$1.00 A Year

FROM THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN

It is still possible for students to make applications for scholarships for the coming year. Students are urged to do this unless uncertain about plans, otherwise all scholarships may be assigned, and a student who needs one may fail to obtain it if her application is deferred too long.

The precommencement prize-giving, and the making of awards and other announcements will be held Wednesday, May 22, at chapel time. Any announcements that should be made at that time should be in the Dean's office by Monday, May 20.

The Dean is working on the material for the commencement booklet which will be in the hands of the printer by the middle of the month. Students are asked to watch for announcement of the arrival of commencement invitations, and to claim them as soon as possible.

Distinguished Themselves at State Sports Day

Last Saturday morning, many girls from Lindenwood left for the University of Missouri, at Columbia, where they competed in the Sports Day Activities. Last year the girls that represented Lindenwood tied for first place, and this year they hope to go out and make a clean sweep.

Kay Anderson and Corinne Sagness went for the archery team. Carol Davenport, Rebecca Rath represented our golf team. For ping pong Florence Vellenga and Miriam Ramey, and for tennis Martha Weber and Gloria Smith played.

The swimming team consisted of eight girls. Peggy Dodge and Dorothy Jean Mathias swam the 100 yards free-style event. The 40 yard free-style event was done by Estelle Blumeyer and Margaret Chapman. Peggy Dodge and Bonny Wonder swam the 40 yard back-stroke, while the 40 yard breast stroke was done by Marietta Estes and Jacky Davis. Dorothy Jean Mathias did the diving, and the free-style relay was done by Ruth Haines, Margaret Chapman, Frances Kellam, and Estelle Blumeyer. The medley relay was done by Bonny Wonder swimming back-stroke, to be followed by Mariette Estes swimming breast-stroke and finishing up by Ruth Haines swimming crawl.

The Lindenwood teams are directed by and sponsored by Miss Reichert of the physical education department. Miss Reichert accompanied the team on their trip. A group of loyal Lindenwoodites also made the trip, acting as a cheering squad. Some of the girls that went out to cheer are Lorraine Allen, Dolores Anderson, Nina Argenbright, Lou Dickey Baucus, Margaret Benson, Marilyn Casebier, Barbara Cobbs, Wanda Cole, Harriet Courtney, Joy Drudup, Jean Frawley, Twilla Graham, Molly Guard, Lucy Jane Hadley, Marion Hanlon, Jo Anne Hastings, Letty Huber, Jeane Kahler, Betty Kent, Peggy Kimbrough, Dot Laney, Martha Laney, Susan Loetscher, Jean McCulloch, Betty McKendry, Dorothy Miller, Jeanne Miller, Maxine Modert, Jean Ann Murray, Martha Norris, Eleanor Jean Petty, Mary Elizabeth Rapc, Louise Rewerts, Irene Rummelhoff, Jennie Lynn Sager, Georgia Shapkoff, Mary Sparks, Mary Sue Tallman, Elizabeth Thompson, Ruth Tillman, Kitty Traylor, Bonny Wonder, and Betty Myers.

Outlook of College Woman

Board President Interprets Modern Views

Dr. John W. MacIvor, minister of the Second Presbyterian church in St. Louis and president of the Board of directors at Lindenwood, spoke at the regular vesper hour Sunday evening, April 28. The vice-president of the board, Dr. David M. Skilling, gave the pastoral prayer. Dr. MacIvor's subject was "The Importance of Women in the World."

"There have been two conceptions of women in the world, those in the home as the housewife, and those abroad as the late Amelia Earhart." Dr. MacIvor stated, that there were many great women in the Bible and they were of great importance in their day. "The Roman women and those of most foreign countries were inferior and were not allowed to hold office in the church although the women attended church more than the men. When Christainity came in, the women became the colleague of men and equal with them.

"A woman prophet, Anna, gave the future of Jesus, Mary announced His resurrection, Peter went to a woman's house after he escaped, and Timothy kept the faith of his mother and grandmother.

