time Thanksgiving in Four Years."

The all-important Thanksgiving dinner is scheduled for 1 o'clock. The menu is not yet definite, but roast turkey is guaranteed. Following dinner, the Student Council will sponsor a movie at the Strand Theater for the student body at 2 p. m.

A big event of the day will be the formal opening of the new club rooms in Sibley Hall at its open house from 4:30-6:30 p. m. The rooms have been recently replanned and redecorated; this will be the students' first official inspection.

The evening meal will be a Lindenwood innovation. Snack bars, buffet style, will be opened in the recreation rooms of the residence halls at 8 o'clock and will remain open for about an hour so that the students may eat any time they feel the urge. The Butler gymnasium will have open house for skating, dancing and ping pong from 9-12 p. m.

Sophomores Elect Representatives For Sophomore Council

The Sophomore Council was elected at a meeting of the Sophomore Class last week. The Council is composed of a representative from each hall and a representative from the Day Students.

The Council will function in planning the activities for the class. The following girls were elected: Patricia Smith, Ayres Hall; Margot Coombs, Sibley Hall; Edwina Fehling, Irwin Hall; Louise Kerr, Butler Hall; Louise Ritter, Day Students.

Bark Reporter Finds Out What Lindenwood Girls Are Thankful For

Another Thanksgiving is here, and around Lindenwood all the girls are thinking of the things they are thankful for. Most of the answers run like this: "Gee, I'm thankful for a lot of things, I wouldn't know which one to say I am most thankful or, unless it's that the war is over." But when you get past that answer you'll find that the girls are thankful for a great number of things. Here are the results:

Genelle Phillips—"Buddy."

Janet Koetter—"I'm thankful that the war is over and that all the boys are coming home."

Marion Wagner—"Bill, I guess."

Jimmi Hardin—"I'm thankful that there are only seven days in the week instead of eight."

Gene Head—"I'm thankful for telephones."

Doris Miller—"Thankful that the war is over."

Ibbie Franke—"Week-ends."

Jane Griffith—"There are only five class days a week."

Carolyn Sloan—"Wednesdays."

Betty Hoffman—"Thankful because the war's over and Joe will be home."

Jessie Wilson—that her man is coming.

Bettye Moody—the big check she got from home.

Dot Gilliam—that she has George's picture to inspire her.

Spanish students—that they have a handsome senior for a teacher.

Louise Eberspacher—peace.

Montelle Moore—Wells.

Mary Lou Peterson—that we are getting back to normal living conditions and that she is finally going to graduate.

We Give Thanks

Of all the religious holidays in the world, Thanksgiving is the only strictly unique American holiday. Thanksgiving is 324 years old, having first been celebrated by the Puritans in 1621.

This is the first peacetime Thanksgiving for the world in eight years, and the first peacetime Thanksgiving for America in three years. This year Lindenwood students are beginning to know life and living as it was before the war. Thanksgiving this year will be celebrated without the anxiety and worry about fathers, brothers, and sweethearts.

We, at Lindenwood, are anticipating Thanksgiving not only for the turkey and cranberry sauce, but for the opportunity it gives us to enumerate the multitude of things for which we are thankful.

Here's Your Soap Box

The Safety Valve, a feature of the Linden Bark for the past several years, is being revived. If you feel like letting off a little steam, the Safety Valve is your opportunity to tell Lindenwood what you like or don't like and why. Turn in your letters to a Bark staff member or to box 497. Be sure to sign your name as evidence of good faith, but we won't print your name if you ask that it be withheld.

Don't Be A Wall Flower

What you learn at Lindenwood doesn't come from class work alone. The clubs and other campus activities also benefit students in many ways. By participation in organizations you will meet new friends, be able to cooperate with a group easier, and learn how clubs are run and their activities are carried out. When you refrain from participation, you are depriving yourself of good times and part of your education. Don't be a "wall flower"—come on out and make the most of your time here at L. C.

Use The Health Center

The proper use of the Stumberg Health Center has been pointed out in various ways since our arrival at Lindenwood. A visit to the Health Center will prove just how interested the administration is in the health of every individual on the campus. The building itself is beautifully decorated and well-equipped. The staff is efficient and understanding. Our college has done its part.

