LINDENWOOD DEBATERS DEFEAT MISSOURI

A Debating Team picked from the two teams which defeated Washington University, consisting of Ruth Martin, Virginia Heinrich and Eleanor Grubb, met the girls' debating team from Missouri University in a debate on the subject "Resolved that the United States should enter into an agreement for the general cancellation of the inter-allied war debts." The Lindenwood team had the affirmative side of the question.

The teams were well matched and the tension ran high as Franc L. McCluer, professor of history and economics, Westminster College, the only judge, made his way to the platform to give his decision and the reasons for it. When he announced that the affirmative team had won by the clearness and soundness of their arguments the Lindenwood songs and yells were given with more than their usual spirit and force.

The members of both Lindenwood debating teams and the Missouri teams with Miss Spahr, Miss Collins and Dr. Calder were Dr. Roemer's guests at a banquet in the tea-room after the debate.

TWO VICTORIES IN ONE EVENING

Two victories in one evening was the record established by the Lindenwood debating teams. Is it any wonder that we are proud?

On the evening of March 14, while the affirmative team consisting of Ruth Martin, Eleanor Grubb, Carolyn Myll, Katherine Huddleston (alternate), accompanied by Miss Collins, were defeating the Washington University team at the University in St. Louis, the negative team consisting of Helen Calder, Virginia Heinrich, Martha Cowan, Helen Riordan (alternate), were convincing the judges here at the college that "Resolved that the United States should enter into an agreement for the general cancellation of the inter-allied war debts" was not "wise and feasible."

This is the second time that the Washington University and the Lindenwood debating teams have met. The first time, last year, the Lindenwood teams were decidedly victorious and we feel that we have established a record of which we may well be proud.

Miss Margaret Spahr, head of the history department, and sponsor of the International Relations club, under whose auspices the debates were given, coached the teams with the aid of Dr. Robert S. Calder and Miss Jeannette M. Collins.

THE ROYAL PARTY

The Reigning Sovereign of Lindenwood College for 1923 was greeted with cheers and clapping at the chapel hour, March 1, when Mrs. Roemer announced the May Queen, her maid of honor and her four attendants, who were elected by the vote of the student body. Following a recital by the music department, excited whispers and then an expectant hush filled the chapel. Mother Roemer appeared on the stage and kept her audience waiting for the announcement long enough to make it thoroughly exciting. As she read the names of those elected, the pent up cheers broke loose and the queen and her attendants were greeted with all the enthusiasm and loyalty due a real sovereign.

The May queen is Lois Luckhardt, and her maid of honor is Harriet Ridge. The four attendants are Mary Lucile Redden, Helene Millsap, Almyra Givens and Alba Chapman.

The May day fete is the climax of the social life of the college year and is celebrated with the crowning of the queen in a beautiful ceremony. The girls chosen for this event are honored very highly by their classmates. The queen is elected from the upper-classmen of high scholastic standing, who also possess those traits which make her admired by the students and the faculty.

THE MALADE IMAGINARE

One of the most successful entertainments of the year was the all-French play, given Friday evening, February 16, when Moliere's "Le Malade Imaginaire" was presented with scenery and costumes of the period of Louis XVI. The play was under the auspices of "Le Cercle Francais."

M. Henri DeLecluse as Argan, the invalid was splendid, and even though many of the audience, by their limited knowledge of French, were unable to understand all of the dialogue, his inflections, expressions and acting were so good that all was understood.

Geraldine Smythe as the maid was a very impudent meddlesome little person, but in spite of this fact, she represented good common sense and the scene where she quarreled with her master and derided him for his foolish infatuation for the doctors was most amusing.

The rest of the cast were excellent in their parts, also. They were:

Argan, the invalid.....H. de Lecluse
Toinette, Argan's maid.....Geraldine Smythe
Angelique, Argan's daughter.....Martha Hatfield

Beline, Argan's second wife.....Gladys Lynn
M. de Bonnefoi, Beline's lawyer.....Julia Ayers
Cleante, Angelique's lover.....Janet Robinson
M. Diafoirus, a doctor.....Roberta Mochlenkamp
Thomas Diafoirus, his son.....Margaret Bowers
Louison, Argan's little daughter.....Ruth Jameson
Beralde, Argan's brother.....Gertrude Bird
M. Fleurant, an apothecary.....Marion Bowers
M. Purgon, Argan's physician.....Oreen Ruedi

CEREMONY

1st DoctorMarion Stone
2nd DoctorMartha Whaley
3rd DoctorHelen Maupin
4th DoctorPriscilla Calder

The committee of arrangements consisted of Laura Cross, Carolyn Myll, Roma Key, Gertrude Bird, and Helen Holmes.

