READJUSTMENT OF MUSIC DEPARTMENT Orpheus Undaunted by the Conflagration

Pianos may be burned but these have been replaced, and Lindenwood rejoices that although Margaret Hall is in ashes there was no tragedy in the fire of September 25. Lives were not in any way imperiled. This was the first fire, so far as is known, in Lindenwood's more than 101 years of history, and this fire obligingly occurred at a time when everyone was at lunch. When smoke was discovered coming out of the roof everybody was fortified by sustenance and able to stand the shock. Had it been in the tenderly feminine days of Lindenwood's founding, no doubt a number of the young ladies would have "swooned." As it is in modern times, these practical girls of today bethought themselves to help all they could, which wasn't very much.

The building was older than most of the teachers, and of frame—a handsomely built structure of its day, but totally incapable of withstanding fire as the other buildings of Lindenwood can do—the dormitories and the administration hall. No students ever lived in Margaret Hall. About a dozen pianos and numerous other musical instruments were in use there, while in other rooms the vocal teachers taught, so that the place and all the campus around was melodious from morning till night. Pianos on the lower floor were brought out, but the rest had to be left.

The insurance given in compensation for the fire will make a nest-egg for building the Music Hall which is hoped for in the future, although of course in the scale of modern building, that sum must be multiplied many times. In the meantime, classes are distributed through the other buildings, and no one is missing any instruction.

On the opposite page is shown a photograph of Margaret Hall, not as it is today, but as it was, a staunch and busy center. Let it be "remembered at its best". And in the memories should be included a grateful thought for the St. Charles firemen and the many volunteers who sought to save the old building if it had been possible.

Board's Decision

At the fall meeting of the college Board of Directors, October 15, when reports of the President and various committees were received, and all the finances approved, the Board decided in regard to the rebuilding of Music Hall to delay action until a thorough digest can be obtained as to what ought to be done. This holding in abeyance of plans is on recommendation of the Music Department. The adjustment of the insurance was confirmed.

Politics at Lindenwood

Discussion is not bitter, but nevertheless it is earnest, among the numerous Lindenwood students who are old enough to vote, many of whom will go home for the precious privilege.

Dr. D. M. Skilling, vice-president of the board of directors of the college and pastor of the Webster Groves Presbyterian Church, at an Assembly address which he gave on Thursday, September 27, found a moral and ethical lesson in the waging campaign. While not expressing any preference for either candidate, he pointed out that "Tolerance and Intolerance" are mighty issues, to be settled not only when voting politically but in the incidents of daily life.

"The real question of cleavage between tolerance and intolerance", he said, "is the question of what is right and what is wrong. Any deed that hurts or harms another person is wrong; anything contrary to the spirit and teachings of Christ is wrong.

"To be tolerant you do not have to give up anything that is absolutely essential, but you give up what is not essential so that you may have fellowship and communion with others. You do not need to be weak, to be tolerant".

It is planned by Dr. Roemer to have a speaker from each party to address the Lindenwood Assembly. So far, Mr. Charles M. Hay, the candidate for U. S. Senator from Missouri on the Democratic ticket, has been the only one available, but it is expected to have Mr. Henry S. Caulfield, Republican candidate for Governor of Missouri, at a date before the election, the latter's first appointment having been superseded by another engagement.

Mr. Hay's wife accompanied him to Lindenwood on September 20, and was a guest at luncheon. It will be remembered by old Lindenwood students that her father, Dr. Lannius, was once president of an institution now no longer in existence, the co-educational St. Charles College.

Mr. Hay's address was more along the line of good citizenship than of any partisan persuasion, although he admitted that as a country boy he had thought that no good people could be anything else than "Methodists and Democrats". People are broader now, both religiously and politically, he said.

"The purpose of government in this country", said Mr. Hay, "is so to relate us to each other in the playing of the game of life as that each may have a square deal and a fair chance. If the country is in peril, it will be rather from the indifference of those who ought to take an interest than from any other cause—from the bad citizenship of good men rather than from the bad citizenship of bad men.

