LINDENWOOD

New South County Location to Debut

February 21, 2012

Lindenwood University will celebrate the grand opening of its new South County Center at 3 p.m. Friday, March 2. The facility is located at 12224 Tesson Ferry Rd., Suite 200. Lindenwood had taught evening classes for many years at St. Anthony's Medical Center, but outgrew the space, said Brett Barger, director of graduate and evening admissions. "We have been growing steadily in south county," said Barger. "This new location provides ample space for growth and will be even more convenient for our students." Barger said the university invested heavily in technology for students at this location, as well as the installation of two large lighted signs that are visible from Interstate 270.
