Lindenwood College
asks all who have ever been within her walls to join in Thanksgiving, in this Centennial
Year, for Loyalty; for Courage;
for Hope; and for Fulfillment.

Lindenwood has had something to be thankful for, at Harvest
Time, each year from 1827 until now.

The Century has multiplied her Blessings.

Celebrating A Day Of Thanksgiving

LINDENWOOD'S ANNUAL PROGRAMME IN TOKEN OF GRATITUDE

November is the month of Thanksgiving, and already in student minds the thought of the holiday is irrepressible; particularly to those girls who have been in college in preceding years, who know what a very good time is enjoyed in every way at Lindenwood on Thanksgiving.

It is only proper to begin with the sermon, which will be preached at 11 o'clock by Rev. John H. Moorehead, D.D., an able St. Louis clergyman, pastor of the Carondelet Presbyterian Church. The sermon will be delivered in Roemer Auditorium, with suitable accompaniment of Thanksgiving music. The offering of the day is for charity.

The "game," of course, comes first in the day, chronologically — the annual, much-talked of hockey game in which Missouri plays against Kansas — the "Razzers" against the "Jayhawks," with a little help on each side from other States, and much cheering from all. This is one of the crowning athletic events of the semester, beginning soon after breakfast, and ending in time to don purple and fine linen for the service and, yes, the dinner.

This splendid dinner, course after course, which furnishes talk for days afterward, will find every girl in place around the festal board. It is an unwritten law of Lindenwood that nobody leaves the place on Thanksgiving Day. They are all at home for dinner, and there are songs and music and perhaps a speech from Dr. Roemer, and goodies to take to one's room.

Events of the rest of the day are not all quite definite, but visions of a "tea-dance," a Y. W. "play," and "dates" enough to enliven the ensemble, flit before the fancy. It will be a wonderful day, with not one thought of study or work in it.

SIBLEY'S DEDICATION

Coming so near to Thanksgiving time, the dedication by the Board of Directors, on Friday, October 22, of the renewed and restored Sibley Hall, 70 years after its first dedication, was like an anticipatory time of giving thanks. Dr. John W. MacIvor, president of the Board, and other members, with Dr. Roemer presiding, conducted the official rites of dedication. Dr. Lucinda L. Templin, from a wealth of research as College Historian, presented a paper on "The Sibleys." The other woman speaker was Mrs. Victor E. Rhodes, president of the Alumnae Association, all the St. Louis Lindenwood Club members being at the college for the day, remaining for luncheon and for the 2 o'clock programme of dedication.

The recently reorganized Choral Club, with Miss Cora N. Edwards as director, gave songs for the occasion.

A flag was presented for Sibley Hall, with a speech by Adria Spielburger, and response by Ruth Bullion, house president of Sibley.

All that Dr. Templin said will later appear in book form, and is well worth preserving. At the outset of her discourse, the very years of the Sibleys conveyed an idea of the solemn meaning of Centennial year. "Maj. George C. Sibley, 1782-1862," and "Mary Easton Sibley, 1800-1878," thus are their records written.

Dr. Templin showed how Maj. Sibley's life was bound up with the history of the State and his service to the United States Government. He received the rank of major in the war of 1812. Records from 1805 on to 1828 show his service in promoting good feeling between the Indians and the United States government. His part in politics—a Whig—and his attendance as a delegate to the Whig national convention in Baltimore in 1844, which nominated Henry Clay, were incidents in the story. She said that his diaries impress one with "the goodness of heart of this man." His invalidism continued from 1851 to 1862, the time of his death.