"I am not primarily concerned that you college students leave these halls either as Democrats or as Republicans; I am concerned that you leave these halls as trained young women deeply interested in civic and political affairs".

The first faculty recital of the season on the evening of October 5 in Roemer Auditorium presented Miss Mildred Grayley, pianist, and Miss Gertrude Isidor, violinist, in an admirable repertoire, with Mary C. Craven, one of the advanced music students, as accompanist.

Students' State Clubs

Ten State clubs of students, up to the time of going to press, have organized, and there may be more. There are so many States now represented that friendly rivalry may be keen. Those chosen are as follows:

Arkansas: president, Marion Pope, Camden; vice-president, George Evelyn Cone, Portland; secretary-treasurer, Dorothy Sutton, Little Rock.

Dixie: President, Lillie Bloomenstiel, Donaldsonville, La.; secretary-treasurer, Jane Vincent Bixler, Live Oak, Fla.

Eastern: President, Garnette Thompson, Beckley, W. Va.; vice-president, Margaret Fagg, Detroit, Mich.; secretary-treasurer, Dorothy Johnston, Michigan City, Ind. The Eastern Club will celebrate Dr. Roemer's birthday in the spring.

Illinois: President, Adeline Brubaker, Springfield; vice-president, Lucie May Sharon, Carrollton; secretary, Dorothy Gehlbach, Lincoln.

Iowa: President, Doris Arnold, Keokuk; vice-president, Dorothy Van Orden, Council Bluffs; secretary-treasurer, Dorothy Emmert, Avoca.

Kansas: President, Naida Porter, Neodesha; vice-president Helen Kidd, Dodge City; secretary-treasurer, Letha Bailey, Neodesha.

Missouri: President, Katharine Perry, Moberly; vice-president, Mary Elisabeth Baker, Jefferson City; secretary, Mary Catherine Craven, Excelsior Springs.

Nebraska: President, Mary Elizabeth Sawtell, Omaha; vice-president, Jean Whitney, Omaha; secretary-treasurer, Mary Ellen Lucke, Omaha.

Oklahoma: President, Clara Bowles, Perry; vice-president, Elizabeth Burford, Tulsa; secretary-treasurer, Turner Williams, also of Tulsa.

Texas: President, Margie Bright, Wichita Falls; vice-president, Cora Glasgow, Port Arthur; secretary, Melba Jordan, Wichita Falls.

Girls may come and may go, but the Linden Bark continues regardless. Several issues of the Bark have been published already. Ruth Bullion of Little Rock, Ark., is again editor-in-chief. She was recently chosen president of the senior class, which makes the fourth time that she has been elected to the presidency of the class of '29. Helen Hook of St. Louis is associate editor. She is also a senior. The editorial staff is composed of Verna Anderson of Newton, Kan.; Lillie Bloomenstiel of Donaldsonville, La.; Brooks Ann Cole of California, Mo.; Hilda Culver of Butler, Mo.; Frances Doak of Winterset, Iowa; Cora Glasgow of Port Arthur, Texas; Joan Lytle of McPherson, Kan., and Norma Paul Ruedi of Galena, Kan.

Among the memorable Tea-room dinners recently given by Lindenwood's president were those for his own Ethics Class, numbering about two dozen girls, and an informal affair somewhat later at which Dr. and Mrs. Roemer had the Annual's advisory committee from the faculty and the four students at the head of the publication as their guests. The students so interested are Ruth Bullion, Garnette Thompson, Josephine Bowman and Catherine Orr.

A new teacher of zoology, Miss Alma Sherman, who has been making special studies at the University of Wisconsin, has been added to the staff of the biology department.

ST. CHARLES, MO.