We owe it to ourselves to take care of our health, to be sure, but we also owe it to our parents and those around us. It is common knowledge that a minor illness can develop into something serious if it goes unchecked, and it is up to us to see that such a thing does not happen. Only if we have healthy bodies can we have healthy minds. Both of these mean a better, longer life. For the good of all, let's meet the college half-way.

A Reality---On Paper

World peace may be in the offing. With the signing by Russia, the United Nations Charter has become fact and not fiction, but in order for this fact to remain it is up to our generation. Our generation is going to be responsible for the keeping of world peace.

At present plans are being made to go ahead with the meeting of the United Nations Assembly scheduled for December in London. Shortly after this meeting the Security Council will assemble.

The United States was one of the first nations to sign the Charter. This fact in itself is important, since it means that now the United States is abandoning its policy of isolationism, it is now up to us, the people of the United States to see that our country does not shirk its duty in helping to keep peace in the world.

All but eight of the fifty-one nations that met in San Francisco have ratified the Charter or are in the process of ratifying it. Russia was the twenty-ninth nation to sign and in doing so made the Charter fact and not fiction.

With the first meeting of the Assembly our hope for a lasting peace rises. People are waiting to see if the thing will work. After it proves itself, it will no doubt get the full support of the world. Peace is the most longed for thing in the minds of millions and they are going to try their best to make the dream of a peaceful world come true.

In all this world of uncertainty, the lowly atom turned out to be exact what it was cracked up to be.

For These Blessings---

A Prayer For Thanksgiving

By Dr. Silas P. Evans

Lord we come, after the custom of our fathers, with hearts of gratitude into a Thanksgiving Season. Thy goodness faileth never, with blessings abounding. We would accept Thy favors with joy and our testings with faith and courage. We thank Thee for home and school and friends; for our goodly national heritage; for victory in war and homecoming of loved ones. Save us from boastfulness and pride. May our Nation bear to the Nations of the earth a living testimony to the love of justice, righteousness, and peace, through out the world. Above all, we thank Thee for that world brighter and better than all else open to us in the heart of Eternal Goodness. We thank Thee for the golden sunshine of Thy smile, and the tender grace of Thy forgiveness. May we love to make this world our home, since it is Thy creation and we are part of it. May we ever seek Thy searching and surpassing glory and fear not to commit ourselves to that world which is our everlasting home.

May the Peace of God which passeth all understanding possess our minds and hearts through Him who is the Prince of Peace.

FROM THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN

Next week will close our mid semester term. At that time you may go to your teachers to find out the grade of work you are doing in your various subjects.

Grades are unsatisfactory in many ways, but they, in some form or other, are the most satisfactory means most educational institutions have found to measure the achievements of students. The really important thing is, of course, what you feel that you yourself have received from a course and how valuable it has been to you. Many a student learns much from a course in which she does not receive the highest grades; in fact, many a student has expressed her opinion that a course in which she received only poor or mediocre grades was one of the most illuminating subjects that she took in college. I urge you, therefore, not to make grades the sole criterion of your achievements, but now and again to take stock of what you really feel that you are receiving or could receive from every course that you take.

None the less, grades are a measure of achievement and effort and ability. I hope, therefore, that when the first semester has come to a close, I shall find on the dean's honor list a very large number of you students.

Three Students Attend Meeting In Government

Dr. and Mrs. Gage took three Lindenwood students of government, Jean MacDonald, Margaret McKinney, and Jane McLean to a meeting of the St. Louis Council on Education and Government last Tuesday night.

Hugh Magill was the speaker for the evening. He spoke on government and the solution of present problems in the light of the principles of government set forth in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States.

Social Science Classes Give Panel Discussions

The Current Social Problems class and the Current Economic Problems Class under the direction of Dr. Jessie Bernard gave round table discussions for the St. Charles chapter of the American Association of University Women last Thursday night. The panels were on "A Population Policy for the United States" and "The Full Employment Bill."

After the discussions, refreshments were served. Miss Wurster is chairman of the group and Dr. Schaper was the hostess. The meeting was held in the St. Charles High School Building.