Mrs. Sibley's charms were apparent when, as a girl of 15, with "her beauty, amiable disposition, and elegant accomplishments," she consented, as Maj. Sibley wrote, to go into the forest with him and "share whatever hardships and whatever pleasure are incident to a life of seclusion among the Indians." Maj. Sibley tells, in playful vein, of "the princesses" (Indians) who visited his abode. His bride did not bring silks and satins with her, but purchased for her trousseau bright merino dresses, which pleased the Indians greatly. Dr. Templin's narrative told of Mrs. Sibley's advanced way of thinking, and her original, dominant personality. One of the facts in her life, perhaps not generally known, was that she founded the first Sunday school in St. Charles. Her devotion to the college, her determination in raising money for its needs, and her long service to her husband, in his years of illness, were outstanding demonstrations of her fine spirit of helpfulness.

Student Clubs

With the first month of college, the students have been busy balancing "points," so that in the numerous activities no one may be overburdened with responsibility, but each one may do her share.

Prominent among the organizations are the State Clubs. The Missouri Club has as its president Annavere Brookshire; vice-president, Beth Campbell; secretary-treasurer, Frances Hitner; cheer leader, Pep Perry.

The Kansas Club's president is Florence Good; vice-president, Betty Denslow; secretary-treasurer, Mildred Smith; cheer leader, Dorothy Masters.

In the Illinois Club, Bernice Barkley is president; Edna May Stubbins, vice-president, and Catherine Clarke, secretary-treasurer.

Oklahoma has a large club, with Clara Bowles, president; Mary Tripodi, vice-president; Margaret Dawson, secretary-treasurer, and Ida Hayes, cheer leader.

In the Mississippi Club, Evelyn Teller is president, and Zelotta Castleman, secretary-treasurer. The Louisiana Club has the Ziegler girls, Florence and Norine, as president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

For the Arkansas Club, the president is Elizabeth Goode; vice-president, Margaret Mahan; secretary-treasurer, Eleanor Finley.

The Iowa Club has Harriet Liddle as its president; Clarice Thompson, vice-president; Miriam Robinson, secretary-treasurer, and Helen Baker, cheer leader.

For the Texas Club, officers are: President, Marjorie Bright; vice-president, Ailen Baker; secretary-treasurer, Delta Neumann.

Nebraska has Inez Westerling as president; Peggy Denise, vice-president; Mary Elizabeth Sawtell, secretary-treasurer; and Betty Mae Kelso, cheer leader.

In the Indiana Club, Susan Jordan is president; Pauline Short, vice-president; Frances Fatout, secretary-treasurer.

There are various departmental clubs. An English Club has Mary Margaret Ransom as its new president; Arlie Schnedler, vice-president; Louise Wielandy, secretary-treasurer; Janet Hood, chairman of the programme committee, and Mary Tripodi, chairman of the social committee. Janet Hood holds another office as president of the French Club, in which the vice-president is Pauline Davis; secretary, Anna Lois Mitchell, and treasurer, Lillie Bloemestiel.

The students' Euthenics (Good House-keeping) Club has begun its meetings, and elected Marjory Wills president; Ruth Foster, vice-president; Margaret Tainter, secretary, and Bessie McNary, treasurer.

The Athletic Association is in the midst of a spirited contest in play-writing, for the annual production to be given in March. A number of new members who have made the requisite number of points have been received, and the following officers have been elected:

President, Bernice Edwards; vice-president, Harriet Liddle; secretary, Elizabeth Goode; treasurer, Frances Stumberg; heads of sports: golf, Sue Woodruff; hiking, Kathryn Walker; swimming, Miriam Robinson; posture, Garnette Thompson; tennis, Agnes Boschert; hockey, Gertrude Webb.

Students who are editing "Linden Bark" are Betty Birch, Ruth Bullion, Martha Buxton, Peggy Denise, Florence Good, Alice Kingsbury, Dixie Laney, Catherine Staley, Evelyn Teller, Laura Lee Thomas, Geraldine Thompson, and Kathryn Walker, with Mary Margaret Ransom and Gertrude Webb as associates.

The Choral Club has elected Euneva Lynn president; Lois Lawton, vice-president, and Virginia Sue Campbell, secretary-treasurer. The Choir has Clara Bowles as its president; Geraldine Schwartz, vice-president, and Ruth Bullion, secretary-treasurer. Both Choral Club and Choir are contributing to the pleasure of various programs.