NOVEMBER, 1928

A Luncheon for Alumnae of Lindenwood College during the State Teachers Convention, Kansas City, Mo., is to be held at the Muehlbach Hotel, 12:15 P. M., Friday, November 16.

Please advise Glenn H. Park, 3500 Gilham Road, Kansas City, Missouri, or Guy C. Motley, Sec., Lindenwood College, St. Charles Missouri.

Let's have a real reunion of Lindenwood girls!

"Have to Take 'Em"

Miss Frances Stumberg, Lindenwood's fellowship graduate of 1928, writes from her studies at the University of Chicago—graduate work in English—that she is doing very well, but that "people take examinations here, just the same as at Lindenwood".

"You have to take them unless you are dead", she writes, "and if you are dead, you have to take them by proxy."

Students Who Vote

The officers of Lindenwood's League of Women Voters this year are: President, Marea Hempleman of Washington, Mo.; vice-president, Rosalind Sachs of Little Rock, Ark.; secretary, Jeanne Berry of Little Rock, Ark., and treasurer, Mary Mason of Independence, Kan. Dr. Bertha Reuter and Miss Avaline Folsom of the History Department are sponsoring this League, and under their able supervision it has great possibilities of becoming a very prominent organization on the campus.

The League will offer much interesting data on "Women in Politics". It has already created much interest in that subject by introducing two speakers to Lindenwood this year who are most prominent in that line, Mrs. George Gellhorn, Chairman of the Missouri League of Women Voters, of St. Louis, and Mrs. Alexander Hope, sponsor of the League at Washington U. of St. Louis.

Programs have been planned for each meeting and at the first the subject will be "Polling for Political People".

This organization is the largest on the campus in which any student may be a member with the exception of the Y. W. C. A. and the Student Body of which she automatically becomes a member.

Remembering Lindenwood

Although far away in Orlando, Fla., Mrs. Tommy G. Lee (Bessie McCluer, 1910-11) makes a point now and then of inviting former Lindenwood students to her home, and is glad to receive the Bulletin, according to a letter received from her friend, Mrs. Susan McCarty, of O'Fallon, Mo.

Student officers of Lindenwood's art department have been elected as follows: President, Mary La Plue of Bridgeport, Ill.; vice-president, Dorothy Sutton, Little Rock, Ark.; secretary, Jaundell Shook, Lincoln, N. Mex.; treasurer, Margaret Skoglund, De Kalb, Ill.

French Students Active

The Theta Xi Chapter of Beta Pi Theta, Lindenwood's National Honorary Fraternity, entered on its second year this September. The officers for this year are Lillie Bloomenstiel, Donaldsonville, La., president; Elizabeth Tracy, St. Charles, Mo., vice-president; Rosalind Sachs, secretary, from Little Rock, Ark.; Jeanne Berry, Little Rock, Ark., treasurer; Catherine Orr, Danville, Ill., corresponding secretary; Mary Mason, publicity, Independence, Kan.; Elizabeth Pinkerton, Sparta, Ill., head of the clippings, and, last, but by no means least, Miss E. Louise Stone, head of the Modern Language Department and grand librarian of Beta Pi Theta, faculty counsellor. These officers and Sue Austin go to make up the Executive Board.

The fraternity has planned many things for this year that will be of interest to the student body in general. A play is being planned for February 15. Besides this there will be a banquet held in St. Charles at the new hotel. The fraternity is planning on having Monsieur Mariz of Harvard, and the head of the Middlebury School of Language. A pledging was held where the following were named: Betty Jack, Mary Louise Wardley, Lena Lewis, Dorothea McCullough, Elenor Johnson, Eleanor Richardson, Katherine Perry and Helen Diehr. With the present members and these as future ones the fraternity can not help but make its goal.

Mildred McNew who attended Lindenwood last year is teaching the seventh and eighth grades at Redfern, Ark. Another former Lindenwood girl, Mona Carnahan, is teaching in the high school at Redfern.