Much of the credit for the success of the play is due to Miss E. Louise Stone, head of the department of Romance languages, who devoted her time and unceasing efforts to making it the decided success that it was.

Musical numbers were presented between scenes, including two selections by the college orchestra, a solo by Martha Whaley, and a quartet composed of Esther Saunders, Caroline Sheetz, Gladys Sullivan and Rachel Strong.

HE'S A PERFECT LADY

"He's A Perfect Lady" was a perfect scream! One continuous laugh!

What was it? Why everyone knows that it was the three-act musical comedy given by the Athletic Association, written by Laura Cross and Laura Estelle Myer, directed by Mercedes Hicks, music written by Martha Porter, and starring Florence Bartz.

The play opened in the De Pester home where Billy Blake came to visit. He (or she) meets Cecil and decided that "He's a Perfect Lady!" (At once we are almost certain that Cecil is English.) Jessica, the high-brow daughter found Billy very interesting, but Billy thought Jessica "Dumb, so dumb that she likes me." Papa and Mamma De Pester were very anxious to have Jessica and Billy, whom they think is a very rich young man, fall in love with each other. Billy's efforts to deceive the family as to her identity and her final discovery of her love for Cecil afforded many laughs. In the meantime, Billy has made a beauty of Jessica who captures the heart of one Jimmie Jake without even trying.

Act III

1. Say It With Music.....Jimmy and Jessica
2. Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses.....
Esther Saunders
3. Cutie.....Cecil and Billy
4. Finale—Perfect Lady.....The Entire Cast

The song hit of the play was:

He's A Perfect Lady

You have heard about the perfect lady of those olden days,
Whose dainty ways receive all praise.
If you think the perfect lady never will be found again,
You just watch the modern men.

Now Cecil is a perfect lady and his ball room art

Makes grandmamma seem really rough.
For sports he airs the pekinese and visits fifty-seven teas.

Now isn't that athletic enough?

He drinks—pink tea, at bridge he's as reckless as can be,

And though he has a line, you find

There's nothing on his mind

But brilliantine, Our perfect joke!

SCHOLARSHIPS OFFERED FOR NEXT YEAR

The college offers a larger number of scholarships for the coming year than usual. The five freshmen having the best scholastic standing will be given $100 to be applied on next year's tuition. An offer of $150 each, is made to the five sophomores having the best ranking. Ten scholarships of $200 each are open to the members of the junior class. To the senior who in her four year's residence at Lindenwood has had a uniformly excellent record, will be given $500 to be applied on her tuition at any graduate school of the student's choice.

In addition to these there are a number of service scholarships in all of the departments that are awarded annually.

MRS. TUBBS OF SHANTYTOWN

"Mrs. Tubbs of Shantytown," a sparkling three-act comedy was presented in the auditorium February 23. The play was given by the members of the dramatic training class under the direction of Miss Mary Louise Wright, an instructor in the department of oratory.

The plot centers about Mrs. Mollie Tubbs, who, although she has four of her children with her, still yearns for her boy who went away and her greatest desire is to find him. The grocer of Shantytown visits Mrs. Tubbs with matrimonial views but Clingie Vine, an old maid who boards at Mrs. Tubb's home, thinks that his attentions are directed toward her. This affords a very comical situation in the play. A young census taker and the school teacher introduce a bit of romance.

The play was both humorous and pathetic as reflected in the humble soul of Mrs. Tubbs with her simple philosophy of life:

"When you feel the blues a-coming
Whistle, laugh, or sing.
It makes the other fellow happy,
You feel like a king.
Ain't no use to go a-sighin'
Clouds go rollin' by,
Jest you smile and see how quick
Sunshine fills the sky."