"History is something else that is connected with the women. One of the causes for the fall of the Holy Roman Empire was the destruction of the home. The home is the basis of human nature. Without the home there is no Christianity. The home is a determinate factor that never escapes us, and Christianity begins at home because of the mother and the father and the environment. Home is the entire history of the human race, it is the route of all that is woven.

"Our grandfather's conception of women was much different than it is today. In the last 25 years there has been a great change.

"Today, the opinion of men is the appreciation of women. It is a true conception that women will not turn back to anything revolutionary or false. They are interested in politics and industry.

There are women in the world because of three ideas—they keep triumph in the faith, they keep ideals in the world, and they christainize the social order. It's a great world living now at the most critical hour. Everything is at stake that you prize."

Free to Talk On Every Side

The delegations of the three Lindenwood parties, Republican, Democrat, and Liberal, who made the trip to the convention in Fulton last Saturday, were: Republicans, Jerre Lewis, Doris Banta, Gretchen Neuman, Mary James, Jean Osborn, Polly Pollock, Jean Davis, Kay Wagner, Ruth Vance, and Joyce Works.

The Democrats were represented by Marge Dearmont, Margaret

Dr. Roemer, Gov. Stark Growing Side by Side

Arbor Day, April 30, was celebrated at Lindenwood by the planting of two American Linden trees on the campus. Dr. Stumberg in an opening speech said that the American Linden was the tree of Lindenwood and had been since the school was founded. Dr. Roemer then planted the first tree in honor of Governor Stark of Missouri.

The second tree was planted by Mr. Motley in honor of Dr. Roemer who, Mr. Motley said, has done more for Lindenwood than any other individual.

Earth from the yards of more than 500 students, gathered through several weeks, was mingled with the soil of the planting.

New Y. W. C. A. Officers

Installation was held Tuesday, April 30, in chapel for the new Y. W. C. A. officers. Those girls selected were Mary Jean DuHadway, president; Grace Quebbeman, vice-president; Mary Jo Shepard, secretary; and Virginia Feller, treasurer.

The new officers were given the candles signify their acceptance to office by the girls who have served the organization the past year. They are Margaret Dearmont, president; Kay Abernathy, vice-president; Joan Houghton, secretary; and Jeanne Miller, treasurer.

Zoology Students Make Research Aquatic

The invertebrate zoology class, under the supervision of Dr. Talbot, has made several interesting field trips during the semester. The first trip, made in March, was to Gardner Pond, where the class waded about, finding bugs and crayfish to add to their aquariums in the laboratory. On the second trip, made April 20, the class went to Marais Croche, a marsh near St. Charles. Again the braver of the class waded to find animals. They found water bugs, crayfish, water mites, and other interesting specimens.

The April 20 trip, undoubtedly the highlight of the season, was made in a truck, and refreshments of cookies were served after the hunt for animals was completed. Eighteen members of the class were present.

On Monday, May 6, the class took another aquatic field trip to the Stumberg's, where the hunt for animals went on.

Cannon, Mary Jean DuHadway, Ruth Dayton, Amalie Allen, Raquel Canino, Charlotte Ching, Marge Vanderlippe, Mary Kern, Barbara Cobbs, and, as alternate, Kay Abernathy.

The Liberal party sent as its delegates Dorothy Rhea, Peggy Turcott, Peggy Cassell, Betty Carleton, Caroline Bower, Roberta Schuler, Evelyn Bradley, Lucy Vosburg, Helen McLane, and Marjorie Green.

The Linden Bark:

How do I love thee? Let me count the ways.
I love thee to the depth and breadth and height
My soul can reach, when feeling out of sight
For the ends of Being and ideal Grace.
I love thee to the level of every day's
Most quiet need, by sun and candle-light.
I love thee freely, as men strive for Right;
I love thee purely, as men turn from Praise.
I love thee with the passion put to use
In my old griefs, and with my childhood's faith.
I love thee with a love I seemed to lose
With my lost saints,—I love thee with the breath,
Smiles, tears, of all my life! — and, if God choose,
I shall but love thee better after death.