The panels given were presented for the Current Events class the preceding Tuesday

Bark Barometer of Campus Opinion Lindenwood Is Sharply Divided on Question of Military Training - - 83 Per Cent Oppose Extending It To Women

President Harry S. Truman, in a speech to Congress several weeks ago recommended universal military training for young men following their high school graduation, or as soon as they reach the age of 18. On the other side of the fence are many religious and educational organizations which feel such a plan would interrupt the education of these men to the extent that few of them would go on to college after their release from the Army. Others, including the late President Roosevelt, believe that this military training should include women, as well as men.

Lindenwood students have joined in the controversy, and their opinions prove that they, too, have given a great deal of thought to the subject. A poll of these opinions shows that 58 per cent of the girls agreed with President Truman's suggestion, while 42 per cent disagreed. The non-supporters of the President's plan feel

By JANE McLEAN

With such rapidity that seems almost unbelievable, the autumn months at Lindenwood are falling swiftly away, leading us first to the eagerly awaited Thanksgiving Day—and that wonderful dinner; and then just three weeks later, to our long-sought Christmas recess. Those that were shopping Saturday in St. Louis reported that the windows are already decorated in the pre-holiday manner, and that the Christmas spirit is beginning to show itself in all its pre-war glory.

Our first Thanksgiving Day and Christmas vacation in four seemingly endless war years—just the thought of it makes it seem as though the most wonderful dream in the world has come true.

Halloween, with its festive colors and mischievous spirit has come and gone, bringing with it the beautiful freshman queen, Carol Clayton, and her court of twelve other lovely freshmen girls. The old girls discovered that the freshmen class has such talent that cannot be forgotten; and without a doubt, such entertainers as Mary Morris, the Six Nicks, Joerene Williams, Mary Artman, and the many others will be called on often to perform for the enjoyment of the Lindenwood Family.

With all attention right now centering on the mid-semester tests and just exactly how long it will take to absorb all that biology or all that humanities, the thought of our Thanksgiving Day is a welcome goal. A busy day, that is—so everyone prepare for twenty-four hours full of busy moments—a hockey game, our Thanksgiving services, a free movie, and open house in the new S'bley Club Room, but most of all, the dinner. Seems as though that has been mentioned before, but for anyone who has not had a Lindenwood Thanksgiving Day dinner, it is a treat not to be missed.

Another exciting event happened last week—they come thick and fast. The freshmen had a dance, while the poor old upperclassmen sat by and sadly watched "this younger generation" parade gaily by in their sparkling formals. A big night for the freshmen, and a little night for the non-freshmen, as they remembered their dateful youthful days, and sighed, for those days would come no more. And then these enterprising creatures tripped off to the Tea Room to watch the dates come by and to make caustic, not to mention reminiscent, remarks.

The time has come to close again, so until the next issue, the best of luck on those "horrible" mid-semesters. But don't worry, you'll pull through.

that educational standards of these men would be lowered as a result of the break between high school and college.

The second question was: "Do you favor a modified plan whereby college education would not be interrupted?" To this, 67 per cent said Yes, and the remaining 33 per cent said No. One student suggested that the one year of military training be added as the fifth year of high school.

To the last question, "Should this military training apply to women as well as men?" 17 per cent answered Yes and 83 per cent answered with emphatic No's. Most of the girls agreed with the saying, "A woman's place is in the home," and feel that it would be a mistake to make such training compulsory for women.

THE CLUB CORNER

Notice: A substantial reward is offered for the discovery of the author of the excellent poem turned in anonymously to the Poetry Society. Information of the author's whereabouts should be turned in to Janet Brown, 217 Butler. Forty people have submitted poems, but as yet they have not been judged.

Elizabeth Murphy was elected President of the Texas girls. They met November 1 to organize and plan future activities.

An informative talk was given to the Triangle Club by Miss Wiendele concerning her experiments in a physiology laboratory in California. During the second half of the program, she showed slides of the laboratory and of Monterey Bay.

Mrs. Cordelia Stumberg has been elected sponsor of the newly organized Arkansas club. At present, the Arkansas girls are planning on a trip into St. Louis to attend a play.

