Faithful "Lin" is no more

MASCOT OF COLLEGE ENDS HIS LONG SERVICE

"Lin," the constant companion of Dr. and Mrs. Roemer, and the College mascot, is no more. On Monday, July 6, he passed peacefully away in the tenth year of his life.

Dr. Roemer purchased Lin, an Alaskan Spitz dog, when he was three months old, and brought him to Lindenwood College, where he was to live unto the end of his earth life. There was never a meeting at the College for more than nine years that Lin was not there. Every Chapel audience was familiar with the presence of the white-furred, black-eyed dog, stretched out alongside of the President. Girls could come and go, but Lin never failed to recognize and greet them when they returned. To the girls at Lindenwood since 1916 it will not be the same without the little mascot to speak his silent language of welcome.

It was August of 1916 that the little "ball of white wool" was introduced to his new and only earth home of the future. He was the most photographed dog ever on the campus. Few students of the years of Lin's life are without his picture. Cameras played upon him constantly. Newspaper photographers sought his picture, for they considered him a most beautiful dog. His picture appeared in papers and magazines throughout the country. The first five years of his life was spent in Jubilee Hall, where Dr. and Mrs. Roemer resided; the balance of his days were spent at "The Gables," the President's home. A story is told that when the President's home was established at "The Gables," Lin desperately fought with the men moving his bed in Jubilee Hall and could only be pacified by his master coming after him and taking him to his new home.

Lin was passionately fond of his master and mistress, and felt his place in the dining room and at receptions was with them. When he arrived at a meeting everybody knew who was coming and near at hand. When Dr. Roemer was away from home Lin never slept during the night, but hourly visited Mrs. Roemer's bedside to see that she was safe.

The Church Federation of St. Louis picnicked at Lindenwood one day in June several years ago. A meeting was held in the auditorium. When Lin appeared on the platform the preachers applauded, much to the satisfaction of his canine majesty, and when prayer was offered the preachers declared he bowed his head with them.

The last time Dr. and Mrs. Roemer saw their faithful, speechless friend was when they bade him good-bye at the railroad station June 26, when they departed for Colorado. Upon hearing of Lin's death they instructed the folks at the College to place him in a coffin and give him a burial place near the old Cemetery where a memorial to Lin, the faithful dog friend, will be erected.

Again at Manitou

Dr. and Mrs. Roemer found Manitou, Colo., attractive again this summer, and left for that cool resort in late June. After spending several days with friends in Denver, they went on for several weeks in Manitou, occupying the same quarters which they have had for several seasons. They are now at home again, preparing for fall.

Centennial Steadily in Sight

DEFINITE TASKS APPOINTED BY ALUMNAE AND CLUBS

"Hitting on all cylinders" is the Lindenwood College Inter-Club Federation, and plans are well in hand, with students of other days from Kansas City, Chicago, St. Louis, St. Charles and other cities on the official staff, to travel ahead at good speed toward the Centennial Celebration of 1927.

To insure undivided concentration, it was voted at the Federation meeting in Sibley Hall on June 8 to retain the officers of the Federation, elected last year, to serve right through till after the Centennial. So here's hoping that all have good health and no handicaps. These officers are as follows:

President, Mrs. T. W. Overall (Fanny Gill), Kansas City, Mo.

Vice-President, Mrs. G. B. Lown (Jennie Vincent), Chicago, Ill.

Corresponding Secretary, Miss Alice Linnemann, St. Charles, Mo.

Treasurer, Miss Helene Stumberg, St. Charles, Mo.

Recording Secretary, Miss Janet Stine, St. Louis, Mo.

REPRESENTING CENTERS

As all clubs were not able to send representatives to this meeting, the following girls who attended Lindenwood in the last year and who reside in the club centers, were invited to attend as representatives, each of the club in her own district: St. Joseph, Ann Stark; St. Louis, Margaret Wilson; Tulsa, Elizabeth Barnes; Joplin, Dorothy Augustine; Wichita, Elizabeth Owens; Omaha, Marguerite Wiles; Moberly, Helen Towles and Marion Bowers; Oklahoma City, Maxine Curreathers; Belleville, Ill., Elsa Brechnitz; Parsons, Kan., Sharlin Brewster; Pine Bluff, Mona Carnahan; Texarkana, Christine Young; Iowa, Rella Gammon; Little Rock, Geraldine Fitzgerald and Elizabeth Bramlitt; Indiana, Dorothy Dunseth; Dallas, Anabel Couper.