How Lindenwood Feels Toward Dr. Roemer

This year, 1940, marks Dr. Roemer's 26th year at Lindenwood College. During these years, his life has made an indelible impression on the lives of many girls, who have attended this college.

Not only has he been loved by Lindenwood, but he has been deeply respected and admired by citizens of both St. Louis and St. Charles. His interests have included the cultural side of life along with the educational. He has been a faithful supporter of societies which promote music and similar projects. He has also been a contributor to charitable institutions. One of his gifts that is dear to every Lindenwood student is the Memorial Arts Building.

Dr. Roemer has also had a business interest. He has helped to direct St. Louis businesses, and above all, has guided this college very skillfully through its hardest years, increasing its endowments, its buildings and its student enrollment.

Religious livelihood has been another concern of our president. Before coming to Lindenwood, he served as pastor of the Tyler Place Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, for many years. Since that time, he has been a guiding light for all of the students.

The faculty and administration join the students in wishing Dr. Roemer Ad Multos Annos!

Shall The Bullfight Come To Missouri?

According to recent press dispatches, a bullfight, complete with goid braid and fanfare, was scheduled to be staged in a certain Missouri town. The Humane Society of said town immediately saw red and waved a flag of objection. It was the general opinion that bull fights were not fit for civilized people to witness, that the toreadors are in great danger, and besides, it's awfully hard on the bull. There was so much argument over the matter that the entertainment committee voted to order barbafoes and have a barbeque instead.

It is a well-known fact that college women enjoy slinging the bull, but it remains to be seen whether they enjoy watching the bull get slung. This question arose after a certain body of Missouri college women blended weak and doubtful voices to champion the cause of the scarlet capes. When spring fever caught them in her grip, they shelved the books of their alma mater and skipped off to Mexico for a wee vacation, and pictures of them watching the battles of the bulls were plastered across many newspapers. The more daring were balanced on tiptoes screaming excitedly at the poor bull, as if he didn't have enough on his mind anyway; others sat like beautiful coeds at a football game on a raw day. The faces of the remainder were not visible, as they kept them well covered.

There is really no reason why American college girls should not be able to take it. They pride themselves on sophistication and a detached casual interest in the world; Spanish girls were sheltered like spring violets, and they have always watched the blood-curdling sights without so much as a flicker of their long black eyelashes. We're no sissies, so why not a bull session that has some punch behind it?

Six delegates from Lindenwood took part in a Public Affairs Conference which was held May 3 and 4 on The Principia College Campus at Elsau, Ill. Those who attended this were Helen Bandy, Margaret Barton, Betty Kelley, Jeanette Lloyd, Gerry Rasdel, and Mary Helen St. Clair.

Alpha Sigma Tau met Thursday, April 25, in the library club rooms. Louise Mailander was initiated into the organization. Dr. Betz reviewed "How to Read a Book" by Mortimer J. Adler. In his review, Dr. Betz pointed out the deficiencies and advantages of our modern school systems, as seen by Mr. Adler.

• Campus Diary •

By L. J.

- Tues.—Political parties rally 'round-much donkey and elephant talk.
Wed.—Big song in dining room—Rep. have the first jump-marching, banging, and almost hair-pulling at the rally. All ended quietly, however.
Thurs.—More G. O. P. goings on—Dems. have lost a little but they'll get going again—just wait.
Fri.—Much packing and scurrying around of people for the week-end.
Sat.—Jr.-Sr. Prom in St. Louis and a swell thing it was, all so happy and lovely looking.
Sun.—Many, many guests on campus—returns from week-ends.
Mon.—Gorgeous spring weather—much work in preparation for more goings away-party elections.
Tues.—Arbor day and two new trees on campus—pouring rain with plenty of wet hair and clothes—Encore Club dinner with pins presented by Dr. Roemer.
Wed.—Spring has left again.
Thurs.—Dr. Roemer's birthday and a big party for him in the dining room—Many happy returns of the day!
Fri.—Off again for fun, political meetings, and sports day.
Tues.—Bark's out for the next-to-last time for the year! Doesn't seem possible.

