Spring Recitals and Reunions

LINDENWOOD'S HOSPITALITY IS AT ITS PEAK

Growing as the college does, climactic entertainments of the year are increasing, and the spring of 1925 sees hundreds of visitors at Lindenwood, sharing with the students and faculty the pleasure of many recitals, the pathos of Mother's Day, the merriment of a luncheon for Rotary Anns, games and athletics on the campus, and all in all, the "atmosphere" which is so distinctive as the commencement season approaches.

"Mother's Day a Day of Consecration," the address by Dr. John L. Roemer on the evening of Sunday, May 10, is one of the most recent memories, when the girls were glad that the speaker was not "too solemn," for they were melted by the songs which had preceded, and everyone was ready for the simple admonition that they be a credit to their mothers. Songs of their childhood were sung, and "The Long, Long Trail" in chorus, while selected student singers rendered the favorites, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," and "Mother O' Mine."

The Rotary Anns on May 7, who brought the Annettes (St. Charles High School girls) with them, were headed by Mrs. Austin S. Fox, and numbered about 60. Mrs. John L. Roemer was hostess at the luncheon, and the best-known Lindenwood songs were sung in the dining room, after the guests had heard an oratory recital. Two St. Charles girls, Misses Mary Louise Blocher and Ida Hoeflin, with two others, Misses Harriet Collins and Helen Almond, gave readings. Then there was a swimming meet in the late afternoon.

Lindenwood's faculty has been taking its turn in the vesper services. On Sunday night, April 19, Miss Cora N. Edwards, contralto, assisted by Miss Mildred E. Gravley, pianist, gave a program. Another, on Sunday night, May 3, was presented by Miss Mary Lucile Hatch, pianist, and Miss Lucia P. Hutchins, reader.

BUTLER DAY

Of all guests of the season, none were more appreciative than the members of the Lindenwood College Club of St. Louis, who came out in such numbers that the program of Butler Day, April 23, was handed over entirely to them in Roemer Auditorium. Considering the luncheon that followed, when traditional "hot rolls" were a part of the menu, followed by a formal dancing program of the students, "the day was just perfect," as the president of the club wrote back to the Roemers.

Students from St. Louis now at Lindenwood formed a "posse comitatis," and there were enough of them to give each visitor an escort. Before handing the 11 o'clock exercises over to the "old girls," Dr. Roemer made a few remarks on the unforgotten generosity of Col. James Gay Butler, who gave "one-half of his fortune, amounting to nearly $3,000,000" to Lindenwood, but "what was more, he gave himself." Mrs. Joseph White, president of the club, told of Col. Butler's kindness and friendliness when she was a student. Mrs. Alexander Kotkis told how "he knew every girl by name." Mrs. W. C. Hamill spoke of his bringing Dr. and Mrs. Roemer to Lindenwood. Mrs. Koeneke and Mrs. Arthur Krueger gave greetings, and Mrs. D. M. Hardy, of Waterloo, Ill., delivered an amusing speech on experiences of the past.

At 2 o'clock, in Butler Gym (a half-day's holiday having been granted), the girls presented a dance recital, ending with a dance drama created for the occasion, "The Court of a Pagan King," at which Miss Gladys Sullivan was soloist. Refreshments were served on the campus, where there was a balloon dance by about 20 girls, followed by a swimming exhibition of competitive events.

SIGNIFICANT RECITALS

Graduating recitals, junior recitals, and recitals for diplomas have been the order of the last month. As two are receiving the degree of Bachelor of Music, Misses Gertrude Wallrich and Virginia Bauer—each gave a full evening's recital. Miss Wallrich appeared on May 15, and Miss Bauer on May 22, each with an audience which filled even the galleries of Roemer Auditorium.

Miss Marguerite Hersch, pianist;

Miss Helen Harrison, pianist, and Miss Marguerite Bruere, pianist, gave each recitals of their own at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the first on Tuesday, April 21, the other two on Tuesday, May 12 and May 19, respectively.

On other Tuesdays, April 28 and May 5, graduating recitals for diplomas were presented. On the first date, Miss Carmela Graziadei, mezzo soprano, shared the stage with Miss Lucile Krog, pianist. On May 5, Miss Elsa Brechnitz, pianist, was assisted by Miss Kathryn Sampsell, mezzo soprano, with Miss Virginia Bauer as accompanist.

