

HAIL TO THE
MAY QUEEN

LINDEN BARK

TWO DOWN
ONE TO GO

Volume 24—No. 11

Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Missouri, Tuesday, May 15, 1945

$1.00 A Year

Lindenwood Joins In Celebrating V-E Day

JACQUELINE SCHWAB WILL REIGN AS 1945 MAY QUEEN SATURDAY

Miss Montelle Moore Junior Class President Is Maid of Honor

In a spring clad campus setting Miss Jacqueline Schwab will be crowned the twenty-seventh Queen of May by her maid of honor, Miss Montelle Moore, Saturday afternoon.

The court will be held in front of Irwin Hall, with the procession coming from Sibley. The Sophomore Class will precede the Court carrying garlands. They will do a short garland dance before the queen enters. After the coronation Tau Sigma, the Choir, and the Orchestra will present entertainment for her Majesty. First will be the awakening of spring; the blossoming of spring; the wind and the May; and finally the spring heralds bringing in Spring herself. Tau Sigma, dressed in Grecian soft silk will portray flowers, wind, butterflies heralds, and Spring will be Carolyn Hempleman, Beverly Butcher will do a dance of worship to the queen.

Two Maypoles stand in front of the throne for the Freshmen dancers to wind. They will be dressed in pastel formals. The Juniors and Seniors will wear pastel formals also, and will follow the Court in the procession. The Sophomore class will dress in white street length dresses.

The Queen's court in addition to the Maid of Honor will consist of two representatives from the Senior Class, Miss Margie Green and Miss Betty Roark; two representatives from the Junior Class, Miss Joan Emons and Miss Elizabeth Kilbury; two attendants from the Sophomore Class, Miss

(Continued on page 3)

Alpha Psi Omega To Present "Outward Bound" on May 18

Alpha Psi Omega will present the annual commencement play, "Outward Bound" May 18 in Roemer Auditorium. "Outward Bound", written by Sutton Vane, took London by storm and created a sensation in New York. John Corbin of the New York Times said of the play; "Something rather extraordinary happened last night. A play about death caught the attention of a New York audience, enlisting its sympathy, amused it, and ended by stirring it to very considerable depths of human pity and mortal terror".

The cast of the play includes Peg Proctor as Scrubby, Celeste Salvo as Ann, Patsy Geary as Henry, Betty Ann Rouse as Mr. Prior, Minota Bayliss as Mrs. Cliveden Banks, B. J. Loerke as Rev. William Duke, P. A. Love as Mrs. Midget, Jane McLean as Mr. Lingley, and Phyllis Maxwell as R. v. Frank Thomson. The play is directed by Miss Mary McKenzie Gordon.

Entries for Annual Press Club Contest Now Being Judged

The entries for the annual Press Club contest have all been received. Editorials, feature stories and regular news stories will be considered for their literary merit; and, judging from the vast amount of material that has been pouring into the Journalism Office, the judges are going to have a difficult time picking a winner.

The final decisions of the four judges will be announced at commencement.

Now That the First of May Has Come---Current Shade Is Red

Since it is now open season on freckles, blisters, and peeling noses, the editors of the "Bark" have collected for your edification various and sundry data on the art of sun bathing. First it might be well to define the term "sun bath". A sun bath is the act of subjecting the anatomy or part of it, to the rays of the sun for the purpose of storing up quantities of Vitamin L and obtaining a complexion like a well done hamburger.

Now let us take up the question of the proper costume for sun bathing. The costume is very simple. In fact it consists of as little as possible.

The sun bath may be divided into three stages; the preparation, the actual sun bath, and the consequences. The preparation comes first—in case you hadn't guessed. The object of the preparation is to open the pores of the skin thus facilitating the entrance of ultra-violet rays into the body. A mixture of 7 per cent turpentine, 11 per cent kerosene, and 82 per cent sulphuric acid applied to the skin is the most effective method of opening the pores. As a matter of fact, once you have smeared this soothing lotion on your body, you will never again have to worry about your pores.

The actual sun bath is the easiest part of the whole procedure. All you have to do is move to a sunny spot and sit there. Of course the choice of suitable sunny spot requires a little discretion and forethought. We do not suggest patches of poison ivy or cactus, ant colonies, bear pits, artillery ranges, volcano craters or localities frequented by cannibals or tigers.

The consequences are the part of sun bathing that make you

(Continued on page 3)

MAY QUEEN

Presenting Miss Jacqueline Schwab, Lindenwood's 1945 May Queen. Miss Schwab's coronation will be held May 19, 1945.

Flash! The Formal Spring Dance Is Held After All

Picture: — Lindenwood lassies and 300 Scott Field men tripping the light fantastic to the tune of a Formal Spring Dance and you have a perfect recipe for a gala evening. And such was the case last Saturday when Lindenwood held its formal spring dance in the Butler gym.

