Lindenwood University to Host Video Game Design and Entrepreneurship Symposium

St. Charles, Mo. – Lindenwood University will host a Video Game and Entrepreneurship Symposium from noon to 1 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 19, in Harmon Hall's Dunseth Auditorium on the St. Charles campus. The free event is sponsored in partnership with the Economic Development Center of St. Charles County by the Duree Center for Entrepreneurship, one of three focus centers of the John W. Hammond Institute for Free Enterprise within the Lindenwood School of Business and Entrepreneurship.

The symposium will feature a panel of three expert game designers from the St. Louis Metropolitan Area. Speakers will include Ben Triola, designer at Happy Badgers Studio, and Aaron Klaser and John Pipkin, co-founders and chief operating officers of Six3Six Studios, LLC.

Registration is required and space is limited. A free box lunch will be available to those who register by Monday, Nov. 17.

To register, visit www.dureecenter.org or call 636-627-2583.

Lindenwood University, founded in 1827, is an independent liberal arts university offering more than 200 graduate and undergraduate programs in diverse areas of study in traditional and accelerated formats.

Lindenwood operates residential campuses in historic St. Charles, Mo., and Belleville, Ill., as well as numerous extension sites throughout the St. Louis Metropolitan Area.