Occupying the chapel assembly hour Thursday morning, April 30, were the following: piano, Misses Evelyn Baker, Dorothy Rumph, Virginia Brown, Marjory Dick; songs, Misses Sharlin Brewster, Kathryn Brewster; and piano, Misses Norma Erdwurm, Anita Rudowsky and Marguerite McCormick.

Banquets at St. Louis hostels gave high lights of the season, such as the junior-senior banquet at the Gatesworth Hotel, the Athletic Association banquet at the Forest Park Hotel, and just as the bulletin is going to press, the St. Louis Lindenwood Club annual luncheon at the Missouri Athletic Association, May 19, and the annual luncheon to the seniors at the Missouri Athletic Association, by President and Mrs. Roemer, a few days later. Dr. and Mrs. Roemer, and different members of the faculty have been guests of honor, and the witty things that have been said, and the pretty things that have been done, with flowers and with costumes, would more than fill the June bulletin, if space permitted.

Dr. Roemer addressed the Hermann (Mo.) High School, May 22nd.

Honored at Home

Misses Katherine Biggs and Laura Estelle Myer, former Lindenwood girls, have given pleasure to the music-lovers in the town of Boonville, Mo., and particularly to the McDowell Music Club of that city, by their parts in the leading roles of a musical comedy, "Miss Cherry Blossom," recently presented.

A business man and prominent citizen of Boonville has written this appreciation of the dramatic and musical gifts of these two girls as "Cherry Blossom" and "Kokemo" in the setting of a Japanese garden:

"There was no hitch in the play at any time, Cherry Blossom and Kokemo delivering their parts as if they were real professionals. It was one of the most successful home talent productions ever rendered here. Lindenwood may indeed feel proud of her two young ladies,—Misses Biggs and Myer. Boonville certainly is."

Miss Myer was honored by membership in Alpha Sigma Tau in 1923, and Miss Biggs was selected for Alpha Mu Mu in the same season.

"Took Their Pictures"

Memories of the veteran photographer, the late Mr. R. Goebel, who took Lindenwood girls' pictures continuously from 1856 to 1916, when he retired from business, are revived in a letter from his daughter, Mrs. C. W. Barber (Bertha Goebel), of Rockton, Ill., a Lindenwood graduate of 1893.

Mr. Goebel, at the time of his death, May 8, 1923, was the oldest living photographer in the State of Missouri. The volumes, "Reminiscences" and "The Newer Lindenwood" contain about 70 photographs which Mr. Goebel made.

Long ago, in the age of "tin-types," girls of Lindenwood began going to Mr. Goebel's studio, and many of the "girls of yesterday" have preserved those old-fashioned but clear likenesses, besides the many which were made after modern methods in his later years. He was a student of other arts also, a great reader, and in his youth a sailor who had seen different parts of the world.

After Half a Century

It just so happened that Miss Clara A. Wilson, of St. Louis, whose school-days at Lindenwood ended in 1874, had never in all that long interval visited the college. In the meantime she had become a valued teacher in the St. Louis Public Schools, and is still attached to the teaching staff of the Ames School.

But it was not until her nephew from a distance drove up to her residence at 4311 Washington boulevard, soon after Mayday, inviting her to "take a ride," that she came back to Lindenwood. "Girls, is this Lindenwood?" asked Miss Wilson, as they drove up among the trees.

They assured her it was, and immediately the girls round about became a guard of honor for this student of 50 years ago. She went up to "her room" (as they all do), and thought the thoughts, "the long, long thoughts" of youth. She was overjoyed at the improvements, and promised that it would not be long until she would come again.

Studied Artists' Work

A company of about 30 girls from the Art Department visited the St. Louis Art Museum, Saturday, May 9, inspecting the exhibition by Fromkes and other artists under the guidance of Miss Alice Linneman.

Establishing Traditions

Somehow the girls of Lindenwood have escaped infection of the prevalent idea that "everything must be new." Much is new, and much is modern, that is at Lindenwood, but it is gratifying to see the girls, of their own volition, clinging to traditions and beautiful things that are permanent. On Memorial Day they adorned with flowers those graves of Lindenwood's founders that are near the college. On Butler Day they decorated the portraits. The seniors are happy in the tradition that for the last month of the semester they have a table to themselves. And now come the juniors with their linden tree, which they planted with ceremonies as a solemn rite in their annual week. The tree was received by "Mother Roemer" from the hands of the junior president, after it had been planted, and juniors on down, for years to come, intend to give annually a new linden tree to the campus. Another "tradition" is the planting of Old Glory on the campus on the first day of junior week, the class gathering beneath its folds, with their own class flag, singing the national anthem in the early dawn.