The gym was decorated in a spring motif and the blue canopy was used to give that cozy effect—and it did. The orchestra was from Scott Field. The gaiety lasted from 8:30 until 12 and all during the evening refreshments were served.

The faculty as well as the administration were invited. The Student Dance Committee which assisted Miss Miller included the presidents of the four classes and student body president. Barbara Wertz, Montelle Moore, Nancy Owen, Louie Kerr and Jacqueline Schwab.

All the Cindrellas will agree that it was a night to remember and a wonderful time was had by all.

BUY
WAR BONDS
TO-DAY

Pre-Commencement Prizes and Awards to Be Awarded May 23

Pre-commencement prizes and awards will be announced May 23 at a student convocation. Some of awards will be the Nelly Don awards, Press Club prize, and the YWCA cabinet for 1945-46.

(Continued on page 3)

V-E Day Brings Home The Importance of Peace Settlement

"The tragedy of this war occurs in suffering on the battle fields and the bereavement in the homes", Dr. Harry Morehouse Gage, president of Lindenwood College, on V-E Day said. "The greater tragedies in the past have occurred at the peace table where sufferings were imposed on millions for many years. The time following the war can be greater in sorrow, than the war itself."

President Gage recalled the saying of Napoleon, who was great as a military strategist and a statesman. "The morrow of victory is more dangerous than its eve." This means that we are now entering the real danger point of this war. Perhaps the war is ended, but the duration has just commenced," stated Dr. Gage.

Classes Dismissed And Students Stage Parade On Campus

V-E Day.

For weeks the students of Lindenwood had been waiting for this day—waiting eagerly, anxiously, hopefully. And on May 8, Lindenwood joined the millions of people all over the world in offering a humble prayer of thanks giving. The once-mighty German Wehrmacht had surrendered unconditionally to the three great Allies.

After several false reports, Lindenwood girls were a bit skeptical on the morning of May 7 when the bells of the church rang out and the Associated Press announced the unconditional surrender of the German armies. The news, however, disrupted the usual quiet of 8 o'clock classes, and for the rest of the day all ears were trained to the radio, waiting for final confirmation. Mr. Motley announced in student assembly that, when the final report did come through, a long bell would be rung and the entire student body would gather in Roemer Auditorium.

On the morning of May 8, a tense and silent student body filed into the auditorium to hear the words of President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill. At the end of the President's speech, the national anthem was played, and all rose silently. Tears rolled unnoticed down the faces of some; others smiled slowly. The day of victory was here.

At the termination of Churchill's speech to his people, Mr. Motley discussed Lindenwood's plans for celebration. It was agreed a riotous display of enthusiasm would be out of order, for each individual was aware of the extreme price that was paid for this crucial stepping-stone to ultimate victory. The students voted unanimously for the cessation of regular class routines. The student president and the presi-

(Continued on page 3)

Our patriotic service is heavier now than at the beginning of the war. "Our obligation" he continued, is to make the peace. Generally it is much easier to make war than to secure peace."

"Undoubtedly, the operation of colleges will continue under their war time conditions. These measures will prevail next year, as they have done so this year," said President Gage. "Discharged soldiers will be entering or returning to the colleges, and the influx will become larger when more men and women of the armed services resume their education. The exhilarated programs will be sustained for a year, but a rapid return to the usual two semesther schedule will take place in a short time."

Building of World of Peace

These are history making days in San Francisco. The eyes of the peoples of the world are turned on the "peace-making" capital of the world. What will be the future of this meeting? How firm a peace will be established for the future? Can a lasting peace be made in order to curb future aggression and wars? Indeed, these are questions that must be answered at this conference, if all efforts are to be successful.

First sessions of any conference are always a little rough. It is needless to mention the difficulties that will be encountered when countries of varied interests meet together. The fact that these men will agree is far more important than the points on which they agree to settle.

It is quite evident that skepticism is prevailing among many of the delegates, but this will be straightened out in time. Naturally, time will acquaint the representatives with their situations, problems, and methods for reaching conclusions. It is hasty reasoning when one judges the outcome of such a meeting with harsh tendencies. Our thoughts must be open-minded; we must not be prejudiced and we must be willing to compromise. Qualifications such as these are vitally important to the delegates, as well as the spectators, if our world without war is to be built.

Day of Victory

The war in Europe is over. At last, the guns of hatred have been silenced. The terror, the sacrifice, and the horror that has existed in Europe since the outbreak of the war in 1939, has finally been brought to a close. With these words, our hearts are made lighter, but our eyes are turned to the battle in the Pacific. We cannot help but realize our position in the war against the Japanese.

