Lindenwood University to Host Ribbon-Cutting Ceremony for Veterans Affairs Center

Who: Dignitaries from Lindenwood University and members of the United States military will deliver remarks.

What: Lindenwood University will host a ribbon-cutting ceremony to celebrate the official opening of its new Veterans Affairs Center.

Located in the lower level of the Spellmann Center on the St. Charles campus, the facility will be staffed by an active-duty member of the Missouri National Guard. It will serve as a resource hub where military scholars can hold meetings, complete coursework, and access information about their benefits, course schedules, financial aid agreements, and more. It will also serve as a place for soldiers to socialize and network with each other.

When: 10 a.m., Thursday, November 15

Where: Lindenwood University
Spellmann Center
Lower Level – Connection Room
209 South Kingshighway
St. Charles, Mo. 63301

Why: Named four times to Victory Media's list of Military Friendly Schools, Lindenwood University is dedicated to meeting the educational needs of men and women of the United States military. In addition to the school's numerous financial aid and academic offerings for military personnel, the new Veterans Affairs Center will serve to further benefit soldiers at the University.

"It is more than just a room, but a one-stop shop where veterans and service members can get the answers they need in the manner they deserve," said Jann Weitzel, PhD, Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost. "It's yet another way in which we honor our commitment to military personnel and thank them for choosing Lindenwood University as their partner in education."
