Margaret Chapman Reigns as Popularity Queen

Miss Margaret Chapman, crowned in silver, gowned in light blue, and carrying a bouquet of pink roses, walked radiantly down an aisle of applause to reign over her court as popularity queen at the dance in Butler gymnasium on February 28. Miss Chapman, a junior, is from Waterloo, Iowa.

Preceding the queen were Miss Grace Quebbeman and Miss Ruth Dayton as first and second maids of honor. Miss Quebbeman of Western Springs, Illinois and Miss Dayton of Ottumwa, Iowa are also juniors.

Preceding the entry of the queen and her maids, the seven members of the court walked one by one to the stairs below the throne. The two maids coming in from the right and left of the queen's entrance then took their places. Finally, impatiently awaited by the audience, the middle of the curtain at the end of the room parted and the queen appeared.

The members of the court were Dorothy Rhea, Mary Jean DuHadway, Ruth Faucet, Sara Jefferson, Peggy Turcott, Evelyn Bradley, and Rebecca Rath. The maids carried yellow and deep pink roses; the members of the court, hand-bouquets of pastel flowers.

Margaret Barngrover Wins Two Championships

Margaret Barngrover, after two exciting matches with Sue Adkins, took honors in three events in the tournaments started last fall and finished up February 29. Margaret won the ping pong singles, the badminton singles, and with her partner, Pearl Payne, the badminton doubles. She is a freshman and lives in Irwin Hall.

The finals for the ping pong doubles are yet to be played. The competition is between the team of Estelle Blumeyer and Margaret Chapman and the one of Carol Robinson and Sylvia Orwig. Runners-up for the badminton doubles were Florence Barry and Estelle Blumeyer.

Because of the enthusiastic reception of these tournaments, more are planned in the future. Lorraine Allen and Marjorie Field were in charge of badminton; Carol Robinson and Betty Jane Runge, ping pong. Miss Reichert officiated. The events were sponsored by the Athletic Association.

Attends Inauguration

Dr. Linnemann and her sister, Miss Kathryn Linnemann, went to Jefferson City to attend the inauguration of Governor Donnell. Their brother Robert H. Linnemann is the Representative of this district and is known to the Lindenwood girls as "Bob."

HALL OF FAME

We nominate for the Hall of Fame—Geraldine Wachter. "Jerry," as she is better known on the campus, is president of the Senior Class.

She is a member of the Student Activities Committee and is an active member of Delta Phi Delta, the public school music fraternity. Her chief interest lies in the field of music and she will give her diploma recital March 25.

Jerry is best known on the campus for her shy, quiet, winning ways and her warm smile.

Tell About Flowers

J. Gregory Conway, said to be America's foremost authority on flower arrangement, spoke to Lindenwood students and faculty March 10 in Roemer Auditorium. His subject was "The Art of Flower Arrangement," and he demonstrated his points by arranging flowers on the stage.

Flash! Romeo Contest Has Lindenwood Campus Agog

'Tis said every lassie has her laddie and we're out to prove the men belonging to Lindenwood girls are tops in "OOMPH," and just exactly which man has the most "IT." In more prosaic words, the Linden Bark is sponsoring a Romeo Contest for all Lindenwood girls and their "Men of the Moment."

On every desk or dresser perches that certain picture, the picture you look at with stars in your eyes while listening to "I Hear a Rhapsody," or sigh dreamily at after reading his latest letter, or count the days till Spring Vacation for it's these pictures we want you to enter in the Romeo Contest.

Bring them to the Journalism room (room 18 in Roemer basement, right across from the post office) Tuesday afternoon and any time before Wednesday afternoon at four. Write your name, his name, address,

FAMILY LIFE CONFERENCE OPENS FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Delegates From Colleges In Five States to Participate In Full Program of Discussion Groups and Social Functions

Martha Weber Is Elected May Queen

The election of the May Queen and her party, held last Monday, March 3, revealed Martha Weber, a St. Louis senior and president of the Student Council, as the popular choice for May Queen.

Her senior attendants will be Mary Jean DuHadway of Jerseyville, Ill., and Helen Dondanville of Ottawa, Ill. Maid of Honor is Ruth Shartel, Neosho, Mo. Harriet Dillman, Waveland, Ind., and Jean Moore, Rison, Ark., are the junior attendants.

