Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Missouri, Tuesday, October 6, 1936.

$1.00 A YEAR

From the Office of the Dean

Dr. Gipson met several times with the freshman students in the American Contemporary Civilization Class, and explained to them some of the subjects which have to do with their adjustment to college life.

Under these subjects Dr. Gipson discussed the organizations to which the new students are eligible and those which they will be able to join later. She also spoke of the opportunities the college has to offer the girls and its reason for suggesting some of the subjects that it does for new students.

Dr. Gipson is quite satisfied with the regularity with which class work has been carried on, and feels that both the new and old students are getting along smoothly. She has spoken with quite a few of the advanced students, and finds that they are well pleased with their work.

"Problems of the 'Y'"

Miss Fern Babcock, head of the Y.W.C.A. of this district, spoke at Y.W. meeting Wednesday night on the "National and Local Y. W. Students' Departments."

"The Y.W. and Y.M. are cooperating" she said, "in discussing and working out their problems. They are still separate organizations, however. I have just come from the national executive meeting of the combined Y's at Oberlin, Ohio. We decided the 4 crucial problems today were: First, lack of religious depth on the part of the students. They cannot express themselves on their religious views due to the transition period in which we now are. Secondly, How can peace be maintained? We think another war would be terribly disastrous and the only way to solve the war problem is by political and economic adjustment, which is another problem. The fourth problem is that of race relationship. All races should live together harmoniously on this earth."

Miss Babcock illustrated her talk by references to other student groups who are functioning on other campuses. This made a very interesting and worthwhile speech.

Be Not Too Busy on Trifles

Dr. Lampe's Informing Address at First Assembly.

Opening the Thursday chapel periods Dr. William B. Lampe, pastor of the West Presbyterian Church of St. Louis, addressed the students on Sept. 24, on "The Fundamentals To Be Gained During College Life."

The speaker used as an illustration the story of a king who was given an opportunity but passed it up. As this king was on his way home he found a wounded soldier who, in reality, was a prophet. The prophet pointed out that the king had failed to take advantage of his opportunity which would never come again. Dr. Lampe showed that this sometimes applies to college life. "You get a lot of college incidentals, but sometimes miss the best things," he said.

The first thing to be gained, according to Dr. Lampe, is the physical capacity to carry one through life. "Too often college undermines life. Constantly build up a reserve strength and form your health habits here at school", he said.

The second point: "Find the person who lives in that body of yours. Where can you fit in best, to be of best service and the happiest? "Here you have a broad opportunity to discipline yourself, to find out what direction you will go."

The third and perhaps the most important is self-adjustment, said Dr. Lampe. This is a fine time to discover the kind of world in which you live and the society about you, and to adjust yourself to that society. Getting on in life is to learn to make a good impression on people. Part of college life is to become a citizen.

"A great essential here in school is for you to discover God for yourself. Heretofore you have accepted your parents' ideas of religion and God. If there be no God, then organize your philosophy of life that way; but if there be a God, organize it to include Him," said Dr. Lampe.

Concluding his interesting sermon, he said: "If through the business of college you can find all that it has to offer, college will be the foundation of the strength of life."

Her Voice in Request in New York

Miss Pearl Walker spent a very enjoyable summer in New York. She attended the Juillard School of Music and Columbia University, and also was one of the fortunate persons to be chosen as a member of the select chapel choir of St. Paul's Chapel, which is composed of professional singers. The choir broadcast from Radio City one afternoon and also from the Chapel. The choir made several recordings of the Cesar Franck Mass in A.

Miss Walker sang every Sunday in the Riverside Church of Dr. Fosdick, in New York.