Twenty-Sixth Annual Sermon

Dr. Roemer will make his annual visit to the Tyler Place Presbyterian Church of St. Louis Sunday morning, May 12. Dr. Roemer was pastor of the church for ten years before he came to Lindenwood and each year goes back to preach a sermon on one Sunday in May, fulfilling a promise made to the congregation when they released him.

Country Club and Fisherman's Cottage

The dramatic art department presented two one-act plays in the Little Theatre on Wednesday, April 24, at 4:30 p. m. The plays, "Just Another Saturday" by John Wiley, and "Men Folk" by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements, were directed by Miss Gordon. The stage managers were Sarah Jane Murfey and Virginia Norton. Mabel Buhner, Marcelle Clark, Barbara Cobbs, Sarah Jane Murfey, and Virginia Norton were the scenery and stage crew.

In "Just Another Saturday," the setting was the Ladies' Dressing Room of the Idlewild Country Club. Nadeane Snyder played the part of Grace, a dressing-room attendant, and Susan Kent was Ethel, the cloak-room girl. Others who took part were: Barbara Cobbs as Mrs. Appleby, Donna Brown as Jean O'Malley, Virginia Norton as Helen Gaillard, Grace Quebbeman as Mrs. Randall, Mary Alice Lillard as Mrs. Warren, and Doris Nahigian as Mrs. Neilson.

The action of "Men Folk" takes place in a fisherman's cottage on the coast. The characters were: Cranny, the grandmother, played by Mary James; Jinny, the mother, played by Sarah Jane Murfey; and Rose, the wife, by Shirley Carlson.

Spoke to Garden Club

Dr. Dawson went to Louisiana, Mo., on April 22 to lecture to the Garden Club there. It was a Lindenwood meeting, and Dr. Dawson was accompanied by Martha Sosey of the cultivated plants class; Nelle Motley, pianist; Frances Shepard, vocalist; and Martha Robbins who gave a reading. Dr. Dawson talked to the women on chemical gardening and took several plants to illustrate her points.

Hawaii's "Lei Day" Repeated at Lindenwood

Lindenwood observed a Hawaiian May Day, last Wednesday in chapel. This was sponsored by Tau Sigma, the dance sorority. On entering the auditorium, each girl was given a lei, which she was requested to wear all day.

Two groups of girls did the hula. The first group composed of Peggy Hocker, Margaret Sandoe, Peggy Davidson, Norma White, Margaret Duff, June Ortiz, Peggy Kimbrough, and Molly Guard danced to "Alekokiki" and "Liliue." The dances were taught by Peggy Hocker and the songs were interpreted by Sarah Jane Murfey.

The second group composed of Evelyn Wright, Shirley Gardner, Barbara Clifton, Frances Shudde, Adah Louise Parkinson, Jane Johnson, Charlotte Marie Johnson, Hyacinth Young, and Charlotte Ching danced to "Ulano Weo" (Red Like the Sun) and "My Whaine and Me" (My Girl and Me). Charlotte taught these dances. Peggy did a solo dance to "Sweet Lelani."

In Hawaii, May 1 is set aside every year for the Lei Day celebration. On this day every man, woman and child in the islands wears a lei and Hawaii is a "veritable walking rainbow." The first Lei Day celebration suggested by Don Blanding was held in 1928.

Real Political Spirit
Shown at Lindenwood

Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah, and so we are off on a political campaign, yelling, screeching, and screaming for the party we think best. On Wednesday night, April 24, after dinner, the Republicans were the first to organize and start their rally going. They started off at Roemer Hall with banners flying, and torches burning bright. Two songs especially written for the occasion were rendered many times throughout the period the Republicans were about on the grounds.

About half an hour after the Republicans had been doing their part in making themselves recognized, the club of Democrats came out trying to make a bigger and better rally than the previous one. A bit of difficulty was found when the Republicans and Democrats cared not to give an inch to each other, and great spirit was felt; the girls were pulling harder, yelling louder, and putting all the fight they had into their cause.

