Sophomore and Senior Class Presidents Are Sisters

It is unusual for sisters to be elected to offices, but that is what happened when Betty Proctor, senior, and Peggy Proctor, sophomore, were elected president of their respective classes. Other Senior Class officers are: vice-president, Janet Thomas; secretary-treasurer, Carol Bindley; and Student Council representative, Ada Louise Parker.

Sophomore officers are: vice-president of the Junior Class. The other treasurer, Dorothy May; and Student Council representatives, Virginia Gilreath and Dorothy Heimrod. Miss Janet Colson was appointed class sponsor.

Florence Barry is the new president of the junior class. The other officers are: vice-president, Sue Beck; secretary-treasurer, Beverly Westcott; and Student Council representative, Virginia Donovan.

The freshman class met and chose for their Student Council representatives the following girls: Irwin Hall, Rita Mae Allen; Sibley Hall, Virginia Lee Pyle; Ayres Hall, Sue Blue and Barbara Ann Manbeck; Butler Hall, Kathryn Legge and Nancy Papin; Nicolls Hall, L. Eberspacher, M. Rutledge, K. Barngrower, C. Trimble, P. Youmans and J. Depuy. They will elect their class officers at a later date.

Eight New Faces In Lindenwood Faculty This Year

Eight new teachers have been added to the Lindenwood faculty. They are: Miss Maude Beamer, Dr. Francis Bengé, Miss Dorothy Deach, Miss Margaret Emberger, Dr. Wilhelmina Feemster, Miss Carolyn Gray, Miss Mary Morison, Miss Mabel Holt, and Miss Mildred McMican.

Miss Beamer has a B. S. degree from the University of Missouri and is replacing Dr. Sigmund Betz who is teaching in Army Air Corps at Randolph Field, Tex.

Dr. Bengé will teach modern languages. She has M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from National University of Mexico.

Miss Deach, a graduate of the University of Illinois, has a B. S. in Education. She is the new head of the Physical Education department.

Miss Emberger, who is replacing Miss Whitehead of the commerce and economics department, has attended Kentucky Teachers College, University of Kentucky and did post-graduate work at the University of Chicago School of Business.

Dr. Feemster, is in the History Department. She has her Ph. D. degree at the University of Chicago.

Miss Gray, who will teach Chemistry, has received her B. S. and M. A. degrees at the University of Missouri.

Miss Morison of the Physical Education Department received a B. S. degree at the University of Illinois.

Miss Holt, is the new assistant

GUEST OF HONOR

Maria Leonard, Dean of Women at University of Illinois who will speak on Founders' Day.

Fourteen Campus Groups Held Orientation Meetings

There were 14 groups of girls that went into a huddle in various spots on the campus Thursday night, October 1 for orientation. These groups of freshman and sophomores were headed by leaders of the junior and senior classes, chosen especially for this purpose and everyone had a jolly time getting acquainted over gum drops and cigarettes.

The subjects discussed ranged from manners to men and from classes to clothes. From all indications, it seemed everyone thought it well to save time and face by asking about the unknown, instead of waiting to find out unexpectedly at some later date.

This year there are fewer numbers of orientation groups, but there are more in each group, due also to such a large freshman class and the addition of the sophomore class. We are certain that the upperclassmen found the subjects discussed in the groups as enlightening as the new students.

head resident in Nicolls Hall.

Miss McMican, the new secretary to Dean Gipson, received her A. B. degree from Buena Vista College.

Twenty-one States Represented on Lindenwood Campus This Year

Twenty-one states and one foreign country are represented in Lindenwood's capacity enrollment this year. There are 267 Freshmen, and 182 upperclassmen. The Sophomore Class numbers 99; there are 39 Juniors and 44 Seniors.

America's allies in this war are represented on the campus by Kinta Abadie and Margaret Rae, both live in Aruba, Netherlands West Indies.

In this country, Lindenwood's stu-

DR. MARIA LEONARD TO BE FOUNDERS' DAY SPEAKER

FOUNDERS' DAY PROGRAM

11 a. m.—Miss Maria Leonard will speak in the Roemer auditorium.