Perhaps the hardest enemy is yet to be defeated. The length of this war is still undetermined. As college students our greatest concern is in a lasting peace. Without a firm world foundation, we know that another great World War cannot be averted. So, with our prayers to the people of liberated Europe, also go the determined conviction that this war has not been fought in vain.

In a short period of time we will see many of our fighting men return to this country for rests, only to report to the South Pacific. Our thoughts will dwell on them, but our minds will never forget those who will never come back. Those men that gave their lives in battle, so this day of celebration, this hour of jubilation could be made possible. We shall not forget to remember the dead heroes and honor the living.

Well Done

All year long you may have seen headlines in the Linden Bark such as "Red Cross Elects Its Officers", or "Red Cross Unit to Begin New Courses", or "Full Program Is Planned for Second Semester." Yes, those were the headlines, and if you took the time to read further, you read how much time the girls were giving up to give the Red Cross; the seriousness of war really had spread among us all and made us want to really do something. To Donalee Wehrle, this year's president, to the other officers of the board, to the chairmen of the committees, and to the students who participated, here is a vote of appreciation.

Exit Axis

With the fall of Berlin, some people expected the war in Germany to be over, but in that they were mistaken. The fall of Berlin meant the fall of the symbol of Nazism, for it was no longer of military significance.

When the Russians entered Berlin, all that could be seen was the wreckage of a great city. The Allied bombers had done their job well. Berlin, third largest city in the world, largest city in Germany, greatest industrial city in Europe, and the most modern city in Europe, was invaded for the first time since 1805, when Napoleon swept over Europe. This time the invaders did not find a great city, they found instead the debris of a much bombed and shelled city. The people, starved and ragged, still refused to surrender their belief in Nazism, while at the time, their leaders, Hitler, Mussolini, and Goebbels, were dying.

Berlin, once a symbol of the great and powerful Germany, is now a symbol of a destroyed Germany. A Germany that is going to have to be reconstructed when it gives up and admits that it has been conquered.

May Fete

May Day, one of Lindenwood's outstanding activities of the year, is an old tradition with lots of beauty and life. All the upperclassmen look forward to it each year, and the Freshmen keep May Day as one of their fondest memories.

The program has a sentimental side and a lighter one—class songs, Tau Sigma's dances, and the May Pole dance always make a colorful and delightful program.

This year's May Day will be bigger and better than previous years, and we hope the students appreciate and enjoy it.

LINDEN BARK

Published every other Tuesday of the school year under the supervision of the Department of Journalism

Subscription rate, $1 a year

Member

Associated Collegiate Press

Member Missouri College Newspaper Association

EDITOR OF THIS ISSUE
Merryl Ryan, '46

ADVERTISING MANAGER
JEANNE McDONALD '46

EDITORIAL STAFF

Marian Clark, '47
Joan Elson, '46
Betty Gilpin, '47
Genee Head, '46
Babs Wexner, '47

Ruth Tittis, '46
Jane McLean, '46
Phyllis Maxwell, '47
Barbara Park, '47
Pat Lathrow, '46

GRACIE GREMLIN

Gracie hasn't any kicks coming this time and further more she wants to scream thanks to the top of her lungs. Yes, thanks for the attractive way meals have been served in the dining room lately. Gracie says those new bowls are awful pretty and the idea of having fruit on the table is great. Soooo once again thanks.

OF ALL THINGS

You're talking in initials.
E. O. E.—Easy on the eyes.
P. M. F.—Poor Man's Frankie—
(An inferior Swoon Crooner).
I. W. A.—I Walk Alone.
C. O.—You call your current steady your Commanding Officer.
D. B.—Dearly Beloved or Dream Boy.

If you're going steady, you're—
Running on the same ticket
On a chain
Stardusting
Jack and Jill.

You call your D. D. your—Postwar Project (if he's in the service).
Navy Blue—(if he's wearing Bell Bottomed trousers).
Heart Murmur.

Total Loss

My hair has never looked so smooth,
The ends curl up just so,
My skin has never looked so
clear,
With such a rosy glow.
My eyes are shining brightly
with
The spark that captivates,
Why don't I ever look like this
ON NIGHTS WHEN I HAVE DATES?

Sweet Mystery of Life

Getting up at dawn for school,
Almost makes me weepy
But come Saturday and then I am never sleepy.

What two kinds of wood
make a match??
"HE WOULD AND SHE WOULD."

If you put six ducks in a box,
what would you have?
"A BOX OF QUACKERS".

And now—Soooo long sugar,
see you in the bowl.

DEW TELL

by Phyllis Maxwell

A little star came
And looked in at my door.
He did a tiny, silly dance
Across my bedroom floor.
When morning came,
The little star was gone.
From the looks of the dew wet
grass,
He melted on the lawn.