In connection with programs may be mentioned the motion picture machine, new this fall, under the care of Dr. Johnson, which has given its initial entertainment in Roemer Auditorium.

In the Art Department, Saturday Christmas classes are beginning, and also pilgrimages to the St. Louis Art Museum, 65 girls having accompanied Miss Linne-mann on the first expedition. The Art Department has organized with student officers: Grace Walker, president; Miriam Robinson, vice-president; Helen Condon, secretary, and Mildred Smith, treasurer.

Centennial Spirit

Already the girls are exclaiming that Lindenwood seems "different" this year, and more delightful. The spirit of the Centennial comes into every celebration. It was felt at the first large party of the year, September 24, when Miss Alice Linnemann's service of 25 years was honored—a complete surprise to her. Because of Miss Linnemann's long, enthusiastic service for Lindenwood's alumnae, every former student will rejoice in the generous gift which was made to Miss Linnemann, and the congratulatory greetings which were extended.

Again the Centennial was felt when Sibley Hall was rededicated. Dr. Tempelin, college historian, has collated the remarkable history of the Sibleys, part of which was given in her speech that day, which will later appear in a brochure.

The Centennial Class is feeling fully its dignity, and even the gay and reckless "Sophomore Week," just ended, had Centennial features.

Board Meeting

At the semi-annual meeting of Lindenwood's Board of Directors, on October 11, the Centennial was uppermost, and $15,000 was appropriated to carry out the details of the Centennial celebration. Bills for the renovation of Sibley Hall were approved. Financial matters of the college were found to be in excellent condition, and the audit for the year was approved.

Major Funkhouser Dies

Sympathy is felt by all former students, as well as those of today, in the bereavement sustained in the death of Maj. M. L. C. Funkhouser, of Chicago. His widow, to whom he was married more than 40 years ago, was the former Miss Eugenie Mermod, of St. Louis, who graduated in the literary department at Lindenwood in 1880, and who was the first president of the Chicago Lindenwood College Club.

Major Funkhouser was prominent for a number of years in the Board of Police Commissioners in Chicago, and was in charge of the "Morals Squad." He had been in the insurance business since 1884. He was a leading member of the Illinois National Guard, in which he attained the rank of major. He was a thirty-second degree Mason, belonging to the Blue Lodge and the Consistory, as well as to the Shrine in Chicago.

Four married daughters, all living in Chicago, and Mrs. Funkhouser, survive him.

* * * *

Miss Iva M. Adams (1920-21), who is now in business for herself in Mangum, Okla., as an interior decorator, writes that "all the Suite 1's" are "planning strong" on returning for the Centennial. It is understood, she says, that "that means Florence, Louise, Ellen and Iva." She thinks "it will be a wonderful get-together, for so many things have happened to all since we were together."

Dr. Roemer participated, on October 15, in inaugural ceremonies at St. Paul, Minn., for Dr. John Carey Acheson, new president of Macalester College.

Mary Easton Sibley Fund Notes

EDITED BY CLARENCE A. BLOCHER, FIELD SECRETARY

A Good Investment

One thousand dollars will pay for the schooling of one girl at Lindenwood College for one and one-third years. This would be a good single investment and would undoubtedly yield ample returns to society upon the amount invested. However, there is a much better way to invest that same one thousand dollars in education—one that will insure far greater returns to the social and civic life of the State.

This same one thousand dollars, if placed in the Mary Easton Sibley Scholarship Fund, would pay fifty dollars on some girl's tuition each year throughout the years to come. During the next hundred years, it will have helped one hundred girls; and will be still intact and drawing interest to help other girls.

Fifty dollars may seem but a small part of the cost of a year in college; yet there are hundreds of girls to whom that amount of money some time during their college career would be a great boon. Five such scholarships would more than pay the entire cost of a girl's tuition for one year. Many girls every year are dropping out of college, or failing to enter college at all, just because they need one hundred or two hundred dollars more than is available for their education. These are the girls that Lindenwood is seeking to help. It is for their benefit that this scholarship fund is being raised.