The cast of the play was:

Mrs. Mollie Tubbs.....	Clarice Williams
Clingie Vine.....	Esther Coleman
Mrs. Hickey	Theo Meyer
Maydelle Campbell.....	Elizabeth Ganner
Simmon Rubbels.....	Evelyn Cox
Tom Riordan.....	Ruth Bogue
Queenie Sheba Tubbs.....	Nona Abraham
Methusalem Tubbs.....	Evelyn Noland
Billy Blossom Tubbs.....	Lydell Hahn

GIFT OF THE JOURNALISM DEPARTMENT

A fund of about one hundred dollars which has been accumulated through the various "stunts" of the journalism department for the past three years has been devoted to the purchase of books for the college library. A number of new biographies are being added, including Strachey's "Life of Queen Victoria." Incomplete sets of Shaw, Kipling, and Maeterlinck have been filled out. Works of Ludwig Lewisohn and others of current interest have been added also. A large part of this money was made by the girls in printing a special edition of the St. Charles Banner News last year.

NEW $50,000 DORMITORY

Dr. Roemer has announced that the plans have been completed for a new $50,000 building to be used exclusively as a dormitory for the faculty.

The building, which is to be two-story and modernly equipped to the last degree, will be completed and ready for occupation by September 1, 1923. The building will be erected on the new driveway just south of Eastlick hall. It will be of brick with stone facings. A kitchen and dining room, for the faculty's especial convenience, will be situated in the basement of the dormitory, with another suite of rooms set aside for the maids. The two upper floors will be made into a suite of parlors and living apartments. The building will be furnished to accommodate twenty-two persons.

Eastlick hall will receive improvements during the summer months, and a new heating plant is to be installed in the basement of Margaret hall. This plant will be used to heat the new dormitory also.

WRITES MUSIC FOR PRIZE SONG

The prize for the music to the 1923 college song was awarded to Ruth Alexander, Ardmore, Oklahoma. This music will be sung with the words already written by Margaret Taggart. The judges in the contest for the music were the music faculty. And it is the opinion of the student body, after having heard Ruth play our new song, that they chose well.

Ruth is majoring in voice and minor-ing in pipe organ.

MRS. ROEMER ENTERTAINS

Mrs. J. L. Roemer entertained a number of her friends at a four course luncheon in the Home Economics suite, February 15. Covers were laid for twelve on the Valentine decorated table. The color scheme of red and white was carried out in the place, cards, lighting, and menu.

AN IRISH COSTUME PARTY

An Irish costume party, with Irish music, games and songs, was given March 9, by the students of the art department under the direction of Elaine Myers, president of the art club. The prize of the batik scarf, offered for the best Irish costume was awarded to Martha Hatfield who was dressed as a little Irish boy.

Kathleen Fleming had charge of the potato race which caused much merriment.

Music for the dancing was furnished by the freshman orchestra. Decorations and posters in green and white were very effective.

The proceeds from the party will be sent to the Le Nid de Liefra orphanage in France to which the art club has made contributions for the last several years.

THE JUNIOR STEAK ROAST

"Going to the steak roast?"

"Well, I should say so."

This constituted most of the conversation among the juniors on the first really snowy day after vacation. Of course a sleigh ride was the intended thing, but the snow melted too soon, so that about 5 o'clock the class piled on a large hay frame covered with straw and left the campus for a ride into the country. About two miles northeast of town a fire was built, the steaks roasted (?) to eat with the buns, pickles, potatoe chips, and cookies.

On the return drive, a quartet made up of the strongest, if not the most melodious voices in school; namely, Adeline Ayers, Page Wright, Helen Riordan, and Keo Richards, added to the general air of hilarity. The class returned to the college at 7:30, tired but happy, announcing their arrival by songs and yells.

TO BULLETIN READERS

You missed your March number of the College Bulletin. We know you did and can give the reason for the "miss." The College catalogue and viewbook take the postal privileges one issue of the twelve, every year. It is one number of the Bulletin. The College sends out its catalogue and viewbook to prospective students at that time, and so you failed to get the March number you have been writing about. However, the April number in size and news notes will make up for the delay.

JAZZ NIGHT

The Oklahoma club's Baby Show was one of the many amusing features that made Jazz Night one of the big successes of the year.

The gymnasium walls were lined with booths, where the officers of the state clubs officiated, selling pop corn balls, cream puffs, and Eskimo pies. Time had turned back for the Oklahoma girls, and their booth represented a very realistic baby show. The gymnasium took on an added note of gaiety because of the huge bunches of vari-colored balloons which the Missouri girls were selling.