BUY BONDS!

ALL BARK AND NO BITE

by Jane McLean

V-E Day. Last year on June 6, we started looking and waiting for it. This year, on May 8, it came. With no classes to attend, Lindenwood girls, along with hundreds of thousands of joyful, thankful people the world over turned to the churches to add their prayers of thanks for the victory that, coming on the eighth saved many of our boys from giving the supreme sacrifice on the ninth.

The spirit of happiness, of rejoicing, of relief that prevailed was tempered by the sober realization that it is only one-half over. We still have a battle on our hands, as everyone realized on VE Day. Because of this first great half of our victory, the second half will be just that much quicker—all our efforts can now be turned to one front instead of being divided.

But we can't let down—even a little bit. In fact, with no war in Europe, we must work even harder—to rid the entire world of war. The Seventh War Loan Drive is now on. With the incentive the people of our country have now been given, it should go over the top long before the estimated time. We can help it, we must help it.

Student Art Exhibit Sponsored by Kappa Pi On Display in Roemer

A display of unusual artistic ability is now on second floor Roemer. The Kappa Pi honorary art fraternity is sponsoring this and there are paintings done by the members and pledges.

Gwyned Filling, Marilyn Mangum, Marilyn Robinson, and Lettie Jane Luckman have drawn some interesting portrait studies for the display. There are chalk drawings by Shirley Boyt, Bev Buther, Mary Reeves, Alice Hirshman, Nancy Trantum, Edith Mullins and Betty Ullery. Some fine oil paintings have been done by Nadine Ziern, Betty Ullery, and Eileen Murphy. Polly Woolsey's ink drawing has drawn much attention.

Miss Seavey is sponsor of Kappa Pi and Eileen Murphy is president this year.

BARK BAROMETER OF CAMPUS OPINION

Security, Peace and Health
Are Lindenwood's PostWar Wishes.

The Barometer question for this issue is: Admitting that the number one priority goes to more men, what is your greatest wish for the post war period?

A variety of answers came back at us which were: Security, peace, health, happiness, money, marriages, convertibles, cigarettes, and a normal pre-war life.

With V-E Day having come, it is even easier for us to see the day our wishes will be true. The wishes which were emphasize are security, happiness and marriage. These wants are common among Lindenwood women—you hear something similar to these suggestions every day.

The percentage was 95 per cent for security, peace, and happiness. The other 5 per cent wanted marriage, money, men, health, convertibles, and cigarettes. These are of course the student's first thoughts, and probably each person wants several of the listed wishes combined.

PATRONIZE OUR
ADVERTISERS

This is a May we will always remember. One of the greatest events in all history has taken place with us as participants and witnesses. We will continue to carry on our regular routine here at Lindenwood—our generation preparing to be the builders of tomorrow.

As we come rapidly toward the end of this memorable year, we are caught in a whirl of activities, events, and especially picnics. For it's picnic time at Lindenwood, now that May is here. But it seems that everything and everybody knows that it's picnic time—except the weather. If it isn't cold and windy and dark, it's warm and wet and dark—neither situation being too satisfactory for a meal at the ovens. So we move either to the gym or the Club Room to set up a nice lunch on comfortable hardwood or cement floors.

May Day, Class Day, the spring play, the Horse Show, speech and music recitals—exams!—make May the month of months. It's fast it's furious, but it's fun—it's what makes Lindenwood the school that it is, and the school that we shall always remember, no matter where we may go or what we may do after we leave.

'Nuff Sall

FROM THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN

Students who ordered invitations for commencement are asked to call at the Bursar's office as soon as possible and pick them up.

Students are urged to see their faculty counsellors this spring and make out their program for next fall. Even if you are uncertain about coming back next year, you will have lost nothing if you register now. Then if you do return, this will be a tremendous advantage for you.

If you are interested in obtaining a working scholarship, I remind you to call at the office and fill out a scholarship blank for next year.

May 23 has been set aside as Pre-commencement Prize giving Day. At this time new members of honorary societies and pre-commencement prizes will be awarded.

Schedules for finals have been posted across from my office. You will note that there are two sets—one for seniors and one for the other students. Be sure and get the correct day and hour your examinations are scheduled.

ALICE E. GIPSON.

Linden Leaves Goes To Press With Many New Features

The Linden Leaves has gone to press. The staff which has been hard at work all year is pleased to announce that its work is completed.

Despite the difficulties encountered in planning a wartime yearbook, the 1945 issue promises to be one of Lindenwood's best. Under the editorship of Carol Landberg, this year's annual contains many new features and interesting make-up, including a modern cover designed by Polly Woolsey. The introductory pages will feature the two-page spread instead of the single page spread of last year's issue.

