MISS NELLIE BOAL

Miss Nellie Boal, Glendale, California, a former Lindenwood girl, has made a great success with a rose farm and is known in her city as "The Rose Lady of Glendale." She speaks of her experience as "a beautiful adventure as well as a satisfying and inspiring one."

She specializes in two varieties of roses — the Ulrich Brunner and the Cecil Brunner. Ten thousand or more of the former rose bushes and a hedge of the latter over 120 feet long are among her treasures.

Miss Boal is a member of the Lindenwood College Club of Los Angeles and Southern California, and furnished the decorations for the June meeting of the club in Los Angeles.

She was born and reared in St. Charles County, Missouri, but before she finished at Lindenwood her family moved to Texas, in 1884. From Texas she went to California, where she became interested in the culture of roses.

In referring to Lindenwood, Miss Boal says: "I was in and out of Lindenwood all my life until we moved to Texas in 1884. Lindenwood was a 'family affair'; it was held up as the one desirable place on earth to go to and it was something we all felt a personal interest in. The disappointment of not having been granted the privilege of graduation from the school has been compensated for only by my roses. It is inspiring to have people come to you in hours of pleasure and sorrow for something that will add to life's happiness or be a source of comfort."

During the war many of her roses were sold as Red Cross buds, and when you hear Nellie Boal exclaim over her work and its fruits and hear her say:

"I feel that my roses give pleasure that is not written down in ledgers"—you know that her heart is in her work, and the personal pleasure and satisfaction she derives therefrom, and the pleasure and comfort she has been able to give others through her gifts of roses—mean far more to her than the financial gain that has come to her through the beauty of her labor of love.

DEAN TEMPLIN HONORED

At the invitation of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Dean Lucinda Templin attended a meeting in Washington, D. C., September 21, to confer on legislation for an industrial home for women prisoners sentenced by the United States. Following the resolutions adopted by the general meeting of women's clubs at a meeting of its council in Atlanta, Ga., legislation for the home movement will be introduced into the next Congress.

Special study of prisons for women, from the standpoint of sociological research has been made by Dean Templin. She is a member of the National Prison Council.

At the proposed round-table conference in Washington, those present included Mrs. Mabel W. Willebrandt, assistant attorney-general; Herbert Votaw, superintendent of Federal prisons; Dr. Katherine Bement Davis, general secretary, Bureau of Social Hygiene, and superintendents and heads of several prisons for women, homes for girls, metropolitan police organizations, and various philanthropic and educational societies.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION

Dr. and Mrs. John L. Roemer entertained the members of the faculty with an informal reception in Sibley parlors, Thursday night, September 18. Including the wives of the professors, sixty-two were present. The new members were cordially welcomed by the older members of the faculty, and President and Mrs. Roemer warmly welcomed all. A pleasant evening was spent in social conversation. Miss Lucia P. Hutchins of the expression department gave a reading as the only part of a "set program." Refreshments were served in the dining rooms of the Y. W. C. A.

CONVOCATION SERVICE

Rev. Dr. John W. MacIvor, pastor of the second Presbyterian church of St. Louis, and president of the board of directors of the college, delivered the convocation address.

Dr. MacIvor spoke of the important place that woman has held from prehistoric times up to the present day—citing Mrs. Calvin Coolidge as an excellent example of what the modern woman should be.

Dr. MacIvor quite won the hearts of the entire student body by admitting that he thought there was nothing which a woman could not do, and do better than a man.

Preceding the address, Ruth Alexander sang a solo.

THE FIRST Y. W. C. A. MEETING

The Y. W. C. A. has certainly made a promising start for the year 1923-24. Individual invitations at the tables Wednesday evening, September 19 aroused the interest of all until it is safe to say that there must have been 100% attendance.

Miss Florence Schaper told of some of the interesting things that the Y. W. has done both in this country and in foreign countries.

Elizabeth Rogers pledged the support of the freshman class and Florence Hanna outlined the work of the upperclassmen.

