

LINDEN BARK

Vol. 15—No. 1.

Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Missouri, Tuesday, October 8, 1935

$1.00 A YEAR

From the Office of the Dean

Dr. Gipson is in the midst of the usual freshmen conferences. At the beginning of every year these conferences are held for the purpose of ascertaining if the new students of the college are well situated and having no difficulties as regards their schedules of classes.

From the results of the intelligence tests given at the beginning of the term, it looks as if the freshmen are capable of doing a very high class of college work. Since talking with the girls, Dr. Gipson feels sure that so far they have adjusted themselves very well to their schedules and to college life.

There has been a request from the office that all candidates for degrees and certificates next June sign with the registrar immediately. This step is being taken in order that schedules may be checked and errors in the choice of courses be avoided.

Student Council Officers

The members of the student council were announced in chapel Wednesday September 25, by Jean Kirkwood, president of the council. Kay Morton, a junior from Sibley Hall, was appointed to the office of vice-president. Betty Clark, sophomore, also of Sibley was appointed secretary. Margaret Taylor, junior, was appointed to the office of treasurer. The hall presidents are: Juanita Jones, Sibley; Peggy Moore, Niccolls; Wilma Hoen, Butler; Connie Osgood, Ayres; and Margaret Meyers, Irwin.

Reopens Tea-Room After Eastern Travel

Miss Clement, manager of the campus Tea Room, spent an enjoyable summer in extensive travel in the East. Her visits in New England included a week's stay in Boston and Cambridge, and the rest of the summer days were spent with friends and relatives at Waterbury, Conn.; Honover, N. H.; Rutland, and Cavendish in Vermont; and New York City.

Miss Clement has announced new Tea Room hours for this year, and the fact that this popular gathering-place will be open all day and every evening, too, has been received with the greatest enthusiasm. The new improvements, including draperies and polished floors, add a great deal to the appearance of the Tea Room, and its continued support is appreciated.

Everyone will be interested to know that Miss Parker is now happily settled at the Graduate Women's Club in New Haven, Conn. She has completed her registration for her new work, and feels that she will have a very satisfactory year.

Y. W. Tea Starts Season

Despite the heavy downpour of rain, the Y. W. C. A. annual tea was successfully given Thursday, September 26, at 4:45 o'clock in the club rooms.

To add to the dignified yet cheerful atmosphere of the club rooms, the guests, dressed in formal attire, were greeted by the charming Y. W. C. A. president, Margaret Taylor, of St. Louis; Constance Osgood, of Kansas City, vice president; Margaret Keck, of Blytheville, Ark., Secretary; and Jean Thomas, of Waterville, Kan., treasurer.

Guests of honor at the tea were, Dr. and Mrs. Roemer, Dr. Gipson, and Dr. Terhune, who is faculty advisor for the Y. W. C. A.

From a table set with lace cloth, silver coffee and tea urns, and adorned with a beautiful centerpiece of yellow and white chrysanthemums, Dr. Gipson and Dr. Terhune poured. At smaller tables, the guests found colorful sandwiches, in many shapes and kind, mints, and all the small things that make a tea a success.

Music was played, throughout the afternoon, by Martha Perry, Marjorie Hickman, and Arabelle Wycoff.

The annual Y. W. C. A. tea not only serves as one of the opening social events of the year, but it creates an atmosphere of friendliness among the old and new students, and is an event looked forward to from year to year.

A. A. Officers And Sports Heads

Officers were elected at the first meeting of the Athletic Association Thursday, September 26, as follows: president, Betty Butler; who won the woman's championship in the Mississippi Valley tennis contest at Des Moines, Io.; vice-president, Effie Reinemer; secretary, Marie Christensen, treasurer, Marjorie Spearing. The heads of sports were also elected. They are as follows: hockey, Lois Null; tennis, Jane Bowman; dancing, Marion Randolph; horseback riding, Lulu Vee Whiteley; hiking, Edwina Peuter; swimming, Janet Scroggin; posture, Adèle Byers; basketball, Jean Thomas.

Plans for a steak fry and an all school party were made.

Women Voters Active

The League of Women Voters held its first meeting, September 27, to elect officers for the fall and winter. They are as follows: president, Ernestine Thro; vice-president, Edwina Peuter; and secretary-treasurer, Dorothy London.

The League made plans for a convention to be held at Columbia, Mo., October 11, 12, 13. The representatives from the Lindenwood group will be, Mary Ruth Tyler, Edwina Peuter, and Ernestine Thro.