Sophomore attendants are Rebecca Rath, Waterloo, Iowa, and Lois Selby, Dallas Tex. Rosemary Edminster, Joplin, Mo., and Florence Barry, Chicago, Ill., are freshmen attendants.

The May Queen and her Court will be presented early in May.

Dr. Gage Speaks At Vesper Service

Lindenwood's new president, Dr. Harry Morehouse Gage, gave the vesper's address Sunday evening, March 2, on "You and I—How We May Become Friends." Dr. Gage spoke informally and personally to the students and faculty, saying sincerity is an important factor in making friends.

Delegates from colleges of five states will arrive on the campus Friday to register in Roemer Hall for the Family Life conference. An interesting and varied program, which will fill the three days of the conference, has been planned for the delegates.

At dinner Friday evening Dr. Gage will preside and Dr. Franc L. McCluer, president of Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., will give the address.

Dr. Gage will again preside at the meeting Saturday morning in Roemer Auditorium. Dr. Paul Popenoe, director of the American Institute of Family Relation, Los Angeles, will address the delegates on "How Do You Know It's Love?" At 10:45 a round-table discussion will be held.

Dr. Jessie Bernard, professor of sociology, will preside while Dr. Popenoe leads a discussion on "Dating and Rating" which is open to students only, and Mrs. Esther Prevey, directors of parent education, Teachers College of Kansas City, Mo., will be discussion leader on the topic, "Can I Afford to Marry?" with Miss Frances Whitehead, chairman of the department of economics and business, presiding.

There will be a general session Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at which Mr. Guy C. Motley will preside and Dr. Popenoe will give the address, "Looking Forward to Marriage." The following subjects will be discussed at a round-table forum: "Child Training," presided over by Dr. R. L. Garnett, professor of education, and led by Dr. Theodore F. Lentz, professor of education, Washington University; "Family and Career," presided over by Dr. Marion Dawson, professor of biological science, and led by Mrs. W. V. Weir; and "Decorating Your First Home," presided over by Miss Ada Tucker, department of home economics, and led by Miss Amy Wrieden, furniture stylist, Stix, Baer & Fuller. At 4 p. m. Miss Elizabeth Dawson will preside over an open forum meeting on "Do You Know What Your Child Is Reading?" There will be an informal get-together at 4:30 p. m. in the Butler lounge.

Miss Katharine F. Lenroot, Chief of the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., will address the conference on "Family Life, the Strength of the Nation" with Dr. Alice E. Gipson presiding, at 8 in Roemer Auditorium, Saturday evening.

An open forum, "Information Please," at 10 a. m. Sunday will include general discussion and questions led by Dr. Popenoe and pre-

Dated and Rated

The Family Life Conference is but a few days away. A week from now we'll know how to tell "if we are in love or not," "if we can afford marriage," and "how to make a successful marriage." The titles of these coming lectures seem to take it for granted that we already have the man, but what about us poor souls who don't? We would appreciate a lecture on how to get the man—after that we would have plenty of time to worry about how to hold on to him.

A Perennial Style

Although recent snow and cold weather have prevented the appearance of new spring styles in clothes, there has been another spring style in evidence on the campus. This is the new spirit of friendliness which is being passed from girl to girl. There is that new, brighter smile on the face of some who have often before concealed a cheerful face. New hearts are growing warm and new friends are being made. Lindenwood's first new spring style is friendliness.

What Price Freedom?

'Tis said there are those among us who take all too lightly the many privileges which have been granted to us this year.

Time was when life at Lindenwood was not quite so foot loose and fancy free. Lights were snapped off promptly at 11 irregardless; curfew rang at 10:45 every evening without fail, even on Saturday nights; hose were worn to dinner, chapel seats were assigned without regard to preference, and vesper attendance was compulsory. The Lindenwood student of former years resorted to candles, flashlights, and studying out under the feeble hall lights on hard floors. She wore stockings to dinner or was banished from the dining room unless lucky enough to get away with anklets. Skipping vespers meant hiding in closets and under beds.

