BUTLER DAY

"Butler Day" was observed April 24, by the faculty and students at a special service held in Roemer Auditorium at eleven o'clock. The following program was given as a tribute to the late Colonel James Gay Butler and Mrs. Margaret L. Butler, Lindenwood's greatest benefactors:

In recalling conversations which he had had with Colonel Butler, Dr. Roemer said in his address,

"Colonel Butler came to St. Louis, became a very successful business man, and left a fortune of $6,000,000, one-half of which he gave to Lindenwood. He used to say that it was the easiest thing in the world for him to make money, but it was the hardest thing in the world for him to give it away. He did not want to throw it away but wanted to give it where it would count for something. Men, he said, had so many prudential reasons why things could not be accomplished that at length he turned to women, who seemed able to do things that ought to be done, without regard to prudential reasons. So he kept giving steadily through his lifetime. The fifteenth of each month was pay day when he sent checks to the Blind Girl's Home, the Children's Hospital and many other similar institutions. He wrote these checks as regularly as he did those for his employees."

It has often been said of Colonel Butler that he like Tennyson's knight "gave himself with his gifts." Typical also of the character of this great man were the following remarks which he often quoted:

"The world wants no more advice on how to make money.

"It has made too much for its peace of mind already."

DR. AND MRS. ROEMER ENTERTAIN SENIORS

Dr. and Mrs. Roemer recently entertained the twenty-nine members of the senior class at luncheon in the rose room of the Missouri Athletic Association of St. Louis. Other guests were Miss Templin, dean of the college, Mrs. Q. K. Underwood and Mrs. R. J. Boylan who represented the St. Louis press and Miss Elizabeth Steele of the administrative staff of Ohio Wesleyan College.

In the center of the long table was a mound of jonquils and carnations in yellow and white, the college colors.

After the luncheon informal speeches were made by Dr. and Mrs. Roemer, the guests, and the president of the class.

The senior class of this year is the largest senior class which has been graduated from Lindenwood since it was converted into a four year college in 1920.

While the luncheon was being served a vote was taken by the journalistic students concerning the attitude of the class toward bobbed hair. The result was against bobbed hair 18 to 11, but since the luncheon several more seniors have succumbed to fashion and now 14 of them have shortened tresses and 15 still possess "woman's crowning glory."

The combined ages of the class showed an average of 21.2 years. The two oldest girls in the class were both 23 and the two youngest 19.

Members of the class, all of whom were present are: Eugenie Andrus, Adaline Ayers, Priscilla Calder, Gladys Campbell, Mildred Carpenter, Alba Chapman, Margaret Ferguson, Florence Griffith, Allene Guthrie, Esther Hund, Ruth Kern, Roma Key, Isabel McMenemy, Helene Millsap, Eleanor Moehlenkamp, Katherin Moore, Keo Richards, Janet Robinson, Oreen Ruedi, Carolyn Sheetz, Ruth Steedman, Gladys Sullivan,

DANCE DRAMA

The interpretive dancing class entertained the Lindenwood faculty and students and guests from St. Charles one day last week with an original portrayal of the Chopin Nocturne, "The Last Rose." The rose in all its beauty, interpreted in appropriate costume by the graceful dancers, bloomed late in the autumn, and slowly unfolded her petals after the roses of summer had faded and died. She gaily danced into the storms of winter and became frightened by the storm clouds and winter winds; then the end steals upon her and the little rose wonders, "For who would inhabit this bleak world alone?"

About 200 girls participated in the pageant which included folk dances from Hungary, Sweden, Germany, England, Italy and Russia. Nature dancing based on fancies was a striking feature.

DR. WILLIAMSON LECTURES

Dr. C. M. Williamson who represents the National Park Service of the Interior Department of the federal government delivered an illustrated lecture to the faculty and students on Wednesday night in Roemer Auditorium describing the beauties and wonders to be found in our national parks.

In taking the audience by means of pictures, on a trip through the national parks, the speaker emphasized the fact that it is impossible to compare the marvels of the parks and say that one is more beautiful, more wonderful, and more interesting than another for there are in each, innumerable scenes which stir the emotions of man beyond expression.