Read the Linden Bark.

Annual Convocation Opens Lindenwood

Dr. Roemer Speaks to Student Body on "Evaluating Education".

"Onward Christian Soldiers", a processional by the Lindenwood choir marked the beginning of the college's first vesper service of the year, Sunday night, September 22. The girls sang remarkably well, and as Dr. Roemer said, there were some "fine voices". They were ably assisted by Marguerite Winder's lovely solo, "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears" (Harker). The new choir, under the direction of Miss Gieselman, sang "God's Treasures" as the anthem. Dr. Case gave the invocation.

The Convocation address by Dr. Roemer was inspirational as well as educational. He welcomed the freshmen to Lindenwood and told them that while they were "in a strange land", they were "not among strangers. He said, "The faculty and the upper classmen want to help you in in any way "possible". He spoke on "Evaluating Education". This topic, he said, is the most talked of subject in the world today, publicly and privately.

"We put prices on most other things so it is only natural that we should put a price on education", said Dr. Roemer. "A few days ago, President Roosevelt said in a talk on the radio, 'The future of our country depends on the education of our citizens'. Many years ago a member of the British Parliament said, 'The day is coming when the politics of the nation will be the politics of the washwoman'. And so in this democratic time it has become that very thing. But it takes intelligent citizenship wisely to govern our country."

There followed an analysis of educational values as considered economically, socially, politically and culturally.

"Just before the war", he said, "propaganda was introduced for the promotion of greater interest in education in this country. The rapid success of this movement was due to the attractive argument that the more education one had, the more money he could make. The undesirable outcome was the organization of courses which taught only the technique of the profession to be pursued. This made less remote the time for beginning to make money but it made a one-sided personality. The techniques are not all that is necessary toward gaining the esteem of the world outside of the school.

"Certain other subjects are expedient because of their cultural values. Not that some subjects are strictly cultural and others not, but all courses of study have a value in moulding character and personality. The man or woman who explores only one field is not well-rounded culturally.

"It is necessary, today, to have both method and content, and the value of the depression has been to teach the young people to start at the bottom rung of the ladder and work up to the top."

Dr. Roemer emphasized the importance of getting all possible from one's school work by telling of a letter he recently received from an old student who now has a position in Chicago. She wrote that it is essential that a student gather all possible knowledge from her school work, as she will find it is certainly needed in business life.

"There are better opportunities for making a living," he said, "if one has a college education. We are continually answering inquiries concerning the abilities of our former students. During these days of depression it has become almost impossible to progress without a college education.

"Then there is the social evaluation. Society looks on college people as a favored class. Education gives prominence and distinction." But as the keynote of his address Dr. Roemer said, "All life is not tinsel."

"Be useful", was his admonition to the student body.

From the political standpoint", he said, "national leaders say, 'As the youth goes, so goes the nation'. This is proven in work of Mussolini. The leading nations of the world are making education an important part of government. The Russian government started its revolution ideas in the minds of its youngest children. Hitler has the smallest child in Germany trained in his policies. But these are dictators. The evaluation of our educational system rests on the fact it has stood the test of 149 years."

After his discussion of the cultural evaluation, already quoted, Dr. Roemer took up a final evaluation of education, "hours and credits". "While this may not be the best estimate", he said, "it is the only tangible one. Our greatest mistake is not in the system of grading, but in the attitude of the receiver of those grades. Don't count your ability in the hours, but rather in what you've done and the meaning of those hours. Grades are necessary, but they may be misleading, as some students develop later in life.

"Make a correct estimate of yourself out of the stuff that's in you, whether you receive an S or an I.

In closing, Dr. Roemer quoted from the tenth chapter of the gospel of St. John, saying: "The people said to Jesus, 'John did no miracles but—what he spake was true.' Educationally the world expects no miracle of you; it only asks that what you speak be true."

The recessional hymn was, "Holy Holy, Holy."

Linden Bark

A Bi-weekly Newspaper published at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., by the Department of Journalism

Published every other Tuesday of the school year
Subscription rate, $1.00 per year

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
Marie L. Ellis, '36

EDITORIAL STAFF

Florence Wilson, '36	Marjorie Briggs, '38
Mary Long, '36	Susan Smith, '38
Harriett Judge, '37	Lorraine Mabry, '38

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1935

The Linden Bark:

Now, like Aladdin of the days of old,
October robes the weeds in purple gowns;
He sprinkles all the sterile fields with gold,
And all the rustic trees wear royal crowns.
Walter Malone, 'October'

Thrills of Return and New College Rules

There is a certain thrill in returning to school for both the upper classmen and the freshmen. The freshmen have the thrill of seeing the campus for the first time, of making friends, and of becoming accustomed to the routine of college life along with the fun. To an upper classman there is always a thrill in seeing familiar faces, exchanging summer experiences, and getting back into the swing of things.