The riding team competed with Monticello at Monticello College November 10. Beta Chi is planning a get-acquainted wiener roast November 16.

Mu Phi Epsilon is one of the first of the clubs to snap into action. They entertained for Barbara Troxell October 26 after her performance. Plans are now in progress for the Founders Day commemoration which is to be held at the De Soto Hotel on Thursday, the 15th. Harriet Hudson is to speak.

The Commercial Club held its second meeting of the year last Tuesday night in the Library Club Rooms. At this meeting the constitution was read and an amendment was passed. The next meeting will be in December.

The Home Economics Club initiated approximately thirty new members at an impressive candle-light ceremony last Thursday in the Library Club Rooms. After the initiation, a tea was held for the members of the club. Pat Latherow is president of the Home Economics Club.

Will They Be Forgotten?

For several years the Student Christian Association has sponsored the collection of gifts for the children of Markham Memorial and in the Souldard district. These children are probably the most underprivileged in St. Louis.

Some of the children have never had a doll. One little girl who received a doll for the first time pinned it up on the wall because she thought it too precious to play with. Another family had to take the clothes from the new doll to use for the baby of the family.

Naturally there are little boys to whom some of the gifts go. Any kind of a durable and useful toy they would like.

Some of the gifts that are usually given, are of course dolls, animals, balls, tops, but this year the SCA is going to ask for any kind of a gift such as sweaters, skirts, scarfs and picture books. Another item that is needed badly is soap.

This year the dolls who are entered in the contest will be judged on two bases: (1) the prettiest, and (2) the most original.

The Christmas tree will be in the library club rooms, and on Wednesday December 5, there will be the official lighting of the tree. The SCA is having special music and carolling as their theme that evening.

By the end of November, boxes will be placed in each dorm to collect any old clothing that is not wanted which will be sent to these children.

Overseas Sweetheart

The fame of this Lindenwood sophomore has spread overseas. Miss Audrey Romann has been chosen "Sweetheart of the 399th Regiment."

Miss Audrey Romann Chosen Sweetheart Of 399th Regiment

"Sweetheart of the 399th Regiment" is the title which has been bestowed on Miss Audrey Romann of Granite City, Ill.

Audrey's picture, submitted by a friend, Pfc. Bernie Miller, first won her the title of "Miss Second Battalion." Later she competed with three other battalion sweethearts for the regimental crown.

The regiment, now serving with the occupational forces in Germany, fought as a part of the Seventh Army during the campaign for Southern Germany.

A sophomore at Lindenwood, Audrey is majoring in foods. To commemorate her selection as sweetheart, she will receive a gold-plated cigarette case bearing the division and regimental insignia, inscribed to her.

Brave Bark Reporters Keep Hallowe'en Rendezvous With Ghost of Mrs. Sibley

By Doris Weinkauff and Jacqueline Harvey

As the clock struck 12 on Hallowe'en night, the ghostly form of Mrs. Sibley floated up from the cemetery towards Sibley Chapel. The silence was broken by screams, as terrified girls watched the spirit of Lindenwood's founder pass and disappear through the back door of the chapel.

Your two reporters, expecting Mrs. Sibley to enter through the side door, were frightened out of ten years' growth when she suddenly appeared from behind us and drifted towards the organ. Soon the strains of "Blest Be the Tie that Binds" filled the night. We sat spellbound by the misty light that surrounds her white shape. As she finished playing her hymns, we reluctantly pushed each other towards the organ.

Mrs. Sibley seemed restless, but consented to answer a few questions. With knees shaking, we asked if she

ECHOES FROM THE GYMNASIUM

Well, the suspense is over, and the Athletic Association now proudly boasts seventy-five new members. Certainly was fun listening to the pledges recite "Ashland, Bancroft, Boner, Bowman, Brinkman, Burba, Burch," etc., en masse. Congratulations kids!

If you should happen to see a few girls limping about the campus with banged-up shins and ankles just chalk it up to our hockey game on November 3 with Principia! Hats off to the team, and particularly to Ruth Wayne, our goalie! We are sorry to admit we suffered a defeat at their hands 7 to 1; but never fear, we hope to make up for it against Maryville on the 17th.