If you desire to help other people we cannot conceive of any way in which you can render a more needed service or a more lasting one than by subscribing to the scholarship fund. Then again, the benefits derived from such help are cumulative. As these girls go out into the world, they carry to others the inspiration and the knowledge which they have received at Lindenwood.

By your gift you are:

1. Honoring Mrs. Mary Easton Sibley;
2. Enabling Lindenwood, your college, to render a real service to deserving girls.
3. Helping these same girls to continue their college career.
4. Blessing humanity through the lives of the women thus helped.

Smaller Gifts

Many former students are saying that they cannot give one thousand dollars to this cause. They simply do not have it to give. Such people, even with their small gifts, can render a real service. One hundred women each giving ten dollars a year for three years would create a fund of three thousand dollars. One thousand such gifts would mean thirty thousand dollars and the interest on thirty thousand dollars would pay for the tuition of seven girls every year at Lindenwood. Small amounts, if they come in large numbers, are far more effective than a few large amounts. There are more than three thousand alumnae and former students of Lindenwood College. If each one will just give what she is able to give our Scholarship Fund will be a reality. Why not send in your subscription now? We need it; and the earlier it is given the greater the benefit to the cause.

One woman sends her subscription and accompanies it with this message:

"Although I attended the academy only, I want to do my part in making the contributions to this fund total 100 per cent." This is the true Lindenwood spirit—the spirit that will make the movement succeed.

Hopes for 100 per Cent

Mrs. W. K. Roth, the new president of the St. Louis Lindenwood College Club, urged all the members, at the first meeting of the season, Monday afternoon, October 4, at Mrs. Roth's residence, to sign the pledge cards, so that there may infallibly be 100 per cent St. Louis membership in the Sibley Scholarship Fund.

It was a call meeting, to begin the year, many of the members having been away on summer vacations, and the club met soon after, on October 22, at the college, spending the day there in honor of the Sibley Hall rededication. An invitation to this event, from Dr. Roemer, was read at this first club meeting, and was cordially accepted.

Mrs. Roemer, Dean Gipson and Miss Alice Linnemann were guests of the club.

Another pleasant invitation was that of Mrs. C. H. Baker, inviting St. Louis club members at any time to visit her and the Southern California Club at their Thursday meetings at Mrs. Baker's home in Los Angeles. Her invitation was read, and will surely be accepted, if any of "the girls" are in the West.

Appointment of members of the committees of the Eighth District Federation of Women's Clubs was made as follows: American citizenship, Miss Laura Ellwanger; American homes, Mrs. Joseph White; applied education, Mrs. C. S. Franke; fine arts, Miss Lillian Zacher; music, Miss Mabel Nix; literature, Mrs.

Lorraine Bernero; international relations, Mrs. Lulu D. Hynson; legislation, Mrs. Frank Koeneke; press and publicity, Mrs. E. G. Blankenmeister; public welfare, Mrs. Leonard Scott. Mrs. Roth represented the club at the Missouri State Federation of Clubs meeting at Columbia, October 12-15.

St. Louis girls resident at the college have organized their St. Louis Associate Lindenwood College Club for the season, with the following officers: Grace Walker, president; Margaret Patterson, vice-president; Louise Schofield, secretary-treasurer.

Has Traveled Much

Mrs. Horace B. Thompson (Glavina Lindsley), of 1246 Broadway, Hannibal, Mo., a student in Lindenwood's lower grades in Civil War times, has revived her interest in former days by reading of Miss Clem Cole (1863-64), who was in college at the same time. Mrs. Thompson says that she has traveled much since leaving college. Her second son, Bennett, is now abroad, and besides touring Europe, he visited Algiers and Tunis.

Mrs. Thompson is interested, and "knows the mothers" of several Hannibal girls now at Lindenwood. For herself, she hopes to celebrate the Centennial at the college, May 28-31.