This year when we, who had been here before, returned, it was a doubly happy reunion because of the inauguration of the new rules. We appreciate the trust and faith which the administration has placed in us. Surely we all hope no girl will so far forget her duty to her school and to her fellow students, as to overstep these very liberal privileges which have been given us.

We know the freshmen do not fully understand the significance of all this but we advise them to ask an upper classman about the rules of former years and we are sure they will do their best to comply with the new modified regulations.

New Equipment Adds To Old Charm of Library

From the carefree campus spirit to the solemn, studious atmosphere of the Library, is but a few steps. Yet, as one enters the heavy leather doors, one comes into an entirely different and quite interesting world. Here are found the records of the past, the problems of the present, the hopes for the future.

The majestic foyer with its gold and blue mosaic ceiling, its gray and white marble floors and its baronial carved oaken benches and chairs, sets the atmosphere for the whole library.

The reading room and the periodical room, to the right and left of the foyer, are curtained in Chinese red, which adds color and gaiety to the mammoth beams, that are part of the Tudor Gothic architecture. The foyer, as well as the reading and periodical rooms, is lighted by indirect lighting system, in the form of large iron chandeliers. In addition to the stacks that line the room directly in back of the charging desk, one finds stairs leading to another room of stacks that was completed before the opening of the fall session of college.

On up into the Tower one finds the "faculty room", also new this year, which is open to faculty members only.

On the ground floor is the Library Club Room. The furnishings here also carry out the Tudor Gothic idea, with their rich rugs of deep blues and reds, and the fine dark Gothic chairs and tables.

Also on the ground floor is the museum, set aside for the valuable Sibley antiques which include the little melodeon that was Mrs. Sibley's; old pictures of the Lindenwood of other years, and furniture that belonged to the founders.

This is your library, to use with freedom and at your will. May your hours spent there be profitable and happy ones.

Soph Officers, 4 States

On its first meeting in late September, the sophomore class elected officers, as follows: president, Ellen Ann Schachner, of St. Louis; vice-president, Helen Knell, Aurora, Ill. Jean Stephenson, Wichita, Kan., and treasurer, Joan Spangler, Fremont, Neb.

Miss Lois Karr, head of the department of mathematics and physics, spent her summer vacation at her home in Indianola, Ia. During the summer she took several trips, including one to Fairmount, Minn., and also one to Glen Ellen, Ill., to visit her brother.

Read the Linden Bark.

Guests of Dr. Gregg

Dr. Gregg shared her vacation with Miss Lear and Miss Delphia Hirsh the past summer. They drove, by easy stages, to Chehalis, Wash., Dr. Gregg's home. There they all spent the latter part of the summer, taking side trips from Chehalis to some of the most interesting places in Washington. Among these interesting spots was the University of Washington where Miss Lear did research work for a time.

Dr. Gregg's guests are quite enthusiastic about the splendid time they had both in Washington and en route. Dr. Gregg drove all the way, and her friends know how interesting the trip must have been because of her great knowledge of the country through which she took her guests.

COLLEGE DIARY

By M. E.

Wed. Sept. 18: Isn't it a grand and glorious feeling to see everyone, or almost everyone, back? The old school looks pretty good to us all.

Thur. Sept. 19: Classes start! There's a mad scramble to see where who's supposed to be, when.

Fri. Sept. 20: Believe it or not, but I heard a freshman ask the maid for a table for two, in the dining room today. It's time for the "get together" dance and I'm anxious to see all the frosh together. Tell you all about it tomorrow.

Sat. Sept. 21: Wonder if the underclassmen had as much fun as we did at the dance, or were they terrified by such an awe-inspiring array of faculty? Many thanks for the entertainment, Frosh. Did the little brunette who tapped remind you of Harriette Ann or am I crazy?

Mon. Sept. 23: Well girls, what think you of the mighty Student Board? I've made up my mind to walk the straight and narrow, because Jean would certainly strike terror to my soul if she had me on the mat.