In front of the tea-house, both parties united in singing "America," and the feeling of joy was felt strongly because we realized we were living in the land of the free. Soon, after the completion of the singing, the rallies started all over again and it was most certain that every one of the campus was taking her share in this cause.

We have told about the Republicans and about the Democrats, but what about the Liberals? As yet the Liberals have done little showing and are bound to find it difficult to take much notice when working against the two major parties.

There is no secret "who is what" down here now. The girls are all wearing banners signifying their party, and signs are to be found in all the different rooms, helping to urge on the campaigns.

Finding Which Is Best

Peggy Flint, Kay Wagoner, Jacqueline Davis, and Marjorie Young have been testing royal Ann cherries, red pitted cherries, canned milk, and grape fruit.

After the testing, salads were prepared from the royal Ann cherries, pies were made from the red pitted cherries, salads were made from the grapefruit and from the juice, cocktails were made. The canned milk was used in the preparation of several different dishes. In the latter, the difference was found in using canned and sweet milk in preparing foods.

Firsthand News
of China by Presbyterian Traveler

Dr. Lloyd Ruland, Secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, was the assembly speaker on Thursday, April 18. He spoke on Free China, which is the inner land outside of Japanese occupation, but under the Chinese government.

Dr. Ruland said that in this section of China, there is an atmosphere of courage, hope and life. One of the most important cities of this section is Ching King, which is built on a rocky promontory. It has recently been modernized and the streets widened. The latest development is the tunnels, which are being made for protection against the air raids. According to Dr. Ruland, the industrial life of these people is carried on in their homes through industrial life cooperatives of West China. They are making a strong effort to strengthen agriculture and carry this on by means of an extensive irrigation project.

Chendu is now the educational center of China. The university has been moved here from the war zone. The education has had a practical turn and the courses of interest are automechanics and industrial cooperatives. Dr. Ruland said that along with their education, the students are interested in Christianity. These Chinese students are very serious and desire a philosophy of life. "The youth of China are organized and are motivated by unselfish serving," stated Dr. Ruland.

Dr. Ruland closed his address with these interesting words, "China looks to America for friendship."

Bernard Shaw Play
Given by Susan Kent

Susan Kent gave a delightful speech certificate recital Thursday, April 25, in Roemer auditorium, presenting the play, "Major Barbara" by the well-known author, Bernard Shaw. It was given in three acts and Susan took the part of ten characters.

The main idea of the story centered around the Undershaft munition factory in London, and who would become the next head. It had been an old custom for the president of the firm to choose a foundling who would someday become president himself. Lady Britomart Undershaft thought that their son, Stephen, should be in line for the position, but Sir Andrew Undershaft insisted on the old principle. The situation finally came to a head when the fiance of one of their daughters was chosen as the foundling.

A dress of light blue organdy with a pink taffeta slip was worn by Susan. Small spring flowers on the slip showed through the organdy. Her corsage was of begonias and pink carnations.

Sidelights of Society

Beautiful Gowns In Beautiful Setting

On Saturday night, April 27, the junior class was hostess at the annual Junior-Senior Prom held at the Missouri Athletic Association. Dinner was served at 8:30 o'clock in the room adjacent to the main dining room and music was provided by the orchestra at the club. A dance team from the Chase Club was added to the regular floor show on that evening and afterward dancing continued until 2 o'clock.

A great many beautiful gowns were to be seen. To mention only a few; Dr. Dawson wore blue lace and her flowers were pink carnations; Martha Weber, the junior class president, wore pale blue tulle with white orchids; Dr. Gregg, the senior class sponsor, wore a navy blue silk crepe shirtwaist with white collar and cuffs, her flowers were red roses. Christine McDonald, the president of the senior class wore a blue lace dress with a full skirt and tucked bodice, her flowers were gardenias; Helen Bandy's dress was pale aqua monsseline de soie and her flowers were violets; Helen Hellerud wore pink dotted swiss with lastex shirred jacket, her flowers were pink roses and deep blue iris.