Later in the evening a mock Orpheum program was presented. One of the most successful numbers was the "Radio Personals," in which Aleen Denning, assisted by Laura Cross, a victrola, a whistle, and a tin pan behind the scenes, made a fake radio give an excellent imitation of a real one. The entire program was excellent, but other numbers which stood out because of their originality were: "Love's Sacrifice," a melodramatic burlesque, featuring Page Wright, and Laura Estelle Myer of "He's A Perfect Lady" fame; "The Maker of Dreams," a one act drama put on by the Lindenwood Players, and artistically enacted, in spite of the lack of all stage properties.

Jazz Night is an annual affair, under the supervision of the Y. W. C. A., and it is an affair looked forward to all the year.

WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY PARTY

George and Martha Washington were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Roemer at the Washington birthday dinner-dance, Thursday night, February 22. Indeed the "Washingtons" were well represented as the members of the senior class were all costumed in long, full skirts, breeches, and powdered wigs of colonial time.

The party was given by the three under classes, of which the girls of the senior class were the guests of honor. Places at dinner were reserved for them at two long tables presided over by Dr. and Mrs. Roemer. The dinner was in keeping with the holiday it celebrated, from the cherry tree salad, and red, white, and blue ice cream, to the candy filled hatchets which were given as favors.

After the dinner the party was continued in the Butler gymnasium, where the special feature of the evening was the dancing of the minuet by Kathleen Fleming and Mary Clark.

HER REQUEST WAS GRANTED

Dr. John L. Roemer,
President Lindenwood College,
St. Charles, Mo.

Dear Dr. Roemer:

Many years ago, Uncle George Sibley, my father's brother, came to Louisiana to pay our family a visit. While with us, he insisted on my father allowing me to return with him, and have the advantage of an education in his school.

In those early days, distances seemed so great, owing to the difficulties of travel, that my father would not give his consent for me to leave him. All through the years I have felt the need of just such advantages that I could have had at Lindenwood. Now, at ninety years of age, I am coming to you with a request. I have a little great-grand-daughter, (David Land), whose father made the supreme sacrifice in the World War, having died in France a month before her birth. I would love so to have a scholarship for this little four-year old girl, and if you feel that you could do so, would greatly appreciate this favor. She is only a baby now, but I realize that the remaining days of my life are few, and I would be so gratified to know that her education was secured, when she is old enough to go to college. It is sentiment that prompted me to ask this of you, for I would be happy to think that some day this unusually bright and gifted little one would be educated in the school that was the lifework of my Uncle.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. T. H. Morris,
(Mary Sibley)

687 Jordan St., Shreveport, La.

JUBILEE ENTERTAINS

Jubilee parlors were the scene of an attractive tea on Thursday, February 8, from 4:30 to 6 o'clock, when Mrs. Effie Roberts, head of the building and the two members of the student board, Josephine Erwin and Roma Key, entertained the girls living in Jubilee hall. Mrs. Roemer was the guest of honor.

The receiving line was composed of Mrs. Roberts, Roma Key, Josephine Erwin, Beth Hall, and Dr. Roemer. The guests were entertained by piano selections by Mildred Hardman and Marguerite Hersch, and with songs by Esther Hund and Ruth Alexander.

This is one of a series of teas which are being given in the different buildings on the campus.

ATTENTION ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION!

Dear Lindenwood Alumnae:

We have set ourselves an ambitious goal. We propose to raise $100,000 by June, 1927. We are doing this for a dual reason.

First, to honor the memory, and perpetuate the name of the noble woman to whose far vision we owe our Alma Mater. When we have accomplished our mission and firmly established, for all time, the Mary Easton Sibley Scholarship fund of Lindenwood College, we shall have discharged the debt of gratitude that every loyal daughter looks upon as her own personal obligation.

Second, we shall have established a work of benevolence the fruit of which, will be the opportunity for higher education, extended to ambitious girls, not otherwise able to obtain it. We shall also have created conditions which will encourage emulation in all who come after us.

When we contemplate the magnitude of our undertaking, we are apt to be influenced by a sense of hesitancy. This must be overcome at once. We must not think of the aggregate amount, but of the hundred cents, the individual dollar, and must realize that "It is the multitude of small streams flowing that make the mighty sea."

The dollars of the clubs of limited membership will be as welcome as the tens of dollars from those of stronger growth. So let no group, however small, be deterred from doing what it can.