This year's student, however, enjoys freedom to a much greater degree, but there is nothing to prevent us from returning to the old law and order except obedience to the few just rules which we must abide by. World events show clearly what happens to countries who accept their liberties with too much complacency. Surely next year's students should not have to suffer for our negligence. A word to the wise should be sufficient.

Has Spring Sprung?

Question of the week: has spring sprung? Arguments, pro and con, can be heard on any street corner, table at the Cupboard, or in any public gathering. The "pro" arguments are centered around the first green sprouts of corcus bulbs along the walk to the Cupboard. The "cons" disagree because of the fact no robins have been sighted on campus as yet. (The Linden Bark is strictly non-partisan). And so the battle rages on—

Members of the faculty, when questioned, say Spring is just around the corner, perhaps even closer. They state they have spotted the symptoms of the first harbinger of spring, according to them—the dread disease, Spring Fever. Even Nursie has no pills (brown or otherwise) to cure this disease of young and old alike.

So while the Radicals and Conservatives fight it out, we will go on faithfully reporting both sides of the battle—but no! a robin just hopped by—probably on its way to Washington to report the advent of spring to Missouri, and so now the Linden Bark announces Spring has Sprung—tra la. (Ha, a scoop!)

Training For Leadership

The League of Women Voters, which will have a statewide convention at Lindenwood, March 28 and 29, not only attempts to foster good political leadership but tries to train its members to be leaders in good citizenship in their own communities. It believes that the training for leadership is of vital importance. The coming years will demand forceful leaders and college students are the material from which they are chosen. It is up to those who choose them and those who are chosen what type of leaders the country will have. The League convention will try to give a closer idea of training for leadership and its necessities. The convention should be important to each student on the campus as a potential leader.

Four weeks till Easter
Dear Mom:

Sorry I haven't written, but ever since I got your letter written the week after grades came out I have been following your advice and staying right here in my little goon castle getting my lessons every night. Lots of things have been happening, for instance the popularity queen dance last week. It was a lot of fun and that Chappie is a swell queen. I sure hope nobody saw her dancing in her sock feet after the crowning took place, as they might not think it was very dignified. But there is nothing worse than having your feet hurt, and I guess its alright for royalty to dance in its sock feet if it wants to. Speaking of Chap reminds me, I must ask her if she's heard from that Dr. Britt friend of hers.

Everyone is all stirred up over this family life conference that's coming up. Harriet Dillman says she is going an hour early to get a front-row seat for Dr. Popenoe's lecture on "How do you know its Love?" I guess I would be that interested too if I had four fellows phoning for dates every week-end. However I don't think my manless state is going to last much longer, as one of the seniors has promised to get me a date with a super-man for the Gus Ornheim dance.

Since I've been studying so much ti seems like I miss everything thats going on around here. Billie Stallings has been wearing a gorgeous diamond on the right finger for ever so long and I didn't know it. Marion Hanlon got one last week too, the lucky girl.

We almost had a clamity in chapel recently. Lois Waters knocked one of Jane Henss's books off the balcony rail and it crashed down right on top of one of my little classmates. Jane Henss reads such thick books too. Everyone here is really interested in her school work. Becky Rath is going to start taking horseback riding real soon. Florence Barry and Dorothy Sorgengrei, however, have decided they had better never sign up for archery as their aim is so bad. Marge Vanderlippe says she can't get interested in anything since she went to that Beta dance.

I feel sorry for Marilyn Applebaum. Her roommate Dody Lyden has four boy friends, and poor old Applebaum sits at home in the corner drawing up plans for her old ladies' home for jitterbugs. Margaret Barngrover's man from Coe College has come down three week-ends in succession. Next thing you know, he'll be hitch-hiking with Dr. Gage. I sure hope some of these girls enter their boy friends in the LINDEN BARK ROMEO CONTEST. I had a picture all ready to hand in, when one of my friends informed me it was no fair entering Tyrone Power.