What the "Y" Does

Y. W. C. A. is very active this fall and has been at work since the middle of the summer, for it sponsored the "Big Sister" movement. The regular meetings are being held each Wednesday evening. Several of these have been the ever popular sing-songs on Sibley steps. Charity work is being done among the needy families of St. Charles. Their big event of the fall is coming shortly, the election of the Hallowe'en queen from the freshman class and the Hallowe'en party.

The officers and cabinet members for this year are: Elizabeth Foster, Jean Whitney, Dorothy Jane Fogwell, Dorothy Johnson, Mary Alice Lange, Lillie Bloomenstiel, Mary Dix, Estelle Bradford and Clara Bowles.

"Don't think I'm pining, because I'm enjoying my new work very much" is the message that comes from Ruth Spreckelmeyer of St. Charles, Mo., one of last year's graduates. Ruth is teaching the commercial course in the high school at Chaffee, Mo., and is also coaching basket ball. She writes that she enjoys both her teaching and her coaching, and finds life at Chaffee very pleasant, indeed, as everyone is interested in the life of the school.

Mrs. Chester T. Aspelmier (Dorothy Gee, 1922-24) writes of her change of residence from Denison, Texas, to 2412 Boston avenue, Muskogee, Okla.

Miss Daphne Boop, of Nowata, Okla. (1926-28), was appointed by the Mayor of her city to be the "queen" representing Nowata at the Neewollah celebration which took place in Independence, Kan., on October 31.

Weddings

Invitations were received for the wedding on Saturday, October 20, of Miss Edna Mildred Honeywell, who attended Lindenwood in 1921, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eugene Honeywell, to Mr. Charles Polsome Brown. The ceremony is announced for 4 o'clock in the afternoon, at her parents' home on the Price road, Clayton, St. Louis County, and rumor says that this will be another Lindenwood marriage with the president of the college officiating. The future home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, after December 1, cards enclosed say, will be in Evansville, Ind., Audubon Apartment J.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Street have announced the marriage of their daughter, Georgia Marjorie, to Mr. Oscar A. Schlaikjer, on Wednesday, September 19, at Omaha, Neb. The bride was a graduate of Lindenwood's pre-Centennial year, 1926, A. B. Mr. and Mrs. Schlaikjer have gone to Cambridge, Mass., and their cards announce At Home at 121-c Holden Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cox of 5920 McPherson avenue have announced the marriage at the West Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, of their daughter Evelyn (1922-23) to Mr. George Edwin Meyer, on Thursday, September 20.

Miss Gladys Lee Gladstein (1923-25) is being wedded, just as the Bulletin goes to press, to Mr. Frank H. Ephraim, and their new home will be New York City. Invitations were sent by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin J. Gladstein, for the wedding on October 21, at 4 p. m., at 36 West Ottawa avenue, McAlester, Okla.

Miss Lillian Glosier, who was the helpful secretary to Lindenwood's Dean for a number of years, became an October bride, as cards announce from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Glosier, of St. Charles. The bridegroom is Mr. August J. Siedhoff, and the ceremony took place in St. Peter's Church, at 9 o'clock on Wednesday morning, October 3. They will be at home after November 1, at 708 South Sixth street, St. Charles.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. McClintock have announced the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Ann (1925-27), on Wednesday, September 12, to Mr. William Warren Anderson, Jr., at Hot Springs, Ark. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are At Home in Helena, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. George Osmond have announced the marriage, on October 6, in New York City, of their daughter Dorothy (1926-27) to Mr. Lester Conrad. At Home announcement is included for 159 East Thirty-fourth street, New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Bryan, of Delia, Kan., have announced the marriage of their daughter Lorraine Mercedes (1924-26) to Mr. Louis Clark Hawkins, on Wednesday, September 19. The bride, whose musical ability was recognized by her selection for Alpha Mu Mu when at Lindenwood, will be, it is hoped, an addition to the St. Louis Lindenwood Club, as Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins will reside in St. Louis at 5268 Maple avenue.

