DOWN IN VIRGINIA.

The roses nowhere bloom so white as
in Virginia;

The sunshine nowhere shines so bright
as in Virginia;

The birds sing nowhere quite so sweet
And nowhere hearts so lightly beat,
For heaven and earth both seem to meet
Down in Virginia.

The days are never quite so long
as in Virginia.

Nor quite as filled with happy song,
as in Virginia;

And when my time has come to die,
Just take me back and let me lie
Close where the James goes rolling by,
Down in Virginia.

There is nowhere a land so fair
as in Virginia;

So full of song, so free of care,
as in Virginia.

And I believe that Happy Land
The Lord's prepared for mortal man
Is built exactly on the plan of old Virginia.

—Rose Hill, Cumberland, Md.

Miss Dallmeyer is representing Lindenwood College in Kansas City and parts of Kansas. She is a most enthusiastic booster of the College.

While visiting a teacher of the College recently she was convinced that the College was of such high standing and afforded such superior advantages for the education of young women that she volunteered to do something she had never done before in her life—go on the road to tell people with daughters to educate, of the Wellesley of the West. Leaving her home in Jefferson City, Mo., May 1, she began her missionary labors, which are being crowned with eminent success. As one who has come from the finest Eastern College she believes that people of her native state—Missouri—do not know the wonderful advantages right at home in Lindenwood.

FROM THE GIRLS OF YESTER-DAY.

Mrs. Nellie Callahan Miller, '86—Topeka, Kan.—"It is with warm feeling around my heart that I learn of the progress Lindenwood is making. Four happy years I spent there in Dr. Irwin's time. There were ten of us in the class of '86, and there has been but one death in the class. Your paper has given me much real pleasure.

Mrs. H. J. Stockman, Chanute, Kan.—"I enjoy reading the Lindenwood bulletin although it makes me homesick for the dear good times I had while attending the College. I am going to use the catalogues as agents among my friends and try to send some representative from Chanute if possible."

Mrs. Nina Blunt Reed, Long Beach, Cal.—"I am an old Lindenwood girl and I want to tell you how much I enjoy the paper each month. It makes me so happy to hear of Lindenwood."

Lucy Gibney, El Dorado, Ark.—"No longer can I be silent as to my appreciation of the Bulletin. Should you fail sending it to me, my disappointment would be deeply felt. May Lindenwood College continue to grow in prosperity."

Leora M. Davis, Missouri University—
"I graduated at Lindenwood in 1912 from the College department and was a member of the Kappa Phi Omicron. Since I have been attending the Missouri University. In June I will receive an A. B. degree and B. S. in education. I have so enjoyed the Lindenwood Bulletin and thank you for sending it to me."

Miss Lenore Anthony, Kansas City, Mo.—"How much I enjoy the monthly bulletin! I always read it from "cover to cover" and re-live my own good college days. I never miss an opportunity to sing Lindenwood's praises."

Mrs. Amy Virden Gibbs, Kosse, Tex.—"I want you to know how very, very much I appreciate and enjoy getting the Lindenwood paper. I spent two happy and profitable years at L. C., graduating in the class of '07 and I still have the interests of the College at heart and rejoice at the growth of the new, progressive Lindenwood."

KANSAS CITY CLUB.

Annual Banquet.

The Lindenwood College girls of Kansas City observed the fourth anniversary of the Lindenwood Club, Tuesday, May 4, with a big banquet. Lindenwood pennants, buttons, stickers, etc., were used profusely in the decoration of the banquet hall. The "girls of yesterday" from the surrounding towns and cities in Kansas came to help in the proper celebration of the occasion and it was the happiest gathering of its kind ever held by the Club.

Mrs. Morris, president of the Club, acted as toastmaster, and in a few well chosen words made all welcome. The president of the College, Dr. Roemer was the honor guest and at the request of all present, told of the wonderful progress of the college and the high standing accorded it by all the leading educational institutions of the country. A telegram was sent Col. James Gay Butler, who was prevented from attending by illness. His name was heartily cheered when Dr. Roemer told of the opportunity Col. Butler was giving Lindenwood to be to the West what Wellesley and other great colleges for women were to the East.