Tues. Sept. 24: Whoops, a half holiday for the Legion Parade! What a mob! I feared for my life several times.

Thur. Sept. 26: What's this I've heard about the golden voiced Harriett being unanimously elected song leader of the junior class—and her roommate objected—can you imagine! We seniors got our tables today—really feel like big shots now. I understand the freshmen thought the Y. W. tea was so nice they'd like one every day after classes. How 'bout it, Jits, and the rest of you hard workers?

Sun. Sept. 29: Did you see what I saw on campus yesterday? The most divine convertible, and Cicero seems to have access to it. They say "she's in the army now."

Wed. Oct. 2: Looks as though we'll get around to entering the Horse Show. Notice the enthusiasm in the equitation classes, they really are taking those practices seriously. I saw lady Fritz's beaming countenance, she must be among the chosen few!

Thur. Oct. 3: Apparently Jane Wyatt and Weary are using their imaginations instead of napkins.

Fri. Oct. 4: Gangway—A stampede to the Dean's office to sign for diplomas, certificates, etc. Hope we're all among those present in June.

Sat. Oct. 5: Do my eyes deceive me or is Vi really going into the trucking business—with the Case Work Class as tonnage too, or should I say tonnage!

The greater part of Miss Reichert's vacation was spent recuperating from an appendectomy at her home in New York City. On her way through Chambersburg, Pa., she stopped to see Mrs. Adam Bauer, the former Madeline John, and her new baby, Barbara Ann.

Miss Stookey went from here to New York City, last fall, where she went to school at Columbia for nine weeks. While there she went to Washington, D. C. and Philadelphia, returning by way of Chicago.

During the past summer, Miss Wurster enjoyed several short motor trips. The rest of the summer she spent in art work, modeling reliefs which are to be cast in bronze.

Miss Kathryn Hankins, head of the classical languages and literature department, spent an enjoyable summer at her home in Webster Groves.

Student Board Echoes

At the moment the Student Board is a mass of wrecked nerves struggling over correct interpretation of the "swell" new rules and trying to give freshmen the right answer to the wrong questions or something like that. We are so afraid of telling people they can trot off to town at one o'clock when its three or vice versa—so afraid that we just pretend muteness and so serenely on our way walking in our shoes. Honestly, it is a job and that's straight from the shoulder, but, of course, we love it and we don't really mean all these things we've been saying. Not really.

St. Charles Club Elects

On Monday, September 30, at the first meeting of the St. Charles Lindenwood Club, Dorothy Barton was elected president to succeed Dorothy Bottani who had served in that office the last two years.

Miriam McCormick was elected secretary-treasurer, and Ruth Burkell and Sarabell Miller, chapel representatives.

The members of the club include Lindenwood students residing in St. Charles, and its purpose is to bring about greater co-operation with the school through its organization.

Dr. Gipson Gives Address

Dr. Gipson spoke at a meeting of the American Association of University Women in St. Charles Thursday evening, October 3. Her talk concerned the meeting of the A. A. U. W. which Dr. Gipson attended in Los Angeles last June.

On Tuesday evening, October 8, Dr. Gipson will speak to the Lindenwood College Club of St. Louis concerning the same meeting in Los Angeles.

Choir Well Balanced In Beginning The Year

The Lindenwood choir of over forty voices made its first appearance at the vesper services, Sunday night, September 22. The group was outstanding in good balance, considering the short time in which it had been organized. The girls' voices blended beautifully, with no one voice standing out.

Incidentally, Margarette Winder's solo was a real contribution to the opening service. She sang with a decided authority of manner, and the way in which she held her audience highly commended her performance.

There is a large number of fine voices in the choir this year, and Miss Gieselman plans to organize a small group of the outstanding voices within the choir to do a capella work.

The members of this year's choir are Arabelle Wycoff, accompanist, Margaret Thompson, LaVerne Rowe, Johnnie Fiock, Alice Jones, Val Jean Aldred, Allie Lou Connor, Gerry Stockton Marjorie Davis, Phyllis Forshoe, Marjorie Francis, Jane Montgomery, Ruth Pinnell, Martha Malcolmson, Margarette Winder, Eleanor Finley, Virginia Jaeger, Durine Riddle, Doris Danz, Peggy Jo Tittle, Betty Burton, Margaret Wright, Ellen Louise Eby, Mary Jane Gill, Ruth Denton, Dorothy Teters, Ursula Rapp, Marian Moreland, Margaret Hull, Gwendolyn Everist, Helen Du Hada-way, Rachel Hinman, Marian McCormick, Emily Floyd, Virginia Buff, Babs Lawton, Eleanor Blair, Pauline Art, Marion Hardie, Joan Spangler, Martha Lott, Alice Neal, Adele Cote.