Just everybody has been having birthdays. Frances Kruse in the tearoom celebrated hers March 4, and all the kids were singing happy birthday in the dining room to Barbara Burnett, and Nelle Motley. Marg Fischer and Doris Banta were both 19 on March 1, and their pals turned third Sibley into a Nazi Concentration camp and let 'em have it with wet bath towels. Sometimes when I hear things like that,

Exhibits To Be Feature of Family Life Conference

One of the attractions of the Family Life Conference will be the 11 exhibits which will be on display. One of the exhibits will be conducted by Miss Frances Whitehead, Chairman, department of Economics and Business at Lindenwood. Her exhibits will be on "Family and Personal Expense Records." The other displays will be "Consumer's Guide," "Children's Bureau," "Women's Bureau," "American Home Economics Association," "American Social Hygiene Association," "Child Study Association of America," "Family Welfare Association of America," "National Citizens' Committee of the White House Conference," "National Kindergarten Association," and "Public Affairs Committee."

Mom, I am glad my birthday isn't til July 4th. I told that to Ruth Dayton and she said she hadn't noticed my hair coming out in bangs. Sometimes these upperclassmen say the most amazing things that I don't understand at all. Never mind tho, I guess after I have had some more education I will be smart enough to catch on in those intelligent bull sessions held in the tea-house every afternoon.

Don't be surprised if you see my picture in Life Magazine just any week now. The photographers were on campus one day and they asked Jean Swarr, Judy Moore, Jenny Lee, and Ruthie Dayton if they would pose for them for Life Magazine. Swarr didn't have her glasses on and didn't notice the authentic stickers on the car and said some thing real quick-like to the man about yeah that's some line Buddy. By the time they realized what was going on the little man had jumped in his car and pedaled away. Those kids are still talking about the time they had their pictures in Life—almost.

I was sitting in the tea-house this afternoon when Effie Holley and Jerk Morrison came in followed by Mary Jean DuHadway, who was mumbling something about baking cakes in the foods lab. I couldn't hear exactly what she said because Jerk and Effie were talking so loud about whether Mary Jean and Gilbert are going to ride in a Rolls Royce or a Model T when they get married. That reminds me. Did I tell you that Betty Maude Jacoby got married? She's now Mrs. George C. Gibson.

I asked Carol Davenport today how her dinner went off that she gave for home economics. She said everything was just hunky dory, except that the arsenic in the potatoes tasted a little funny.

I don't guess there is much other news, except that Eleanor Latal is now minus her appendix, and doing splendidly, according to all reports. Listen Mom, don't forget to remind all the kids to write to me. It's such fun to have a full mail-box, only I don't care whether they are marked Roswell, New Mex. or not like Elsa Beth Hayes' letters.

Hoping that you haven't forgotten that my allowance is due on the fifteenth,

Your loving daughter,

A Freshie.

P.S.—Say Mom, I know you'll be glad to hear I have quit smokin'. I simply couldn't enjoy them after I heard some girl in the T House telling about the man who smoked so many camels his nerves got so steady he couldn't move.

THE CLUB CORNER

By JEAN MARTIN

A radio broadcast was given Sunday, March 2, from 7:15 to 7:30 p. m. over WTMV. The program was a play entitled "Somewhere in France" written for the broadcast by Miss Helen Dondanville, of Ottawa, Ill., and sponsored by Prof. John Stine of the speech department. Those taking part were: Miss Sara Jefferson, of Union City, Tenn., as Lucinda Vale; Miss Mary James, of Western Springs, Ill., as Claire Adams; Miss Bernice Clark, of Christopher, Ill., as Michele Vale; Miss Dondanville, as Antoine Vale; and Miss Sue Riley, of Wichita Falls, Texas, as the Nurse.

Kappa Pi, the art fraternity, announces the pledging of the following girls: Ardathe Ruple, Virginia McCamey, Marjory Vanderlippe, Carol Hammerschmidt, Kay Anderson, Avell Rayburn, Jeanne Kahler, Bette Cobb, Charlotte Galen, Jane Mobley, Patricia Lee, and Nancy Riggs.

El Circulo Espanol met February 11 in the Library clubroom. Nineteen members were initiated: Louise Austin, Barbara Burnett, Kathryn Claassen, Elizabeth Crossman, Pat Giese, Rosalie Hartman, Mary Morrison, Barbara Taylor, Jane Baldwin, Mary Kohlbry, Gloria Douthitt, Betty Ann Fooks, Laura Jean Hatch, Dolores Pritchett, and Jerrol Sandall, Shirley Rooks and Jean Graham, who have both spent several years in the Philippines gave an account of the islands and their experiences there.