Tennis, archery, and golf intermurals are at long last over. Niccolls Hall, we are happy to note, is showing some fine spirit this year, and captured the coveted first place in both tennis singles and doubles. The Robin Hoods of Butler won archery, and the Sibley "threesome" swung through in golf.

Terrapin and Tau Sigma are in full swing at this point. Watch for their programs later in the year! They can't be beat! Tally Ho, and away! Beta Chi is planning a get-acquainted party on the 16th.

Oh, yes, before we forget, hockey intermurals are coming up soon; so pick a team, get your practice hours and come on out. No kidding kids, it's lots of fun.

Here's hoping we see all of you out to our school games! Let's have some school spirit—how 'bout it?

Tryouts Held For First Play of College Season

Try-outs for the first college play of the year were held last Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. The play will be "And Came the Spring" by Marrisjane and Joseph Hayes. It will be directed by Miss Mary Gordon of the Dramatic Department.

"And Came the Spring" is the story of a typical American family during spring vacation in which they find themselves confronted with a sophisticated guest from New York, the possibility of losing the annual flower show prize, and several mixed-up love affairs which involve their three children.

thought the Lindenwood girls had changed much since her day. Her soft, low voice replied, "No, they still like the same things—clothes, food, and men. But I'm afraid their skirts are too short."

By this time, our power of speech had disappeared almost entirely, (imagine standing only three feet from the spirit of Mrs. Sibley!), but anxious to know the future, we dared another question: "Do you think the L. C. girls will have changed much twenty years from now?" She answered, "No, not greatly. Perhaps I shall not be returning to this campus after a few more years. I have kept this rendezvous every year since my departure from earth nearly a century ago, and I am becoming weary—very weary."

Arising, Mrs. Sibley said that it was time for her to return to her resting place, but she promised to be back next year. Her final message to all Lindenwood girls was, "Carry on!"

Gracie Gremlin

Hi kids. For many of you this will be your first Thanksgiving away from home and naturally you will be a little homesick, but may I give you a bit of advice? The college realizes this, so they have planned a full day for those who will remain on campus. If you will participate in all of these activities the day will pass so quickly that you won't have time to think about being homesick. Happy Thanksgiving.

Independence For India Is Urged By Campus Speaker

In three years the Indians should have their independence said Mr. Krishnayga, a Hindu who spoke to the Student Christian Association last Wednesday night. The subject of his address was "Religious and Political Movements in India."

An advocate of Indian independence, Mr. Krishnayga said that something would be done to raise the standard of living and the rate of literacy in the country after the Indians gain their independence. During the comparatively short time of British rule, the rich have become richer and the poor have become poorer.

He explained that the Indian culture is the oldest culture in the world, having existed without a break for about 4,500 years. The British have ruled for the past 200 years, gradually giving more and more Indians places in the government. If independence is gained, Mr. Krishnayga believes that there would be less religious disagreement than at the present time because the British use this dissension as a means of keeping the Indians under their thumb.

THE LINDEN TREES ARE WHISPERING

By Ruth Titus

It looks like Butler is turning into an old ladies' knitting circle. Practically everyone is knitting a sleeveless pullover for a Christmas present.

Pat Latherow went Omaha-way last week-end to visit Doris Vanecek, L. S. '43. Sid dropped in from nearby Lincoln to make it all perfect.

Orchids to Eileen! She can really handle two men at once. Seems as though an old flame, namely Phalam, dropped by to say "hello"—and Bob—who is her one and only—came for the week-end. Guess it all turned out beautifully though 'cause Ruthie said she had a good time with Phalam and Joyce dePuy still has that faraway look in her eye for Johnny—couldn't be love, could it, Joyce?

Jo Patton's twin brother was here for a week-end. Gee, he's a cute guy—!! Hubba! Hubba!

Marilyn Robinson is really floating in the clouds now. Her Bill has arrived for a leave—and guess what, girls—he has 60 days.

It appears momentarily, at least, that Jo Emons will remain "Miss" for quite a while—Harley is slated for overseas duty—That ring on your left hand is really a beauty, Jo—Best wishes!!