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE

The Y. W. officers are: Katharine Tinsman, president; Eleen Denning, vice-president; Gladys Campbell, secretary; Elinor Grubb, treasurer.

The faculty advisors are: Misses Florence Schaper, Ariel Gross, Lillian Allyn, Myrri Rodney and Elsa Weber.

FACULTY RECEPTION

The annual faculty reception to the students was held in Butler gymnasium, Friday evening, September 14. The annual faculty reception at the opening of the school year enables the members of the faculty to be introduced and become better acquainted with the student body, and serves as a get-together, get-acquainted gathering for the students. After the student body "went down the line," the girls could not resist the splendid music of the orchestra and used the gym floor to advantage as the music suited the steps. A grand march of faculty and students was an imposing spectacle to behold. Dances by the girls from the different states were enjoyed. There is a state pride that makes one have patriotic feelings when their state is called. A dance by the sisters who are here and girls who have had sisters at Lindenwood was a pleasing as well as an unusual feature.

Everybody left the gym confident that the faculty reception was a great success. Freshmen and upper classmen felt they knew each other better and would be enabled to cooperate more efficiently in the social features of the year.

THE FRESHMAN PARTY

"Who is your date for the freshman party," became quite a familiar question on the campus a few days before the 21st of September. Everyone had a date.

The freshmen saw to that. And Friday evening about 7:30 every freshman started out to call for her "date."

The music was splendid, punch plentiful, the floor very smooth,—all resulting in the fact that everyone danced until the orchestra packed up its instruments and left.

Chain dances, tag dances, and one dance confined to the girls who had red hair (needless to say, the orchestra played, "That Red-Headed Gal") were features of the evening.

STUDENT GOVERNING BOARD APPOINTED

For the second time, Adeline Ayers has been appointed president of the Student Governing Board. The other members of the board are: vice-president, Helen Kready; secretary and treasurer, Catherine Yount; proctors in Butler Hall, Aleene Guthrie and Ruth Alexander; proctors in Jubilee Hall, Virginia Heinrich and Ada Hemingway; proctors in Sibley Hall, Mary Hagler, Esther Coleman, Frances Reeves, Helen Holmes, and Elizabeth Owens; proctors in Niccolls Hall, Mary Sue Guthrie, Ruth Laitner, Mildred Read, Elizabeth Sweet, Ellen Boyce, Lucy Ross, and Mary Elizabeth Sproul.

CLASS OFFICERS

The senior class set an example for the other classes of the college by organizing the first week of school. Helene Millsap was unanimously elected president. This is the second time that Helene has been the president of the class of '24, having led the class in its freshman year. Catherine Yount is the vice-president, and Gladys Campbell, secretary and treasurer. Mrs. John L. Roemer, dean of students, is the sponsor.

Gertrude Bird was elected president of the junior class. The other officers are: Marcella Holbrook, vice-president; Helen Calder, secretary and treasurer. Dr. Robert S. Calder is again the sponsor of the junior class.

The sophomores elected Mary Hagler as their president; Helen Saunders, vice-president; Florence Good, secretary; and Helen Holmes, treasurer. Miss Florence Schaper was made sponsor.

The largest freshman class in the history of the college chose Marion Gum as its president. The other officers are: Elizabeth Rogers, vice-president; Anabel Couper, secretary; Marian Merrill, treasurer; Ellen Boyce, yell leader. Miss Myrrl Rodney is the sponsor.

Margaret Enloe was elected president of the sub-freshman class. The other officers are: Mary Frances Dixon, vice-president; Margaret Lynch, secretary and treasurer. Miss Marjorie Weber is the sponsor.

CAMPUS NOTES

Dr. John L. Roemer has accepted an invitation to be present, as the representative of Lindenwood College, at the fiftieth anniversary exercise of Boston University, October 25 and 26.

The invitation will probably be reversed within the next four years when many Eastern colleges will send representatives to the one hundredth anniversary of Lindenwood College to be commemorated in May, 1927.

Miss Alice Bruere, New York, science teacher in one of the New York high schools and former member of the faculty of Lindenwood, was the guest of Miss Templin.