Beta Pi Theta, honorary French sorority, met yesterday at 5 p. m. in the Library clubrooms. The program was under the direction of Doris Nahigian and was a play in which members of the club took part.

The Y.W.C.A. met February 12, in the Y.W.C.A. parlors. Dr. Chambers, a professor of philosophy at Washington University spoke on "Moslem Religion."

The North Central Music Conference, an auxiliary of the National Educator's Music Conference, will meet in Des Moines, Iowa, March 15 to 19 inclusive. This is the 34th year of the anniversary of the founding. It was founded in Keokuk, Iowa. Mrs. Lois M. Burkitt will attend representing Lindenwood.

Alpha Mu Mu announces the initiation of Frances Shudde and the pledging of the following girls: Freda Marie Eberspacher, Betty Killian, Lucille Quernhelm, Beatrice Ford, Dorothy Bailey, Virginia Donovan, Dixie Burnham, Marjorie Moberg, and Mary Emma Kanady.

The Home Economics Club announces its new pledges: Carol Bindley, Peggy Cassell, Carol Hammerschmidt, Isabel Moore, Dorothy Norris, Jean Osborne, Wilma Shacht, Hyacinth Young, Ardathe Ruple, and Jeane Kenitz.

Plans were outlined for the Science Show to be presented April 3. The display will be on 3rd floor Roemer, from 3 to 5 p. m. At 5 tea will be served on the "Rainbow Roof." The show promises some very interesting displays from the Science Department. Besides the exhibit in Roemer, there will also be a display in the Greenhouse. Everyone is invited to the show and to tea.

Prof. John Rath Is This Week's Linden Bark Guest Conductor

Prof. R. John Rath of the History Department has contributed the questions to the Quiz this week so all you history sharks, perk up and take notice, sharpen your wits and get busy! For each question correctly answered, give yourself a bright and shiny 10 points, and if you score above 50, consider yourself well above the average. Answers on page 4.

1. What territories now occupied by the Nazis were taken away from Germany in the Treaty of Versailles?

2. Was Poland ever partitioned before 1939?

3. Does England have much con-

tro! over her "dominions?"

4. What is the origin of the word "boycott?"

5. Did Washington, in his "Farewell Address," warn his countrymen to steer clear of all European alliances?

6. When was the last time that England was invaded by a foreign conqueror?

7. Has Mussolini always been an avowed enemy of socialism?

8. Were Germany and Russia ever tied together in a pact of friendship before August, 1939?

Where was Napoleon Bonaparte born?

10. What is the origin of the word "tank?"

Camp Counselor Course Offered This Semester

New service for Lindenwood girls has been installed this semester—the Camp Counselor Service. Every Thursday from 4 to 6 p. m., A. H. Wyman, executive director of the Park and Playground Association of St. Louis will hold a meeting of the 25 girls who have enrolled for this service. The planned course of study will be finished by the end of May, and the girls will have the privilege of spending a week-end at Sherwood Forest Camp, which is located in the Cuivre River Recreational Demonstration Area (this demonstration area has been acquired, developed, and administered by the National Park Service in cooperation with the Missouri State Park authorities) near Troy, Mo.

Some of the subjects which Mr. Wyman includes in his Camp Counselors Training Course are: problems of the camper, pioneering and woodcraft, health and safety, music in camp, drama around the council fires, nature trails, camp government, cooperative living, and methods of personal guidance.

This service is offered to the students free of charge and on a no-credit basis. If the plan is successful this year, it will become a permanent part of the curriculum of the school.

The Triangle Club announces its new members. They are: Ruth Haines, Elaine Anderson, Betty Jane Runge, Maurita Estis, Curtiss Faucett, Betty Gayle Wilson, Rita Stiefel, Jane Meredith, Betty Douglas, Barbara Bickle, and Harriet Dillman.

Sigma Tau Delta held its meeting February 27 in the Library clubrooms. Following the tea four new members were initiated: Dorothy Moss, Annamae Ruhman, Barbara Hill and Irene Altheide. The club was then addressed by Mrs. Emily Smith, for many years a resident of Paris, France. She discussed the political crisis that led to the French collapse. Mrs. Smith left Paris only two or three weeks before the Germans occupied the city, and is now residing with Mrs. George Massengale, of Webster Groves.