Art Students Entertain At Musical Tea

A delightful tea was given by Kappa Pi and the Art club, Monday afternoon, April 2, in the library club room. The string quartet furnished music throughout the afternoon. The tea was in charge of Dr. Linneman, assisted by Miss Rasmussen.

In the receiving line were officers of the two organizations, who were Jeanette Lee, Peggy Dodge, Betty Burnham, Helen Farmer, and Betty Lou Tatum. Members of Kappi Pi served. Guests were Dr. Roemer, Dr. Gipson, Miss Hooton, Mrs. LeMaster, Mrs. Gardner, Hiss Hough, Mrs. Arends, Miss Mottinger, and members of the art department.

Guests at Glen Echo

On Tuesday, April 30, several Lindenwood students presented a program at a woman's club luncheon at Glen Echo Country Club.

Evelyn Wahlgren played the Treasure Waltz from the Gypsy Baron by Strauss-Dehnanyi, Shirley Carlson gave a reading, and Vera Jean Douthat sang "Si mes vers avaient des ailes" by Hahn, "The Robin Sings in the Apple Tree" by MacDowell, and "The Night Has A Thousand Eyes" by Hageman. She was accompanied by Laura Nell Harris.

Genevieve Kniese was to have made played several cello numbers but did not make the trip because of ill health.

Listened In German

Der Deutscher Verein met in the library club rooms, April 18 for its regular business meeting. Dr. Betz gave a lecture on Goethe, his life and works. This lecture was given entirely in German. Refreshments were served and some German songs were sung.

The freshman class will entertain the juniors at a lawn party on Sibley lawn, Friday, May 10, at 8 o'clock.

School of Our Mothers

The Encore Club met in Sibley parlors Tuesday evening, April 30. Miss Hankins, beginning the program, told Dr. Roemer what the club stood for and what it would mean to the future girls of Lindenwood. She then presented him with an Encore Club pin and he gave a pin to each member. When the pinning ceremony was finished, Mr. Motley spoke for a few moments about the ideas of the club and about what had gone on before in the same buildings and grounds. "Just think," he said, "ninety years ago a group of girls much like you were gathered in this same parlor and I suppose they were talking and thinking of much the same things as you girls." After this short meeting, the members and guests went to the library club rooms for dinner. Meat loaf, fruit salad, potato chips, pickles, hot rolls, ice cream, cake, and coffee were served buffet style, and after this delicious meal, "Neath the Shade of Massive Lindens" and "School of Our Mothers" were sung.

Miss Hankins, who is the sponsor of the club, is very active in alumnae work, and originated this club with the idea of its promoting even more loyalty here on campus and after leaving Lindenwood.

Delicious Spring Viands By Three Hostesses

Dorothy Felger, Grace Gantt, and Kitty Traylor have given their dinners for foods class on April 30, April 23, and April 26, respectively.

Using red tulips and small white flowers Dorothy carried her dinner out in the red color scheme. Her menu consisted of tomato cocktail, breaded veal cutlets, stuffed baked potatoes, pea timbales, cherry jello salad, rolls, apple jelly, olives, radishes, ice cream topped with strawberries, white cup cakes, and coffee. Dorothy's guests were Dr. Schaper, Miss Anderson, Miss Jean Anderson, Frances Locke, and Jackie Davis, the host.

Grace served grapefruit cocktail, roast leg of lamb, parsley, new potatoes, creamed peas, lemon jello salad, radishes, butterhorn rolls, strawberry shortcake, and coffee. Red and yellow was the color combination used, and red carnations were the centerpiece. Her guests were Dr. Parker, Miss Anderson, Elaine Anderson, Wanda Cole, and Jackie Davis, the host.

Kitty served to her guests, from a table decorated with red tulips, shrimp cocktail, steak, mashed potatoes, harvard beets, tomato aspic salad, hot rolls, spiced iced tea, ice cream topped with strawberries, and meringue kisses. The guests were Miss Ostner, Miss Anderson, Margaret Chapman, Betty Merrill, and Kay Wagoner, the host.