Katherine Tinsman, Helen Towles, Katherine Weiss, Page Wright, Catherine Yount, Martha Whaley and Geraldine Wills.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION BANQUET

In accordance with the idea of Cinderella and her slipper which was carried out in the annual play given by the Athletic Association, "The Seven Cinderellas," their banquet, held at the Gatesworth Hotel, May first, had for its keynote the composition of the slipper.

Miss Page Wright, the toastmistress, in the role of the shoe maker wielded her hammer and the parts of the slipper responded as follows:

The Vamp	Dr. Roemer
The Arch	Mrs. Roemer
The Sole	Dean Templin
The Toe	Reba Crowe
The Heel	Miss Weber
The Brilliant Buckle	Mary Sayre
The Tongues	Margaret Ferguson
The Strap	Dorothy Gee

NEW DORMITORY TO OPEN NEXT FALL

Lindenwood's new dormitory which has been under construction for some time will be completed and ready for occupancy with the opening of the next school term in September. On the south side of the campus and facing Roemer Hall, the new building forms the third side of the quadrangle. The plan of architecture on which Roemer Hall is built will be carried out as far as possible. The entire cost when completed and furnished is estimated at $175,000.

The dormitory is planned to accommodate seventy-five girls. A new arrangement of rooms is being followed with four girls occupying a suite of two rooms and a bath.

One of the interesting features is the recreation room on the ground floor which will be a gathering place for club meetings and social times.

Two spacious parlors with large fireplaces will be an inviting feature.

One respect in which the new building differs from the other dormitories on the campus is in the type of fire escapes to be used. Enclosed stairway fire escapes at either end of the building are a decided improvement over the iron ladder type.

APPOINTMENT BUREAU

Lindenwood has been highly successful in placing former students in positions for which they are qualified, by means of the Appointment Bureau which has been established this year. The Bureau is solely for the benefit of Lindenwood girls.

The Bureau will gladly attempt to place any former student of Lindenwood who fills out one of the information blanks which will be sent to her upon request.

EASTER HOUSE PARTIES

During the Easter vacation many of the students and members of the faculty who could not go home because of the briefness of the vacation, either went on camping parties or were fortunate enough to be invited to visit friends who live near enough to the college to spend the vacation period at home.

A number of the faculty members including Misses Postel, Meachem, Craig, Marjorie Weber, and Mrs. George Null of St. Charles spent the vacation in a cottage which they rented at Chautauqua, Ill., a summer resort on the Mississippi river near Alton, Ill. While there they hiked, cooked their own meals and amused themselves by serenading Miss Clement and Miss Nye who had a cottage at the same resort.

Miss Blanche Smith of Winchester, Ill., entertained with a house party for Misses Florence Good, Reba Crowe and Katherine Hocker.

Miss Catherine Porter had as her guests Misses Corinne Moore, Caroline Kelly, Harriet Johnston and Elsie Mann at her home in Dahlgren, Ill.

Misses Helen Stuckey, Mary Breath-wit, Elizabeth Speaker, Louise Storm and Marion Meyers were the guests of Miss Catherine Curry at her home in Beason, Ill.

TO SUMMER IN EUROPE

Miss Ariel Gross, teacher of piano, at Lindenwood will study this summer at Fontainebleau Palace, within an hour's ride of Paris. The number of American tourists at this conservatory of international renown is limited to one hundred twenty so that it is a rare privilege to be admitted.

Miss Louise Stone, head of the department of romance languages, with her niece, Miss Janet Robinson, a senior, will study this summer at the Sorbonne in Paris. Aside from study Miss Stone and Miss Robinson expect to spend some time travelling in the European countries.

Miss Page Wright who will graduate from Lindenwood this May will spend her summer vacation traveling in Europe.

ALUMNAE

Mrs. Lee Wright (Josephine Richey), '22-'23, writes: "I wonder if you would change my name and address on the College Bulletin List? I look forward to receiving the Bulletin and when it gets mislaid over at my old address I am terribly disappointed." Mrs. Wright's address is 568 North Cherry Street, Galesburg, Ill.

Mrs. W. P. Hooper (Harriet Bailey, '07-'08), writes that she has many happy recollections of Lindenwood and would like very much to be here for commencement this year.

