In honor of Dr. Martin Luther King's dedication to "Universal Justice", the Lindenwood University Black Student Union will host a week-long series of events commemorating #MLKDay2017.

Beginning on Monday, January, 9th thru Monday, January 16th, planned programs include

- an interactive workshop expressing justice through art;
- a showing of the movie "Selma";
- a coffee-house discussion, featuring diverse panelists and table talks on justice;
- Renowned author and educator, Dr. Linda Royce Beito;
- and a candlelight unity march.

The program will offer several outstanding opportunities for the entire LU community to revisit the legacy of Dr. King and its relevance today. Please mark your calendar and plan to attend any or all of the events. We hope you will also encourage your students to participate in these uplifting celebrations.
