FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

November 12, 1974

The Lindenwood Colleges of St. Charles are represented in the 25th Annual Art Show in Quincy, Illinois, by two Lindenwood students majoring in art and a Lindenwood professor.

Dr. W. Dean Eckert, professor of Art History at Lindenwood, is represented by an acrylic painting entitled, "Stones of Osorezan." Mr. Dennis Lustick from St. Louis, a junior at Lindenwood, received honorable mention for an oil painting, "Trees in a Row." He also had a lithograph chosen entitled, "Under Wires." Dennis was one of two young men who had two artworks selected.

Miss Beth Selvig of St. Charles is represented in the show by an oil painting, "Selvig's Mother." Beth is also a junior at Lindenwood.

The three Lindenwood paintings were chosen from a total of 264 paintings submitted by 151 artists. They are part of the 52 works exhibited in Quincy currently, continuing through November 28, at the Elizabeth M. Sinnock Gallery of the Quincy Art Center. The Quincy 25th Annual Show was open to all adult artists living within a 200-mile radius of Quincy, Illinois.