Treasure Hunt

The long-awaited treasure hunt, sponsored by the Athletic Association, finally "came off" on Friday, April 26, despite threatening weather. The hunters gathered on the golf course Friday evening, and divided into groups of five. Then each group followed a trail over the campus, seeking its particular treasure.

After the hunt, the girls gathered on the golf course again, this time for food and songs.

Evelyn Cohen had as guests in her home, Chester, Ill., the week-end of April 19, Dorothy Owen, Jeanne Miller, Jo and Jane Meredith.

Dr. Roemer will be host at his annual luncheon party for the seniors, next Saturday, at the Missouri Athletic Association.

Actors' Steak Dinner

Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic society, initiated five new members at its meeting April 17: Barbara Cobbs, Harriet Heck, Marian Wettstone, Avonne Campbell, and Dorothy Simonsen. The initiation was held in the Little Theatre and after this ceremony, the girls went to the Hollywood for a steak dinner. There were 13 at the dinner, the five new members, the five old members, and Miss Gordon, Miss Scott, and Miss Frees.

Outing of Art Girls

The members of Kappa Pi and the art club, and their pledges, went to St. Louis Thursday evening, April 25 for dinner and the opera. The girls were accompanied by Dr. Linnemann and her sister. Dinner was served at the Mayfair Hotel and they went from there to see "Carmen." After the opera, the party went to Garavelli's before returning to the college.

Luncheon Down Town

Saturday, May, 4, the home economics club had a luncheon in St. Louis at Scruggs-Vandervoort-Barney. This is an annual spring event sponsored by the club.

Preceding the luncheon a trip was taken through the furnishings department by those who were interested in household decorations. A representative of the firm spoke to the group on "The Openings in Store Work for Home Economics Girls." The stylist talked on "Current Trends in Merchandise."

Including Miss Anderson and Miss Tucker, about 40 girls attended the luncheon.

Dinner With Music

Alpha Mu Mu, the sorority for freshmen and sophomore music students, entertained the music faculty, Dr. Roemer, and Miss Hooton with a dinner in the library club rooms, April 25. After dinner, games were played. All members and pledges were present.

Piano and Violin In Choice Numbers

Anne Taylor and Margaret Anne McCoid presented their diploma recital, Tuesday, April 23, in Sibley Chapel. Anne is a pianist and Margaret Anne, a violinist. Beverly Mayhall accompanied the latter on the piano.

The numbers played by Anne were Prelude and Fugue, G Minor, No. 16 (W. T. C. Vol. 1), (J. S. Bach); Sonata, E Flat Major, Op. 31, No. 3 Allegro, (Beethoven); Scherzo, B Flat Minor, Op. 31, (Chopin); Feuille d'Album No. 2, (Liszt); Prelude, E Flat Major, Op. 23, No. 6, (Rachmaninoff); and Concert Etude (Carl Preyer).

Margaret Anne's selections were Air (Goldmark); Concerto E Minor, Allegro Moderato, (Nardini); Prairie Flower, (McMillen); Mazurka (Haesche); Beau Soir (Debussy-Heifetz); and Rondo Brillant (Burleigh).

Both played well, and received merited applause.

Barbara Bruce was in Champaign, Ill., the week-end of April 26. While there she visited her two sisters, Harriet and Esther Margaret, who are former Lindenwood students.

Beautiful Trophy Display

The trophies won by Lindenwood in the Maryville College Horse Show were exhibited for several days in the main hall of Roemer. The large cup presented to Louise Olsen as first prize in the novice singles occupied the center of the display. Near it were placed the little statuettes of horses won by Dorothy Owen and Louise Olsen for making second place in the novice doubles. Two other cups, one won by Jeanette Lee for placing first in the advanced singles, and one by Mimi Stumberg and Gerry Rasdal who placed second in the advanced doubles, completed the collection of trophies. The various ribbons presented to the girls were also on exhibition.

Lindenwood is proud of its riders, and proud of the trophies which they brought back as evidence of their skill.