The date for the release of the annual is still uncertain; but copies will be sold as soon as they arrive.

THE LINDEN TREES ARE WHISPERING

By Phyllis Maxwell

Lois Arnold is still calling that man. Not only that but with results. We've heard a vague rumor that the date is set for sometime in June.

Have you met Libby Knight's Bill? If you haven't, make the effort. He's a blue-eyed, blarney sprouting curly headed, St. Patrick blessing Irishman. He has a little shadow but his shadow isn't always present as Betty Gilpin well knows. The little man who wasn't there and should have been.

If you should see Martha Raye Hill in the tearoom, just standing, just looking. Don't worry about her. In the first place she's on a diet, and in the second place she's skimping on her allowance so she'll have enough money left when school is out to buy a cow. She's going to start a cattle ranch—the hard way.

As of Wednesday, May 2, 1943, B. J. Danemen shall be known as Mrs. Richard Walters. Best wishes and stuff like that there.

Nancy Owen and Rosemary Dron both have favorite choice stories. One concerns flowers and vases and the other a table and mutual friends and lots of exciting etc. Corner one or both and prepare to laugh.

Stalin had a five year plan, Culbertson has a world peace plan, Hitler had a world conquest plan, and then Stalin had another five year plan, but Shirley Sagness has an eighteen day plan. Goo Luck, Shirley.

There is a certain young gentleman of Joplin, Mo., who has a mind of his own and follows it regardless of storm or fair weather. Sally Thomas knows—she got caught in the storm. (Editor's note: She weathered it successfully.)

Allie Boutin swoons over Spanish music, subscribes to Spanish newspapers, and writes to one Tommie of Mexico.

The good neighbor policy is moving right along.

There is a rumor around campus that Ibbie Franke (and this is one for Ripley) gave away one carton, ten packages of cigarettes—you heard what I said, CIGARETTES, in her radio class. I love that girl—so does her radio class.

Misses Helen Stahl and Dorothy Schaeffer Gave Music Recitals

Misses Helen Joan Stahl and Dorothy Schaeffer presented their music recitals April 24 and May 1 respectively. Both girls are organists and pianists.

Miss Helen Stahl had Miss Arline Heckmann pianist, assisting. Miss Stahl's program included: Prelude and Fugue, D Minor, Back; Sonata, C Major, Op. 2, No. 3, Beethoven; Chorale Preludes, Bach; Concerto, No. 11, Handel; Novellette, B Minor and Prophet Bird, Schumann; Scerza, Griffes; Suite No. 1, J. H. Rogers.

Miss Schaeffer's program included: Concerto, No. 2, Vivaldi; Bach; Concerto, G Minor, Op. 25, Mendelssohn; Episode, Aaron Copland; Dreams, Hugh Mc Amis; Summerland, Still-Berger; Concerto Gregoriano, Pietro A. Yon.

BUY WAR BONDS
TO-DAY!

Lindenwood Students Attend Nature Meeting In Sherwood Forest

Dr. William Vinal, professor of nature education, and director of the Nature Guide School at the Massachusetts State College in Amherst, Mass., was a guest on Lindenwood' campus April 27.

Dr. Vinal who is a nationally known lecturer is also the nature leader at the LIFE camps which are sponsored by LIFE magazine. During his visit on campus Dr. Vinal conducted small groups of girls on hourly tours around the campus studying nature.

Twenty-six girls from Lindenwood attended Sherwood Forest in Troy, Mo. the week-end of April 27. Dr. Vinal attended camp and was one of the lecturers there.

Mr. E. O. Harbin, a recreation consultant, of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church, in Nashville, Tennessee, was a guest on campus April 26. Mr. Harbin also attended Sherwood Forest as recreation leader.

One of the highlights of the camping trip was Saturday, April 28 when Len Law, professor of Physical Education at the University of Illinois cooked an old-fashioned chuck wagon dinner for the girls and led square dancing in the evening.

Jacqueline Schwab Represents College At Minx-Modes Review

Jacqueline Schwab represented Lindenwood at the Minx-Modes Board of Review held in St. Louis last month. She met with girls from 18 other colleges and universities. This group acted as a board to discuss and write their comment on fall clothing for college girls.

In the morning they were taken on a tour of a section of the city and than had the privilege of meeting Mayor A. P. Kaufmann. A luncheon was given for them at the Hotel Statler where they were all given beautiful corsages. A style show in the evening was followed by a broadcast over KMOX.

This is the first time Lindenwood has been represented at the Minx-Modes Board of Review.

YELLOW CAB

PHONE 133

STATIONERY SUPPLIES

CARDS, FILMS and MAGAZINES

AHMANN'S NEWS STAND

Main Street

St. Charles, Mo.