The Sunday night broadcast over station WTMV, on March 9, was under the direction of Miss Janie Clair Mason, of the History Department. The forum discussion was on "Japan and her Policy of Asia for the Asiatics." Those taking part were: Margaret Chapman, of Waterloo, Iowa; Ruth Shartel, of Neosho, Mo., and Genevieve Kniese, of Milton, Ind.

Numbers

In a little space right on my wall,
Are 30 numbers straight and tall.
Each stands for a day of 24 hours;
And each little number has strange powers.

Each passing day means a number will fall

And one less day will be left on my wall—

— A mark of a pencil, a scratch of a pen

Will cross out a day from its dawn to its end;

And the numbers remaining announce with vexation:

"30 days more until Easter Vacation!"

Faculty Gives Recital

Members of the music faculty of Lindenwood presented a faculty concert Sunday evening, in Roemer Auditorium. The program included numbers by Misses Eva Englehart and Janet Coulson, pianists, Miss Gertrude Isidor, violinist, and Mr. John Thomas, pianist.

Plans Made For League of Women Voters' Convention

Tentative plans for the League of Women Voters' convention to be held on the campus March 28-29, were announced this week by Mary Jo Sheppard, president of the Lindenwood chapter.

Stephens, Christian, William Woods, Missouri University, Drury, Central and St. Joseph Jr. College are invited to send two or three representatives. Each delegate will be assigned to a Lindenwood girl who will act as her personal hostess while on the campus. Jane Henss is the convention chairman.

Miss Bonnie Baumgartner, of Missouri University, (Phi Mu), president of the State League, will be present, and Jane Henss the state secretary.

Tentative plans include registration, tea, and business meeting in the Library club rooms Friday afternoon, March 28 with Mrs. G. Miller giving the welcome talk. After dinner there will be committee meetings in Ayres parlors, then at 8 p. m. the spring play, "The Pippin," will be given in the auditorium.

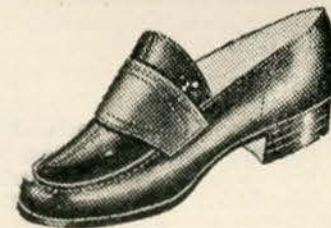

Saturday at breakfast the committees which met the night before will announce the new state officers, and the place of the next convention.

At 10 a. m. Saturday, March 29, a general meeting will be held in Sibley Chapel. Mrs. G. Gilharn will discuss how the league can keep democracy at work, and Mrs. V. Lobb on how the league trains for leadership in the community.

Lunch will be served in the "Hollywood" Saturday, after which there will be small group meetings and discussions. At 4 p. m. an informal tea and get-together will be held in the Library Club rooms and games in the gym.

The convention will close Saturday with a dinner in Ayres dining room and farewell address by Mrs. George Gilharn.

Answers to Bark Quiz

1. Alsace-Lorraine, which was given to France; the small districts of Eupen, Malmedy, and Moresnet, which were given to Belgium; the small strip of land on the Baltic coast known as Memel, which was given to Lithuania; and the Polish Corridor, which was given to Poland. In addition, all Germany's colonies were taken away and given as mandates, subject to the supervision of the League of Nations, to England, France, Japan, and the Union of South Africa.

2. Yes. Poland was divided between Russia, Prussia, and Austria in the partitions of 1772, 1793, and 1795.

3. No. Since the Statute of Westminster of 1931, all the dominions—South Africa, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and Ireland—have been equal in power with England.

4. In the nineteenth century, one of the British landlords in Ireland who was especially detested by the Irish was Captain Boycott. To express their protest over some of his oppressive actions, his Irish neighbors made an agreement not to have any dealings of any kind with him.

5. No. Washington merely said that since the United States of his time was a new and small nation, he thought it best for the time being to avoid permanent entangling alliances with European powers.

6. In 1066, when William the Conqueror, of Normandy, conquered England.

7. No. Until 1920—two years before he got control of the Italian government—Mussolini was a radical socialist propagandist.