Poor Dot Gilliam—After visiting Gail Frew in Chicago last week-end, she left her heart there with George.

It was like old times seeing B. J. Daneman Walter back on campus last week.

It seems a lot of the people around here are awfully tired. We couldn't arouse anyone's interest in a STOP DAY, could we?

Anyone interested in jitterbugging? See Jo Emons or Mr. Orr. They're going to be the joint sponsors of rug cuttin' bunch.

Phone bills don't seem to phase some people. Kathy Jones' staff sergeant called her all the way from Camp Roberts, Cal., twice in two days.

Femininity Is Fashion's Edict For New Styles

By Louise Ritter

Rounded-out shoulders, thin waistlines, and femininity are a few of the latest trends in fashion in New York. Madame Helene Lyolene, noted designer, believes the returning serviceman wants and expects girls to be feminine—dressed in attractive, feminine clothes—definitely not in slacks. Although the trend is away from masculinity the versatile suit will not be abolished because it is too convenient. There are no "new" colors being shown in New York this year; Vogue continues to sponsor gray and black.

Madame Lyolene, formerly of Paris, now in New York, will be at Lindenwood during November, teaching classes in clothing and costume design. Students may make appointments with Madame Lyolene for conferences to discuss their own clothing and design problems.

Paris fashions, immediately following the liberation, were exaggerated with voluminous skirts, and huge sleeves. These, says Madame Lyolene, were created by Parisian designers to make the German women look funny, although the French women needed the added fullness because they were so thin and starved.

And here is a fashion note of special interest to college girls: Madame Lyolene thinks the tucked-in sweaters look much more chic and give a better well-groomed appearance. John Fredericks in New York has designed many Breton hats suitable for young people with jewels around the crown, bonnets trimmed with feathers or tulle.

Lindenwood Joins Eighth War Loan Campaign

The 8th Victory Loan Campaign is on. Lindenwood students and faculty can participate by buying bonds as often as they can through Mr. Motley's office.

This has been the most costly war in history. One good reason: The nation has spared no expense to save the lives of its fighting men. Former Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau termed this spending to save lives "the most significant fact in War Finance."

Variety of Red Cross Courses Offered This Semester

Courses in various branches of Red Cross work are open to Lindenwood students this year, although the variety offered is not as great as it has been in previous years. The courses and their chairmen are as follows: Nutrition, Montelle Moore; First Aid, Ann Hardin; Sewing, Betty Pacatte; Water Safety, Edith Mullins; Camp and Hospital Counseling, Ruthe Meyer. Publicity chairmen for the year are Pat Evans and Marie Szilagyi.

Home Nursing may be offered if enough students are interested in it. Motor Corps will be given next semester to girls who have completed the two prerequisite courses, First Aid and Advanced First Aid.

These classes will be under the supervision of the Lindenwood College Chapter of the Red Cross, and its chairman, Peggy King, asks the full cooperation of all students in making this a successful year.

Campus Modes Are Presented By The Freshman Court

The Freshmen beauty court presented a fashion show for the College October 29. From this group of the loveliest Freshmen was chosen the queen who reigned over the Halloween party.

RADIO CLASS

Lindenwood is on the air! The radio production class with the assistance of the voice and diction class, now represents Lindenwood College, through "The Children's Theater of the Air." The first program, in a series of children's stories, will be presented Saturday, November 17, at 11:30 over station KFUD, (80 on your dial).

Before long the class hopes to be meeting in the Fine Arts building, where a studio is being acoustically treated and installed with new equipment.

HALL OF FAME

Our candidate for the Hall of Fame for this issue is Peggy King. Peg's home is in Wichita, Kans., but at school she can be found on third floor, Sibley.

Known as "Half Pint" to Mr. Motley and "Lil Bit" to her friends, Peg's ready smile has won her many admirers in the short time she has been at Lindenwood. She entered here last year as a junior, transferring from Wichita University.

This year, Peg is a member of the League of Women Voters, the Athletic Association, secretary-treasurer of Future Teachers of America, and Chairman of the Lindenwood Unit of the American Red Cross.