Grades Excellent

Dean Gipson has expressed herself as well pleased with the marks attained by present students at Lindenwood. A gratifying number of girls have done thoroughly satisfactory work. Quite a few parents have been apprised by letters from the Dean's office, of this encouraging outlook.

* * * *

Model Hostesses

Part of the duties of the girls in a certain class in the home economics department is to plan and fulfill a social entertainment, at which there are to be four persons, including the hostess. It may be a formal dinner, an informal dinner, or a luncheon. In either case, the hostess must cook the food, and she must estimate her budget so that the dinner or the luncheon shall not cost more than one dollar per plate. Eighteen girls have so entertained. They work in teams of three, two being respectively server and general maid, while the hostess sits at the table. At the opening affair of this kind, on April 27, when Miss Delta Neumann was hostess at a formal dinner, the guests of honor were President and Mrs. John L. Roemer. At each succeeding entertainment, at least one member of the faculty was a guest.

An original idea in the guest list was carried out by Miss Kathryn Porter, who invited to her dinner on May 8 her mother, Mrs. C. F. Porter, and her grandmother, Mrs. Oscar Martin, both of Dahlgren, Ill.

Other girls who vied with each other on appointed days, much to the gratification of their home economics instructor, Miss Stewart, were Misses Thelma Aylor, Annavere Brookshire, Ruth Kahn, Wilma Niederluecke, Willa McCallum, Eleanor Stewart, Pauline Martin, Emma Prather, Nadine Ault, Verlee Schwarz, Agnes Boschert, Bessie McNary, Marjorie Wills, Rella Gammon, Mary Frances Wertz, and Mary Frances Lynch.

Mary Easton Sibley Fund Notes

EDITED BY CLARENCE A. BLOCHER, FIELD SECRETARY

Selling Lindenwood

In our present effort to raise $100,000 for the Mary Easton Sibley Scholarship Fund by June, 1927, every former student of Lindenwood College is a saleswoman; and your business as such is to "sell" Lindenwood.

There are those who know Lindenwood College only as a name, or who do not know it at all. To these the college must be presented in such a way that they will know where it is, what it is, and what it is doing. Then, to those who already know something about the institution, our efforts must be directed to make them fully appreciate its service and its needs.

This means: create an interest in Lindenwood; inspire a desire to help Lindenwood; and finally convert that desire to help into a pledge of assistance.

In all this you have a great advantage over the ordinary salesman in that you are helping a great cause—a cause which has your personal interest, your sincere loyalty, and your ardent faith. Draw for your friends a true and accurate picture of Lindenwood, of what it stands for, and of what it is doing for the young womanhood of the Middle West. Be earnest, be enthusiastic, be optimistic. In short, be an efficient saleswoman.

* * * *

Club Activities

The interest and enthusiasm in the Scholarship Fund movement is growing rapidly in many clubs. The Kansas City club has just recently entered the list of those clubs that have $2,000 to their credit; and that club, the St. Louis Club, and the Chicago Club are all going strong for a $5,000 scholarship each.

Some of the smaller clubs are working just as enthusiastically and are just as determined to reach their respective goals. The St. Joseph Club has been particularly active during the past two months, having put on a rummage sale and a food sale each of which netted them a neat sum.

The members of the St. Louis Club are selling tickets for Alice Joyce in "The Little French Girl" at the Missouri Theatre during the week of June 1 for which they will receive a liberal commission.

Write and tell us what your club is doing.

* * * *

Individual Efforts

There are hundreds of former students who are not members of Lindenwood Clubs. It is more difficult for these to work since they lack that moral support that comes from association with those similarly minded. Yet, many of these are sending in their personal contributions; and not a few of them are endeavoring to get their friends interested in the cause. When every one of our 2,500 former students get this interest and this desire to help, then success will be assured.

What are you doing to help? What part are you going to have in making it possible for worthy and deserving girls of the future to attend Lindenwood College?