8. Yes. In the 1870's and 1880's, Russia and Germany were tied together in the Three Emperor's League. From 1925 to 1932, when the Nazis came to power, Germany and Russia were also bounded together in a pact of friendship.

9. On the Island of Corsica.

10. In 1915, when the British government was making this secret weapon, it passed the word along that it was making a special kind of "tank" so as to prevent the news of the real nature of their weapon from reaching the enemy. The British first used the "tank" in the Battle of the Somme, of 1916.

Talks on Engraving

Lloyd Reynolds, a specialist in wood engraving, block printing, and theatrical make-up, visited Lindenwood March 3 to 5. He gave illustrated lectures to classes which he visited. His subjects were "Art and Society," and "Book-Making and Wood Engraving."

Many Social Events Planned For Family Life Conference

The Family Conference won't be all work, that is if you can call it work to attend lectures and discussions on "How Do You Know It's Love?" "Dating and Rating," "Can I Afford Marriage?" "Decorating Your First Home," and "Making a Success of Marriage."

Fun, recreation, and plenty to eat are in the planning too. Friday at 2:30 p. m. there will be open house with the entire student body acting as hostesses and guides. Then at 6 p. m. there will be gayeties in the dining room. At 8 that night Prof. John Stine of the Dramatic Art Department will read "My Heart's In the Highland," with introductory remarks by Dr. S. Betz of the English department. After this there will be an informal reception and dancing in the gym.

Saturday afternoon Butler Lounge will be open for recreation and at 9:30 p. m. Saturday there will be another informal dance in Butler gym.

The Planning Committee for the Family Life Conference is Dr. Florence W. Schaper, chairman; Mr. Guy C. Motley and Miss Ethel B. Cook. Members of the Program Committee are Dr. Schaper, chairman, Dr. Jessie Bernard, Miss Rachel Morris, Miss Fern E. Staggs, Miss Ada Dyer Tucker, Dr. R. L. Garnett, and Miss Frances Whitehead. Miss Helen A. Culbertson is in charge of exhibits. Charles Clayton, Dr. Kate L. Gregg, and Miss Margaret Cannon are in charge of publicity. Members of the Hostess Committee are Miss Fern E. Staggs, chairman, Miss Arabelle Foster, Miss Mary Lou Black, and the members of the Family class.

Mary Kay Kohlby Wins Tea House Contest

Mary Kay Kohlby, a freshman, is the lucky Lindenwood girl to win $25 for giving the Tea House a new name. The Tea House, long noted for years as the chummiest place on the campus to both students and faculty, has been renamed The Cupboard.

The contest to rename the Tea House was open to the entire school with $25 the reward. Names were submitted to Mr. Guy C. Motley who in turn submitted them to a St. Louis advertiser. He chose the five best names which were then voted on by applause by the student body. The Cupboard was the lucky choice and Mary Kay was the lucky girl to pocket the $25.

Dr. Gibson Back After Interesting Trip To East Coast

Dean Gipson recently returned from a meeting of the National Association of Deans, which met in Atlantic City, N. J. While in the east she visited St. Mary Of The Woods College in Indiana, then went to Washington, D. C. where she spent a day visiting with friends.

Near Boston she visited the newly-formed Endicott College. The college was founded two years ago by Mr. and Mrs. George Bejercoe. Mrs. Bejercoe was the former Dr. Eleanor Tupper, who for several years was head of the history department of Lindenwood College.

Dean Gipson stopped at Yale University in New Haven, where she consulted with some members of the faculty, then preceded to Atlantic City where she attended the convention and met many of her acquaintances.

On her return trip, Dean Gipson stopped over in Philadelphia where she was met by her brother Dr. Lawrence Gipson, who is head of the history department of Lehigh University in Bethlehem, Penn.

"The trip was valuable and worthwhile," said Dean Gipson, "But I'm glad to be back."

Lindenwood's Prize Jitterbug Selected

Frances Shudde and Pat Echols were elected Friday night Lindenwood's "Jitterbugs No. 1." The final contest was held at the dance after the presentation of the popularity queen. The other contestants were Billie Jean Frieland and Mary Aldridge.

The two couples danced before the guests and the first place winner was chosen by the applause of the audience.
