LINDENWOOD'S SCHOOL OF ARTS, MEDIA, AND COMMUNICATIONS PREPARES STUDENTS FOR REAL SUCCESS

January 5, 2021

Lindenwood University's School of Arts, Media, and Communications provides students with the opportunity to gain real experience in a multitude of areas including art and design, digital marketing, cinema arts, and performing arts.

Fulfilling Lindenwood's mission of Real Experience. Real Success., the School of Arts, Media, and Communications exposes students to advanced techniques and skill sets necessary for success in their field. However, these students don't have to wait until graduation to put their knowledge into practice. Lindenwood students gain valuable experience in campus design labs, rehearsal rooms, and the on-campus radio station.

Students interested in a career in broadcasting and digital media have the opportunity to gain first-hand knowledge of radio operations working with 89.1FM The Wood, a 50,000-watt album adult alternative station, broadcasting in the St. Louis metro area. In addition to music, the radio station annually broadcasts dozens of college and high school sporting events through live streaming features.