Lindenwood Girls Will Keep Fit For Their Country

Health is now a patriotic duty. If you are all out for defense, you have to be all out for health also. This year many new activities are taking shape in physical education. In addition to the sports offered in previous years, classes in field hockey, soccer, and bowling are being offered.

Miss Deach, new head of the physical education department, believes every freshman and sophomore as well as juniors and seniors should have a well-balanced physical education training. To make this possible, freshman and sophomores will have to be able to pass a proficiency test in swimming, have some dancing and take one team and individual sport.

"Girls everywhere have a responsibility, not only to themselves but to the entire nation, in maintaining a high standard of physical fitness", stated Miss Deach. "If each person expects to do her work well, whether it is a position in the business world or attending school, a healthy body and mind are absolutely necessary. It is not patriotic to be weakling or to lack strength for the kind of living which war-time demands of every individual".

New plans for week-end recreation are being made. The gymnasium will be open every Saturday afternoon and swimming, riding, bowling and roller skating will be offered.

Later, Miss Morison is planning to organize an Orchestis Club, which is a national dance organization. At least two studio programs in dancing will be on the activity calendar this year. The advanced swimming class will also form a Terrapin Club.

dents come from as far east as New York, Massachusetts and Florida, and as far west as California. The most popular states are Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas.

We are blessed with three sets of twins—Elizabeth Jean and Martha Ann Davis from Creston, Iowa; Elnor and Ruth Ritetr from here in S. Charles; and Ruby and Ruth Wilson from Valley Center, Kan.

Program On Oct. 22 Will Include Alumnae Meeting

Lindenwood College will commemorate the 116th. anniversary of its founding on October 22nd.

The Founders' Day speaker at 11 a. m. will be Dr. Maria Leonard, dean of women at the University of Illinois. The alumni will meet in the Library Club rooms following an alumni luncheon in Ayres Dining Room. Students will show the guests around our campus.

Dr. Leonard is the founder and national president, since 1924, of Alpha Lambda Delta, the freshman honor society. She is a native of Indianapolis and a graduate of Butler University in that city. She took graduate work in mathematics and has her Master's degree and also an honorary Litt. D. from Coe College. She went to Coe from the University of Denver. Later she gave up teaching and devoted full-time to the dean ship. From Coe she went to the University of Illinois as Dean of Women, and has been highly successful there for 15 years. Dr. Leonard is active in many women's organizations.

The founders' graves will be decorated, as is the custom every year. Lindenwood is one of the oldest colleges west of the Mississippi. Major and Mrs. George C. Sibley founded the college in 1827 in a forest of linden trees. These trees suggested the name—Lindenwood. Under the direction of Mrs. Sibley the school was conducted for many years. From Major Sibley's diary it is learned that young women came by stage from all parts of the state and surrounding country. The first building was erected in 1831, and was capable of accommodating 30 or 40 boarders. The college was placed under the care and direction of the Presbyterian Church. In the many years of its history the college has stood for thorough scholarship and Christian training. Its purpose in the educational world is to train young women for a useful life, give the educational world is to train them a distinctive training for leadership in every sphere of a woman's world.

Noted Trio Plays For Lindenwood Students

The famous Weicher-Powers-Reuter Trio, composed of John Weicher, concertmaster for the Chicago Symphony Orchestra; Dudley Powers, assistant principal cello for the Chicago Symphony; and Rudolph Reuter, pianist was the first guest artist attraction of Lindenwood's 1942-'43 calendar. Each artist presented a solo group followed by several numbers from the trio.

What Founder's Day Means

Founders' Day has a special significance this year because of the war. The qualities and ideals of our founders, Major and Mrs. George C. Sibley, still inspire us today. It took courage and foresight to found a girls' college in wilderness.

Today our country is engaged in war. All our plans look somewhat hopeless, but we must remember our founders and try to look far ahead of this war. We must remember Lindenwood and how it has survived through five wars since 1827. Take firm hold of the old traditions and make Founders' Day mean something to you. The Bark extends its welcome to all the alumni and guests. The Encore Club, composed of girls who have had relatives attending here previously, will be the official hostesses—but the rest of you can welcome the guests, too, and help in any way you can.