Because of her active interest and leadership in many extracurricular activities, and her high degree of character and personality, Peggy has been chosen as one of the representatives of Lindenwood College in the 1945-46 issue of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

OF ALL THINGS

"Let's stick this guy for the drinks," said one mosquito to another.

Lipstick is something that adds flavor to an old pastime.

Old timer: "How do you like our little town?"
Visitor: "It's the first cemetery that I've seen with lights in it."

Molly Freshman Is Dreaming of a Stuffed Turkey With All Trimmings

Dear Diary,

Am looking forward to Thanksgiving. Turkey and all the trimmings, that's what I dream of these days. Can hardly wait for that day. Will miss the usual afternoon football game and the hop that night, but all the same the day that is planned for those of us who will be on campus that day sounds super. As I said before turkey and all the trimmings is first in my mind. The dorm snack that night sounds good too.

Of first importance to all the Freshmen recently has been the election of class officers and I think we did a good job of it. Now it is up to us to give them our full support.

Just love the new tables in the dining room...and was so thrilled over the Halloween dinner. What better theme could have been used to get them started.

Hockey practice is still going on, and by now I have learned how to play the game. Well I've learned the fundamental idea anyway...That's the idea that says to keep out of the way. Is a great lesson too, to prove it just look at the huge scar on my leg. And still I go out. It's really lots of fun.

Have been taking pictures every time I can get a roll of film. Am going to try to win the Annual contest. Like to take pictures anyway, and they will bring back many pleasant memories after I am out of school. Can see me fifty years from now looking at the pictures of me in my lovely costume consisting of blue jeans and a long-tailed white shirt.

Sixteen Students Attend Dance At Mexico, Mo.

Sixteen Lindenwood girls attended a dance given by Missouri Military Academy in Mexico, Mo., on October 27.

The cadets met their dates at the train and escorted them to the hotel where a turkey dinner was served. At 8 o'clock the dance began, after the girls had arrived from the hotel by bus.

An orchestra from Missouri University played for the informal Halloween group. The Halloween decorations—skeletons, corn stalks, and bales of hay—harmonized with cider and doughnuts served in the canteen, which featured jack-o-lanterns.

Miss Pottorf from Lindenwood and Capt. Jackson of M. M. A. chaperoned the dance.

After Thanksgiving comes Christmas. But we haven't started thinking about that yet, at least that's what we keep telling ourselves.

Speaking of campus activities, wasn't the Halloween party fun? Carol looked so nice and so did the rest of the court. I think the Freshman class should be very proud of their beauties. Also we can give ourselves a pat on the back for our first party which was a huge success.

Nine-weeks tests really got me down until I thought of what my mother used to say, now what will you remember ten years from now? Cramming for an exam, or singing in the tea-house? So, well you know what my answer was.

And now as all good things must this must come to an end, so will be seeing you around as I go on with my life as an L. C. Lassie.

With my love,
Molly

who sang "The Hugette Waltz" and "Begin the Beguine"; Miss Mary Artman, a dancer; and the Six Nicks, Patty Palmer, Janie Horton, Teddy Proctor, Kay Blankenship, Shirley Strane, and Shirley Griffin. They offered "Can't Get Out of This Mood" and "Boogie Woogie Bugler Boy of Company B."

Looking out from her throne, the new queen must have been dazzled by the variety and originality of the costumes worn by her subjects in her honor. There were graceful Indians, piquant Dutch girls, a bevy of cute white rabbits, sirens from some Arab chieftain's harem, cowboys, hula hula girls, and of course a Missouri mule.

The judges of the evening, who wrinkled their brows considerably before announcing the winners of the costume prizes were Dr. Homer Clevenger, Prof. Henry Turk and Prof. Charles Orr. They finally decided that the girl in the bag, Miss Susie Perry should be awarded the prize for the most original costume. The prize for the prettiest went to Miss Marie Szilagyi, who appeared as a Chinese mandarin. The best couple prize went to the two girls who impersonated the mule and the consolation prize was given to Miss Peggy King who came dressed as a baby.

Mac's Merry Maids, in their first public appearance of the year, furnished the music for dancing under the direction of Prof. Fletcher MacMurray. Cider, doughnuts and popcorn were served during the evening.