TO RECEIVE NURSES' CAPS

These nineteen students will receive their Nurses Aide Caps at a ceremony to be held on the campus next Sunday

Juniors Entertain Seniors With A Luncheon and Movie

The Junior Class entertained the Senior Class at a luncheon Saturday, May 5 at the Hotel Statler. This luncheon took the place of the annual junior-senior prom which was always given before the war. After luncheon the two classes went to a movie.

Now That The First of May Has Come

(Continued from page 1)

wish you hadn't You can determine whether or not you have the consequences by asking yourself two short questions: (1) Do I look like a boiled lobster? (2) Do I feel like a boiled lobster? Give yourself fifty-two and a half for each correct answer subtract the total from five and multiply by the square root of three. If, by this time, you have turned scarlet and feel like the business end of a lighted cigarette, then you may assume that you have a sun burn, the natural consequences of a sun bath. In this case there is just one thing to do hurry up and cool off so you can find another sunny spot and start all over again.

Plans are being made for the Senior Street Supper and Carnival to be held May 28. There will be many concessions at which to try your skill and the big event will be a show. But what a show. It promises to be the biggest and bestest carnival ever to be presented on the campus of L. C. so, come one, come all.

Many Events on May Program of Physical Educational Dept.

The Physical Education department has been busy these past few weeks. A Sports Day was planned for May 5, but was called off because of the bad weather. Five colleges were to take part in the events. They were Washington University, Maryville College, Harris Teachers College, and Lindenwood.

On May 14 or 15 the Lambert Waves will play tennis here, and on the 21st Lindenwood will go to Lambert. The girls from Lindenwood that will take part are Peg Murray, Audrey Renner, Helen Matthews, and Jean Hurst.

Softball intermural will be played this week.

Winners of the Ping Pong, Badminton, and Riding Intermurals have been announced as follows: Ping Pong Doubles, Butler first; Singles, Nicolls first; Badminton Doubles, Butler first; singles Ayres first. In the riding intermurals Butler won first place, Sibley second and Ayres third.

Lindenwood Joins In Celebrating V-E Day

(Continued from page 1)

dents of the four classes took over the meeting and with the suggestions from the students decided to spend the day in quiet rest and thankfulness.

Dr. Clevenger spoke to the students to inform them of St. Charles' plans for the day. All places of business were closed in recognition of V-E Day, and the churches were opened for those who wished to pray.

In the morning the Lindenwood band staged an impromptu parade on the campus and there were spontaneous sing-fests in many of the residence halls.

Since they agreed to remain in St. Charles most of the students spent this momentous occasion in the quiet confines of their own halls. In the afternoon the girls wrote letters, listened intently to the radio, and enjoyed the music furnished by the school band.

BUY WAR BONDS!

Jacqueline Schwab Will Reign As 1945 May Queen

(Continued from page 1)

Leone Flaniken and Miss Emily Berry, and two representatives from the Freshman Class, Miss Margaret Eberhart and Miss Mary Ann Wood.

STRAND

Wed.-Thurs., May 16-17

Roddy Mac Dowall
in

"KEYS OF THE KINGDOM"

with

Sir Cedric Hardwick

Fri.Sat., May 18-19

Wallace Berry
in

"THIS MAN'S NAVY"

with

James Gleason

Sun.Mon.-Tues., May 20, 21, 22

"BELLE OF THE YUKON"

with

Randolph Scott

Gypsy Rose Lee

Dinah Shore

Wed. thru Sat.

"NATIONAL VELVET"

with

Mickey Rooney

Elizabeth Taylor

It's Enough To Kill A Strong Man—But Hardly An L. C. Girl

Soon this school year will be over and all the Lindenwood students will betake themselves to their respective homes. What are you going to say when a prospective freshman approaches you and wishes to know what makes with your alma mater? How are you going to explain dormitory life to a poor unfortunate who has never partaken of its joys? Goodness, this is mortifying! You don't know what to say. To save you further embarrassment, we have outlined a typical day at Lindenwood. Carry it with you always so that no Lindenwooder-to-be will ever catch you with your schedule down.

7—First bell, not very important because no one gets up in time to hear it.

7:30-8—Breakfast is served. It is customary to go to breakfast and glare at everyone over your grafruit. No smiles at breakfast.

8—Classes begin and so do you, unless you are awfully lucky or awfully clever about cutting.

12—Chapel. This is where you go to read your mail. If you don't have any mail, you can snatch a quick nap.

12:12—Lunch which is a good thing, because by now you are getting pretty hungry.

1—More classes. Life isn't all sunshine and joy, you know.

4—By this time most classes are out. It is now Coke Hour—time to refresh yourself for the strenuous bridge games ahead and pick up a little gossip.