To The Freshmen

New members of Lindenwood's rapidly expanding family, we take this opportunity to let you know—in case you aren't already aware of the fact—that Lindenwood is more than a college of knowledge. Behind its portals are traditions which for 115 years have stood for the highest ideals of women in a democracy. And today more than ever before the preservation of those traditions is upper most in the heart of every Lindenwood student, past and present. The college of your choice has to offer all the privileges of the most envied family life in America. There are no favoritisms shown among its "daughters"; the welfare of every mind and body ranks tops at all times on the list of "family interest".

Do you think it is that dreaded assignment in composition or that odorous experiment in chemistry which will dominate your memories of your alma mater as you fly down the airways of tomorrow? Could be—but not necessarily. Yet every time your butter patty stands on end you will be on needles and pins to see whether or not the postman remembers you; every time you hear a bell ring you will grab your knitting and "start walking"; and when your hostess has two spoons on the table you will say "oh boy, ice cream for dessert", or in the case of two forks—"I wonder what kind of pie we are having."

It's the little things that count and these are just a few recollections in the higher vein, but there will also be occasions when your mind's eye will travel back over the ever-changing beauties of the campus as Indian summer, autumn, winter, and spring roll around—burning leaves, picnics at the ovens, moonlight on the snow, April showers, May's flowers. All in all your career at Lindenwood will be treasured as an extra-special chapter in the annals of your life's history.

Full Speed Ahead

Lindenwood College, a great educational institution, is in reality a small community in itself, composed of five hundred students, faculty, and administration. It, being one the same order as a village, should have its share of goods and bads; however in my sane state, I know not one bad. That is probably due to the fact that our civic minded loyals are made up of level headed ladies who know quiet well that even in peacetime, there must be complete cooperation within the organization in order for that "machine" to produce the best results.

In time of a great war in which our very existence is at stake, it is quite evident that we Lindenwood College students would be the first to realize the graveness of "It all", and to understand that now even more than before it is most important for us to all pull together—and in the same direction.

Our capable legislative body has given to us, this year, a new mechanized set of rules, which is more in the order of a war plan. To any other group these changes might seem too radical, but to us it seems quite obvious that changes must be made to meet the order of the day.

Here at Lindenwood we have very little to complain about so let us all feel the necessity of cooperation, and—"Full Speed Ahead".

Letters From Our Readers

The Linden Bark will introduce a new feature this year—a column open to all students. Criticisms, suggestions, and contributions from readers will be welcomed. This is to be your public forum; a chance to "blow off", to crusade, to complain or to bestow bouquets. Send in your letters to Box 412.

This is a VATCHFERB watching you

Are you a light gleamer?

Do you read
by day or nite?

The VATCHFERB is watching each nite to see if you are doing your part in keeping the

ALL BARK AND NO BITE

By EMMY GUMM

All Bark and No Bite wishes to thank COTTON CANNON for handing down her column to us. When we think of the delight with which we've read it these last few years we'll all agree that it has become indispensable to the Linden Bark.

As usual the school started off with a bang, but this year the tables were slightly turned. Instead of the customary number of bewildered freshmen stumbling around the campus there were three hundred plus confident young women doing what they were told when and where they were told, while the dumfounded upperclassmen looked on positively astounded. Hats off to you, Freshmen.

— don't forget —

Freshman, entering Sibley: I'm lost.

Mrs. Arends: For whom are you looking?

Fresh: A girl.

Mrs. A.: What is her name?

Fresh: I don't know.

Mrs. A.: Which room is hers?

Fresh: I don't know. Down there I think (points toward end of hall).

Mrs. A.: That is M.....'s room.

Fresh: Yes, I think that's her name. (Goes to room, peeps thru the door. Returns to Mrs. A.). No, she isn't the girl.

Mrs. A.: If you'll leave your name I'll see if I can find who ever you are looking for.

Fresh: Er.....a..... do you want my real name? ! !

Well, REALLY! !

— to buy —

Over Butler way we hear BETTY GIERSE is sporting a superb diamond from Leonard. And if you have a minute to spare ask "STINKIE" what happened to Jamie the day he stayed so long in Roemer? A bit of a scare t'other night when FLORENCE BARRY received a call from one of the local hospitals concerning two Lindenwood girls who had met with disaster in a big way while roller skating down Clay. She immediately got in touch with several members of the administration and they all rushed to the scene of the accident. They found out the joke was certainly on them, and when they returned the culprits were swinging away out in front of Irwin. PEARL and DEBBY, go hang your heads in shame.