Read the Linden Bark.

Dr. Dewey As Teacher In Ohio University

Dr. Dewey, head of the department of education, spent eleven weeks of his vacation teaching at the University of Ohio at Athens, Ohio. He had intended to stay only eight weeks, teaching supervision and elementary education, but was asked to stay for the three-week post-session by the Dean.

Dr. Dewey says, "It was most delightful work, as the university has most complete facilities for the College of Education, having its own grade school building. The students were very cordial and pleasant to work with. Most of them were taking graduate work. While I taught, my daughter Joan, attended kindergarten."

The Deweys spent the remainder of their vacation in Minnesota at St. Paul and Detroit Lakes.

Twenty-One Music Majors Among The Freshmen

The music department at Lindenwood is well pleased with its acquisition of new talent this year. The freshmen music majors number around 21, all with a good background for their music, and all doing nicely in their work. Not only do these freshmen do well in their class and private work, but they also display quite a bit of talent for performing in public. Considering these girls together with the talent of the upperclassmen it seems that the regular Tuesday afternoon recitals are going to be good programs.

It might well be mentioned here also that there seems to be the usual amount of interest in this season's concerts of the St. Louis Symphony. Of course, having these concerts within such easy access is merely one of the many geographical advantages that Lindenwood affords. The girls know a good opportunity when they see one.

Mrs. Roberts' Long Trip

Mrs. Roberts, house mother of Ayres Hall, left St. Charles as soon as school was out, to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Sturges, in Philadelphia.

While Mrs. Roberts spent an entire month in bed, with a serious illness, she recovered in time to take several interesting trips in and around the country. She visited several times in New York City, seeing among other points of extreme interest, the new Radio City.

"We went to Asbury Park one day, where the 'Morro Castle' disaster occurred," said Mrs. Roberts. On returning from Asbury Park she stopped at Lake Hurst, N. J., one of the largest airports in the United States. Here is anchored the dirigible S. S. Akron. On another trip, Mrs. Roberts went to Dover, Del., one of the oldest capitols in the East.

"I started home about the fourth of September," Mrs. Roberts said "and stayed with my sisters in St. Louis until college opened."

Dr. Case's Vacation

Dr. Ralph T. Case head of the department of Bible and philosophy spent the first half of his summer vacation at the Presbyterian Young People's Conference held at Lindenwood. Dr. Case was a member of the faculty during the conference.

During the latter part of the summer he was with his family in Northern Minnesota, where he has a cabin at Chippewa.

San Diego To Seattle The Dean's Itinerary

Dr. Gipson, dean of Lindenwood, tells of an enjoyable vacation this past summer. Upon the close of school she proceeded to her home in Caldwell, Idaho, that she might be present at the wedding of her niece. From there Dr. Gipson went to California, where she attended the biennial meeting of the Association of University Women, held in Los Angeles the last of June. Later, while visiting relatives in San Diego, she took in the fair in that city. Dr. Gipson was then the guest for a few days of Dr. Aurella Henry Reinhardt of Mills College. While she was in San Francisco a portrait of Dr. Gipson as "a well known educator," appeared in the San Francisco Examiner, with an interview.

Dr. Gipson proceeded then to Seattle, where she spent some little time visiting. In the latter part of July she returned to Caldwell, to enjoy the rest of the summer with relatives. During that time Dr. Gipson spoke to over 100 people at a state-wide picnic of Missourians living in Idaho. Her address concerning Lindenwood, for many of the people present had been away from Missouri for several years and were interested to hear of the advancement Lindenwood is making. It is evident that Dr. Gipson has kept in contact with her school throughout the summer, and has done much for the furtherance of interest in Lindenwood.

On September 1, Dr. Gipson returned to St. Charles, and began to prepare for the coming year.

Austrian Spirit Delights Dr. Terhune

This summer Dr. Terhune went to Vienna to join her brother Dr. Thornton P. Terhune, who is a professor of history at Center College of Kentucky at Danville, and whom Lindenwood remembers for his talk here two years ago. Dr. Terhune traveled in England, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and France.