Lindenwood Choir Organized

The members of the choir under the direction of Miss Gieselman, this year have chosen as their officers Ruth Pinnell, president; Alice Jones, vice-president; Jane Gill, secretary; Eloise Schrader, treasurer; Virginia Carter and Mary Alice Harnish, librarians. The other members of the choir are Virginia McQuarter; Rebecca Cox; Elaine Koenigsdorf; Mary Benner; Clyde LaBelle Atha; Phoebe Wilson; Ruth Reinert; Jean Illingsworth; Sylvia Dubiel; Virginia Watt; Margaret Hull; Suzanne Eby; Margaret Behrens; Bettie Sears; Marajane Francis; Cordelia Buck; Mary May Shull; Jean Starr; Sara Watts Nickols; Ruby Drehmann; Margaret Mealer; Betty Burton; Charlotte Yocum; Barbara Johnston; Charlotte Dalin; Suzanne Zempel; Maxine Meyers; Marian Hull; Nancy Patterson; Sara Hurd; Geraldine Gay; Vina Merifield; Louise O'Keefe; Molly Gerhart; Jennie Vie Anderson; Belva Goff; Virginia Buff; Miriam McCormick; Beverly Mayhall.

Played in Premiere

Miss Gordon, head of the speech department, spent a most interesting summer. She attended the first summer session of the University of Iowa, at Iowa City. While there she took part in the premiere of "Two Were Chosen", an original production. Sydney Harmon, well-known producer, purchased the play for a Broadway showing this fall.

After leaving Iowa City, Miss Gordon motored to the East through the Adirondack Mountains. The most interesting places on her trip were Lake Chautauqua, the Finger-lake section (composed of five long, narrow, beautiful lakes), New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Annapolis, and West Point. Part of her time was spent at a camp on Indian Lake in the Adirondacks. While most of the United States was sweltering, Miss Gordon was sleeping under five blankets. To Missourians this probably sounds like a fairy tale. Part of her time was also spent at Ocean City, Md. She returned to her home in Kentucky, going by way of the Alleghanies.

Can You Write Poetry?

The National Poetry Society and College Poetry Society is having the annual poetry contest. All students who are interested in writing poetry are urged to submit one or more copies of original work to Miss Dawson's office before October 9. That is the final day, for the committee has to judge the poems and select the one which is to receive first place. The prize is membership in the society and paid subscription to the poetry magazine, the "College Verse." Even though one does not win first place she will be considered as a member of the poetry society.

"Do We Need Religion?"

Dr. Lowe in Convocation Address

A rendition of "Holy, Holy, Holy" by the choir opened Lindenwood's 110th Convocation Service Sunday night, September 20, in Roemer Auditorium. Dr. Case delivered the prayer, and the college choir led by Miss Gieselman sang an anthem, "God's Treasures". The scripture reading was taken from Psalm 91 and was followed by the congregation singing a hymn.

Dr. Arnold H. Lowe, pastor of Kingshighway Presbyterian Church and a member of the Board of Directors at Lindenwood, gave the Convocation address.

Dr. Lowe's topic, "Do We Need Religion", centered around the power of love and its influence. Quoting the apostle Paul as saying "Love is the heart of all things", Dr. Lowe went on to explain the hardships that Paul suffered in following Christ. Paul said that all these things would have been nothing if he had not had his great love for Christ. Dr. Lowe also gave the three basic characters of love as Paul understood it. Paul believed that love is the foundation of every great achievement; that love is the only abiding thing in life, and, that love is the only clear thing in the mystery of life.

Dr. Lowe said, "Knowledge is not sufficient, nor is faith. Life is not sufficient unless it has love." The one thing abiding today is that man in need asks "Is there a God?" The only answer is the deep affection shown and felt. All life is a mystery as is love until it comes to you. Then all things become clear. Love is the only clear note.

"A new political philosophy is arising. Brutality and barbarism are becoming enthroned. Man's individual rights are being curtailed. But here lies our hope, that love persists. All these things will pass again. Men will still be hungry for kindness. Men will still be longing after things gentle and good."

Closing his address, Dr. Lowe made a plea for a deep love in everyone's philosophy of love, for it will bring a life of strength, beauty, and purity.

The closing prayer was given by Dr. Lowe and the recessional was, "Jesus Christ Our Lord."

The Linden Bark:

The morns are meeker than they were,
The nuts are getting brown;
The berry's cheek is plumper,
The rose is out of town.
The maple wears a gayer scarf,
The field a scarlet gown.
Lest I should be old-fashioned,
I'll put a trinket on.