POINTS IN PROGRAM

Owing to the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Overall, which was much regretted, Mrs. Lown presided in an able and gracious manner. Dr. J. L. Roemer and Mr. C. A. Blocher gave short talks. After Miss Linnemann had read the minutes as secretary, she read a letter from Mrs. Overall, at Mrs. Lown's request, containing suggestions for the Centennial Celebration.

Other excellent suggestions followed, in a discussion. A committee was appointed by Mrs. Lown, to make plans for the part that the Alumnae and Clubs will take in this great centennial event, Mrs. Joseph H. White, the chairman, being empowered to appoint additional members, when needed. The committee follows:

Mrs. Joseph White, St. Louis, chairman; Mrs. T. W. Overall, Kansas City; Mrs. Pearl Aiken Smith, Chicago; Mrs. Francis Rauch, St. Charles; Miss Marie Bruere, New York; Mrs. W. C. Hamill, St. Louis.

THOSE WHO ATTENDED

The following clubs responded to the roll call, with representatives as designated:

St. Louis, Mrs. Ella Fairman Koeneke; Mrs. W. C. Hamill (Fern Baird); Mrs. J. H. White (Eunice Holman).

New York, Mrs. L. A. Burritt (Susan Anderson).

Chicago, Mrs. G. B. Lown (Jennie Vincent).

Kansas City, Mrs. Chester Birch (Laura Welty).

St. Charles, Miss Helene Stumberg, Miss Alice M. Linnemann.

From Los Angeles, Miss Helen Chesbrough was expected, but did not arrive.

Student representatives responded from the following clubs: St. Louis, Margaret Wilson; Tulsa, Elizabeth Barnes; Joplin, Dorothy Augustine; Omaha, Marguerite Wiles; Moberly, Marion Bowers; Oklahoma City, Maxine Curreathers; Parsons, Kan., Sharlin Brewster; Little Rock, Geraldine Fitzgerald; Dallas, Anabel Couper.

Mr. C. A. Blocher has returned from a tour of several weeks in western States, in the interest of the College.

"Useful Life" for Both

Work for the coming year has been accepted by each of the Arveson sisters. Miss Elizabeth Arveson, beginning in mid-July, has taken up a position which is new and shows the trend of the age—that of secretary to the Head of Women's Activities in the Ralston Purina Mills, St. Louis. That this is a progressive firm is shown by the fact that its president, Mr. William H. Danforth, is head of the American Youth Foundation, which had its first summer assembly this year at the new Minniwanca Camp, Mich. "Betty" Arveson was head of the student council at Lindenwood in the last year, and stood high in her class at graduation.

Miss Maude Arveson, who was president of this year's senior class, and who was the first Lindenwood graduate to receive two degrees, completing two courses (A. B. and B. S.), is to become a teacher, and has been engaged for the high school at Madison, Mo. She will teach English and Music.

The Arveson girls' home is in Merrill, Wis.

A Legacy Unending

Lindenwood has never been selfish, however great her prosperity, and the College rejoices with others when it is declared that Col. James Gay Butler, who gave so generously to Lindenwood, was the inspiration to his friend, Charles Rebstock, of St. Louis, to give $1,000,000 to Washington University. Mr. Rebstock, from his home in Hawthorne place, said in making this recent gift, that he had had long conversations with his friend, in which the example of Col. Butler had convinced him of the satisfaction of giving to worthy and serviceable causes. Both men agreed that among these "worthy and serviceable causes," education is one of the most important.

Thus "the candle sheds its beams," and if other institutions in the future still find reflected benefit from the good which benefactors have seen in Lindenwood, it will make all rejoice who have the best interests of education at heart. Meanwhile, if the reflection comes back in more gifts to Lindenwood, that will be welcome, too.

Prayer Conference

A summer conference for prayer and Bible study, with emphasis on prayer, was held July 11 to 20, under the direction of the Dudley Bible Institute and Nichols Academy, in Worcester County, Mass. Mrs. John A. Robertson (Mary Clay, graduate 1909) is among those who were specially interested in the conference, her home being at Dorchester, Mass. The buildings of the Dudley Schools and a 70-acre campus of woods, lakes and hills were placed at the disposal of those attending. Paul Rader, the new president of the Dudley Schools, was one of the speakers, and among others were Rev. H. B. Dinwiddie, Philadelphia; Rev. Theodore Lyman Frost, Braintree, Mass.; Rev. Stanley Homer Morgan, Cambridge, Mass., and Rev. A. W. Gidart, Professor of Hebrew at Columbia University. The Dudley Schools stand on a Fundamentalist platform.