A tract of 23 acres at the west of the college has been purchased by Lindenwood. It will be devoted to farm purposes, supplying the college with fruit and vegetables. This makes the total area of Lindenwood now 137 acres.

Rev. Frank Tucker, former pastor of the Methodist church of St. Charles, and now pastor of the Methodist church in Mexico, Mo., came back to make an address at the first Thursday assembly of the year.

A new breakfast plan is being tried, to the delight of all the sleep-loving girls. Previously everyone had to be at breakfast and be there at 7:15 promptly. According to the new ruling, it is not compulsory that breakfast be attended and a fifteen minute period in which to get there is allowed everyone.

"Your Investment" was the topic of the address given by President John L. Roemer to the student body, at the first Vesper service of the year, September 16. Dr. Roemer stressed the fact that the girls of today should invest their time and interests in the most worth while things of life. Preceding the address, Rachel Strong sang, "Come Unto Me."

The Choral Club has organized with the following officers: Esther Hund, president; Caroline Sheetz, vice-president; Gladys Sullivan, secretary and treasurer; Ruth Alexander, librarian. The Choral Club is under the direction of John Thomas, head of the music department.

Florence Hanna and Jean Johnston were elected cheer leaders at a pep meeting held Monday evening, September 24, in Roemer auditorium.

The art class has elected the following officers: Ada Hemingway, president; Rachel Strong, vice-president; Verla Schwarz, secretary; Harriet Gum, treasurer. Miss Alice Linnemann is sponsor.

ALUMNAE NOTES

"I have moved from Peoria to Chicago, Ill., and wish to send my new address," writes Mrs. Harry Swanstrom (May Beckman) '18, "I didn't realize how much I looked forward to receiving the Bulletin until it failed to follow me. I only wish that I was a school girl again so that I could look forward to attending Lindenwood this winter."

Velma Pierce, '23, is teaching in Burt, Iowa. Her work consists in lecturing on various branches of music and teaching harmony. She also has charge of the men's glee club. Velma says that she intends to find time to do some more composing this winter. We wish her all the success in the world!

Frances E. Smith, '22, writes that she intends to teach school this coming winter. "I have been in Chicago the past year and did a little mission work in the slums through the kindergarten."

Mrs. J. S. Chadwick (Hattie Caldwell), '09-'10, of St. Louis, made a short visit to the college.

"I can hardly wait from one month to another to get the Bulletin," writes Mayme Ross, '22-'23. "As the time draws nearer for Lindenwood to open, I feel that I just can't stay away, but as my health is not very good I will not be able to attend the first semester. However, I'm counting big on being there the second semester."

Mrs. G. H. Ewell (Hilda Wright), Philadelphia, Penn., visited the college August 30. Mrs. Ewell graduated from Lindenwood in '20 and this was her first visit back here since her graduation. Of course she was interested in the many changes that have been made in that time.

Rosalynde Johnston, '23, spent the week-end with friends at the college.

Elizabeth Hoiles, '20-'21, Greenville, Ill., spent a few days at the college with friends.

Mrs. Max Prill (Faye Kurre), '09-'10, was another visitor to the college. Mrs. Prill is now living in Centralia, Ill.

Marion Playtor, '18-'20, and Martha Wilber, '18-'20, stopped at the college for a short visit with old friends.

Martha Hatfield was the guest of Roma Key for a few days.

Thelma Tobin, '23, spent a few hours with friends at the college.

BIRTHS

To Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Larmer (Margaret Peck), '16, Barbara Lee, September 14.

To Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Marshall (Eledith Elliott), '18, Arthur Elliott, September 2.

To Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Abney (Ruth Spoeneman), '16-'17, William Charles, August 26.

To Mr. and Mrs. John G. Gibson, (Juliet Price), '15-'17, Gaverne Price, September 2.