Administration "Fitly Wise"

The student board has been announced for the coming year. Under the able leadership of Katherine Morton, student president, the board will do its part in governing the campus and student life for Lindenwood. Helping Kay will be Sue Smith, vice-president; Jane Montgomery, secretary; Margaret Keck, president of Y.W.C.A.; Nancy Platt, president of Irwin; Anna Eleanor Hibbard, president of Niccolls; and Belva Goff, president of Ayres. Marie Kistner, president of Sibley; Dorothy Randall, president of Butler; With such a fine Student Board we are sure we'll progress this year but watch your cues, girls!

OUT OF PLACE

Surely it isn't going to become necessary for Lindenwood to conduct a "Safe Driving" campaign. Yet one type of driving that is going on certainly has no place on our campus. Little do the drivers of those speeding automobiles realize the tragic result if some unforeseen thing should take place. College girls should date young men who possess an equal amount of their lives with scarred faces—the result of reckless driving. The accident that took place on the campus drive two weeks ago could have been more disastrous than it was. Fortunately there was no one seriously injured. College girls should date young men who possess an equal amount of intelligence—reckless drivers do not!

Joys of The Harvest Month, At Lindenwood

October at Lindenwood is a month of sharp, brisk days filled with many delightful events.

The National Horse Show, held annually in the St. Louis Arena, in which some of the girls from Lindenwood gained honor, opened our outside social activities. There was, immediately following the Horse Show, the Veiled Prophet Parade followed by the Ball which is tonight. Some of our girls are to be fortunate enough to attend the Ball and the coronation of the queen. This is the opening function of the St. Louis social season.

Lindenwood continues its social life with the usual observance of Columbus Day, October 12. About this time we shall also have the first date dance of the year which is always a gala, though formal, affair.

Then too, there is the day of days, "Founders' Day", which all of the old students eagerly await, for that is the day we all listen to speeches, toasts, and after dinner, sing our class songs.

To round out the month, we have the Hallowe'en Party, and a visit from "Mrs. Sibley's ghost".

All in all, the month of October is one of the most enjoyable of the school year, and though we do have a great many good times, we also become better acquainted with each other, and our teachers, and begin to enjoy, as well as appreciate, what Lindenwood means to us.

FORWARD, LINDENWOOD!

There's no doubt about it—Lindenwood is progressing with rapid strides. Our enrollment is much larger this year than it has been since '29. (This might serve as good campaign material for the New Dealers). But out of the depression or not out of it, Lindenwood is the drawing card by itself.

The summer has seen various improvements added to the grounds of the school. Many of us were undoubtedly puzzled by the veritable network of pipes running in and out of rooms, up and down halls, in fact—covering the place. To the uninformed; they are part of a new and unique fire protection, known as the Grinnell system. Behind Sibley looms a huge water tank, with a capacity of 50,000 gallons. If a fire should accidentally start in any of the dormitories, the heat from the fire would automatically melt the special metal caps on the sprinklers, letting a stream of water pour forth which would instantly quench the fire. At the same time an automatic fire-alarm is sounded.

One of the many good points about the system is that it provides nothing for the girls to play with or experiment with as the fire extinguishers did. Of course curiosity does aid in the making of an intelligent person, but like so many things, it does have its place.

Music Hall has also had some work done on it. Up until this time the third floor was not used but now several rooms have been enlarged and completely furnished for use.

Since Dr. Dewey's departure, Eastlick Hall, on the edge of the campus, has been arranged so as to be suitable as a residence for a number of the teachers.

COLLEGE DIARY

By D. G. P.

September 14—"Dear Hattie: Since you'll arrive Mon. and school starts Tues., I'll see you Wed. Love, Weary."

September 15—We have blondes, brunettes, and red-heads, and then we have redheads, blondes and brunettes. All in all quite a collection.

September 16—Mad dashing about to finish registering—AND isn't St. Charles perking up!

September 17—Classes off with a bang. Anyway they were off.

September 18—Our annual "get together" dance. Do you feel that you know everyone now?

September 19—Much excitement on campus in the form of a wreck. I've heard that it's smart to drive with one's lights on, but I guess that's what hearing will do to me.

September 20—A luscious day and even more perfect night. From the looks of the campus this promises to be a Very busy year.