In union we possess enthusiasm, persistency, energy and interest. Multiply these by sincere effort and we need not fear the ultimate result.

When in any way we seek funds for a work of benevolence, we are neither asking personal favors nor incurring obligations. Instead, we are offering opportunities for service, and service is praise in concrete form.

Faithfully yours,

Stella W. Gale, President,

Alumnæ Association.

ALUMNÆ NOTES

Elizabeth Harris, 1921-'22, writes from Poteau, Okla., that "Every issue of the Bulletin makes me wish that I was back at Lindenwood. I hope to be there again some time. I now have a position in the Court House in the County Clerk's office. My work is interesting and I like it very much."

"I want to thank you for the attractive calendar and for the Bulletin which I receive each month," writes Mrs. C. C. Wilson (Adred Crosby), '12. "It has been several years since I was a Lindenwood girl but I'm always interested in hearing of her progress. I plan to come back some day and see all the wonderful changes that have been made since I graduated."

"I enjoy and look forward to the Bulletin each month so much that I do not want to miss a copy," writes Irma Jensen, '21-'22. "My new address is 2515 30 street, San Diego, Cal."

"I am quite sure that I never miss a word of the newsy little Bulletin," says Mrs. W. Curtis Busher (Helen M. Waddington), '19-'20. "Thank you for the 1923 calendar. It occupies a prominent place in my home."

Alma Frerking, '17-'18, writes, "The Bulletin brings me bits of news from all the girls and also tells me what is going on at Lindenwood now. I have been teaching in Richmond, Virginia for the last two years, and find it very enjoyable work. The spirit of hospitality is great among the people here."

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE

"The Bulletin brings back my pleasant memories of the days I spent at Lindenwood," writes Lucy Crumpton. "It is my greatest wish that my daughter Mildred, now in her first year of high school may some day be a Lindenwood student."

Mrs. M. G. Peers, Collinsville, Illinois (Leila Beidler), '78-'79, sends greetings and best wishes to Lindenwood.

"It has been a real treat to receive the Bulletin and I trust some day to be able to join a local society, but up to the present time I have been unable to even attend the meetings when invited. Being a business woman is independent to a certain extent but I find that one's time is not all her own," writes Mrs. B. B. Trulock (Bertha Bown), '95.

Katherine Henry, '21-'22, is in training for a nurse at Nashville, Tenn.

"When I think of the years I spent at Lindenwood I have such happy memories," writes Mrs. Harry Swanstrone (May Beckman), '18. "Thank you so much for the Bulletin which I receive every month."

Mrs. Floyd Tomlin (Louise Matthews), '20-'22, and Mrs. Harry E. Hamilton (Florence Finger), '12, send their good wishes to Lindenwood.

Mrs. H. W. Stelle (May Wright), '85, writes from Washington, D. C. where she is spending the winter, "I just want to tell you how much I appreciate the Bulletin. As soon as it arrives I forget all duties to find out what is going on at Lindenwood. Although I am one of yesterday's girls, I frequently see the name of one of the girls I knew in the old days.

I owe you thanks for helping me locate a number that I am happy to keep in touch with."

"It is very interesting to read of the improvements and happenings of the college," writes Mrs. Clifford Peterson (Inez Oberg), '17-'18. "I would love to see Roemer hall, and perhaps I shall some day."

Mr. and Mrs. George Norris (Myra Stith), Burdette, Kansas, and children are spending the winter in Miami, Florida.

Lucille Johnston, '19-'20, writes from the University of Colorado, "I am very proud to have been a student at Lindenwood for it seems to be the only girls' college from which the University of Colorado accepts credits without cutting them.

"Since I have been here a number of other girls from Lindenwood have come, so that now we have a small colony. We all get together to read the Bulletin and to talk over the very pleasant days we spent there. The Bulletin is certainly a splendid agent for keeping together the old Lindenwood girls and maintaining their interest in the welfare of the college. Margaret McIntosh and Leone Voorhees who were there with me three years ago, are now here, and we often make plans to come back next Home Coming."

"Here's a bit of interesting news for the Bulletin," writes Ruth Spieldoch, '18, "My dear friend and former room mate, Alice Wenger, Detroit, now Mrs. J. Montemerli Batting, London, England, is in the States visiting friends in Detroit and St. Louis."

BIRTHS

To Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Churchill (Margaret Green Russell), '15, Pitts-ville, Alabama, Mary Etta.