Dr. Terhune was in Austria July 20, which was the first anniversary of the death of Dollfus. "The government directed a day of mourning for him and asked that each householder place two candles in each window. The buildings were all draped in black and from 8 P. M. until 11 P. M. there were literally millions of candles burning," said Dr. Terhune.

Although Dr. Terhune had a marvelous time abroad she said, "I was glad to get back to the United States, because no matter where you go in Europe the most outstanding thing is the terrible tension that exists everywhere. However, despite their very difficult position, the Austrian spirit remains as delightful as ever and I really had a very enjoyable visit."

Miss Hough, regent of Irwin Hall, spent this past summer at her home in Morgantown, W. Va.

Mrs. Wenger, regent of Sibley Hall, spent the summer vacation in Cairo, Ill. Before the opening of school this fall, Mrs. Wenger visited Chicago and New York City.

Mrs. Le Master, regent of Niccolls Hall, spent a very enjoyable summer visiting her sister in Toledo, Ill., and her daughters in Boonville and Columbia, Mo. She made a short trip to Kansas City and Jefferson City, Mo.

Read the Linden Bark.

Dr. and Mrs. Roemer Touring The Far North

Dr. and Mrs. Roemer spent a most delightful month traveling in Minnesota and other northern regions the past summer. The trip was made entirely by automobile and many interesting places were visited. Mrs. Roemer said to a Linden Bark reporter that most of the time was spent in Port Arthur, a Canadian town located on Lake Superior about 200 miles north of Duluth. One of the most unusual sights, Mrs. Roemer said, was the large grain elevators, each of which holds 90,000,000 bushels of wheat.

The drive from Duluth was made along the shore of Lake Superior and was one of the most enjoyable drives of the trip. In addition to many lakes that were visited by the Roemers, they saw the waterfall sometimes called the Niagara of Canada.

The return trip was made through Minneapolis, a city which Mrs. Roemer thinks is one of the most beautiful that she has ever visited.

Chief of Music Sees The Southwest

Early in June Mr. and Mrs. Thomas motored to Colorado Springs, where they spent the greater part of the summer. They also took a trip into the Indian country of New Mexico and Arizona. In Mesa Verde National Park they saw the most notable and best preserved cliff dwellings in the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas also went through the reservations of the Navajo and Ute Indians in New Mexico and Arizona their ultimate objective being the new national park at the north rim of the Grand Canyon.

They were fortunate in having as a companion and guide Dr. Harty of the Southwest Museum in Los Angeles. Dr. Harty is an authority on Indian life, and was able to direct the Thomases' attention to things of interest that might otherwise not have been accessible.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas also visited Zion National Park and Bryce National Park in Utah before returning to Colorado Springs via the Mormon country in southern Utah.

Miss Tucker Abroad Finds Her French Useful

Miss Tucker, of the home economics department, spent seven delightful weeks in England and on the European continent last summer. Most of the time was spent in England, but she enjoyed a short trip to France where she visited the chateau district. Miss Tucker has made the statement that the students planning to go abroad could not have too much French.

On the boat going over, she was one of a party of five. Among the other passengers was Maria Matyas, who will have the lead in the San Carlos Opera Company this fall and winter.

Although she had intended to do quite a lot of shopping while abroad, Miss Tucker said that she found it too difficult to do much. While in France she used all of her knowledge of the native tongue and wished she had had more.

During her seven weeks' stay, she saw thirteen plays in England and an opera in France. She spent a week-end in Scotland and a week in Oxford, where her visit was made more enjoyable by the fact that she had friends there who were able to show her about.

Miss Tucker returned to New York on the new liner, the Normandie.

WHO'S WHO?

Capability? Personified. Smiles? Extraordinary. Peppy? And then some. An officer of the Sophisticated Seniors, a "chief" on the Linden Bark staff, an excellent horse-woman. The snappiest eyes you ever saw, the blackest curliest hair you'd ever hope to want. An honest friend. All these and much more pertain to Who's Who of this week. Freshmen you ought to know her, upper classmen you do know her. Just guess.

LYNN WOOD DICTATES

September—and the parade of fashion starts. Imogene Hinsch certainly was an attractive "little sister" at the dance. Her dress was rust colored and that big chromium buckle on the belt gave it a note of distinction. Helen Hayes looked darling Saturday in her purple suit. Helen certainly can wear that eye-tilted hat of dark purple.

Jean Kirkwood appeared at the tea Thursday in a semi-formal of rust-colored lace. The neckline was high with a strictly-tailored collar, but those brilliant buttons just took my eye!