Mrs. Siegel L. Beck (Mary A. Scott, 1926-27) has written of her change of residence to Marionville, Mo. She was married June 21 to Mr. Beck, at her Aurora home.

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Chaille Groom (1925-26) has been received from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Downing Groom, to Mr. Orrin Clinton Hughes, on Wednesday, September 26, at her parents' home in Sapulpa, Okla.

Miss Norine Ziegler, A. A., 1927, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ziegler, of Clarks, La., was wedded on Tuesday, September 4, among all the picturesqueness of Southern flowers and colorful costumes, to Mr. William H. Mecom, at the Baptist Church of Clarks. They will make their future home in Columbia, La. The bride's sister, Miss Florence Ziegler, who was a student with her at Lindenwood, was her maid of honor, and there was a full procession of attendants. After the church ceremony, a wedding reception on the lawn of the bride's parents centered around an improvised arbor with a wedding cake there, made by the bridegroom's mother, everything being illumined by moonlight and myriad colored lights. Many pleasant social affairs in honor of the bride preceded the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hicks Seoggin have announced the marriage, on Wednesday, September 26, of their daughter Larita (1923-25) to Mr. Sterling Everett Russ, at their home in Fort Smith, Ark.

Among Those Chosen

Kappa Pi, national art fraternity, in its Kappa Chapter in Lindenwood's art department, has elected the following officers: President, Margaret Skoglund, of De Kalb, Ill.; vice-president, Artha Bloebaum, of St. Charles; secretary, Viola Wolfort, Belleville, Ill.; treasurer, Alberta Sievert, Arkansas City, Kan.; with Miss Alice A. Linneman, head of the department, as sponsor.

On September 18, Alpha Mu Mu, honorary musical fraternity, entered upon its eleventh year. The following officers were elected: Mary Catherine Craven, of Excelsior Springs, Mo., president; Clara Bowles, of Perry, Okla., vice-president, and Dorothy Gartner of Chillicothe, Ohio., secretary and treasurer.

Lindenwood's choir has elected the following officers: President, Dorothy Gartner, of Chillicothe, Ohio, and secretary-treasurer, Iris Fleischaker, of Joplin, Mo. Miss Edwards is the director.

The Choral Club elected Marjorie Smith of Siloam Springs, Ark., president; Hortense Wolfort of Belleville, Ill., secretary-treasurer, and Mary Francis McKee of Benton, Ill., and Beulah Riner of Nowata, Okla., as librarians. Miss Grace Terhune is director.

Classes Organized

Never have the classes begun their activities more promptly than has been the case this year. The seniors have done something almost unprecedented, in electing as president the the same popular girl, Ruth Bullion of Little Rock, Ark., who has been their leader through the trials of freshman year, and on through the mazes of sophomore and junior life: that is, she is now elected for the fourth time. She is also editor of the college annual, Linden Leaves. As vice-president of the seniors, Marjorie Bright of Wichita Falls, Tex., was chosen; secretary, Garnette Thompson of Beckley, W. Va., and treasurer, Mary Alice Lange, of Leavenworth, Kan.

The junior class has chosen Mary Sue Wisdom, of Lincoln, Mo., as president; Catherine Orr, Danville, Ill., vice-president; Dorothy Gartner, Chillicothe, Ohio, secretary, and Mary Farthing, of Odin, Ill., treasurer.

The sophomore class has chosen as president, Lucille Kelly, of Grand Island, Neb.; vice-president, Helen Manary, of Dodge City, Kan.; secretary, Ruth Clement, Joliet, Ill.; treasurer, Lorraine Mehl, Joplin, Mo.; song leader, Jean Whitney, Omaha; pianist, Virginia Ann Shrimpton, Ainsworth, Neb.