— War Stamps —

"I met him on Wednesday, tada-deedeeetum, etc." Don't be alarmed if you should happen to run into FRANCES SHUDDE an hear her singing this slightly original version 'cause she did meet him on Wednesday—a blind date, too—and the very same weekend he took her in to meet his family. 'Tis said he is a handsome Naval Air Cadet and is now on his way to Pensacola.

Week ending off campus were BETTY MYERS and BETTY SCHCEN who tripped off to Kirksville to see their most favorite men and to hear Jack Teagarden and his orchestra play for a benefit U. S. O. dance. KAY ANDERSON visited the "Windy City" to visit DIXIE SMITH, who is being married this week. By-the-way, did you notice the many Oh's and Ah's when KAY'S good looking Marine brother dined with us the other day? CAROL BINDLEY entertained two friends who were here for the series. "Pappy" couldn't make it, so he sent a telegram to take his place. Lots a news about the class of '42. JO SHEFFIELD and DOT MEYER were on campus over the week end—both were vacationing from their teaching positions. ANN GARDNER and JANE HENSS are attending Career Institute in Chicago and Mrs. W. M. Holway (POLLY POLOCK) now lives in Cambridge, Mass.

Last but not least. Three sure ways to tell if she's an upperclassman: she sits in the balcony at Chapel and Vespers, her joints creak shamelessly from the unaccustomed phys. ed., and (please note, Freshmen) she wears her shoes when she is shopping in St. Louis.

Dorothy Bailey Tells of Life Behind The Footlights

Dorothy Bailey, one of the outstanding songstresses on the campus, has interesting stories to tell about her experience in the chorus at the Municipal Opera in St. Louis this summer.

The tryouts were on May 6th and 7th. Of the 300 who tried out, only 28 girls were chosen for the chorus. Their first three weeks were spent in rehearsing in the Shubert Theatre and the hours were 10 to 1, 2 to 5, and 8 to 11. Between rehearsals, (we'll let you figure out the time), Dorothy took her final exams at Lindenwood. The highlight of the stage at the Shubert Theatre was meeting Cary Grant. There was also a Guarantor Banquet at the Jefferson Hotel. The whole company and the guarantors of St. Louis were there, making 3,000 people present.

Next they had a week of rehearsal at the outdoor Municipal Opera in Forest Park. The big opening night was June 4th. Then they rehearsed from 10 to 1 and 2 to 5. On Saturday nights, they were allowed an hour off after the show. Then rehearsals began again at midnight and lasted until 5 or 6 in the morning. Orchestra practice lasted from 3 to 6 Sunday afternoon, and they had to be back for the show at 8 p. m.

There were 88 performances with no days off, and 10 shows. They gave "Glamorous Night", "Sally", "Song of the Flame", "Hit the Deck", "No No Nanette", "Wild Flower", "Roberta", "New Moon", "Wizard of Oz", and "Show Boat".

The Municipal Opera has been performing for 24 years. Last season, "Roberta" had a record attendance for a week's running. "Hit the Deck" had the record for one night, with 11,374 patrons. The average was 10,000 nightly for the season.

Some of the stars who got their start in the Municipal Opera were Allen Jones, Irene Dunne, Red Skelton, Evelyn Wycoff, Bob Lawrence, Bob Schaefer, and John Tyers. Most of the leads this year were from New York. John Praudy, father of the Jones Family from Hollywood, played in "Show Boat."

During the last two weeks, they were off during the day, and the season ended August 30th. On the last Monday night of the show, the cast sold bonds for Army and Navy relief. They sold over $30,000 plus the gate receipts. The last Friday night, the cast gave a short performance of "Show Boat" at Scott Field.

"One of the most exciting times was during a storm at the performance of "New Moon". Only two men were on the stage when the scenery blew down, and they jumped into the orchestra pit. The scenery was simply put up and the show went on".

Dorothy had several speaking parts, and found it very interesting experience.