Some of the girls' rooms are also boasting of up-to-the-minute fashions. Congratulations to Dorothy London and Marion Randolph for breaking away from the worn-out idea of "frilly" rooms and selecting red corduroy for their bed-spreads and drapes.

Old Lindenwood Student Host To Dr. Linneman

Dr. Alice A. Linnemann, head of the department of art, left, after a much needed and well deserved rest, for the Arcadia Valley in the Ozarks, where she did landscape painting.

After returning from the Ozarks, Dr. Linnemann made several trips across the state with her family, and especially her mother. While enroute they stopped at the Arrow Rock Tavern, near Arrow Rock, Mo., where they were guests of the Tavern hostess, Mrs. Kathryn Biggs Pealer, a student of a decade ago, and her mother, with Mrs. Pealer's two interesting children. The Tavern is maintained in the interest of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

While in Kansas City Dr. Linnemann visited the Art Museum and other points of art interest in and about the city.

Miss Allyn at Family Reunion

Miss Allyn, head of the business department enjoyed the past summer in the company of friends and relatives, and at work.

Shortly after commencement, Miss Allyn joined a party of friends for a visit near Sturgeon Bay on Lake Michigan. After this pleasant sojourn, she returned to spend six weeks organizing new texts and courses for this year.

Miss Allyn attended a large family reunion in Jacksonville, Ill., held at the old Camp residence, the first large frame house built in that section of the country. This summer marked the one hundredth year of its standing and preservation in its original form. Miss Allyn talks enthusiastically of this quaint old place and its contents, and considers her summer vacation "an interesting and profitable one."

Sidelights of Society

Girls who will attend the Veiled Prophet Ball in St. Louis tomorrow night include Ann Bagnell, Nancy Platt, Betty Bogenschutz, Ann Green, LaVerne Rowe, Marjorie Hickman, and Susan Smith.

Irwin Hall has more than its share of campus honors this year. Jean Kirkwood holds the highest office as president of the student board. Jean McFarland is president of the freshman class, Helen Knell is vice-president of the sophomores. Camille McFadden is the secretary of the secretary of the senior class, and Margaret Keck is secretary of the Y. W. C. A. Three of the four offices in Tau Sigma dance sorority, are held by Irwin girls. Marion Randolph is president, Wanda Gayle Covington, secretary, and Camille McFadden, treasurer.

Mildred Rhoton of Anderson, Ind. spent a week with Ruth Howe of St. Louis at the Howes' cottage in the Ozarks this past summer.

Mary Louis Whiteley, graduate of 1935, is now teaching school in her home town, Holdenville, Okla. In addition to her teaching she is directing a toy band composed of very small children.

Rachel "Rip" Ban Winkle, of Los Angeles, was unable to return to school this semester because of a back injury suffered when she was thrown from her horse while riding this summer. At the time of her accident "Rip" was 125 miles from home and an ambulance. She was driven home in a hearse. Her roommate, Mildred Rhoton, says that "Rip" hopes to return to school the second semester to complete her work for her degree.

Mildred Marriott of Moberly, Mo. received a surprise visit from her father, September 24.

Virginia Jaeger visited Helen Foster, a former student at Lindenwood, at her home in Tupelo, Miss., the latter part of August.

Sylvia Lipp has received a letter from Sarah Bloom who says she is enroute to Boston, where she will study expression this year.

Martha Anderson left Friday, October 4, for Rolla, Mo., where she spent the week-end with her aunt. She was accompanied by Bettie Smith and Imogene Hirsch, who visited their parents, respectively.

Arlene Herwig, Georgeanne Garner, Jane Montgomery, and Alice Neal spent Saturday, September 28, in St. Louis with Georganne's sister, Alice Garner, from Richmond, who visited on the campus for the remainder of the week-end.

The first house meeting of the year at Irwin Hall was held Tuesday night, October 1, at which Miss Hough discussed and explained the new rules for this year. Margaret Meyers is the new house president.

Louise Hancock of Laddonia, spent the week-end of September 20 with her former roommate, Becky Jane Brown.

Nancy Patterson flew to Chicago September 26, for the wedding of her cousin.

September 25 was Mrs. Le Master's birthday and her girls presented her with a set of Seventeen.

Jo Slack's mother and little sister spent last weekend with her.

Becky Jane Brown spent last weekend at her home in Mexico, Mo.