After the banquet an excellent programme of music and recitations were carried out and the balance of the afternoon given over to social conversation about the good old days of College life and the new era now dawning for the school.

OBITUARY.

We are indebted to Mrs. Anne D. Gauss, of St. Charles, Mo., for a brief biography of Mrs. Jane A. Johns, who up to the time of her death was the oldest Lindenwood student, having attended prior to 1843.

"Mrs. Jane A. Johns died at her home in St. Charles, February 20, 1915. As Jane Durfee she attended Lindenwood in its early days, and one of her school-mates, Miss Naomi Barron, is still living, at the Blind Girls' Home in St. Louis. It was Mrs. Sibley's first school, a log building, that Jane Durfee and Naomi Barron attended. Mrs. Johns was six months the senior of Miss Barron and up to the time of her death was, as far as is known the oldest former student at Lindenwood. Miss Barron now holds this position. Mrs. Johns' father, Rev. Thomas R. Durfee, a pioneer Presbyterian Minister in Missouri, married Anne Glenday in St. Charles County, and their daughter, Jane, was born at Aux Vasse, Callaway County, October 16, 1829. The family later returned to St. Charles and Mr. Durfee died in 1833. Jane Durfee attended Lindenwood for several years prior to 1843. A few months later she married John Jay Johns, who had come to St. Charles from Virginia in 1840. Mr. Johns died in 1899. Several of Mrs. Johns' daughters and grand-daughters have been students at Lindenwood. She continued her acquaintance with Mrs. Sibley until the latter's death."

A LOOK DOWN

LINDENWOOD IS DOING GOOD WORK.

New Catalog is Out—Some of the Many Advantages Offered by Lindenwood College.

The new catalog of Lindenwood College has been completed and it is a very attractive book in the latest style and will be quite a drawing card for the coming school year when placed in the hands of young ladies who are seeking a place where education can be obtained. The book is in two parts, part two being devoted entirely to very attractive picture scenes of the dear old college.

The Faculty.

The faculty for the coming school year is much larger and stronger than at any time in the eighty-four years of its history. The head of each department is a graduate of one of our best American universities. In most cases these teachers have done much post-graduate work also. Several members of the faculty have had the advantages of European training in addition to that obtained in America. Several changes have been made in the faculty and in each case the department has been strengthened.

The Course of Study.

The high standards of the past will be fully maintained, and in several departments, notably in piano, voice, expression, and home economics, both literary and special requirements for graduation are much higher than in the past. Few schools in America have higher requirements in these departments. New departments have been added in teacher training, Religious instruction, physical training, and pipe organ. These courses of study should attract many new students to Lindenwood. Few colleges for women offer as strong a faculty, require as complete literary education for graduation from all departments, and such a rich course of study from which the student may select subjects adapted to her needs in preparation for her life work. Special attention is called to the course in education. Upon the completion of the required two years' course in Lindenwood College the State Department of Public Instruction for the State of Missouri will grant a three years' certificate which will be valid for use in the graded schools of the cities and towns of this state. Negotiations are pending for the endorsement of this certificate entitling the holder to use it in the schools of other states.

The College.

Graduates of the college department are admitted to the Junior class of the following colleges and universities without examinations: The State Universities of Missouri, Illinois, Michigan, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, also Northwestern, Smith, Washington, and many others. In fact, the graduates of this college have received this advanced standing wherever they have applied for admission. There are seven graduates from this department this year.

The Academy.

The Academy is a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The graduates of this department to the Freshman class of all colleges and universities in America without any examination. This year, for the first time in the history of this department, the graduates of the academy will be given a public graduation and a diploma. There will be ten young women completing this course of study.

Character of Students.