Ernest E. Howard of Kansas City, informs us that his sisters, Mildred and Ernestine Howard, who were students in Lindenwood during the years '17-'19, are continuing their work in music. Mildred has been in Boston since leaving the college and has taught at Bradford Academy. Ernestine is in Dallas, Texas and is playing and accompanying in concert. They have recently returned from an European tour.

Mrs. E. E. Huse (Grace Lauman), '17-'19, says: "I have realized that it is high time that I have my address changed in your office so that the Bulletin will come direct to me. My mother is visiting me so that it has not been forwarded to me from California for several months. I do miss them so much when they don't come, and enjoy them so much when they do. I wonder if there is a possibility of ever having a Lindenwood Club in the Twin Cities? If there are enough of us here we would all be interested." Mrs. Huse's present address is 2057 Laurel Avenue, St. Paul, Minn.

The following graduates and former students have asked that their addresses be changed: Mrs. Guy B. Bebout (Bess Roter), former graduate and teacher, to Zanesville, Ohio; Mrs. E. CAMPUS NOTES

Miss Jessie Hamilton ('17-'19) of Okmulgee, Ok., writes from Los Angeles, Cal., where she is spending the winter with her family. "I received the notice of the organization of the Appointment Bureau at Lindenwood and want to register my name. I shall greatly appreciate it if you will send me an application form. Since graduating from Lindenwood I studied a year and a half at Oklahoma University under three Emerson teachers of the Fine Arts department, then took two terms of work at Emerson College of Oratory. I certainly enjoyed my Lindenwood days and say with a great deal of pride that I am a graduate of Lindenwood College."

"I wish to thank you for the 1924 calendar," writes Mrs. George C. Bonecutter (Hazel Crockett), '18-'19. "It is surely typical of Lindenwood life. It almost made me homesick for Lindenwood again. I enjoy the Bulletin every month for most every issue has something about someone who attended Lindenwood at the same time I did, and I also enjoy knowing what is going on at the present time."

Mrs. Leroy Kiefner (Alberta Lake-nan), '08-'09, writes: "Every time I read the Bulletin I make up my mind to sit right down and write to thank you for it. I have just finished the February number and see where Mrs. Ayers is to visit there. Dr. Ayers was president when I attended Lindenwood and Professor Quarles was dean of music. I often wonder what has become of the girls of 1908-'09. The last time I was in St. Charles, Butler Hall was nearly completed. Jubilee Hall was just finished when I attended so I would scarcely know the old campus now."

Mrs. Lucie Clinkscales of Vinita, Okla., spent several days at the college visiting her daughter, Louise.

Miss Rose McClelland has accepted a position in the public schools of Gideon, Mo. She obtained the position through the Lindenwood appointment bureau.

Miss Marguerite Mitchener had as her guest last week her mother, Mrs. W. C. Mitchener of Okmulgee, Okla.

Mrs. Frank Ransom of Greenwood, Miss., visited her daughter, Mary Margaret, for several days preceding vacation.

Mrs. O. E. Griffin of Girard, Kan., spent the Easter holidays as the guest of her daughter, Martha.

The Athletic Association has elected the following officers for next year: Reba Crowe, Olustee, Ok., president; Miss Helen Lee Maupin, Moberly, Mo., vice-president; Gertrude Bird, Davenport, Ia., secretary; Mary Maxwell, Lamar, Colo., treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hanna of Clay Center attended the recital given by their daughter, Florence, who is the fifth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hanna to attend Lindenwood.

Mrs. Bernard Von Hoffman (Dorothy McClintock, '21-'22) of St. Louis, visited friends at the college recently.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Jordan of Sparta, Ill., came to Lindenwood to attend the recital of their daughter, Miss Lucille Jordan.

Following the luncheon an enjoyable hour was spent in book reviewing.

Mrs. Anna Whyte Gentry, corresponding secretary of the Chicago Club writes as follows: "I am happy to return safe and sound from circling this wonderful globe and to be once more with the genial girls who gave evidence of their interest and sincerity by having a message for me at many of the far eastern ports. The United States stamps looked good to us and the greatest pleasure to be had in a foreign clime is to receive a letter from home.

"I send greetings to the Kansas City Club members who kindly remembered me. To the New York Club I send my sincere appreciation for the delightful tea at the home of their president, Mrs. Burritt. And to the Chicago Club I send thanks for the flowers delivered to the ship on our embarking."