Miss Dorothy Holcomb will be the guest of Evelyn Brown of Ayres Hall during the week end of Founders Day. Miss Holcomb was a graduate of Lindenwood College, receiving her A. B. degree in English in 1934.

Miss Sara Louis Greer, 1934 editor of the Linden Bark, and Miss Mary Helen Kingston, 1935, both of Denison, Tex., are co-partners in a Shakespearean Club which they have started in their home town. It is understood that they are doing very well with their project, and congratulations are extended to them on their individuality.

Miss Mary Roberts, 1934-35 editor of Linden Bark is teaching school in a town about eight miles from her home in Little Rock, Ark.

Miss Betty Hooks, who received a Certificate in Speech last June, is spending the winter at home, taking a rest cure. It is hoped that Betty will regain her strength very rapidly.

Miss Francis Marie McPherson, of St. Joseph, Mo., graduate of Lindenwood in 1934, is now teaching piano and voice and has successfully captured nine pupils. Success to you, Mac.

Martha Lott and Eleanor Finley spent the week-end of September 21 at the home of LaVerne Rowe in Kirkwood.

Jane Bowman of Great Falls, Mont., spent three days with Ellen Ann Schachner of St. Louis, previous to the opening of school.

Anita Wardep of Parsons, Kan., enjoyed a visit from her father last week.

Mrs. Morton Douthat. (Reba Mae Showalter), stopped for a short visit last week, en route with her husband to South Bend, Ind.

Marian Knapp of Kankakee, Illinois, entertained her mother and father on campus last week.

New Sponsor, Seniors And Other Officers

The senior class held a meeting in Roemer Hall September 20 for the purpose of selecting a new sponsor, owing to the absence of Miss Frances Stumberg who is doing personnel work in Chicago. They chose Miss Eva Englehart of the Music Department. Mrs. Roemer is honorary sponsor.

On September 24 they held a meeting to elect new officers. Mary Elizabeth Null of St. Charles was chosen president, she is also president of Triangle and of Alpha Sigma Tau. Marie Ellis of Sioux City, Iowa is vice president. The Secretary is Camille McFadden, Taylorville, Ill., a member of Tau Sigma and very well known for her ability as a dancer. Treasurer is Florence Wilson of Chicago, head of Social Service in Y. W. Martha Perry of Kansas City is pianist.

Juniors Elect and Plan Tea

Officers were elected at the first junior class meeting Thursday, September 26 as follows: president, Katherine Morton of St. Joseph, Mo.; vice-president, Alma Reitz, St. Louis; secretary, Josephine Miles, St. Joseph, Mo.; treasurer, Virginia Wilkerson, Hughesville, Mo.; pianist, Marjorie Hickman, St. Louis; song leader, Harriett Judge, New Madrid, Mo.

Plans were discussed for a tea in honor of the freshmen and for an all school "date dance".

Read the Linden Bark.

For the V. P.
Ball

Stahlbehl's
THE NEW RED STORE

Sensational
Belle-Sharmeer
3-length Hose
2 pr. $1.50
Plus---
Low Heeled
Silver Sandals

220 N. Main St., St. Charles

Yellow
Cab

Phone 133

MERRY MARIE SHOP

evening swank calls for sumptuous fabrics

crepe of intricate weave . . . metallic fabrics . . . glamorous velvets . . . gorgeous satins!

$10 to $19.75

MERRY MARIE SHOP
300 N. Main Phone 756

Westinghouse
Emerson
R. C. A.
Radios

$14.95 up

Kister Elec. Co.
136 N. Main Phone 443
Call for Demonstration

HUNING'S Easy WAY TO MANICURE NAILS

NO NEED TO CUT CUTICLE

Just the tiniest amount of Manicare on a damp cloth keeps nails in the pink of condition. Dead cuticle is removed without scissors or harsh acids. Hang-nails, brittle nails and cracked nails are avoided. Stains vanish quickly. Manicare keeps the cuticle soft; keeps nails healthy and far more beautiful.

We Give and Redeem Eagle Stamps

HUNING DEPT. STORE

We Dote' on Lindenwood Girls
If she 'Dotes' on the Active Life

Sport Wear

Novelties

she'll 'Dote' to—

the Palace
CLOTHING CO.

"Sport Spot"

WELCOME!!
AGAIN
Wolff's
Standard
DRUG STORE

Welcomes you and again we say . . . Meet you at the Standard Drug Store . . . that pleasant place to meet your Friends

You will find Quality Goods,
Best Chocolates and Ice Cream
at

Charles E. Meyer