Miss Alice Linneman, head of the art department, gave a talk on "Flemish and Dutch Painting," on a recent Friday afternoon, before the students of St. Teresa's Academy in East S. Louis, Ill.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jaspering, of 5928 Page boulevard, have announced the marriage, May 6, of their daughter, Miss Melba Jaspering, to Mr. Alfred S. Oatman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Oatman, of Keokuk, Ia. Her engagement had been announced February 28, at a pretty luncheon given to a number of friends at the Branscome Hotel. The bride attended Lindenwood three years, graduating in 1920. She is a niece of Miss Clara Jaspering, now a teacher in the St. Louis schools, who graduated at Lindenwood in 1897. Mr. Oatman attended Knox University, and during the World War he served overseas with the Marine Corps. They will reside in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stunkel have announced the marriage of their daughter Dorothy, who was a student in 1921-22, to Mr. W. Narvel Knowles, on May 16. Mr. and Mrs. Knowles will continue to reside in Owensville, Ind., which has been the home of both of them, and will be "at home" after June 1.

Another student of 1921-22, Miss Murel Anglin, is now a bride. Announcement of her marriage, April 12, to Mr. Victor Leighton Thompson, comes from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Anglin, of Benton, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Jensen have announced the marriage of their daughter, Adelaide Irma Jensen (1918-19), to Mr. James Gordon Wilson, on Thursday, April 2. The ceremony took place at San Diego, Calif., where they are making their home.

Invitations were received from Mr. and Mrs. James Absalom Keith, of Vandalia, Ill., to the marriage on Wednesday evening, June 3, of their daughter, Virginia, to Mr. F. Williams Dings, at their residence at 8:30 o'clock. The bride received an A. A. degree from Lindenwood in 1921, and had the honor of membership in Alpha Mu Mu, besides her rank in the International Relations Club, and as an editor of Linden Leaves and of the old "Linden Barks."

Mrs. Martha Manson has sent cards announcing the marriage of her daughter, Miss Anne Manson (1921-23), to Mr. Martin Luther Woodward, on Saturday, May 9, at Topeka, Kans.

Mrs. Joseph P. Porth has announced the marriage, at her home in Jefferson City, Mo., Tuesday, April 21, of her daughter, Elsie Sue Porth, a graduate of Lindenwood's home economics department, 1916, and a student in the college for three years preceding, to Mr. C. Ernest Baldwin. They will reside at Pattonville, in St. Louis County. One of the guests at this wedding was Miss Helen Chesbrough, of Los Angeles (1912-16), whose former home was in St. Louis. Having come "East" for the wedding, she remained for several weeks of visiting with St. Louis friends, then went on to New York and other Eastern points, including Asheville, N. C. She is expected back, some time this month, and may attend Lindenwood's commencement. The bride, Mrs. Baldwin, is expected without fail for the festivities of the week, as she now resides so near.

Clubs Congratulate President Roemer

In all the spring hurrying for scholarship entertainments by the various Lindenwood College Clubs, they remembered on the way a birthday which is extremely important to Lindenwood, and telegrams like the following from the St. Louis Lindenwood Club were received in plenty from different sources by Dr. John L. Roemer, on Saturday, May 2:

"Congratulations and very best wishes for a happy birthday."

While Dr. Roemer raises a protest against much of a celebration of this event at the college, the girls began the day with their joyous salute as they marched into breakfast. They sang altogether:

"Happy birthday to you,
Happy birthday to you,
Happy birthday, Dr. Roemer,
Happy birthday to you."

There were also large baskets of gladioli and other flowers presented by students and faculty and other friends.

Personals

Florence Seymour, of Chicago, is to be a student at Lindenwood this fall, and a member of the Chicago Lindenwood College Club writes concerning her: "She is the third member of the Seymour family to have this pleasurable opportunity."

Mrs. Fred McEwen (Jessie Rankin, graduate 1917), sends a snap shot of her buxom little daughter Marilyn, who is fourteen months old and is finding much pleasure in playing with a wagon as big as herself. "Dr. Fred and I," says her mother, "think she's the finest girl in the world." Mrs. McEwen's cousin, Miss Margaret Rankin, will be in college next semester.

Miss Priscilla Calder, graduate 1924, who has been doing post-graduate work at Washington University, has been awarded a fellowship at that institution, because of her scholarship standing, and will continue her studies at Washington U. for another year.

Mrs. Charles Harris Baker (Nellie Ingram, graduate 1896), of Pasadena, Calif., who is vice-president of the Lindenwood College Club of Southern California, was a guest at the college early in May, with her mother, who lives in Beloit, Kans.

Being called "out of her name" was the reason, last month, why Mrs. J. Louis Hauk, (Mildred Stotlemeyer), of St. Louis, was in the port of "unknown." She is active for Lindenwood, and writes that she "enjoys the little bulletin ever so much."