Dr. Gipson's Return

Dr. Alice E. Gipson, Dean of the College, returned in mid-July from her tour of a number of eastern colleges, investigating different problems connected with administration. After a period of supervision in her offices at the College, her real vacation is now beginning. She will spend this with her father and mother, at their home in Caldwell, Idaho. Dr. Gipson visited Smith, Mount Holyoke, Wheaton, Wellesley and Radcliffe Colleges.

New Art Lectures

Miss Alice A. Linnemann, head of the Art Department, is planning a trip to Jefferson City, to see the new Brangwyns that have been installed at the State Capitol. She will have slides made of these paintings, and in the fall will be prepared to give illustrated lectures on "Art at the Capitol."

Mary Easton Sibley Fund Notes

EDITED BY CLARENCE A. BLOCHER, FIELD SECRETARY

Save the Pennies

One of our most active Lindenwood girls of yesterday writes: "I find that by saving every penny given me in change and putting it in a little bank, the amount will buy a $100 Liberty Bond at the end of the year, and I don't miss the change."

There is a suggestion here that is worth considering by every former Lindenwood student who desires to see the Mary Easton Sibley Scholarship Fund succeed. One penny isn't much; and all of the pennies that you get in change during the year may not be very much; but when these are added to all the pennies received during the year by all the other 2,700 graduates and former students of Lindenwood the sum would be considerable.

If everyone would adopt this plan from now until January 1, 1926, and then send in the pennies thus saved, I am sure that we should have some startling figures. Why not try it? You will not miss the money, and you will greatly aid the Scholarship Fund.

M. E. S. S. Banks

Speaking of saving the pennies, we are reminded of the little bank that the Alumnae Association went to not a little trouble and expense to get out last fall.

These banks were designed for this very purpose—to be placed in a convenient spot about the house to receive the pennies, nickels and dimes that one might drop in from time to time for the benefit of the Mary Easton Sibley Fund. They are conveniently shaped so that when full they can be easily wrapped and mailed to the College.

Many of these have already been distributed, but a goodly number is still on hand in the office of the Field Secretary. If you should like to have one of them to help you save your pennies, kindly write us and we will gladly send it to you.

Helping Those Who Need Help

Did you ever stop to think just how many young girls there are of your acquaintance who are ambitious to have a college education and whose parents would like to send them to college, but are not quite able financially to do so? These parents could pay a part of their daughter's expenses in college, and would gladly do so if the opportunity were offered.

Just think what a scholarship of say $200 a year would do for such girl. It would enable her the better to prepare herself for the work of life; while she in turn would bring back to her community that wholesome and helpful influence that emanates from a college trained mind and heart. Yet, for the lack of this scholarship, she is compelled to go through life without the advantages of a college education.

It is just these girls that the Mary Easton Sibley Scholarship Fund will help. Bear in mind that the principal of this fund is not to be used; but that the interest each year will be spent in giving scholarships to worthy, ambitious girls who just can't go to college without this assistance. In this way some twenty-five girls will be kept in college each year. As the years go by, only think of the accumulated good that will be accomplished. Isn't it a great work? How much of an interest do you want in it? Let us know by sending in your pledge at once.

Teachers on Vacation

From coast to coast the tours of Lindenwood College teachers extend, this summer. Contrary to the scientific dictum that "the best vacation is the dull-est," these teachers all seem to be having times that are far from dull.

Away on the western border, besides Dean Gipson, who is with her parents in Idaho, Miss Amy Williams of the English department, is in Vancouver, B. C., with headquarters at the Y. W. C. A.

Camp Roosevelt, in Yellowstone National Park, was the rest place of Dr. Bertha E. Martin and Miss Ethel T. Eltinge, of the biology department, for two weeks immediately after commencement, after which they both went to visit in the East, Dr. Martin at Ware, Mass., and Miss Eltinge at Syracuse, N. Y.