CLUB NOTES

KANSAS CITY

The Kansas City Lindenwood Association held its first regular meeting since June, Tuesday, September 4. Mrs. T. M. Overall, Mrs. Hugo Eyssell, Miss Frances Moffet and Mrs. Frank H. Bergmann were the hostesses. There were twenty-one present. After a lovely luncheon a business meeting was held, and the officers for the coming year were elected. Those elected were: Miss Lenore Anthony, president; Miss Frances Moffet, vice-president; Mrs. James Neely, recording secretary; Mrs. J. H. Morris, treasurer; and Mrs. Frank H. Bergmann, corresponding secretary.

One of the plans is to invite all the mothers of the Kansas City girls attending Lindenwood this year, to become associate members and attend our monthly meetings. We have several movements on foot to raise our quota for the Mary Easton Sibley Scholarship Fund.

The new officers and all our members send greetings and best wishes to each and all at Lindenwood College, and wish for everyone interested in Lindenwood great success during the coming year.

Mrs. Frank Bergmann, Cor. Sec.
(Eloise Eyssell)

ST. LOUIS

A large and enthusiastic meeting opened the fall activities of the St. Louis Lindenwood College Club at the Hotel Claridge. The hostesses were Mrs. William C. Stewart (Pearl Finger), Mrs. Arthur Krueger (Marguerite Urban), Miss Agnes Adams, and Miss Lillian Zacher.

Dr. Roemer was present and gave one of his usual interesting and inspirational talks. The club has until January to increase the Scholarship Fund of $661.40 to $1,000. Dr. Roemer has promised to duplicate any sum up to $1,000, which the club will raise. Plans were discussed for making that quota.

Dr. Roemer invited the club to be the guests of the college in October. This invitation is always eagerly accepted.

Miss Alice Linnemann told us of the work of the other Lindenwood clubs. She mentioned the twenty Lindenwood clubs in the various parts of the country and what each is doing to keep the spirit of Lindenwood alive.

The out of town guests were Mrs. F. K. Bezenberger (Margaret Baetz), Cleveland; Mrs. H. C. Henning (Lillian Gorg), Los Angeles; and Miss Mary L. Smith, Marissa, Ill.

The club was very glad to welcome Mrs. Franke (Aline Bayse) and Mrs. Elizabeth Christy Lowry, both of whom have returned to St. Louis to reside.

Mrs. Arthur Krueger, Cor. Sec.

CHICAGO

The Lindenwood College Club of Chicago met at the Ambassador Hotel, September 14. Mrs. A. W. Schroeder was the hostess.

Covers were laid for twenty-four. The table was made beautiful by the long arrangement of gorgeous yellow flowers and small bon-bon baskets.

We were very much pleased to again have Mrs. W. W. Durham with us. She has just returned from Arizona.

From Mrs. W. J. Malcolmson came a long letter telling of English life and customs. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolmson and two children are keeping house in a London suburb.

Ann Whyte Gentry, Cor. Sec.

JOPLIN

The Lindenwood College Club of Joplin held a luncheon at Christman's Cafeteria, September 6. A business meeting followed the luncheon and the following officers were elected: Mrs. L. C. Knighton (Jessie McPherson), president; Mrs. Claude Martin (Mary Vance), vice-president; Roberta Keith, corresponding secretary; Marcia Eberlein, recording secretary; Maude Luscombe, treasurer.

Plans are being made for a benefit bridge for the Mary Easton Sibley Scholarship Fund.

The club has had a hard struggle this last winter, but we are now seeing the fruits of our work and all join in best wishes for a splendid year for dear old Lindenwood.

Lorraine Irwin, Reporter.

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE CLUB LUNCHEON

The beautiful home of Mrs. George C. Young with its spacious lawn and fine old trees, was the scene of a delightful social affair on Saturday afternoon, September 8th at one o'clock, when a picnic luncheon was given in honor of the Lindenwood College Club of St. Joseph and vicinity.

The day being fine, many members motored from their homes to Mound City.