Marion Louise Bowers (1920-22) writes from Columbia that she is finding "frequent occasion" to commend Lindenwood to high school girls who are considering a college for the coming year, and she "really thinks she is sending some new girls." Miss Bowers hopes to be here for the Spring Festival, June 8.

Faith Houts, 1881, whose location is unknown, was incorrectly printed last month as Faith "Harts."

Mrs. Darnell, of Dawson, Ill., formerly Miss Rolla Purvines, spent a day at the college in mid-May, and hopes to return for commencement.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Kottler (Merla Goldsmith, of St. Louis, student at Lindenwood, 1918-21), have sent announcement cards from their home in Chicago, of the coming of their little son, Donald David, on April 20.

Three years after the graduation of Miss Vesta Mudd, of Chesterfield, Ill., comes the announcement from her husband and herself, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Graegy, of the advent of a daughter, April 23. Her name will be Dorothy Jane, and her weight is seven and one-half pounds.

"Good News Within," says the stork in blue, on a card accompanying the blue-ribboned baby card, which says, "My Name, Jack; at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Hurlburt, Wray, Colo.; arrived April 15." Mrs. Hurlburt was formerly Miss Veldron Cazier, a student of 1922-23.

Little Barbara Claire, who arrived April 27, is the first-born of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Rosenfeld (Delma Arenowitch, 1920-21), of Tuscaloosa, Ala. Dainty cards have been received.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross T. Cook, of Mc Cook, Neb., are announcing the advent of Dickey Lee Cook, on April 20. He is a big baby, weighing eight and one-half pounds. Mrs. Cook was formerly Miss Carol Baer, a student in 1921-23.

Little Sara Ann Tarrant, with date of May 5, has her own tiny card attached to that of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oliver Tarrant of 3535 Central, Kansas City.

Mrs. Tarrant will be remembered as Miss Josephine Russell, student of 1919.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Scales (Gracia Miller, 1917-18), of Eagle Mills, Ark., are announcing the arrival, May 8, of their little son, William Gluer.

Officers Chosen by St. Joseph Club

Officers for the year were elected as follows by the Lindenwood College Club of St. Joseph, Mo., at "a very enthusiastic meeting," as Mrs. Lee Webb Hillix writes, at the residence of Mrs. R. N. Ridge:

President, Miss Esther Hund.

Vice-President, Mrs. Edward C. Schroers (Hazel Moran).

Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Lee Webb Hillix.

Recording Secretary, Miss Virginia Hund.

Treasurer, Miss Harriette Ridge.

Publicity, Mrs. Vern P. Meyer (Lena Gordon).

Mrs. Ridge's daughter, Miss Harriette, assisted her as hostess. The club set May 16 as the date of its food sale for the benefit of the Sibley scholarship fund.

* * * *

Misses E. Louise Stone, Anna Wurster and Margaret Miles, of the modern languages faculty, were guests at the Lafayette Centennial celebration in St. Louis, at the Jefferson Memorial and at the Chase Hotel.

Mrs. John Sparkmann, of Poplar Bluff, Mo., R. F. D. No. 1, has been heard from as the former Bessie Wilson, whose name had been lost sight of for a while.

What They Did in May

A narrative from Mrs. E. R. Gentry (Ann Whyte) under date, May 10, gives a vivid picture of the warmth felt for Lindenwood by its Chicago girls. She says:

"The Pivot Bridge party in April was a festive affair, and well attended.

"Again, Mrs. Charles Wagner, generous-hearted and most gracious, opened her spacious home for the good cause. Cakes and candy brought quick response and good prices.

"Our worthy president, Mrs. George Lown, has put thought and zeal into the work for the Mary Easton Sibley scholarship fund, and it is most gratifying to see such splendid results still coming, though we have already raised our pledge, $1,000.

In this month, May, the club had a joyous day with Mrs. Walter W. Seymour and her daughter Margaret at their home in Bryn Mawr. The dining room appeased the aesthetic taste. Flanked by tall, large yellow candles—an artistic arrangement—a large bowl, with a group of small vases filled with marguerites and lacy ferns, graced the center of the table. The luncheon also carried out the Lindenwood colors, white and yellow, and the daisy flower, in the cakes, the menu courses, and in the bon bons.

"The manner of opening the business meeting was unique and most spirited. Mrs. Seymour had made a long daisy chain, a lovely one it was, and we, standing in a circle, sang:

"Lindenwood, dear Lindenwood, we love you,
We form friendship warm and dear,
Hearts beat high with praise and cheer,
Lindenwood, dear Lindenwood, we love you, we love you."