Miss Marjorie Weber, head of the physical education department, is at her home in Baltimore, 3443 Guilford terrace. On the opposite side of the Continent is Miss Mary P. Barnett, of the modern languages department, who is at her father's home in Mabel, Ore.

Far on the border, at Albuquerque, N. Mex., Miss Paula Postel is forgetting all the difficulties of a large college choir.

Besides Miss M. Louise Stone, head of the modern language department, whose summer abroad has been mentioned, Lindenwood's librarian of the last year, Miss Wintress Brennan, will make a long stay in Europe. Miss Lucille Hatch, of the music department, is also studying abroad.

The head of the music department, Mr. John Thomas, combines pleasure with duty, in the annual summer visit of himself and his wife with the former's father and mother, in Colorado Springs. Miss Ariel Gross went to Bridgeport, Conn., and Miss Ruth Craig to Traverse City, Mich.

Miss Dorritt Stumberg, head of the psychology department, is studying in Boston.

Dr. Arden R. Johnson, professor of chemistry, was at Chicago University for a time, before going to Waunakee, Wis. Graduate work at Chicago University consumed most of the summer for Mr. A. L. Odenweller, of the education department.

Miss Lucia Persis Hutchins, of the expression department, did some interesting work at the Cox Theatre in Cincinnati, O.

Miss Kathryn Hankins, at Webster Groves, head of the classical language department, and Miss Lillian J. Allyn, of 2630 Russell boulevard, head of the business department, were two teachers who kept near home for most of the summer.

Many different States claimed others. In Kansas, two teachers are visiting home folks—Miss Mary C. Olsen, professor of history, is at home in Lawrence; and Miss Elizabeth Stewart, head of the home economics department, is with her parents on their ranch near Marion.

Miss Leta M. Meacham is also on a ranch, with relatives at Weiser, Idaho. Miss Margaret Miles is at La Grange, Ill., and Miss Anna Wurster, teacher of French, at Lafayette, Ind.

Mr. Paul Wielandy, of St. Louis, has registered his daughter, Miss Louise, as a student of the College for the coming year.

Weddings

Before the bulletin goes to press, Miss Floy Winks, former teacher in the English department, will have become the bride of Mr. Blaine M. De Lancey, of Parkersburg, W. Va. Invitations were sent by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lincoln Winks, to the wedding, Tuesday evening, July 21, at 8 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian Church of Attica, Ind. A reception at the Harrison Hills Country Club followed the ceremony. Accounts were given in the press of Attica, a few weeks previously, of Mrs. Winks' reception at the Harrison Hills Country Club of that city, June 18, in honor of her daughter, at which time the engagement was formally announced.

Miss Pauline Jeanette French's marriage to Mr. William G. Maier, Jr., is announced by her sister, Miss Eleanor French, at whose home in Charleston, Mo., the ceremony took place, Wednesday afternoon, June 24, at 5:30 o'clock. The bride was at Lindenwood, 1919-21, up to her graduation from the home economics department. She has taken an active part in church work, and has taught in the Charleston public schools. Mr. and Mrs. Maier will reside in Cape Girardeau, Mo., at 704 North Fountain street.

Miss Sarah Louise Tragitt, A. A. 1918, a student teacher at Lindenwood in 1919 in home economics, was married, Tuesday, June 30, to Mr. Max Vernon Reese, at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. Nelson Tragitt, in Rolla, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Reese will reside in Grayville, Ill., where the bride formerly taught in the Community High School.

Mrs. Floyd Stephens Youtsey, of Collinsville, Ill., has announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Maeotta Divelbiss, who was at Lindenwood 1920-21, to Mr. Eugene Duncan Funk, Jr., on Wednesday, July 15, at her home in Collinsville. The St. Louis press carried extended accounts of the wedding. Part of the account follows:

Miss Maeotta Divelbiss, daughter of Mrs. Floyd S. Youtsey of Collinsville, and Eugene D. Funk, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene D. Funk, Sr., of Bloomington, Ill., were married at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Ada O. Stevenson, on St. Louis road, by Rev. William H. Poole, pastor of the Methodist Church. Miss Elizabeth Lempertz, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Henry Capen of Bloomington, was groomsman.

The bride was attired in an ensemble suit of white doe skin with white fox trimming and a white hat. She carried butterfly roses. Miss Lempertz wore a frock of orchid georgette with hat to match. She carried Columbia roses. After the ceremony the couple left for a trip through the northern States, after which they will be at home at Bloomington.