"It was hard work, but the wonderful experience plus the people I had to work with, made it well worth while".

Letters of a Lindenwood Lass To Her Man In the Army

Dearest Cuthbert:

Follywood just isn't the same without you, but I manage to make my school work take the place of those hugely exciting hours at Madame Waselles Beauty Salon. Remember the time that you were giving me that baby frizz that turned out like a crew-cut? Mictor Vature rippled past at that moment in all his muscle glory. He had come to get his weekly marcel and dimple treatment. Oh rapture! Certainly hope you're still making them "blazee" and "swaive" now that you're in the army.

We frightened upperclassmen gazed with some misgiving on the big freshman class that breezed in, took things in their own hands, and made themselves at home. I'm even being true to you, Cuthbert, 'cause the fresh young things have calmly taken over the men, too. So this is college.

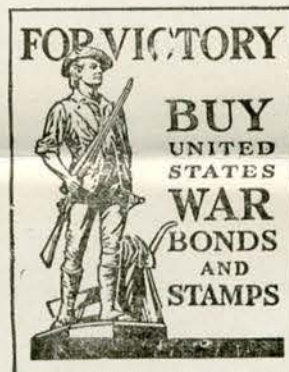

First the round of parties began—amid the confusion of registration

(I've changed my major three times) and trying to find our little sisters. The mixer was exactly what the name implies. I've never met so many people, and all of them with names to remember, too. The next night we had a bon-fire sing, and made ourselves hoarse. For compensation we had soft drinks and apples. Then came the traditional hot-dog jamboree with the faculty men playing chefs or grub slingers. After wearing ourselves out entertaining the dear, sweet freshman, they granted us a reprieve and we slept the next evening. But not for long. A gutter supper brought us out of the daze we were walking around in the next day. My most vivid remembrance of the supper was the lovely piece "Siam". The minute that song blared out, I staggered home. Saturday we had no party, so that everyone (cept me) could have dates. Guess I'm just a wall-posy from way back. The Y. W. C. A. gave a supper fat tea Sunday afternoon, and everyone fed their faces. Vesper Service calmed us down considerably, with Dr. Gage giving us "Ten Commandments for College Women". Wednesday the Coast Guards (35 whole ones) came and played band music for us. Afterwards, some lovely hand-picked young women (the ones who tore over to the office first to sign up) entertained them over coffee and sandwiches in the library club rooms. These freshmen. One of them even got a good-night kiss amid the coffee, sandwiches, Coast Guards, and girls. All week the telephones in freshmen halls have been jangling madly, but we upperclassmen (above all that kind of stuff, you know) simply knitted our fingers to the bone in our quiet halls.

Well, Cuthbert—you sweet precious he-man—do write soon. Miss you gigantically.

Much love,

Fashion Counseling at L. C. To Continue This Year

The fashion and budgeting at Lindenwood is now on a real war time basis and has all of the new military short cuts. The Captain of this all important maneuver is Mrs. Virginia Staples who gave us such a helping hand with our problems last year. We are delighted to know that she will be here on campus every two weeks to give us suggestions on "how-to-be-more-that-way-about-you-know-what." She specializes in problems of wardrobe planning and purchasing, make-up and coiffure suggestions, advice on caring for clothing, ideas in complexion and figure care, suggestions on how to shop to the best advantage, and how to budget clothing allowances.

Fashion and Budget Counseling at Lindenwood will begin this year with a talk to the student body on Thursday morning, October 15. At that time Mrs. Staples will distribute to all of the students, the Budget books "My Finances", which are all dressed up in a new red, white, and blue cover. These books will enable all of us to keep track of how we spend our money—something that we never can figure out for ourselves.

We are all quite a twitter over the prospects of the other fashion shows, lectures and demonstration that are planned for the winter and spring seasons.

One of the biggest events on our fashion calendar is the style show that is to be presented in connection with the choosing of the Hallowe'en queen. The theme will be one of ice-cicles and furs as styled by Lepert-Roos Co. of St. Louis. Everyone will be on hand to feast on fashion, of course.