* * * *

Radio "fans" may "listen in" for Lindenwood singers and musicians from station KMOX, from 8 to 8:30 on the night of November 10, and also on November 20 and December 11.

Mrs. G. R. Jenkins (Augusta D. Karberg) has a new address, in Chicago, at 7236 Jeffery avenue.

Weddings

The marriage of Miss Eunice Helene Willbrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Willbrand, of St. Charles, on Thursday, October 7, to Mr. Paul Blessing, is the first wedding in the 1926 senior class. Miss Arlie Schnedler, now at the college, played the wedding march. The bride's gown was of crepe chiffon, trimmed in rhinestones and crushed roses, her veil being caught by a band of rhinestones and orange blossoms. She carried bride's roses and valley lilies. There were several attendants, and a wedding supper followed, after which the bridal pair left for a motor tour to Washington, D. C. They will be at home in St. Charles after November 1.

Miss Rosa Hofsommer, a student of last year, was married on October 12, at St. Paul's Evangelical Church, St. Louis, to Mr. David E. Owen. Miss Lenore Schofield, a Lindenwood freshman, left her studies for the day, in order to be maid of honor at the wedding. The bride's brother accompanied her to the altar. She wore a gown of poudre blue chiffon, trimmed in silver lace and blue velvet ribbon, with a picture hat of the same shade. The bridesmaid's dress was of coral chiffon. The wedding party was entertained at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Rosa Gintz, in Belleville, Ill., after which Mr. and Mrs. Owen started on a motor tour of the east.

A delayed announcement has been received of the marriage of Miss Ruth Peters (1923-24), of Hot Springs, Ark., to Mr. Raymond Crew, of Goodwater, Ala. The ceremony took place August 8.

Announcement cards have been received from Mrs. George L. Osborne, telling of the marriage of her daughter, Mildred (1921-22), at their home in El Paso, Texas, Tuesday, September 14, to Mr. James Russell Worthington. Mr. and Mrs. Worthington's card is enclosed, announcing them at home at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Core, of Pine Bluff, Ark., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Nan, to Mr. Raymond Andrew Karcher, on Monday, October 11, at her parents' home. The bride was a graduate in music at Lindenwood in 1922, after attending two years. Mr. and Mrs. Karcher will reside at Little Rock, Ark.

Mrs. James Frank Harrison has sent cards announcing the marriage of her daughter, Frances (1916-18), to Mr. Max H. Carter, Wednesday evening, September 15, at Carthage, Ill.

Dr. and Mrs. Adrian Elder, of Chicago, announce the marriage of their daughter, Faye Katheryn (1923-24), to Mr. John Wallace Lamb, Wednesday, July 28. "At home" cards announce their future residence as 7007 Sheridan road, Chicago.

Invitations were received from Mr. and Mrs. Rene S. Levy for the marriage of their daughter, Irma (Lindenwood, 1924-25), to Mr. Hans Katz, on Tuesday, October 19, at Temple Beth Israel, in Houston, Texas. A reception followed the ceremony, at Hotel Warwick. Mr. and Mrs. Katz's future home will be in New Orleans.

Los Angeles Vividly Alive

Mrs. May Wright Stelle, corresponding secretary of the Southern California Lindenwood College Club, writes a letter to "Dear Lindenwood Bulletin," saying:

"As you see, we are still carrying on, on the Far West coast. September always opens the winter's activities, although please do not imagine Los Angeles is dead in the summer. Far from it. Here, however, as elsewhere, the clubs, many of them, discontinue their summer programmes, the churches are less active, schools and colleges close their doors, and with so many members away for the summer, we do not expect to accomplish as much as usual. However, our club has been busy right along, doing its best with reduced numbers.

"The anticipation of Dr. and Mrs. Roemer's visit has stimulated the dear girls to greater things, and we trust their West Coast trip may bring to them new inspiration.