The class of students coming to Lindenwood is shown by the number of its graduates attending other colleges giving more advanced courses of study. In the past year there have been four at the University of Missouri, four at the University of Michigan, three at the University of Illinois, two at Wellesley, one at Smith, one at the University of Chicago, one at Oberlin, one at the University of Colorado, two at Agnes Scott, two at Brenau, one at Emerson School of Oratory, four at State Normal Schools, also many studying in schools of art and other special schools. Reports from those in authority show that these young women are maintaining a high standard of scholarship in all these institutions.—St. Charles Cosmos-Monitor.

BACCALAUREAT AND COMMENCEMENT.

Rev. Warren H. Du Bose, of the First Presbyterian Church, Farmington, Mo., will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon Sunday, June 6, and Rev. William J. Williamson, D. D., pastor Third Baptist Church, St. Louis, the Commencement address, Tuesday, June 8.

THE MONTH OF MAY.

During the month of May there was great activity in the College life. Something was stirring all the time. One event followed the other in rapid succession. The Margaret Butler Glee Club gave a concert the evening of the third, which was greatly enjoyed by all present. The club is named after Mrs. Butler and is a credit to her name. When the Glee Club gives a programme, it can be counted on to be first-class. At the Wednesday Assembly of the fifth, Prof. Joseph C. Erman, concert pianist of Lindenwood College, assisted by Mr. Chas. A. Kaub, of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, gave a recital. Prof. Erman and Mr. Kaub are favorites and their appearance is the signal for great applause. The Sigma Sorority gave a house warming the afternoon and evening of the seventh. Every student was a guest at the afternoon function, the evening being devoted to invited guests other than students. The beautiful new edifice was greatly admired by all the guests of the day.

May 11 will long be remembered as the best May day. The weather was ideal. The campus never looked more charming and the throngs that came in the afternoon and evening were fully repaid for their visit. In the afternoon the May pole dances and the crowning of the queen, Miss Ruby Conover, were features. In the evening, under the brilliant illumination of electric lights the Greek play, Endymion was given on the campus. Miss Mildred Fontaine, teacher of Expression, had charge of the programme and the congratulations she received for her excellent work were richly deserved. Every part taken by the student was perfectly done.

Every year the students look forward to the "Spelling Match". The contest is open to all and the prize is a five dollar gold piece, which goes to the class represented by the victor. Dean Horn pronounced the words to be spelled, Miss Berry, of the English department, acted as umpire, Miss Porterfield, of the Latin department, was in charge of the dictionary. The contest was a spirited one as the girls are all good spellers at Lindenwood. Miss Florence McConnell, of the Junior Class, won the contest. The second honor was awarded to Miss Lucile Roberts, of Higgins, Texas.

Another event of great interest was the students' recital on the twentieth. The programme of this event will be found elsewhere in the bulletin.

Saturday, May 22nd, the Senior Annual Banquet was held at the Mercantile Club, St. Louis. Dr. Roemer presided, speeches were made by Dr. Nicolls, Col. James Gay Butler and Miss Lois Ely, president of the class. The banquet was served in six courses. At each student's plate was a corsage of sweet peas, the class flower. This was the personal gift of Col. Butler, who seems to anticipate every joy of the girls. After the banquet Col. Butler acted as host of a box party at the Park Theater, where every senior enjoyed the excellent music of the opera.

Among the speakers of the month were Rev. S. D. Jewell, D. D., of Fredericktown, Mo.—"Work in the Iron Mountain Presbytery;" Rev. B. F. Kemmerer, rector St. George Episcopal Church, St. Louis.—"Cheerfulness, courage and faith;" Miss Marie C. Brehm, Chicago, Ill.—"Temperance."

COL. JAMES GAY BUTLER.

We are glad to announce that after a very serious illness Col. James Gay Butler is able to be up and about and is quite himself again. The host of Lindenwood girls throughout the world will rejoice with him in his recovery from so serious an illness. Col. Butler has so endeared himself to the College and all its friends that his name is enshrined in the homes of all who appreciate his service of love to make Lindenwood the Wellesley of the West.