The hostesses for the occasion were: Mrs. George C. Young, Miss Marguerite Young, Mrs. Emmett Thomas, Mound City; Mrs. E. D. Douglas, Miss Della Douglas, Rock Port; Mrs. Louis H. Luckhardt, Miss Lois Luckhardt, Tarkio; Mrs. W. R. Erwin, Miss Josephine Erwin, Fairfax; Mrs. Hugh Pennell, Oregon.

Many small, flower-decorated tables were placed under the big trees on the lawn and the forty guests were served with a bounteous luncheon, served cafeteria style from a large central table decorated with autumn fruits and flowers. Misses Elizabeth Thomas, Virginia Scott and Charlotte Allen assisted in serving.

Among the members present were:

Mrs. C. O. Carpenter, Mrs. T. L. Kennedy, Mrs. B. W. Melick, Mrs. Thomas T. Van Natta, Mrs. Henry Bayer, Mrs. J. H. Weller, Mrs. Edgar Shroers, Mrs. R. N. Ridge, Mrs. J. F. Bealmer, Mrs. H. L. Saunders, Mrs. E. A. Duke, Mrs. Verne Meyer, Mrs. Moran, Miss Harriet Ridge, Miss Esther Saunders, Miss Lucille Carpenter, Miss Mildred Carpenter, Miss Betty Smith, Miss Ruth Melick, Miss Kelley, Miss Helen Damsel, Miss Esther Hund, Miss Virginia Hund, Miss Katherine Kennedy, of St. Joseph; Mrs. Fred Pierce Cook, Miss Frances Young, Mound City; Miss Annie Laurie Cox, Cameron; Mrs. Paul Virdun, New Hampton; Mrs. Heamel, Tarkio; Miss Claudia Webb, Bethany; Miss Hazel Calvert, Trimble; Miss Edith Burger and Miss Martha Whaley, Albany; Miss Mary Margrave, Reserve, Kans.

The Lindenwood College Club of St. Joseph is composed of students, former students and alumnae of Lindenwood College, whose homes are in or near St. Joseph. Many towns are represented—among them Tarkio, Fairfax, Cameron, New Hampton, Albany, Mound City, Oregon and King City.

A pleasant feature is an Associate Membership list of the mothers of the Lindenwood students.

The object of the club is to promote the interests of Lindenwood College and foster fellowship between its students and former students. The officers of the club are: Mrs. Charles Emmett Thomas, president; Mrs. Thomas T. Van Natta, first vice-president; Annie Laura Cox, second vice-president; Esther Hund, recording secretary; Mrs. Verne P. Meyer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Edward Schroers, treasurer.

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE

The next meeting will be held in St. Joseph in October at the home of Mrs. B. W. Melick.

DES MOINES

The twentieth Lindenwood College Club was organized in Des Moines early in September. The following write-up is reprinted from the Des Moines paper:

Des Moines Woman Is Chosen Head of Lindenwood College Club

An interesting luncheon was held Monday noon at Hotel Fort Des Moines by alumnae and present students of Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., following which a permanent organization was effected with Mrs. Forest M. Larmer of Des Moines as president. The Iowa Lindenwood Club will have a membership of more than 60.

Other officers chosen at the conclusion of the luncheon were Mrs. J. H. Coster of Des Moines, vice-president; Miss Louise Clark, Adel, secretary; Miss Helen Rutledge, Early, treasurer and Madeline Lasar, Davenport, auditor.

The college colors, gold and white, were used on the long luncheon table placed in the Oak room. Bowls of old-fashioned flowers of golden hue carried out the color idea.

Three Des Moines girls will be enrolled in the school this year—Dorothy Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hall, 5304 W. Grand avenue, who was a student there last year, Betty Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Carter, 1066 W. 45th street, and Clarice Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E.

Thompson, 77 W. 46th street, both entering as freshmen students. Miss Carter and Miss Thompson plan to take a foundation course for a later study of interior decorating. The trio will leave Tuesday evening for school.