Miss Vera Eva Budde (1915-16) was married to Mr. Russell C. Hadden, Wednesday, June 17. Cards sent by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Budde, of 10 Aberdeen place, St. Louis, contain "At Home" announcement for the Loutellous Apartments, 245 Mellwood avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., where the bridal pair are settled, after a honeymoon in Canada.

Weddings—(Continued)

Romance tinctures the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Pat Rudy (1920-21), and Mr. S. Byron Downing, of Hammond, Ind., a few weeks ago. Miss Rudy was a member of an auto touring party which went West from her home in Kansas City. Her future bridegroom, in another touring party, which had started from Hammond, met Miss Rudy in Denver. It was really a double romance, for his companion at the same time became acquainted with another young girl from Kansas City, in the party. Continuing their respective "trails" to Golden, Colo., plans were made for a double wedding, which took place immediately. Four sets of parents were notified, and all gave consent, so that two brides have gone back to Hammond, Ind. Mrs. Downing (Mary Pat Rudy) writes that her home will be at 11 Carroll street; she will "always hold a spot in her heart for Lindenwood, and her new husband has promised her a trip to the College in the fall."

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Flippin, of Claremore, Okla., have sent invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Rebecca Lane Flippin (Lindenwood 1922-23) to Mr. Robert Wallace Rice, on Wednesday evening, August 5, at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride, 1000 East Tenth street, Claremore.

Announcement is sent by her father, Mr. R. H. Batson, of Lancaster, Ky., of the marriage of his daughter, Cecile, a student of the last year, to Mr. Henry Mefford, of Irvine, Ky. They were married on Thursday, June 18, and will reside at Irvine.

Another St. Louis bride was Miss Laura May Harris (1917-18), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Harris, who was married to Mr. Robert H. Isaacson, Wednesday, June 24. Announcements were sent by her parents.

Wedding cards for Miss Helen Arnett Salyer, A. A., 1920, are received from her brother, Mr. Walter Farrer Salyer, of Monett, Mo. She was married to Mr. Frank Gist Anderson, on Wednesday, June 24, at Monett, and they will be at home after September 1, at College Station, Tex. The bride, when a student, held office in both junior and senior classes, was president of the Texas Club, secretary of the Shakespeare Club, and took part in the Choral Club, choir, Athletic Association, French Club, and almost every other college activity, including the Y. W. C. A.

Friends at the college of many years' standing were pleased to hear of Miss Bessie Harvey's marriage, July 9, to Mr. Carl C. Jensen, at Parsons, Kan., where the bride has resided since she gave up her work here as Secretary to the Dean. She was a graduate of Lindenwood, A. A., in 1917, when she was president of the Art Club and took part in the Shakespeare Club and other activities. For two years she assisted in the Dean's office.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lyle Dickey, of Tulsa, Okla., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Nan Lyle (1920-21), to Mr. Archibald Francis Campbell, on Thursday, June 18, at their residence.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry G. Weiss, of Evansville, Ind., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Kathryn (A. A. 1922), to Dr. Loren D. Moore, on Thursday, June 25, at Evansville. Dr. Moore is resident at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex., and this will be their future home. Kathryn Weiss, at Lindenwood, was president of the Indiana Club, and took an active part in the old "Linden Barks" and "Linden Leaves."

Mr. and Mrs. Willard John, of Sapulpa, Okla., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Lucile (1922-23), to Mr. Willard Hardie on March 6. Mr. and Mrs. Hardie are residing in the Henryetta Apartments in Tulsa, Okla.

Chattanooga, Tenn., will be the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Hunton Hampton, who were married June 2. The bride will be remembered as Miss Dorothy Detrick, of Caldwell, Kan., a student at Lindenwood in 1918-19. She was married at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Albert Detrick in Caldwell. The Chattanooga News, of current date, carries a portrait of Mrs. Hampton on its society page, saying: "Mrs. Hampton will be a charming addition to Chattanooga society. She has made several visits to her aunt, Mrs. Samuel A. Strauss, in Chattanooga, and her beauty and charm have endeared her to many friends here." The two Detrick girls, Dorothy and Millye, were Lindenwood students in the same year.