THE CLUB CORNER

The Home Economics Club held its fall social meeting October 7, in the form of military maneuvers. They marched from Roemer Hall to the ovens to the beat of a stirring march, escorted by Military Police. The disorderly hungry troop's appetite was satisfied by usual army chow. The sham battle was enacted by a "Tug O War". The victor has not as yet been settled.

The Athletic Association met October 1, with their sponsor, Miss Deach, for the purpose of electing their officers. They elected Florence Barry, president; Kay Anderson, vice-president; Virginia Rose, secretary; and Janet Schaefer, treasurer. They discussed plans, and expressed their desire to have intermural competition and many intercollegiate games this year.

The Encore club assembled October 5, for the purpose of electing officers. The new officers are: Sally Dearmont, president; Peggy Proctor, vice-president; Katherine Barngrover, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Hankins spoke to the group, which consists of about 71 members about the aims of the club. They expressed the desire to do war work this year, and to have a party each semester, one being for the whole school. The Encore club will be the official hostess on Founder's day.

Sigma Tau Delta met at the home of the sponsor, Dr. Parker on Monday, October 5. The newly elected officers are: Peggy Lindsey, president; Joyce Burge, vice-president; Adelaide Caraker, secretary, Shirley Goodman, treasurer.

Freshman Hold Truth Session On Upperclassmen

With school once more in full swing, your inquiring reporter seeks the opinions of the following freshman, as to just what they think of the upperclassmen.

Jayne Lintz—"They are helpful and seem so happy—or does one just get that way after a year here?"

Lorraine (Red) Westfall—"Where do they get their men?"

Rita Allen—"After knowing my sister for some time, they've all been such a pleasant surprise."

Bette (Little Bit) Cole—"They're all swell but I haven't a chance in the tearoom between classes and between them."

Just for good measure a few upperclassmen have their say.

Debby Higbee—"As an enthusiastic camp counselor I can honestly say I have never seen so much vim and vigor."

Louise Olson—"My vocabulary seems inadequate—use your own."

Mimi Hanna—"I honestly think they are the best looking bunch I've ever seen here, and who should know better than I."

Zoology Class Visits St. Louis Zoo

Approximately 25 girls from Dr. Talbot's Zoology Class took a field trip to Forrest Park Zoo last Saturday. The purpose of the trip was to make a survey of the animals, which will prove helpful to the class in their studies this year.

HALL OF FAME

We nominate for the Hall of Fame the busiest girl on campus, Beverly Wescott, more popularly known as "Bev". She's the person that you see around, always asking everybody to come to coke parties and bonfires. She also automatically asks you "have you found your little sister" or "have you gotten acquainted with all the people in your dormitory?"

Besides the time Bev spends doing everything for everybody else, she manages to be a member of the League of Women Voters, the Triangle club, Alpha Sigma Tau, honorary society of liberal arts college, Beta Pi Theta, national honorary French fraternity, the Athletic Association and the International Relations Club. Last year she was a member of the Residence Council and the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and press agent for the proposed defense show.

For pleasure and relaxing moments, Bev likes to wear long white flannel night gowns and eat cookies. At other times other times she takes in the theatre with her friends.

Three Members of Lindenwood Faculty In Military Service

Three members of the Lindenwood faculty administration are now serving in the armed forces. Dr. Siegmund Betz is teaching in the army air corp at Randolph Field in Texas. Dr. Hartwick is a reserve officer in Aberdeen, Maryland, and Mr. Ralph Brandt, former field secretary is now in officers training school at Miami Beach, Florida.

Other members of the faculty were busy during the summer. Dr. John Thomas, dean of Lindenwood's School of Music, was awarded the degree of Doctor of Pedagogy by the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music last July.

Miss Staggs attended the Home Economics Education Workshop in general education at the University of Chicago. Dr. Ival Spafford, visiting professor on the work shop staff and consultant of curriculum reorganization in Home Economics, was in charge of participants of the Home Economics section.

Miss Elizabeth Dawson attended the University of Iowa and worked towards a Ph. D. degree.

Dr. Florence Schaper attended the Summer Workshop held in the University of Minnesota for twenty-eight cooperating colleges. One of the major problems considered in the Workshop was a critical study of the philosophy of a program of general education in colleges of liberal arts that are preparing high school teachers. Dr. Schaper found her work extremely interesting.
