Library Resource Change

The library is no longer maintaining subscriptions to Psychotherapy.net or HeinOnline databases due to budget constraints.

While we understand these resources have been valuable in supporting your program, please be assured we remain committed to providing access to scholarly and video sources to support teaching and learning in your discipline. Additionally, we will make every effort to locate alternative materials through our existing resources, interlibrary loan, and open source materials to support your instructional needs. If you have specific content or topics that are essential for your courses, please let us know. We will work closely with you to identify suitable alternatives or explore other possible solutions.

Thank you for your understanding and continued partnership, and please don't hesitate to email the library if you have questions or would like to discuss this further.

No Digest Next Week

The Digest is going on summer vacation! We'll return Wednesday, August 13, with a refreshed look to match the new Lindenwood brand guidelines. Submissions to the Digest can still be made through the Project Request Form.

Q2 Moments

Financial Aid Advisor Kristie Powell stayed until 6 p.m., walking a last-minute student through entrance counseling and doing her Master Promissory Note. What Kristie didn't know was that this student was on the fence between us and another school. The deciding factor was our customer service and that she knew that she would have a much better chance getting to the finish line at Lindenwood than the other school. Kristie went above and beyond with her exceptional service.

From Resistance to Readiness (through Group Coaching)

August 5, 2-3 p.m.

Lindenwood Learning Academy, LARC 09

This group coaching session, facilitated by Brittany Brown, empowers you to turn inner resistance into a launching pad for meaningful change. Through guided reflection and honest dialogue, you'll explore where resistance shows up in your life, what it's protecting, and how to shift toward intentional readiness. You'll leave feeling more grounded, open, and energized to take your next step.