For freshman officers, in a class of about 260, the choice has fallen on Ruth Correa of Omaha, as president; Lois McKeehan, of Hot Springs, Ark., vice-president; Martha Seidlebaum, of Norton, Kan., secretary; Mary Lee Hughes, Jacksonville, Fla., treasurer; Rosalynd McPherson, Columbia, Mo., and Pauline Edwards, of El Paso, Tex., pianists.

Student Government

At the first student meeting recently held in Roemer Auditorium, Mary Elizabeth Sawtell of Omaha, Neb., the newly elected president of the Student Government Association, introduced the other members of the board. Mary Farthing, Odin, Ill., is the vice-president, and Lucy Spence, La Crosse, Wis., the secretary-treasurer of the organization. The newly elected house presidents of each building are: Betty Foster, Arvada, Colo., Butler Hall; Dorothy Sutton, Little Rock, Ark., Ayres Hall; Frances Dunn, Pleasant Hill, Mo., Sibley Hall; Helen Henderson, Little Rock, Ark., Nicolls Hall, and Carmine Lee Neber, Carbondale, Ill., Irwin Hall.

Last year Mary Elizabeth Sawtell was house president of Sibley, and was sent as the Lindenwood representative to the National Student Association at Lincoln, Neb. At this conclave of student government members she learned many new ideas, which will aid her in her work this year.

Mary Farthing, the vice-president, will be head of the House of Representatives, which is composed of the house presidents, and also the representatives which were appointed by the board, as follows: Butler, Mary Alice Lange, Leavenworth, Kan., and Marea Hempleman, Washington, Mo.; Sibley, Clara Nathan, St. Louis, and Margaret Skoglund, De Kalb, Ill.; Ayres, Verna Weis, St. Louis, and Helen Manary, Dodge City, Kan.; Irwin, Cora Glasgow, Port Arthur, Texas, and Jane Nicolls, Louise Dresel, Jerseyville, Ill., and Elizabeth Malcolm, Beckley, W. Va.

Founders' Day Ceremonies

Founders' Day at Lindenwood was celebrated on Friday, October 19, beginning at 12:30 and ending at 10 p. m. There were many guests present from years gone by. Among them were members of the following classes: 1873, '75, '76, '78, '79 and 1927 and 1928. Many members of the St. Louis Lindenwood Club were here. Mrs. Charles S. Houts, president of the Eighth District Federation of Womens Clubs, was a guest of honor.

Luncheon was served at 12:30 and all guests were escorted to the dining room by the members of the Senior Class. Immediately following lunch there was a meeting in Sibley Parlors of the St. Louis Lindenwood Club.

At two o'clock the formal exercises were held in Roemer Auditorium. Dr. Robert Scott Calder opened the services with an invocation. A sextet rendered "The Old Road", by Scott. Miss Gertrude Webb of St. Louis, a member of the class of '28, presented the Athletic Association with a cup which is to be awarded to the winning hockey team. Miss Grace Terhune sang a beautiful solo, "Dawn", by Currie.

The main speaker on the program was Dr. Anne Abel-Henderson, of the University of Kansas. Dr. Henderson was chosen because of her intensive work in research, on the history of St. Louis. In this work there was one figure whom she came upon continually, in the history of St. Louis—George C. Sibley. In speaking of Major Sibley, she said he was the greatest man of the period in which he lived. He was closely identified with the westward colonization movement from Nova Scotia to the Gulf. The policies of handling the Indians had not been very creditable. Here Major Sibley found his calling.

The principles which he had in mind for the Indians were the same as those by which he lived. He traded with the Indians with a fair and honest viewpoint. The characteristics of honesty, tenderness, loyalty and manliness followed him throughout his work. The Osage Indians were the main ones with whom he worked. He wanted to use trade as a means for controlling and civilizing the tribes. He understood the Indians and lived with them in peace and friendship. George Washington and Major Sibley thought alike in the making of promises. These should be made with caution, and rigidly kept.

The title of Major was an honorary one though George C. Sibley had great physical and moral courage. At the declaration of the Civil war, he wanted to fight. His life was one of sobriety and cleanliness.