September 24—Keep it a secret and don't tell your friends but we have a senior who has proved herself vaccinated with a phonograph needle.

September 25—Friday!! And no "shut down"—SO WHAT!! There's nothing like a good night's rest.

September 26—Even the rain can't keep the freshmen from St. Louis, others too I notice. White and brown pumps are soooo popular in the city this time of year.

September 27—The day before Monday.

September 28—Gloomy Monday, but the Horse Show starts today.

September 29—Freshman Day!! Off to get "learned" about some of St. Louis' interesting spots. Home tired but eddyed— and what an assortment of souvenirs.

September 30—Billy "Crutch" seems to be partial about the name of Mary. Or does it merely bring back past memories? Anyhoo, another M.R. vs. B.C. date.

October 1—The freshmen certainly took great pride in beautifying themselves for the Y.W. tea. What a display, but the results were most pleasing.

A. A. U. W. Dinner

Dr. Gipson is head of the program committee of the St. Charles chapter of the American Association of University Women.

The committee has arranged for its first meeting to be in form of a dinner at the Hollywood Cafe, Thursday evening, October 8.

Dr. Gipson plans to give a short talk on the state meeting which she attended last spring in Little Rock, Ark.

Opportunity For Lindenwood Music Lovers

Many Lindenwood students have always taken advantage of the splendid opportunity presented them to hear the world's greatest artists. The Civic Music League of St. Louis offers five outstanding attractions this year; Ezio Pinza, basso; Robert Casadesus, pianist; Kirsten Flagstad, soprano; Ginette Nevue, violinist; and the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra with Eugene Ormandy as conductor. The Civic Music League sincerely hopes that many Lindenwood girls will come in this season. The first concert will be on October 20.

The dramatic department is happy this year with its new Little Theatre in Roemer Hall. With such an improvement we'll expect some outstanding things from the members of this department.

Of course we are all thrilled with the improvements in the tea room. Too bad that cool weather is so soon upon us, otherwise those bright red leather chairs would certainly get some use.

One Full Day In Old St. Louis

The freshmen became initiated into the intricacies of historical St. Louis when they were ably chaperoned by Dr. Gregg, their sponsor, on a recent tour of St. Louis.

Leaving Lindenwood at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning on the 6 chartered buses 247 freshmen started out. Their first stop was the Airport where they saw a T.W.A. plane come in. From the modern to the ancient, as the girls next visited the Art Museum. From the exclamations, they must have enjoyed it. The next attraction, however, was the crowning joy of the morning for the Zoo was so interesting. But they had to tear themselves away from the Zoo to have luncheon at the Hotel Kingsway. This really was a fine recess for the girls but as the lecturers were present in each of the six buses rushed them on to more sights, they visited Lindbergh Trophies. The New Cathedral was the next attraction and proved to be quite worthy of being included on the tour. The Missouri Botanical Gardens finished the tour in the residence section.

The buses reloaded and the freshmen journeyed down town to visit the Municipal Auditorium, City Hall, Eugene Field's home, and the Old Rock Market. The landing place of Pierre Laclede down by the levee was included to sum up the tour to a fitting ending.

As the buses drove up the avenue to Lindenwood, the decision was unanimous that the trip was one grand success. The girls returned in time for dinner and entertained all the rather jealous upperclassmen with tales of the wonderful day.

The newly elected freshmen class officers were prominent in the trip. They are: Joyce Works, president, from Humboldt, Kans.; Marguerite Dearmont, vice-president from Cape Girardeau, Mo.; Brickly Casey, secretary, from Potosi, Mo.; and Mary Ingalls, treasurer, from Atchinson, Kansas.

Head of History

Dr. Wilma J. Pugh, head of the history department, is a new teacher on the campus. Obtaining her Ph. D. degree from Cornell University, she first gained her Bachelor of Art degree at the University of Wyoming. Her home is in Ogden, Utah.

Dr. Pugh replaces Dr. Marion Mitchell, who will be professor of history in the University of Washington, at Seattle.