To Dr. and Mrs. W. Walton Davis (Leora Davis), '12, San Diego, Cal., William Dalton, February 10.

To Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Clark (Jean Maser), '20-'21, Independence, Kansas, Richard Rodney, February 10.

To Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Buckham (Bernadine Weber), '16-'18, Mt. Vernon, Ill., Waller Weber, February 17.

To Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Leonard (Ruth F. Sexaner), '10-'11, Tioga, Colo., Walter Lloyd, March 8.

To Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Haymaker (Dorothy E. Taylor), '21, Winona Lake, Indiana, Charles Edward.

MARRIAGES

Myrtle Smith, '18-'19, DeQueen, Ark., to Richard Thomas Rogers, January 2.

Helen Margaret Somerville, '17, Kansas City, Mo., to Frederick Easton Whitten, January 20.

Frances Loine Engle, '19-'20, Abilene, Kansas, to Thomas J. Neely, February 12.

Marion Frances Pohlman, '21-'23, Hillsboro, Ill., to Roy G. Dunn, February 11. At home in Hillsboro, Ill.

Oma Walker, '21-'22, Parsons, Kansas, to William P. Talbot, Jr., October

21. At home at 215½ South 16 Street, Parsons, Kansas.

Mary Louise Kirkpatrick, '20-'21, Topeka, Kansas, to DeForest F. Joslin, March 3.

CAMPUS NOTES

Mrs. David Hardy (Nellie Drury), '76, one of the oldest living alumnae of Lindenwood was on the platform to welcome Dr. Roemer when he gave an address to the high school students of Waterloo, Illinois, February 16. Mrs. Hardy is one of the most enthusiastic of the alumnae and is a member of the Alumnae Association.

Miss Weld is back with us after a few weeks' absence on account of ill health.

Dr. J. E. Kirby of the Near East Relief Commission gave a clear picture of the need for aid in the European countries in a lecture at the Thursday assembly, February 22. The girls voluntarily pledged themselves to contribute to the fund.

"Spring has come!" Of course these cold days that come every once in a while may go to disprove the fact, but then as positive proof that Spring is here, are the games of hopskotch and jacks which the girls are playing.

Adelina Ayers and Harriet Ridge represented Lindenwood at the Student Service Council which was held at Columbia, Mo., February 16, 17 and 18. The Council is under the direction of the International Council of Religious Education and the Missouri Sunday School Association. Thirty-eight colleges and universities were represented.

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE

Professor Franc M. Schoell of the University of Strassburg, Alsace-Lorraine was the guest of the French club February 9. Professor Schoell spoke to the French club in the afternoon and in the evening addressed the entire student body on "University Life In France."

The new officers of the Euthenics club are: Edna Krinn, president; Margaret Porter, vice-president; Isabel McMenemy, secretary; Eunice Willbrand, treasurer.

Dr. Samuel A. Coyle, pastor of the McCausland Avenue Presbyterian church, St. Louis, gave an address on "The Practical Education for Practical Living" February 15.

Rabbi Samuel Thurman of the United Hebrew Temple spoke at the Thursday assembly February 6.

"How to be Happy Though Living" was the theme of an address delivered by Dr. Roemer before the Railroad Y. M. C. A. February 1.

Miss Jeannette Collins, instructor of journalism, entertained with a Valentine tea for the members of the newswriting class.

Miss Alice Linnemann, head of the art department, has been made a member of the American Federation of Arts. She has also been asked to serve as chairman of the invitation committee for that organization, in this district. Only those who have exceptional ability are eligible to this club.

Another sure sign of spring is the number of recitals now being given. Miss Paula Postel presented her pupils in an organ recital; the expression pupils gave a recital; Miss Ariel Gross presented her pupils in a piano recital; Miss Elizabeth Farmer, assisted by Misses Gross and Gray, and Mr. Thomas gave a recital at Sunday Vesper service.

The freshman Jazz Orchestra dressed in white Valentine decorated costumes and red head-bands, furnished the music for an informal Valentine dance in the gymnasium February 14. The dance followed a Valentine dinner, at which a general Valentine scheme was carried out in the menu.