5—Bridge game. Pass on the gossip you picked up at 4.

6—Dinner—do the usual thing, eat.

6:30—Continue bridge game. Of course you can't stop until someone has won the rubber. With proper handling, this could go on forever.

8—Some party poop just looked at her watch and found out how late it is getting. There is great worry and hair-tearing over long assignments due the next morning.

8:15—Just time for a cigarette before the tea room opens. Every one haggles over whose turn it is to go to the tearoom.

8:30—You lost. Off to the tearoom.

8:45—Unanimous decision to play a few hands of bridge while drinking the cokes you brought from the tearoom.

11:45—House mother taps on the door and politely asks you and your partner to quit screaming about the baby slam you just bid and made.

12—House mother returns. She pours forth a torrent of harsh words. You appear chastened, but actually are thinking sad thoughts about the necessity of house mothers.

12:15—Midnight snack. Drag out the forbidden hot plate and the coffee pot snatched from the dorm. rec. room.

12:12—House mother smells the coffee. You wish she hadn't.

12:25—House mother requests that you and your friends retire. You retire.

7—First bell. Go away, we're still sleepy. Besides, this is where we came in.

Lindenwood Riders Capture Six Awards In Spring Horse Show

Lindenwood students captured six awards in the St. Louis Horse Show at the Missouri Stable Arena, May 3, 4, and 5. Six colleges were entered—Fontbonne, Lindenwood, MacMurray, Maryville, Washington University and Western Military Academy.

Thursday night, Jean Simms riding "Chief of Lindenwood," won first prize in the horsemanship class.

Nancy Papin, riding "Lindenwood Fancy" in the College Girl's Singles placed second in her class. Sally Thomas placed fifth. Marie Szilagyi also rode in this class.

Mary Margaret Brinkman was unseated during the performance Thursday night, but was not seriously injured.

Friday night, Mary Margaret Brinkman placed fifth in the College Girl's Singles. Sally Thomas, Marie Szilagyi, and Nancy Papin were also entered in this class.

Jean Simms placed 4th in the Children's Class, and Jo Emons placed 4th in B. D. 19 year old class.

Nancy Papin placed sixth in the five gaited saddle horse stake Saturday night and Joan Emons placed third in the Children's pleasure horse class.

CLUB CORNER

A. A. will have a Scavenger hunt and bonfire May 22 at 6:30. On May 23 the annual A. A. Award banquet will be held in the dining room.

Batter up. The Commercial Club team is at it again. Experts all, the game was played in the gym May 4. It preceded the picnic which was held in the gym instead of at the park as previously planned. After the picnic the officers for next year were elected. They are: President, Mary Lee Nathan; vice president, Jackie Fulton; secretary-treasurer, Jody Lieberman; reporter, Genee Head.

Read the Advertisements

HALL OF FAME

In our eyes the hall of fame candidate for this issue—Marge Green rings the bell for perfection. She's got the looks, the brains, and the personality. Marge is a product of Oklahoma City and at present—Senior Hall.

Marge plays an active role in many school activities. She's president of The Press Club, the Commercial Club and secretary of the Red Cross. Marge is also a member of the International Relations Club, Encore Club, and is on the staff of the Linden Leaves. Marge has lived up to the saying "you get out of a thing just what you put into it", for she was one of the girls chosen to reign in the Popularity Court and as Senior attendant to the Queen on May Day.

Marge is a psychology major and she wants to get into rehabilitation work.

Our Senior Hall beauty craves the new song "Candy" and she's always ready to be a fourth at bridge. Right now we bid a grand slam in hearts and flowers for Marge Green. We think she's tops, don't you?

Seniors Hold Annual Class Day Ceremony In Roemer Auditorium

The Senior class of 1945 held its annual class day in Roemer Auditorium last Thursday at 11 a. m. The Seniors led the procession, followed by the members of the Junior Class. Barbara Wertz, president of the Senior Class, gave a short address. Each member of the Senior Class then called out the names of two Juniors who came forward and received the colors and flowers symbolic of the Senior Class. "Remember" was sung and then wished to the Juniors who accepted it. The recession brought the program to a close.

BUY WAR BONDS!

GOOD CLEANING!
GOOD PRICES!
GOOD SERVICE!

Pechtern
Cleaning Company

TRY
OUR SANDWICHES
LYNDA'S
CONFECTIONARY

May Festivities on the Campus Have Molly Freshman--Breathless

Dear Diary,

My, but this has been a busy place the last few weeks. Picnics and more picnics. The ovens don't even have time to cool off between picnics. Course, the rain has delayed a lot of them so the last two weeks of school promise to be even more exciting.

The Freshman-Junior party was a lot of fun. First, a movie, and then doughnuts and cokes in the gym.