Sophomores Elect Leaders

The sophomore class elected its class officers Tuesday night. Sue Sonnenday of St. Louis was chosen president; Betty Boles of Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, vice-president; Charlotte Ann York of Oklahoma City, secretary; and Mary Buesch of Belleville, Ill., treasurer. Miss Gordon was re-elected class sponsor.

Teacher and Student

Dr. Case had quite a busy summer. He taught two courses in the Lindenwood College Young Peoples' Summer Conference. From July 27 until August 1 he attended the Presbyterian College Teachers-of-Bible Conference in Chicago. He spent the latter part of the summer at Cass Lake in Chippeau National Forest in Minnesota.

TRIXIE BAREFACTS

Dear Miss Barefacts:

The entire week has found me repenting a little (very little) for my "out of liness" the other night. Is it really so very wrong to leave one's legitimate date for the short time of a tiny two hours? I'm a sweet, peaceful girl by nature and I dislike the thought of anyone's being angry with me. I heard that you, at one time, had the same situation to cope with. Perhaps you can advise me.

Hopefully,

Hattie.

Dear Hattie:

I do hope you didn't think that because I behaved so at one time it justified your doing so. One's heart usually leads one—successfully or unsuccessfully as the case may be. I sincerely hope yours was a most successful "outing". You're a musical lass, my dear, so remember, "Don't Let It Bother You When Things Go Wrong."

Suggestively,

Trixie.

Dear Miss Barefacts:

I am a freshman, young and innocent. Oh how I long for a good time. I have noticed "something" very interesting and I have heard "J. R." is very okay. Would you advise a date with him?

Perplexedly,

M. L. W.

My dear M. L. W.:

I always dislike the job of advising freshmen, young and innocent ones especially. Not knowing the young man in question, I am at a loss to know how to instruct you. All I can say is that you have a mind of your own—I hope. One date with the young masculine will tell you whether he is the proper company for one so "young and innocent."

Sincerely,

Trixie.

Dear Miss Barefacts:

I, too, had difficulty with an evening last week. A lively, enjoyable evening suddenly became much more than it had promised to be. I feel that I did nothing wrong yet my "real" escort assumed a very sarcastic and domineering attitude after "said enjoyment" arrived. After all, I hardly knew the young man. I always do as I please anyway and loathe being bossed.

Angrily,

"W".

Dear "W":

Yes—I have noticed that you are a headstrong young woman, endowed with a capacity for quick decisions. Unfortunately, I'm a little "prejudiced" about the evening, and too, I love being bossed. Yet I would hardly say you were at fault in any way.

Fairly,

Trixie.

NO BED OF ROSES

The Alton flashes flashed over Saturday night—ummmmm yes, and that takes us back to the days of the "birthday party boys"—and there's where the Spearmint Company went on the rocks. Gracie chewed Brown Shoe Co. gum for weeks and one of the up-and-coming druggists couldn't even give his stock away.

THE SEASON'S GAMES ARE ON AGAIN!! We still have Alton vs. St. Charles playing for the Sioux City loving cup. St. Charles seems to have a very good line (up). There have been rumors that Alton would forfeit the game but we have Sioux City's tact and diplomacy to thank for "the fight to the finish" attitude. The field is very muddy (not due to rain but radicals in the side-be above board, and then there are those who prefer a code of ethics). There was to be a third contestant but due to environmental conditions it will remain a double combat.

Orchard farm has changed the old adage of "Never the Twain shall meet" to "Never the Twain shall end." One Gypsy roves out and another roves in—Oh, well the Shyster!

This opportunity is snatched to notify, Mr. T. W. of the headlines, that the transition period is overdue. The preliminaries were held Saturday night—further developments will be published later.

And so—

School has reopened

The "see alls" are back

And—We're off!!!

Senior Class Officers

The class officers of the senior class were elected last week. They are as following: Constance Osgood, Kansas City, Mo., president; Margaret Keck, Blytheville, Arkansas, vice-president; Sue Taliaferro Johnson, Rolla, Mo., secretary; Kathryn Ackermann, Kansas City, Mo., treasurer.

St. Charles Club

The day students on campus have elected officers for their club, as follows: Lorraine Snyder, president; Sara Lee Auerbach, vice-president; Miriam McCormick, secretary and treasurer; and Lois Null and Sarah Bell Miller, chapel representatives.

