Introducing Mane Connection

Student Involvement is excited to launch Mane Connection, our new student engagement platform! As we bid farewell to Involve U, we are ushering in a dynamic era of campus engagement.

What's Mane Connection All About?

- Engagement Opportunities: From clubs and organizations to events and volunteer opportunities, Mane Connection brings it all together. This platform allows the entire Lindenwood community to announce events, help students elevate their leadership skills, and offer a space for student organizations to operate and connect.
- Personalized Experience: Customize your profile, explore recommendations, and discover activities that align with your interests!
- Stay Informed: Get real-time updates on upcoming events, workshops, and campus news. Mane Connection will serve as the go-to location for student engagement opportunities.

Interested in learning more?

Join the Office of Student Involvement for training through the Lindenwood Learning Academy. The training is scheduled July 23 from 10-11 a.m. This training will be an overview of the platform, updates to processes, and provide exciting updates for the fall semester. Register for the Mane Connection training.

How to Access Mane Connection

- Download the Corq App for iOS or Android.
- Launch the app on your device.
- Use your Lindenwood credentials to log in.
- Browse events, organizations, and involvement opportunities.

Updates to The Chronicle of Higher Education Access

Library Services announces an important update regarding access to The Chronicle of Higher Education. Beginning August 1, there will be full text access through our library databases rather than via The Chronicle of Higher Education website. For your convenience, we have provided video instructions on how to access Chronicle articles on the library website. Please note that our database access does not include articles published within the last thirty days. Should you require Chronicle articles published in the past thirty days, please contact Library Services, and we will be happy to retrieve them for you. Additionally, the Chronicle website offers two free articles per month as an option.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Library Services via email or by phone (636)949-4820.

Recognize Employees Who Live Out Lindenwood's Core Values!

Use the link under the "Announcements" section on your Workday home screen to access the form that allows us to recognize employees that we see living out LU's core values.

Value: We thrive together.

Following Missouri Boys State and Girls State, the golf cart rental company arrived unexpectedly, and the carts were parked in different locations than the pickup spot. Jen Edler, Josh Bell, Caroline Vogl, and Brian Brunner helped collect golf carts from across campus and get them loaded onto the trailer.

Diane Moore painted the front entry doors of the Spellmann Center. When I first walked up, she was up on a ladder painting the trim and by the time I was done my meeting, she'd made incredible progress. The doors look great, and it says a lot about Diane and the type of leader she is, that she was willing to do this to knock a project off the summer list of many, many priorities. I have a lot of respect for someone who is willing to do whatever it takes, even if that means getting dirty (or paint-covered) to make sure Lindenwood is represented positively.

Value: We put our students first.

While Christy Weber is the backbone of our admissions office, working behind the scenes to make sure people have what they need when they need it, there are times that she needs to step in and fill in for people (due to absences or other scenarios) in various roles around campus. Christy will help any person that comes up to her and do it with a smile on her face! Most recently, she had an international student ask for some help in recovering a document they needed immediately. Christy, without missing a step, helped track down where they needed to go and who they needed to be in contact with to help the student get answers they needed. The student left graciously saying thank you to Christy over and over again for helping point him in the right direction! Just one example of the amazing things Christy does that often go unnoticed!