In summary of Major Sibley it may be said that he was an educator, a moral reformer, a pillar of the Presbyterian Church, a restrictor of slavery in Missouri, an advocate of liberal projects and a philanthropist.

In closing the program, Mrs. Roemer, Dean of Students, brought a descendant of Mrs. Sibley to the platform, Jennie Ruth Gamble, from Dahlgren, Ill., a sophomore at Lindenwood. In the audience there were five people who had known Mrs. Sibley. Short talks were made by Mesdames Arthur Krueger, William K. Roth, Lulu Hynson, Victor Rhodes and David Hardy.

Dr. Roemer gave the benediction. This closed the program for the afternoon. In the evening a formal dance was held in Butler Gymnasium, to which all were invited.

Honored By Guild

Miss Louise Carol Titcomb, teacher of organ in Lindenwood's music department, was honored by the Missouri Chapter of the American Guild of Organists, by being invited to give a programme at Westminster Presbyterian Church in St. Louis, on the evening of October 18. Miss Titcomb is a Fellow of the American Guild of Organists.

Southern California

News from Southern California comes from the club's corresponding secretary, Lillian Glen Prouty of Los Angeles, who says:

The first meeting of the year for the Lindenwood College Club of Southern California took place on September 20, at the home of Misses Jeffers and Peebles, two of our honorary members, both of whom are well known to Lindenwood.

We were invited to the Christian College classroom, where we were treated to one of Miss Jeffers' most delightful travel lectures on Spain. To say that we enjoyed it was indeed putting it mildly. After the lecture, we returned to the home of Misses Jeffers and Peebles, and were served afternoon tea with all of its delightful accessories.

Remembered Miss Jennings

A memorial to the late Miss Belle J. Jennings, who died in the summer, was read before the St. Louis Lindenwood College Club at a recent meeting by Mrs. Edward S. Orr. Miss Jennings was teacher and lady principal at Lindenwood for about a dozen years following 1883, and was very dear to many of the girls.

At this meeting Miss Marjorie Manger was programme chairman, and the various Federation committees were appointed as follows: Public Welfare, Mrs. Victor Rhodes; American Citizenship, Miss Laura Ellwanger; American Homes, Mrs. J. C. Vogt; Applied Education, Mrs. J. C. Dyer; Art, Mrs. Edgar Blankenmeister; International Relations, Mrs. Joseph White; Legislation, Mrs. Lulu Hynson; Literature and Reciprocity, Mrs. L. I. Bernero; Music, Mrs. William K. Roth.

On Friday, October 19, the St. Louis Club is meeting at Lindenwood, to celebrate Founders' Day. The resident students from St. Louis have organized for the season, with Mary Dix of St. Louis, president; Elvira Gluck, vice-president, and Helen Weber, secretary.

Personals

Mrs. H. H. Wiginton (Adah Ruth Davis) has sent word that her new address will be Morristown, Tenn., changing from Waynesville, N. C. The Wigintons were married last April 23.

The Spanish spelling of a town in Texas — "Cuero" — may mislead the friends of Mrs. James M. Williams (Frances McCollom, 1926-27), whose wedding was chronicled in September, with a wrong spelling of Cuero which is now her home.

Births

From Malvern, Ark., comes the news of a little son to the former Betty Bramlitt, whose announcement comes formally, of date September 15, from the dignified parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilfred Braswell. The young mother, who received her degree, B.S., in 1926, was the May Queen's maid of honor in 1925, when also she was president of the junior class. She spent her full four years at Lindenwood, and her many friends will rejoice with her.

From Pana, Ill., comes the announcement of Mr. and Mrs. Guy McCandlish (Ione Penwell, 1921-22 and 1925-26) that "the Head of our Household has Arrived". This event, which occurred September 15, heralds a daughter, Margot, weighing seven and a half pounds.