Will Help the Garden

Mrs. W. B. Collom, of Payson, Ariz., formerly Rose E. Wilson, of Clarendon, Ark. (1888-89), writes to Miss Alice Linnemann that she is "anticipating with pleasure the centennial in 1927, and is planning to be 'among those present.'"

Mrs. Collom asks if "any except the alumnae" might contribute to the Centennial Garden, which she has read about in the Bulletin. Mrs. Collom, of all others, may well send anything she desires to the Centennial Garden, for she has a distinction, along floral lines, which no other Lindenwood student has earned, so far as known. The Smithsonian Institute of Washington, D. C., Dr. Rose writes, has named a new plant for her, because she was the discoverer. It is a new species of the Cotyledon.

"Of course, I do not know just what kind of a garden is planned," Mrs. Collom writes. "If anything in the line of cacti or dry climate plants would be wanted, I am sure I could get some from various sources in the State." Thus is seen the cosmopolitan character of the increasing garden.

"In the spring of 1889," Mrs. Collom reminisces, "there was a prize offered at Lindenwood, for the best essay on 'Good Housekeeping.' All students could compete, and I think every class was represented. I was the fortunate winner, and was given a silver tea set which I still possess. Each piece bears my name and that of Lindenwood."

* * * *

Miss Margaret Warner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Warner, of 2021 South Compton avenue, gave a garden party at Mission Inn, last Wednesday. Miss Warner will enter Lindenwood College in the fall.

(St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Society)

Dr. John W. MacIvor, president of Lindenwood's Board of Directors, has gone to Nova Scotia for his vacation, leaving July 24.

Echo of Commencement

At Chicago, the Lindenwood College Club heard with interest of commencement activities, as told in the following account by the secretary, of the meeting on June 12:

The Lindenwood Club of Chicago was entertained by Mrs. Guy N. St. Clair, at her suburban home in Glencoe, where a delightful luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, after which there was a short business meeting. Mrs. George B. Lown, retiring president, presided.

All were grieved to learn of the death of Mr. Walter Seymour. Mrs. Seymour sent the request that we all sing the Lindenwood Song, with the "daisy chain," just as we had done at the previous meeting at her home.

Mrs. Lown and Mrs. Leslie A. Burritt (a former Chicago member), now of the New York Club, told in detail of the commencement exercises at Lindenwood, and of the charming hospitality extended by all.

Another guest of the day was Miss Eleanor La Nelle, daughter of Mrs. Louis La Nelle, one of our new and faithful members.

Mrs. Clyde M. Joice (Rebekah Alden), our new president, spoke a few words of greeting, and urged the co-operation of all the members for the coming year's work.

* * * *

Luncheon Meeting

In July the Chicago Lindenwood Club kept right on meeting, and their session on July 10 had social features. Mrs. May Beckman Swanstrom writes:

"The Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. W. C. Malcolmson, Mrs. C. Peterson, and Mrs. Irene Belding Zaring. A luncheon was served at the Riverside Tea Room. Then we were driven by auto to the suburban home of Mrs. Malcolmson.

"Mrs. W. C. Kordsiemon and daughter, Marian, of Berwyn, who is now a student at Lindenwood, were our guests.

"Mrs. Joice (Rebekah Alden), our new president, appointed her committees for the ensuing year. Mrs. Malcolmson gave us a synopsis of her wonderful trip through Europe, and illustrated from her prized collections the places they visited."

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gist Anderson (Helen Salyer) were at Lindenwood, on their bridal trip. They were motoring to Tennessee, and thence to their home in Texas.

Summer Meeting

Activities of the Iowa Lindenwood College Club were not suspended with the hot weather, as was seen by a successful business meeting and bridge luncheon which the club held in Des Moines, Ia., at the Harris Emery Tea Room, at 1 o'clock on June 6. Mrs. F. M. Larmer was in charge of the arrangements.

* * * *

Births

Little Mary Margaret Berry arrived June 16, to make glad the hearts of her parents, Mr. and George Smith Berry, Jr., of Tulsa, Okla. Mrs. Berry was formerly Mary Margaret Clark, B. S., 1923.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Proctor, of California, Mo., have sent cards, announcing the advent, on June 18, of their daughter, Mary Marguerite. They have also a little son, James Wilson, who will be two years old September 21. Mrs. Proctor was Miss Lucille Wilson, and attended Lindenwood, 1917-18.
