There is an easy way to receive notification of class cancellations during this winter season—sign up for Rave, Lindenwood’s emergency text messaging service. Through the service, users will receive a text message on their phones notifying them of cancellations mere moments after the decision is made.

The service is also available to communicate other emergency-related information to members of the Lindenwood community; users are not subjected to advertising messages or other unwanted text messages. The service is for emergency use only.

Signing up is simple. Go to <https://www.getrave.com/login/lindenwood> and click on “Get Rave” to register your e-mail address and mobile phone number. Existing users can also log into their accounts and make changes to their information as needed.