"Miss Margaret played the accompaniment, she having composed the words and music. Our club adopted the song, and will open our meetings with it in the future.

"Margaret also received congratulations, she having just received her Master's degree in Science, at Chicago University.

"Mrs. William J. Malcolmson gave a talk on her sojourn in England.

"The guest of honor was Mrs. D. Mac Lean, second district president, who addressed us. We are affiliated with the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

"Miss Veronica Hoehn, formerly of St. Charles, Mo., was with us."

* * * *

Death of Mr. Seymour

In sad sequence to the accounts from Chicago, and the hospitality of the Seymour home, comes the shocking announcement of the death of the head of the house, Mr. Walter W. Seymour, suddenly, from heart trouble, Friday, May 15. His wife, who was Margarita Petitdidier, Lindenwood B. S., 1891, and their daughter, Margaret, have the sympathy of all.

* * * *

Concert Tourist

Miss Ada Belle Files, who attended Lindenwood in 1922-23, was back for a visit in the middle of May. Friends here have heard much of Miss Files' successes on the concert stage, and she is just now on a tour which extends as far as the Pacific Coast. She has a rich, contralto voice and for 18 months has been studying with Eduardo Sacerdote, teacher of operatic stars. Miss Files' father, the late Benjamin Files, was a comrade of Buffalo Bill Cody, and accompanied the latter on his first trip across the plains to what is now Yellowstone Park.

Dr. Roemer Guest of Kansas City

WHAT CLUB CAN EXCEED THIS CLUB'S
$2,000?

On May 14, the Kansas City Lindenwood Club gave its annual spring luncheon at the Hotel Bellerive. It was largely attended, many coming from nearby towns.

The favors were yellow and white corsages made of paper, given by Mrs. Maud Gibbs, president of the Club. The tables were decorated in yellow and white flowers.

The guests of honor were Dr. John L. Roemer and Mr. Clarence A. Blocher.

Toasts were given by Mrs. Paul Donnelly, Mrs. J. W. Dumont, and Miss Ruth Laitner.

Mrs. Paul Donnelly, chairman of the Mary Easton Sibley Fund, announced that the club had succeeded in raising the $1,000 that it started out to raise this year and that the club now has $2,000 to its credit towards the $5,000 that it intends to raise by 1927. It is going right after that scholarship.

Dr. Roemer made an address, expressing his pleasure at the announcement and at the general progress of the Kansas City Club. He also told of some of the present activities of the college and outlined some of the plans for the near future.

* * * *

Parties and Business by Chicago Club

From Chicago, Mrs. Hal C. Wright sends an account of numerous clever activities of the club.

"Mrs. M. L. C. Funkhouser (Eugene Mermod) and Mrs. Clyde M. Joice (Rebecca Alden) were hostesses to the Lindenwood College Club of Chicago, April 10, at the residence of Mrs. Funkhouser, 933 Michigan avenue, Evanston.

A delightful luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock, after which a short business meeting was held, over which Mrs. George B. Lown presided. Arrangements were made for a bridge and five-hundred party, to be given at the residence of Mrs. Charles Wagner, April 23, the proceeds to go to the Mary Easton Sibley scholarship fund.

"In April Comes Butler Day," the leading article in the April Bulletin, in memory of the late Col. and Mrs. James Gay Butler, was read aloud by Mrs. Laurence G. Mullineux (Helen Holmes).

"Mrs. Louise La Nelle (Adda Patterson) and Mrs. Hal C. Wright (Claire Ehleb) were received as new members. Mrs. Ernest Dailey Smith also joined the club again, after an absence. Mrs. Smith is connected with the Northwestern School of Speech.

"A most welcome guest was the fifteen-months-old daughter of Mrs. Colgrove."

* * * *

Reaching the Goal

Members of the Kansas City Club are "going right ahead in their efforts to reach the goal by June," was the May message from that club.

"Mrs Paul Donnelly was chairman of a very successful bridge benefit for the scholarship fund at the Kansas City Club. The club gave a large rummage sale in March, with Mrs. Chester Birch as chairman. Mrs. W. C. Goffe had charge of a large benefit bridge, given April 30, at Blue Hills Country Club.

"The Club has been busy for the past two months, and hopes to do even more in the future."

Rev. Charles L. Chalfant, D. D. of Pittsburgh, Lindenwood's friend of many years, was the speaker at vesper service Sunday evening, May 17.