Can hardly wait until May Day. Bought a new formal last week end to wear in the Maypole dance, hope that I don't trip and fall. Formals are so hard to find this year. The clerks all look at you with that "Don't you know there's a war on" look, and then most of them ask you that. Of course we know there is a war on but we don't have to go around telling people that at last we have realized the fact. We know there is a war on and most of us are planning on doing something for the war effort this summer. Not that we haven't been doing anything this year.

Went through my closet the other day and gave some of my old clothes to the Old Clothes Drive.

The mail situation is getting me down. I haven't had a letter all this week. Perhaps if I could find time to answer some letters, I'd get some in return.

This is rather short, but I just must close. Have a lot of work to do for some classes tomorrow. 'Bye now.

With my love,
Molly Freshman.

Lindenwood Represented At Science Meeting

The College section of the Missouri Academy of Science met at Maryville College in St. Louis on May 5. Nine papers were presented by students from Maryville, Fontbonne, and Lindenwood on scientific subjects.

The girls attending the meeting from Lindenwood were Virginia Moehlenkamp, Betty Tabor, and Jean Paulson. Miss Tabor and Miss Paulson presented papers at the meeting.

Following the program a luncheon was held in the dining room at Maryville. Students from Lindenwood have presented one or two papers on scientific subjects at these meetings since 1942. Plans were projected at this meeting for the meeting to be held at Lindenwood next year.

Madam Lyolene Is Is Interviewed Over Radio Station KFUE

Mary Margaret Brinkman interviewed Madame Helen Lyolene Thursday, May 3, on KFUE in St. Louis. Madame Lyolene has been on Lindenwood campus the last month instructing the Costume Design and Clothing classes.

Mary Margaret interviewed Madame Lyolene concerning her life in Russia, her career as a designer in Paris, and how she happened to come to the United States.

PATRONIZE
OUR
ADVERTISERS

Your St. Charles
DRUG STORES
WELCOME
YOU!

REXAL DRUG STORE
SERVICE DRUG
TAINTER DRUG
STANDARD DRUG

AT YOUR SERVICE

Our interest is to serve you
Better

ON HER BIRTHDAY
Send Your Mother
FLOWERS

PARKVIEW GARDENS
PHONE 214
WE TELEGRAPH

Lindenwood Has Job To Do In Seventh War Loan Drive

With victory in Europe the government is once more asking Lindenwood to buy bonds to bring V-J Day closer and closer. In this, the Seventh War Loan Drive, the Treasury is asking the Americans to loan the government $14,000,000,000. This is the largest sum yet asked for. One of the reasons for this is that there will only be two drives this year as compared with three in the previous years.

Another reason is that the war in Japan is just beginning with the victory in Europe. In order to stage a successful battle in the Pacific, our fighting men are going to have to have the support of every American.

Still another reason to buy more bonds is to give aid to the many servicemen who have been wounded and disabled in the war campaign.

The drive will officially start May 14, but in the colleges the bonds bought during April will count on the total. Lindenwood has already sold bonds amounting to almost $5,000. The drive on campus will continue until we go home. The Treasury has given some suggestions to the colleges to promote sales. One of them is giving bonds as graduation gifts.

In order to meet the large quota, every American is going to have to dig deeper into his pockets. This means college students, too.

MUSIC BOX.....

Dorothy Shaeffer

Miss Jean Browning, Contralto, gave a concert in Roemer Auditorium Sunday evening, April 29th. Miss Browning's material was chosen from the finest of all song literature. She interpreted the mood of the song with understanding. The fact that Miss Browning is a very fine pianist is partly responsible for the excellent musicianship displayed in her singing.

Miss Browning opened her recital with a group of five Italian songs ranging from the 16th century composers Peri and Scarlatti to Respighi and Cimara of the 20th century. The next group consisted of five German art songs by Brahms, among which were the familiar Sappische Ode and Der Schmied. The five numbers in the French group were Les Gerceux and Autome by Faure, Man. doline and La Chevelure by Debussy from the Impressionistic school, and the 18th century composer Bizet's Habarera from the opera "Carmen". For her last group Miss Browning chose five songs by such well known contemporary composers as Carpentier, Homer, Ganz, Guion and Beach.

Miss Browning is a native St. Louisan as was her accompanist Mrs. Estle Rucker.

LET US KEEP Your Radio or Phono graph Working this
This Year
DENNING
RADIO
CO.

TRY US—
PICTURES
TO BE PROUD OF!
KIDERLEN'S
568 Madison Street
Phone 1204

SPRING IS THE TIME FOR FLOWERS
WIRED TO SOMEONE YOU LOVE—FROM
Buse's
FLOWER SHOP
Phone 148 400 Clay Street