The St. Charles students have various social activities during the school year. They are planning a "get-together" and get-acquainted party soon. Later on they are giving a dinner for the day students.

Speech and Dramatics

Miss Nina Jewel Lemen, of Evans-ton, Ill., is Miss Gordon's new assistant in the department of speech and dramatics. She is a recent graduate of Northwestern University, where she majored in speech and dramatics. The Little Theatre, a new addition to the department's equipment, will afford the girls much pleasure in giving short plays and dramatic sketches.

New Botany Teacher

Dr. Marion L. Dawson, who specializes in botany, a new teacher here, has prepared herself in three universities. Her college studies, leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree, were accomplished at the University of Wisconsin; in graduate work she gained the degree M. S. at Northwestern University, and the degree Ph. D. at Cornell University. She had been teaching botany at Cornell.

Juniors Re-Elect Sponsor

The junior class elected officers Tuesday night. LaVerne Rowe, of Kirkwood, Mo., was chosen president; Mary Elizabeth Baptist, of Shawnee, Oklahoma, vice-president; Lois Null, of St. Charles, secretary; and Susan Smith, of Dayton, Ohio, Treasurer. Miss Ruth E. Anderson is sponsor of the class.

Student Becomes Teacher

Miss Virginia Ann Shrimpton, a new member of the music faculty and a former Lindenwoodite, has returned here from her home in Alnsworth, Neb., where she spent the summer with her mother. She was graduated with a B. M. degree from the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y.

VACATIONS

Miss Doris Gieselman and Miss Isidor spent about seven weeks vacationing in California. Although they met during the summer, they did not visit the state together.

Miss Anderson, whose home is in northern Illinois, enjoyed trips with her family. They visited virtually all the state parks in Illinois.

Miss Bailey, of the department of biological science, attended the summer session at Washington U. in St. Louis, doing work toward her master's degree. Then she taught for six weeks at Gradwohl Medical Tech., St. Louis.

In interviewing Dr. Betz, Linden Bark found he had had a very interesting summer. The first part of which he spent in completing manuscript for a book which he hopes will be published soon. He spent the remainder of his vacation on the Great Lakes and in the Adirondacks, enjoying a very pleasant summer.

Miss Hough returned to her home in Morgantown, W. Va., for the summer months. She spent two weeks in Washington, D. C., visiting friends, and made a few visits with other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Casey and daughter spent Sunday with their daughter Brickly Casey here at Lindenwood.

Dr. Benson returned to her home in northern California for the summer vacation. She visited in several California cities during her stay there. However, she spent the month of August in Chicago doing some research work in history.

Miss Dawson, of the English department, attended Columbia University, N. Y., for six weeks this summer. She studied Child Literature and Contemporary Literature. The latter course was made especially interesting through lectures given by outstanding contemporary writers and poets. She also attended numerous lectures and popular plays. Of interest to everyone, no doubt, was the fact that she visited Miss Parker at New Haven.

Dr. Evers spent the entire summer at home and she spent a great deal of time in her garden, trying to keep it alive.

Miss Englehart spent the greater part of her summer in Chicago.

Miss Burns spent a very quiet and restful vacation at her home in Eureka, Illinois. She did a great deal of reading. The first two weeks of her vacation she spent traveling in Michigan, Wisconsin and Ohio.

Mrs. Lois Manning Burkitt spent the summer in Iowa and Michigan. She and Mr. Burkitt drove through Iowa on a business and pleasure trip. After leaving Michigan, Mrs. Burkitt visited the Interlochen Music Camp in Chicago.

Mrs. Charles Willcuts, the new house-mother in Niccolls, spent her vacation at her home in St. Louis.

Mrs. Le Master, house-mother now at Sibley hall, had a very enjoyable summer visiting with her two daughters in Columbia, and Boonville, Mo.

Being outstanding seems to be the favorite pastime of this popular senior. She's satisfied with only the best of the best of grades, rating practically straight "E's". Sport activities claim a good deal of her attention, and, incidentally, she was an instructor at an exclusive girls' camp in Maine this summer. Having pulled down various presidencies, she started the year off with a bang by rating another such position. A sense of humor is one of her enviable possessions. Her honor points are so numerous that she has found it necessary to forfeit some of her honors.