"The card party and luncheon at the Elks' Club was well attended on September 11, while several who could not attend the luncheon came in the afternoon for cards. The business meeting, at 10:30 a. m., disposed of several important matters, of which you may hear in a later issue.

"Mrs. E. E. Huse (Grace Lauman), of 1723 Durango avenue, Los Angeles, has been appointed chairman of the hospitality committee, in place of Mrs. May Wright Stelle, who was elected corresponding secretary.

"Mrs. Jerrell R. Kemp, of 847 South Madison avenue, Pasadena, is recovering from an injury to her arm, and we trust will be able to attend our functions in a short time.

"A dinner at the Mary Louise Tea Rooms, to which husbands, family and friends are invited, is booked for October 9.

"The card party at the Huntley Hotel will be the next feature of importance. This occurs October 15."

Lindenwood "Party"

Mrs. M. H. Prill, of Centralia, Ill., formerly Faye Kurre, a graduate of 1911, writes telling of "a little Lindenwood party," given in Jackson, Mo., with old and young Lindenwood College girls in attendance. The affair (on August 28) was a Lindenwood luncheon given by Mrs. Prill's sister, Mrs. C. H. Wolter, of Jackson.

There were eight guests, Misses Margaret Boss, Miriam Schwartz, Virginia Litzelfelner, Elizabeth Miltenberger, Margaret Bowman, Mrs. Lillian Bowman Goodwin, and Mrs. Emma Boss McCombs.

"Miss Litzelfelner sang a pretty solo, accompanied by Miss Miltenberger, showing some of Lindenwood's accomplishments. Each girl enjoyed telling of college good times and experiences, and pledged herself to boost the old school and always be proud to be classed as an L. C. girl."

It is intended by these girls to organize a Lindenwood College Club, covering southeast Missouri. Mrs. Prill is "counting on coming" to the Centennial.

Among the ministers who have spoken at vespers or chapel have been the president of the Board of Directors, Dr. John W. MacIvor; Dr. R. W. Ely of St. Charles; Dr. L. V. Buschman, of the Tyler Place Presbyterian Church, and Dr. William B. Lampe, of the West Church. Literature and music were discussed, at Thursday assemblies, by Mr. Cyril Clemens and Mr. Richard Spamer.

Chicago's Plans

The Lindenwood College Club of Chicago held its October meeting at Marshall Field's tea room. Mrs. W. W. Seymour was not able to be present, and Mrs. G. R. Jenkins, vice-president, presided. Plans were completed for a card party and bakery sale, November 2, for the benefit of the Mary Easton Sibley Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Louis Linnell told of her visit to Lindenwood this summer, and said "that nothing so aroused interest in Lindenwood as a visit there." Those of the girls who go back occasionally know she is right.

This club met with Mrs. W. W. Seymour on September 10, where a great deal of interest in, and enthusiasm for, plans for the coming year was shown.

A programme with "Education" for its theme was adopted. The September topic was "Education Through Play," and that of October, "Education in Motherhood." On November 12, the club will consider "Education in Citizenship;" December 10, "Education in Music;" January 14, "Education Through Higher Ideals;" February 11, "Education Through Art;" March 11, "Education Through Book Lore;" April 8, "Educational Outlook for Today."

The May meeting will be an anticipation of the Jubilee Celebration, and afterward, on June 10, the club's theme is to be, "Echoes from Lindenwood."

Plans were discussed and formed, to raise money for the Mary Easton Sibley scholarship fund. Business was adjourned for a social hour, at which delightful refreshments were served.

* * * *

Mrs. E. R. Gentry (Anna Whyte) is now living at the Hyde Park Hotel, Chicago.

From Cities of Texas

The Texas Lindenwood Club held the first meeting of its 1926-27 season on October 2 at the Y. W. C. A. tea room, Dallas, Texas. Luncheon was served to six members, and a short business meeting followed.

