Third Annual Summer Film, TV Camp Next Month

05/02/2011

The Lindenwood University School of Communications will host its third annual Film and Television Camp this summer for high school students interested in learning production skills. Sessions are scheduled from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily, June 13-17 and June 20-24.

Participants will learn introductory skills and techniques from award-winning Lindenwood faculty who have extensive experience creating Hollywood movies, network television shows, local newscasts, and documentaries. Students will have the opportunity to work in the Charter Communications LUTV HD Studio in the university's J. Scheidegger Center for the Arts.

"The camp is perfect for future directors, editors, and on-camera talent, whether they already have some experience or are just getting started," said Peter Carlos, LUTV station manager and associate professor of communications. "We believe that a hands-on approach works best for our students."

The cost to attend is $150 per session. Participants will receive lunch daily, a t-shirt, a personalized DVD of their final projects, and a free screening of their work for family members and friends.

Space is limited. To register, please contact Carlos at (636) 949-4513 or by e-mail at pcarlos@lindenwood.edu.