Pep! Pep! That is the cry at all the basketball games. In the first interclass game of the season the freshmen won over the sophomores by a score of 6-16. The junior class went down to defeat before the seniors. At a later date the two victorious teams will meet and try for the class championship. The members of the senior team are: Dorothy Ely, Helen Peyton, Carolyn Myll, Kathleen Fleming, Mary Clark, Louise Clark, Jeanette Clarkson, Florence Bartz. The members of the freshman team are: Reba Crowe, Dorothy Adams, Rosalynde Johnston, Ruth Stewart, Hazel Doerner, Julia Ayers, Irene Wilson.

Dr. W. M. Cleveland, St. Louis, was the guest of the Y. W. C. A. for a week. Dr. Cleveland made talks every evening to the girls who are interested in mission work.

The week of March 12-17 was "walk straight week." A campaign was made for 100 per cent "walk straight" buildings,—a "walk straight" card being given to everyone who walked straight. The Gables was the first building to be 100 per cent. Other 100 per cent buildings were, Butler, Sibley and the Tea Room.

Martha Johnson spent the week-end in St. Louis with her mother Mrs. W. T. Johnson, Boonville, Missouri.

The following students were recommended by the music faculty as pledges in Alpha Mu Mu Sorority and approved by the general faculty: Priscilla Calder, Della Douglas, Florence Howard, Helen Harrison, Adeline Van Winkle, Jean Rankin.

Alpha Mu Mu is one of the greatest honors that can be conferred for musical scholarship and attainment.

The members of the senior class were the guests of their sponsor Miss Jeannette M. Collins at a tea given March 12, from 4 to 6 o'clock in the Home Economics parlors.

Jonquils and pussy willows gave a delightful air of spring.

Miss Louise Weld and Miss Margaret Seymour, sponsors for the junior and sophomore classes poured. Miss Marjorie Thomas, sponsor of the freshman class was a guest.

CLUB NOTES

KANSAS CITY

The Kansas City Lindenwood College Club met at the Ivanhoe clubhouse, March 6, and was beautifully entertained by Mrs. Edward Gray (Martha Miller), '05 and Miss Gertrude Nofsinger. Following the luncheon a business meeting was held. "Sixteen new members" was the pleasing report from our two membership teams—the yellow and the white. The membership contest closes with our April meeting.

In April there will be a bridge party given to help swell the Mary Easton Sibley scholarship fund.

The March meeting of the Kansas City Lindenwood College Club was held at the Ivanhoe Temple. The hostesses were Mrs. Edward B. Gray (Martha Miller), Miss Gertrude Nofsinger and Miss M. Louise Dickey.

The attendance was large and enthusiastic. Several guests and many new members were present. We are conducting a drive for new members and it is gratifying to us, as I am sure it will be to you, to find that the former Lindenwood girls are glad to come into the club so that they may keep in closer touch with their Alma Mater.

Two teams have been organized for this purpose—the yellow and the white. The yellow team is headed by Mrs. Adrian Bennett (Dorothy Donaldson) and the white team is headed by Mrs. Isadore Samuels (Florence Degen). Eleven new members have joined us so far. You may be sure that everyone is working faithfully, for the losing team must entertain the winning team.

The committee to take charge of the May luncheon has been appointed and is making plans to have the annual affair larger and more enthusiastic than ever before.

The program for the afternoon was under the leadership of Mrs. T. W. Overall assisted by Miss Beryl White and Mrs. Bennett. They discussed different phases of recent state legislation.

The meeting then adjourned until the April meeting with Mrs. Harold Evans and Mrs. Isadore Samuels.

CHICAGO

At the February meeting of the Lindenwood College Club of Chicago, held in the Marshall Field Narcissus room, plans were completed for the benefit bridge party. February 13, Mrs. C. B. Wagner (Laura Bruere), 1890-'93, opened her beautiful house to the Lindenwood girls and their guests.

Mrs. Wagner is a charming hostess and those who were able to attend had a most delightful time. Twenty-five tables of bridge and the sale of cakes and candy netted us nearly one hundred dollars.

Augusta K. Jenkins,
Corresponding Secretary.

Thirteen members and two guests attended the March meeting of the Lindenwood College club of Chicago. Mrs. C. B. Wagner, '90-'93, and Mrs. J. C. Flanagan, '86-'90, were the hostesses, entertaining at The Briar.

It was the first meeting since the benefit bridge party given last month, and we are happy to announce the girls voted to add $150.00 more to our contribution to the scholarship fund.