Those present were: Mrs. K. B. McClure (Frances Titzell) and Miss Katherine Huddleston of Dallas; Misses Dorothy Gee and Marie Arthur of Denison; Mrs. W. M. McVeigh (Blanche Fielding) and Mrs. A. T. Seymour, Jr. (Geraldine Smythe), of Fort Worth.

Kansas City's Activity

The Kansas City Lindenwood Club started the fall meetings in September with Mrs. G. V. Metzger (Gladys Myers), Mrs. E. B. Gray (Martha Miller), and Miss Gertrude Nofsinger as the hostesses at the University Women's Club. Mr. C. A. Blocher was there and told many interesting things about the Mary Easton Sibley Scholarship Fund. The vice-president, Mrs. W. C. Goffe (Beverly Gill), presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. P. F. Donnelly.

The October meeting was held in the same place on the twelfth and the hostesses were Misses Fannie Mae Sosland, Sylvia Rubens and Mierin Litman. There was a good attendance and Mrs. Donnelly was warmly greeted after her return from spending several months in Europe. A delightful musical program was given and many plans were made, both for the raising of money and for several social affairs.

Mrs. Emmet B. Day (Margaret Seymour) has sent in her address under the new name—2450 East Seventy-second street, Chicago.

Omaha Tea for New Girls

The Lindenwood College Club of Nebraska entertained at the Omaha University Club, September 14, with a tea in honor of the Nebraska girls going to Lindenwood this year—the old girls meeting the new girls, and the new girls meeting the very “new” girls. “The girls of yesterday,” writes the secretary, “enjoyed the enthusiasm of the girls of today.

“Doris Scroggin Schumacher and Ellen Bloom Keller reminisced. There were only two buildings, Sibley and Jubilee, when they were at Lindenwood, while at the time that Helen Wilson Wells attended Lindenwood historic Sibley constituted the whole school.

“We were so glad to see Emma Jean Wiggs Street and Georgia Street. Frances Smith Mulligan and Mary Wigton Holmes were unable to come. Georgiana Sutherland and Catherine Garrett told the new girls of their days at Lindenwood. Helen Rudolph, Marion Robb, and Mary Elizabeth Sawtell extended a cordial welcome to the girls.

“Dr. Roemer’s telegram was read, and you should have seen the true Lindenwood spirit. It really meant so much to us.

“Lindenwood colors were used in profusion at the tea-table. A delightful hour was spent over refreshments, and all the girls became very well acquainted.

“At parting, we told the girls of today that we would see them in May, and we hope to make it 100 per cent.”

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Perry, of Wauwatosa, Wis., announce the coming of their son, Wilson Bennett, on September 21. Mrs. Perry was formerly Miss Salome Woolard Wilson, a graduate of Lindenwood’s expression department in 1915.

A babygram from Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Woodward (Ann Manson, 1921-22), of Topeka, Kan., announces the arrival, on September 26, of their little son, Thomas Luther, with a weight of seven pounds.

Barbara Burnett is the name of the little daughter on the stork-card from Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Holler (Alma Williams, 1920), of Los Angeles, Calif., who announce her advent on September 19.

The arrival of Jack Morris Hirsh, on October 1, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Hirsh, in Atlanta, Ga., is announced. Mrs. Hirsh was Miss Sadye Puller (1918-19). The Hirshes have recently removed, in Atlanta, to 682 Park Drive, N. E.

Rev. and Mrs. O. G. Tiemann, of Parshall, N. D., announce the advent of a 10-pound son, Jerome Noel, on August 24. Mrs. Tiemann was Miss Alma Frerking, of Corder, Mo., and attended Lindenwood, 1917-18.

J. L. Turner III, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Turner (Willene Palmer, 1919-20), has formal cards befitting his dignity as the third of his name. He was born at his parents’ home in Memphis, Tenn., on Friday, September 17.

Little Joan Brown arrived on October 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Brown, at Evanston, Ill., with a weight of 8 pounds, 7 ounces. Mrs. Brown was formerly Miss Rowena Oliver Gamber, who graduated at Lindenwood in 1920.
