

Lindenwood Entertainment.

The dramatizing of Tennyson's Princess, by the young ladies of Lindenwood, under the direction of Miss Connelly, was witnessed, last Friday evening, by a large and thoroughly delighted audience. The proceeds of the play were devoted to the needs of the college gymnasium. The gymnasium is an incident of the course at Lindenwood that careful observation convinces the friends, of the institution, of its usefulness. Physical culture in female educational institutions is winning its way by the force of its necessity, and the logic of the situation. The entertainment was one of the most interesting of the season.

The young ladies had their parts well prepared, and the play moved along smoothly and admirably. The interpretations of the characters were very clever and many of the ladies showed considerable ability. Although it was something unique and out of the usual line of college entertainments, it was presented so cleverly, properly and in such admirable good taste that it won from the start. It has been for some time a problem to get up something new and interesting in this line.

Young ladies' seminaries have for years given us music and music. Lindenwood has set the pace in a new departure, and it is a success and very acceptable.