The members had the usual social time and were very glad to welcome Mrs. Hastings, a niece of Dr. Knight, former president of Lindenwood, and Mrs. Betha Brown Trulock, '95. Mrs. Trulock told very entertainingly of her experiences in France during the war, where she had charge of a "Y" hut.

We are still trying to reach all of the Lindenwood girls in and near Chicago. A notice of our last month's meeting was published in the Chicago Tribune. We hope to be given enough space on the Sunday previous to announce the time and place of our meetings. They are held the second Friday of every month. All that is necessary for any Lindenwood girl is to telephone the hostess, or any one of the officers of the club, and she will receive an urgent invitation to attend. Our club is small, but has its full measure of "go." Come and join us.

Augusta K. Jenkins,
Corresponding Secretary.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The Lindenwood Club of Southern California was most enjoyably entertained on Saturday, January 13, by Mrs. C. H. Baker at her lovely home, 1080 Arden Road, Pasadena, California.

After a delightful luncheon, during which many memories of Lindenwood were revived by the beautiful appointments of yellow and white, a short business session was held. The resignation of Miss Helen Ogg was accepted with regret and Miss Helen Chesbrough was unanimously elected president. It was also decided that meetings should be held monthly.

After the business meeting a social hour was spent in a novel contest to which each member contributed her memory of certain phases of life at Lindenwood.

Mrs. Ross W. Eastlick, Pasadena, Cal., niece of Col. and Mrs. Butler, entertained on Saturday, February 10, with a Valentine luncheon in honor of the Lindenwood Club of Southern California, of which she is an honorary member.

After luncheon the excellence of Lindenwood's course in home economics was fully demonstrated by the skill with which her former students formed rolls of colored crepe paper into the newest "confections" of spring millinery.

About twenty-two guests and alumnae were present and we were happy to welcome several new members into the club.

The Lindenwood Club of Southern California was entertained on Saturday, March 10, at a St. Patrick's day luncheon given by Mrs. Harold Herliky (Marion Henley), Miss Helen Chesbrough and Miss Margaret Maxfield at the home of Mrs. Herliby, 676 South El Molino Avenue, Pasadena.

After luncheon our two new members, Miss Marguerite Porter and Miss Nathine Talbot, entertained the members with several delightful readings, and our "English course" memories were refreshed by a Shakespeare contest.

Corresponding Secretary.

NEW YORK

The regular meeting of the Lindenwood College Club of New York and Eastern states was held at the Hotel Lafayette, New York City, Saturday January 27, as guests of Mrs. Q. A. Burritt at a one o'clock luncheon. The meeting held at the Lafayette was of particular interest to us since part of the present building was, early in the history of the Dutchmen here, property of Mrs. Burritt's grandfather.

Not as many members as we had hoped for, came, but a very jolly few gathered about the table.

We delighted in the company of Miss Alice Stumberg, St. Charles, Missouri and Miss Lillian Krauthoff, Kansas City, who are visiting in the city. Miss Templin's absence was much regretted and we look forward to having her with us at our next meeting in May.

The meeting ended with a visit to Mrs. John E. Bruere.

Greetings to Dr. and Mrs. Roemer, the friends, the faculty and student body from the New York club.

Marie L. Bruere, Secretary.

ST. LOUIS

The St. Louis Lindenwood College Club met February 21 at Vandervoort's committee room. A very interesting paper was given by Mrs. Lulu Hynson who discussed the modern girl. Mrs. Chauncey Freyer gave a very instructive talk on "Diet and Nutrition." At this meeting we were fortunate in having with us Mrs. James B. Hill, the oldest member of the St. Louis club. We were also glad to welcome a new member, Mrs. Ethel Chadsey Sanders.

March 20, the club will hold another bazaar at the home of Miss Mable Nix for the benefit of the Mary Easton Sibley scholarship fund.

The St. Louis Lindenwood College Club gave an Easter bazaar tea Tuesday, March 20, at the home of Miss Mable Nix, enabling the club to add fifty dollars to the Mary Easton Sibley Scholarship Fund.

The annual Guest Day will be Tuesday, April 17, at the new Gatesworth hotel. The program will be given by the faculty of Lindenwood College under the direction of Mr. John Thomas, director of music.

Dr. and Mrs. Roemer and the faculty will be honor guests.

Mrs. Arthur Krueger,
(Marguerite Urban)
Corresponding Secretary.