LYNN WOOD DICTATES

H. J.

The freshmen gave everyone's eyes a treat when they left for their big day Tuesday. A lot of fall fashions that would deserve anybody's gaze were gathered in front of Ayres.

Mary Alice Harnish wore an orange plaid suit. The coat rippled across the back of the shoulders with a pleat down the center. She wore a cocky little hat of the same color that tilted over one eye.

Julia Krell wore a three-piece gray suit. The under coat was waist length and buttoned all of the way down the front with a belt to accentuate its lines. The top coat was swagger and split up the back to give that masculine smartness.

Jean Corey wore a rust-colored wool that was very flattering to her auburn hair which appeared in rolls beneath a brown Butterfly hat (Jean arose at six thirty to achieve this effect—after all when one has to leave for the city after nine o'clock it doesn't allow much time). With this she wore a gold necklace at the simple neckline of the dress and a matching buckle on the belt.

Dance Is Gala Affair

The "get together" dance held in the gymnasium Friday night, September 18, was greatly enjoyed by all who attended. Each girl wore her name pinned on her dress, thus making it easier to identify her. Dr. and Mrs. Roemer, Mrs. Roberts, Miss Hough, Miss Blackwell, Mrs. LeMaster, and Mrs. Willcuts were in the receiving line. During the evening Dr. Roemer called out the various states represented at the dance and each girl marched along with all the others from her state. It was a very colorful array. The "wahooing" Indians from Oklahoma outnumbered the other states.

The next feature of the evening was the joining up of the political parties. The "Landonites" on one side and the "Roosevelters" on the other tried hard to drown each other out in singing their champion's favorite song. An orchestra from St. Louis furnished the music for the occasion. Every one had a delightful time and made many friends.

Linden Bark Staff

Dorothy Parrott, of Sioux City, Iowa, is the new editor-in-chief of the Linden Bark. Dorothy is a junior and has attended Lindenwood for two years. Other staff editors are Dorothy Randall, senior; Ethel Burgard, sophomore; Elizabeth Deming, sophomore; and Grace Stevenson, sophomore.

Harriett Judge and Clara Weary are assisting.

Sidelights of Society

VACATION IN SAME SURROUNDINGS FOR 19 YEARS

Dr. and Mrs. Roemer spent a pleasant month this summer at Manitou, Colorado. This is the nineteenth summer that the Roemers have vacationed there, staying at the same hotel and in the same room.

Just as the Bark goes to press, Dr. and Mrs. Roemer gave their annual reception to the faculty, last evening in the College Club Room.

Mr. Motley, Secretary of Lindenwood, managed to "work in" a two weeks' vacation this summer. He had a pleasant tour out in Yellowstone Park where he spent a great deal of his time fishing.

BARK FORMER EDITOR WEDS

Miss Marie Louise Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ellis of Sioux City, Iowa, was married Wednesday, August 19, to Mr. Roland E. Tompkins, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. N. Tompkins, also of Sioux City. The ceremony took place in the Methodist parsonage at Lemars, Iowa. Attendants were Miss Dorothy Parrott and Mr. George Davis, both of Sioux City. Miss Ellis was attired in a navy blue sheer afternoon dress, navy pumps, and a wide-brimmed navy hat. She wore a corsage of tea roses. Following the ceremony the couple departed for the Inn at Lake Okeboji, Iowa.

Miss Ellis was graduated from Lindenwood last June with an A. B. degree. "Gypsy", as she was known to many of the girls, was very popular on and "off" the campus. She was the editor-in-chief of the Linden Bark and a very outstanding horse-woman, appearing in numerous St. Louis horse shows.

Her husband is a graduate of the law school of the University of Iowa, Iowa City. He is now connected with the firm of Stewart and Hatfield. Mr. Tompkins purchased a home this spring in which they are now residing.

Dr. Linnemann, of the Art Department, spent her summer at home. She did some work in oils in the studios of some of St. Louis' leading artists.
