Today's Headlines

Belleville Welcome Center named in honor of Alice E. Ackerman

Lindenwood University-Belleville recently held the dedication of the Alice E. Ackermann Welcome Center, honoring the late Belleville resident, teacher, and musician, Alice Ackermann.

"It's truly fitting to honor Mrs. Ackermann in this way because music was such an important part of her life," said Campus President Brett Barger. "Alice impacted so many young people's lives, which is very much akin to the mission of our university. We are grateful to name this space in her honor."

Students Honored at New Orleans Symposium

Lindenwood University students Angelika Trujillo, Victoria Smith and Jessica Causey, attended the 26th International Carbohydrate Symposium in New Orleans July 17 – 22, taking home top honors for a poster presentation.

"The three ladies represented Lindenwood University superbly by presenting their research poster in a session that consisted primarily of graduate students, post-doctoral fellows, professors, and professional chemists working in industry," said professor Scott Hasty, who accompanied the students on the trip. "Their hard work and passion did not go unnoticed by the other delegates attending ICS, as evidenced by the fact that our students received the award for the Best Poster Presentation at the symposium!"