Miss Alice A. Linnemann of St. Charles, alumnae secretary, presided as hostess in behalf of the college. The guests included Helen Rutledge of Early, a guest of her brother, W. A. Rutledge in the city; Mrs. Isabel Weisman Mickel, Marshalltown; Ferne Estes, Leon; Helen C. Evans and mother, Mrs. W. M. Evans, Centerville; Ruth Dickey Martin, Sac City; Rebecca Louise Clark, Adel; Mary McCall and mother, Mrs. E. M. McCall, Nevada; Ada Hemingway, Clinton; Virginia Bauer, Mitchell, S. D.; Bertha Cooper and mother, Mrs. W. S. Cooper, Winterset; Mrs. C. P. McCord and daughter, Lois, Nevada; Esther L. Cooper, Ames; Mrs. Forest M. Larmer, Mrs. F. L. Hall and daughter, Dorothy; Mrs. E. E. Thompson and daughter, Clarice; Mrs. E. E. Carter and daughter, Betty, and Mrs. J. H. Coster, all of Des Moines.

ECHOES FROM THE DES MOINES LUNCHEON

The following are extracts from letters received by Dr. Roemer after the organization of the Des Moines Club.

"Our Lindenwood luncheon at the Hotel Fort Des Moines on Monday was such a lovely affair and, since I feel very sure that you were the 'power behind it all,' I want you to know how very much I enjoyed it," writes Ruth Martin, '23. "I am wishing fervently every minute these last few days that I were back in all the rush and clamor of opening. All during the year I shall devour eagerly every small detail and scrap of Lindenwood news."

"I am certainly glad that we have our Iowa Lindenwood Club started at last and I will certainly do everything I can to boost it," writes Bertha Cooper, '23. "How I wish I were back in L. C. this year but it seemed best to rest a while. May you have a very successful year."

Helen Rutledge, '21-'23, writes, "When I saw the girls leaving Des Moines on Tuesday night to return to Lindenwood I was very sorry that I was not among them, although I was very glad for the opportunity of meeting so many at the delightful luncheon given by the college at the Hotel Fort Des Moines. I certainly did enjoy the meeting and am greatly in favor of a permanent Iowa club."

"We had a wonderful time at the luncheon given us at the Hotel Fort Des Moines, and organized an enthusiastic club," writes Rebecca Louise Clark, '19-'20. "We have sixty-one girls in Iowa and we are hoping that they can all be with us at our next meeting which will be held during the holidays. It was a great pleasure to see Miss Linnemann again, but we were all so disappointed when she told us that neither you nor Mrs. Roemer were to be with us. We are hoping that you can both attend our second meeting. I want to thank you for making possible an Iowa Lindenwood Club."

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Several members of the Lindenwood College Club of Southern California accepted the cordial invitation of Mrs. W. G. Stewart (Gladys McDonald) to meet with her on August 30, at her home at 1604 Esplanade, Clifton-by-the-Sea, Redondo Beach. The house formerly belonged to the noted humorist, Robert J. Burdette.

Entertaining with Mrs. Stewart were Mrs. B. A. Irwin and Miss Grace Irwin of Long Beach.

Luncheon was served in the patio, where could be seen the crystal drops from a fountain as it played above the depths of a clear pool.

The college colors were used in the table decorations and miniature glass globes each, decorated with yellow and white rosettes, formed the center pieces.

An aquatic guessing game furnished entertainment and amusement during the afternoon.

The club was especially fortunate in having present Mrs. Mary Irwin McDearmon, daughter of Dr. Robert Irwin, who was for thirteen years president of Lindenwood College.

Mary Irwin McDearmon was identified with Lindenwood as a student, a teacher, lady principal, and as first president of the St. Louis Lindenwood College Club.

"LINDEN LEAVES" HONORED

Honorable mention was awarded to the 1923 volume of "Linden Leaves" entered in the contest conducted by the Art Crafts Guild, Chicago. Hundreds of annuals from all parts of the country were judged. The following is quoted from the Art Crafts Review, the publication of the Art Crafts Guild: "'Linden Leaves', published by Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., was one of the outstanding volumes. Miss Ruth Kern and Miss Ruth Roy were in charge of the annual."
